THE National Housing Problem is to-day in a most acute form, and it will long continue to occupy the attention of our citizens. When sufficient houses have been built to make up the grave War shortage, we have still to take up the equally important task of clearing the slums and the insanitary areas, which are so wasteful and so detrimental both to the physical and commercial interests of the Country.

In this book controversial topics have been avoided, and it may be that, on such a matter as the method that has been adopted to deal with our housing situation, a true verdict can only be given by our succeeding generation. Suffice it to say that nearly every Country has had to deal with a similar situation and has been driven to State intervention. So far as our own progress is concerned, it is at the present time in advance of that attained by any other Nation.

There are many Acts on the Statute Book concerning Housing, and a clear and concise explanation of legislation, such as is afforded by this work, will be of great value to the thousands of Housing administrators and workers which the Country possesses, and to whom it owes so much.

It would obviously be impossible for me to express agreement with all the opinions legal or otherwise—which this book contains, but it certainly comprises a comprehensive and careful collection of all that is necessary for a proper examination and understanding of this important subject, and I heartily commend it.

CHRISTOPHER ADDISON.

AUTHOR'S NOTE

MUCH of the matter for this volume was prepared over twelve months ago, and one of the difficulties of its production has been that of frequent revision in consequence of legislative and other changes. For a time publication was withheld in order to incorporate changes proposed to be effected by the Ministry of Health (Miscellaneous Provisions) Bill, which Bill was rejected by the House of Lords in December last. One of the chief objects of the housing provisions of that Bill was the extension, by twelve months, of the period during which the State subsidy was payable to private persons building houses—for the conditions see page 114—and subsequently to its rejection the Government gave a promise that such extension would be the subject of further legislation at an early date. But this volume has been so long promised, so long in hand and in type, that it has not been thought proper to delay its appearance until that legislation was effected.

The subject dealt with in this volume is a very comprehensive one, and I feel I cannot have avoided errors and omissions. I shall welcome corrections.

I have been assisted by the works of eminent legal authorities who have contributed to this subject prior to 1919, and the various official publications of the Health Ministry.

I desire also to express my warmest thanks to my friend Mr. T. A. Rushton for much valuable assistance.

LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING IN ENGLAND AND WALES

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

THE legislation relating to housing is voluminous and almost chaotic. Besides the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919, as defined by section 40 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, there are seven Acts printed or referred to in this volume which closely affect housing (see the table of contents), and there are references therein to many other Acts which deal with aspects of the problem or some of the questions arising out of it.

This voluminous legislation will perhaps appal the layman, but, though there is ample need for the promised consolidation, the legislation is not quite so difficult as it would appear. It falls readily under certain headings, and, once these are grasped, the subject is much clearer. These headings are:—

Unhealthy Areas (Part I)

Unhealthy Dwelling Houses (Part II)

Housing of the Working Classes (Part III)

Town Planning.

The principal housing Act (1890) is divided into Parts I, II, III . . . and these terms are in common use, often as abbreviations, e.g. "a Part III scheme."

Parts I and II are dealt with fully in Chapter III, and Part III in Chapter II; and it is not necessary to refer further to them here than to say that while the provision of houses (Part III) is the problem of the moment, the removal of unhealthy housing conditions (Parts I and II) was the problem for many years previously, and may be the problem for many years after the present shortage of houses disappears, though the provision of new houses of the type approved under the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, should materially lessen the future difficulties—as it is designed to do. Town planning is dealt with in Chapter V.

THE LEGISLATION BRIEFLY REVIEWED

The Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 (the principal Act) is the first of the present Housing Acts. It repealed the following Acts.—

INTRODUCTION

Session and Chapter.	Short Title	Extent of Repeal.
43 Vict. c. 8	An Act to explain and amend the twenty-second section of the Artizans and Labourers Dwellings Act (1868) Amendment Act, 1879	The whole Act
45 & 46 Vict. c. 54	The Artizans Dwellings Act, 1882	The whole Act
48 & 49 Vict. c. 72	The Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1885	The whole Act except sections three and seven to nine, and except section ten so far as it relates to by-laws authorised by those sections

Its chief purpose was the removal of unhealthy housing conditions (Parts I and II). Its Part III powers were adoptive only. By the 1909 Act they took effect without adoption ; and by the 1919 Act the powers became duties.

In 1894 there was a short Act dealing with the borrowing powers under a reconstruction scheme (Part II).

In 1900 there was another short Act, only four sections of which now remain in force. These are : Exercise of powers outside district ; Provisions as to Metropolitan Borough Councils ; Accounts, and Short Title.

In 1903 there was a longer Act dealing with general Amendments, Amendments as to Schemes, Amendments as to Closing Orders, Demolition, and the like.

The 1909 Act was, and is, of considerable importance. The problem of providing houses was emerging, and, as stated, Part III of the principal Act was to take effect without adoption. Powers of enforcing the Acts were extended and there were drastic amendments with regard to Closing and Demolition Orders. Amendments were also made with regard to Parts I and II schemes, and to financial matters. But the matter perhaps of most importance was the introduction of town-planning provisions, which provisions are still largely in force.

In 1914, following the outbreak of war, two war Acts (the Housing Act, 1914 and the Housing (No. 2) Act, 1914) were passed.

Acts.

In 1919 four Acts were passed affecting housing.—

The Housing, Town Planning Act, 1919.

The Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919.

The first, which is the only one included in "the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919," is of great importance. It effects considerable amendments in previous Acts and largely provides the machinery for the present housing campaign. It is discussed fully in this volume, and is referred to as "the 1919 Act."

The Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919 made provision for a subsidy to private builders who erected houses during 1920; for the prohibition of luxury building; for the issue of housing bonds and for minor matters. It is discussed in Chapter VII, and remarks on its proposed extension are also made in the preface.

The Land Settlement (Facilities) Act, 1919, deals with the powers of county councils (see Chapter IV) in connection with the settlement of soldiers on the land and the provision of the necessary houses. On the whole, however, it is outside the scope of the present volume, and short extracts only are given on page 85.

The Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, deals (inter alia) with the machinery for the assessment of compensation for land taken compulsorily for the purposes of the housing Acts. It is printed in full on page 495.

* The Unemployment (Relief Works) Act, 1920, with the object of finding immediate work for the unemployed, enables local authorities and the appropriate Government department to acquire land compulsorily for the construction or improvement of roads, the construction of sewers and the like (see page 488).

With much the same object, the Public Works Loan Commissioners are empowered by the Public Works Loans Act, 1920, to make temporary advances for building purposes to local authorities (see page 487).

The Small Dwellings Acquisition Acts, 1899 and 1919, which enable local authorities to lend money so that persons may acquire their houses (see also section 15 (1) (d) of the 1919 Act) are dealt with on page 241.

Of the other Acts affecting housing, the chief are the Public Health Acts. Those sections thereof which are within the scope of this volume are dealt with in Chapter III.

For some years prior to the outbreak of war there had been a falling off in the provision of houses for the working classes.

With the outbreak of war house building further diminished, and, in time, practically ceased except for Government (war) purposes. Before the termination of the war the Government was well aware that the position necessitated special measures.

On 28th July 1917 the Local Government Board issued a circular letter to the 1,806 borough, urban and rural district councils requesting a return as to housing conditions and needs. 1,660 replied indicating an immediate need for some 400,000 working-class dwellings.

The conditions prevented private enterprise from meeting this demand, and the Government decided to encourage local authorities to build by offering to meet 75 per cent. of the annual loss accruing. The offer, however, was felt to be insufficient in the case of certain local authorities.

On 18th March 1918 the Government, through a circular letter issued by the Local Government Board, made its first amended offer: the Board had discretion to increase the grant beyond 75 per cent. of the loss, provided that the local authority's share of the loss was not less than the product of a 1d. rate. Many accepted the offer, but a considerable number still hesitated to commit themselves to a financial burden which they could not very well measure.

When the Armistice was signed it was necessary to obtain more definite information, and on 14th November 1918, a further circular letter was issued. 1,300 local authorities replied. 1,150 were prepared to build; 1,080 of them on the terms of the 18th March letter; but only 450 stated when their schemes would be ready, and of these only 400 specified the number of houses which their schemes would provide the aggregate number being 100,000.

On 6th February 1919, therefore, the Government made its final offer, namely that the burden on the local authority should, on the conditions therem named, be not more than the product of a 1d. rate—the balance being met by the State. Subsequently there were some modifications as to the period during which the financial assistance should operate, the final result being shown in the regulations printed on page 537.

While the above negotiations were taking place several committees were studying other very practical aspects of the question.

The 1918 Bill. While these committees were still sitting the Government prepared a short Bill, as an instalment of its housing policy, for it was definitely stated, during the discussion of the estimates in May 1918, that it intended to propose comprehensive legislation. The Bill was introduced on 17th October 1918. Its two main clauses dealt with the borrowing powers of county councils in connection with the housing of their employees, and in connection with the transference to such councils of the housing powers of local authorities who had not used those powers to provide houses for the working classes.

The Bill was not proceeded with after the Armistice was signed, and on 19th November 1918 was withdrawn.

After the General Election the Government decided to proceed with its comprehensive Bill, and following the before-mentioned circular of 6th February 1919, Dr. Addison, then President of the Local Government Board (now Minister of Health) introduced on 18th March 1919, what is now the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919. The 1919 Bill.

The second reading of the Bill was moved in the House of Commons on 7th and 8th April 1918. It was sent to Grand Committee 14th April, reported 15th May, sent to the House of Lords on 28th May, and after further extended debate and "negotiations," received the Royal Assent on 31st July 1919.

For the better understanding of the housing problem, however, it should be appreciated that for several years before the war, many prominent politicians (including the present Prime Minister) had constantly discussed it, and that private members' Bills had been presented to Parliament with the object of dealing with at least some portions of it. Bad housing had, in fact, become a "burning question," and it was clearly realised that such measures as the National Insurance Act, 1911, were, to some extent, necessitated by it. Other point of interest.

The last of such Bills received a second reading on 20th March 1914, on the motion of Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscawen (now Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries). But it did not go further, the then President of the Local Government Board (the Right Hon. Herbert Samuel, M.P.) saying that the Government was about to prepare its own Bill, and was taking the preliminary steps. •

* Nor is it correct to think that the idea of a Government housing subsidy is a new one. Housing has been subsidised in Ireland for several years. Up to 1914, 52,000 cottages had been built by Irish local authorities at a cost of £8,500,000, and there was an annual loss A housing subsidy not new.

upon them. The reason for this subsidy, in the words of Mr. Herbert Samuel, in the debate mentioned, was : "It can be truly urged that, before this was effected, cottage building had absolutely ceased in Ireland, and there was no other course to be taken to provide private houses for people, but at the cost of the rates and taxes" (Hansard, 20th March 1914, col. 2454).

Further, certain local authorities had been subsidising housing out of the local rates. The report of the Local Government Board for 1912-13 shows that loans had been sanctioned to District Councils for housing in forty-two villages, in twenty-one of which there would be a deficit to be met by the rate-payer. In Liverpool, too, people displaced from slums had been re-housed at less than an economic rent.

The Local Government Board was stimulating local authorities to take action under their existing powers, with the result that such authorities had increased their output of houses.

housing
nctioned.

The Forty-eighth Annual Report of the Local Government Board for 1918-1919 (Cd. 413) contains on page 183, a statement showing the loans sanctioned to local authorities for the purchase of land and the erection of houses under Part III of the 1890 Act from the passing of the 1909 Act to 31st March 1919 —

Year ended 31st March.	No. of Authorities	Total amount of Loans Sanctioned. £	No. of Houses to be Erected.
1913	68	395,432	1,880
1914	123	750,497	3,291
1915	181	1,124,621	4,408

After the outbreak of war, the totals necessarily decreased.

At the same time, it should be understood that the housing problem of 1914 was not of exactly the same nature as that of 1919. In 1914 it was more commonly urged, in regard to the provision of new houses, as a rural problem, while in the urban districts the chief complaint was not that the people could not get houses, but that many of the houses were unfit.

There is a great mass of evidence on this point; the following from a summary of the Report for 1918 of the Medical Officer of Health for Birmingham, Dr. J. Robertson, being typical:—

"In 1913 there were 43,366 back to back houses in Birmingham, housing 200,000, a population equal to that of the City of Cardiff. In six wards, all in the central area, from 51 to 76 per cent. of the houses were of this kind. During the period 1914–18 four of these wards had a general death-rate of more than 19 per 1,000; five an infant mortality greater than 134 per 1,000 births; three a measles death-rate above 0.56; five a death-rate from pneumonia and bronchitis above 3.63; five a phthisis death-rate above 1.63; and five a mortality rate of over 29 per 1,000 births for deaths at ages under two from diarrhoea and enteritis. As a control we may take King's Norton, with less than 8 per cent. of back-to-back houses. The death-rate here from all causes is less than 10.9, the infant mortality less than 78, the measles mortality less than 0.12, the bronchitis and pneumonia rate below 1.62, the phthisis rate below 0.89, the diarrhoea and enteritis figure below 9. Some of the inhabitants may be shiftless and criminal, unfit to thrive in any environment; but it is impossible to imagine a rising generation of young people being able to improve in health or self-respect, even if the best of educational facilities are provided, when everything they come in contact with is sullied by dirtiness and squalor."

To-day the difficulty is that 100,000 houses, approximately, which were required each year, have not been built since 1912. Up to 1912 that number, roughly, was provided. Then it dropped to 45,000 a year, and during the war it ceased almost completely. The present problem.

10 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

It has been found from figures returned by local authorities that about 800,000 houses are required at the present time. The question is threefold :—

1. The problem of new houses.
2. The problem of slum clearances.
3. The town planning for the future.

These are the three chief directions of action to be taken by bodies responsible for housing in the next few years.

England is not alone in this matter. All over the world similar problems are facing the Governments of other nations. To-day this country is, as a matter of fact, further advanced with its schemes than any other country in the world.

The latest figures.

Much of the land required has already been acquired. During 1919 sufficient land, reckoning on the basis of ten houses to the acre, to erect 600,000 houses, was approved. To 17th November 1920, 52,857 houses had been commenced by local authorities, in addition to 28,000 public utility society and private builder (subsidy) houses. £86,500,000 had been raised in Housing Loans, including over £13,000,000 by Housing Bonds.

On 1st November 1920, the number of houses built by local authorities and public utility societies was 9,171, including 424 flats, but excluding Army huts converted into dwellings; and 3,106 had been built by private builders (subsidy houses).

On 1st December 1920, 16,187 houses had been completed, of which 11,122 were provided by local authorities and public utility societies and 5,065 under the private builders' subsidy scheme; 52,396 other houses were in various stages of construction by local authorities and public utility societies; and preliminary certificates had been issued in respect of a further 21,448 houses under the private builders' subsidy scheme. The total number of houses included in signed contracts on 11th December by local authorities was 133,301.

CHAPTER II

THE POWER AND DUTIES OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES: THE PROVISION OF HOUSES FOR THE WORKING CLASSES

By sections 1 and 2 of the Housing, Town Planning, ^{Chief powers} &c., Act, 1919 (referred to subsequently as the 1919 Act, or the Act of 1919) local authorities are required to provide houses for the working classes in accordance with the needs of their areas; and, notably by sections 12 and 15, their Part III (1890) powers are enlarged to that end. Further, by section 7, a large proportion of their financial losses and expenses, arising out of such provision, is met out of moneys provided by Parliament, conditionally upon the provision being made within a specified period.

The local authorities for the provision of these houses ^{Definitions.} (see the 1890 Act, 1st schedule) are:—

Town Councils,

Urban District Councils, and Rural District Councils (see also section 1 of the 1900 Act).

And in London:

The Common Council of the City (for the City), and The London County Council, and

The Metropolitan Borough Councils (for the remainder of the Administrative County of London) (see also the 1919 Act, section 41).

The position in London differs from that in the country ^{London.} generally, because of the special position of the London County Council. Excluding the City, in which the Common Council is the housing authority, the powers and duties in housing matters are divided between the London County Council and the Metropolitan Borough Councils. Section 41 contains a provision defining their powers and duties.

The provision of additional accommodation is a matter for the Metropolitan Borough Councils, if it is to be made to meet a shortage within the borough, and also on land within the borough.

The provision of new houses becomes a matter for the London County Council if the new houses are to be provided outside the county. In certain circumstances, the London County Council may submit a scheme to the Ministry of Health for the use of land in a Metropolitan Borough to meet the needs of districts outside the borough.

The London County Council and the Common Council of the City of London are empowered to enter into agreements with one another for carrying out any schemes for new houses or for slum clearances (section 41).

The number of local authorities required to submit schemes under the 1919 Act is as follows:—

Metropolitan boroughs	29
County boroughs	82
Boroughs	246
Urban districts	799
Rural districts	649

In certain circumstances county councils may be empowered to exercise the housing powers of local authorities (see Chapter IV, which deals with the powers and duties of county councils).

The schemes mentioned are Part III schemes, that is schemes for the provision of housing for the working classes under the provisions of Part III of the principal (1890) Act, as amended. Those at present in operation are also referred to as "assisted schemes," because the loss thereon is being chiefly met by moneys provided by Parliament.

In Part III of the principal Act, sections 53 to 59 give powers to local authorities to acquire and appropriate land (see also section 2, 1909 Act, and section 22 of the Land Settlement (Facilities) Act, 1919) and to erect, convert, alter, &c., buildings suitable for lodging houses for the working classes—which phrase has the same meaning as “houses for the working classes” used in the 1919 Act, see section 40 thereof. These powers are greatly enlarged by the 1919 Act (sections 12 and 15, see also section 11, 1903).

Sections 61 and 62 deal with the management of such houses, including the making of by-laws—as to which, see now section 25 of the 1919 Act.

Sections 65 and 66 deal with the expenses and borrowing powers of local authorities for Part III purposes; see also sections 3 (1900), 1 and 15 (1903), 3 and 31 (1909), and 7 (Additional Powers Act, 1919).

Sections 67-71 deal with loans to and powers of companies, societies and individuals to provide houses: see also sections 20 and 21 (1919). Water and gas companies can make supplies free or on favourable terms to Part III houses (section 69), which must be open for inspection by the local authority (section 70).

By section 74 land may be sold, &c., for working-class dwellings at lower prices than could be otherwise obtained, by companies and tenants for life under the Settled Land Acts, see also sections 7 (1909) and 31 (1919).

By section 80 separate accounts have to be kept by the local authority, and audited: see also section 4 (1900).

By section 81 housing committees may be formed and persons co-opted thereto.

Section 82 deals with the application of the purchase-money when land is sold. •

By section 88 persons interested are prohibited from voting as members of the local authority, and section 89 provides the penalty for obstructing the execution of the Act.

14 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

~~Provisions of subsequent
Acts.~~ By section 1 of the 1900 Act, a local authority, other than a rural district council, may acquire land for Part III purposes outside their district. As to the special cases of London, see now section 41 (1919).

Section 1 of the 1909 Act provides that Part III shall take effect without adoption. Previously it could be put into operation only after adoption. Section 5 (1909) deals with the payment of purchase or compensation money which would otherwise be paid into court.

By section 8 (1909) a local authority may accept donations of land or money : see also section 31 (1919).

Sections 10-13 (1909) deal with the powers of enforcing the Act : see now sections 3 and 4 (1919).

Section 34 (1909) makes it unnecessary for local authorities to make good the deficiency in land tax and poor rate, resulting from their acquiring land for housing purposes and putting it temporarily out of rating.

Other provisions of the 1909 Act include power of entry (section 36) ; power of Ministry to obtain report on any crowded area (section 37) ; joint action by local authorities (section 38, see also section 1 (6) 1919) ; appeals to Ministry (section 39) ; sale and disposal of buildings (section 40) ; power of Ministry to prescribe forms and to dispense with advertisements (section 41) ; power to revoke unreasonable by-laws (section 44, see now, however, section 24 of the 1919 Act) ; saving of sites of ancient monuments (section 45, see also section 1 (3) of the 1919 Act) , provisions as to commons and open spaces (section 73) and to land in the neighbourhood of Royal palaces or parks (section 74).

A more extended reference to some of the powers under the 1919 Act is made below.

By section 10 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, the Minister may acquire land for the purpose of garden cities or town-planning schemes on behalf of local authorities and others.

Re-housing. By sections 6, 11, 12 and 40 of the 1890 Act, local authorities may be required to erect houses for the working classes, to re-house persons displaced by the clearance of slums, and, by section 3 of the 1903 Act, re-housing may be required when people are displaced by land being taken under local or private Acts.

In the House of Commons on 27th May 1919 Dr. Addison (Minister of Health) spoke on the subject of the definition of the "Working Classes." as follows :—

"The reason I did not put a definition of the working classes into the Bill, was because I found myself unable satisfactorily to provide one, and that is the plain truth of it. . . . I did not find it possible to frame a definition that was good enough. I think that was sound policy. We had a number of people, very eminent people, amongst them Mr. Hobhouse, who tried their best to frame it, and gave it up. This is the policy I propose to adopt. What is the type of house which we are going to encourage and assist under this scheme ? The type, of course, under the scheme is fairly general, and such a type of house as you would expect to include in the scheme. Having provided this type of house, we must expect the public authorities and public utility societies to secure that they are let to the persons for whom they are intended. The persons for whom they are intended are the persons whose housing needs emerge in that locality. Because the first principle of the Bill proceeds from this, that the local authority is called upon to provide a scheme, which scheme must be designed to meet the housing needs of their locality. It all arises out of that, and begins from that scheme. When we approve the scheme, then it becomes binding on the authority. So the House will see that the whole scheme is related, from the first Clause of the Bill to the needs of the locality, that is, the people who live there, and not people who may want to take a country cottage or anything like that. We must expect local authorities and others to see to it, or else assure ourselves, in framing a scheme, that the scheme is designed to meet the needs of the locality for people who want to or can inhabit this type of house generally. Then, after the scheme is sanctioned, we proceed from that beginning. I think a practical working application, relating to the type of house you are going to provide, rather than trying to frame some arbitrary definition of the working classes, which will break down within a month—I am perfectly certain of that, whatever the definition is, once you try to work it—is the right line of proceeding. I came to this decision because after having tried to frame a definition, and having employed a number of people to try to frame one for me, I found it impossible to get a definition that would form a working basis for this Act."

^{A better house.} An important point of the new (1919) Act is that local authorities are required to ascertain how many houses are needed and to endeavour to provide them, as far as they will not be provided by other agencies (sections 1 and 2).

The problem attacked by the 1919 Act is, however, not only that of the provision of houses, but of houses of a better kind, more conveniently arranged, and more healthily situated and circumstanced.

^{The principles of the Ministry.} When, therefore, the Ministry of Health (then the Local Government Board) grappled with the problem of the shortage of houses, it kept before it certain principles. Houses were needed, but the opportunity was to be taken of improving the health of the people by bettering the conditions under which they lived. The standard of accommodation and equipment had been rising, and this tendency was to be encouraged. More air-space was to be provided about each house. There was to be no building of dreary, unbroken rows of "brick boxes with slate lids," to use the phrase of Mr. John Burns, a former President of the Board. In short, the houses to be built were to be adequate in size, equipment and amenity. As the State (through the Ministry) was to provide financial assistance towards the provision of the houses, it was able to secure the due observance of the above principles.

To do the work falling upon the Ministry, the central staff was materially strengthened, and to secure the best results, particularly promptitude, as much of the Ministry's work as possible was de-centralised. District offices under the charge of Commissioners, assisted by expert staffs, were established. These Commissioners are particularly charged to assist local authorities in regard to housing schemes at all stages—not waiting to be asked for advice and help, but seeking, by personal intercourse and round-table conferences, to get the best out of everybody and everything, and in the shortest possible time.

In addition to many other efforts, the Ministry have regularly issued useful circulars, manuals, and memoranda to local authorities and others (see the list on page xi), and since 19th July 1919, they have published a fortnightly journal—Housing—as a further means of communicating with and helping all concerned.

The Government has bought considerable quantities of building materials and standardised fittings for sale to local authorities and private persons (see also page 131).

Section 1 (1) of the 1919 (Housing) Act makes it the duty of every local authority "to consider the needs of their area with respect to the provision of houses for the working classes," and to prepare and submit a housing scheme within three months, namely by 31st October 1919.

There are no statutory rules for the calculation of these needs, the only reference being section 1 (7), which says that the proposals of others to provide housing accommodation must be taken into account.

But the local authority may be superseded if their scheme does not fulfil their obligations (sections 3 and 4). Nor is the matter one for the moment only—the preparation of schemes will be required "as often as occasion arises": section 1 (1).

Are the obligations those existing at the time of consideration ? Probably not ; for instance, when work which is of a temporary nature is ended, there may be an exodus from the area. Again, the needs to be considered on 31st October 1919 were not those of that day only, when the houses could not be built before, say, 31st October 1922. Further, regard must be had to the ever-improving "public conscience" ; and houses gradually falling below this standard indicate a need.

Form of survey.

The local authority have to satisfy the Ministry, which laid down in the "Form of Survey of Housing Needs" (D. 89), and circular 8, a method of arriving at the needs. At the first survey (scheme due by 31st October 1919) a house-to-house census of the houses was not expected, main reliance being placed on information in the possession of the Medical Officer of Health, supplemented by information which might be supplied by various local committees and organisations, and large employers of labour.

The 10th May 1920 issue of Housing gives the result of the first survey : 800,000 new houses are required ; 968 satisfactory schemes have been received ; a further 747 are "satisfactory as instalment" ; 40 are not satisfactory ; 40 are doubtful, and in 9 cases schemes have not been received.

The scheme.

Having discovered the needs of their area, the local authority proceed with the preparation of an outline scheme, showing the approximate number and nature of the houses to be erected, the approximate area and the locality of the land to be acquired, the average number of houses per acre, and the time within which the scheme or part of it is to be completed. If the outline scheme is satisfactory, the Ministry grant provisional approval, and the work can go forward. Before the Ministry finally approve a scheme the local authority must furnish to them estimates of its cost and of the rents expected to be obtained : section 1 (4).

If the Ministry consider that a scheme submitted to them is not adequate, they are to take steps to secure an adequate scheme. They may approve the scheme submitted on the condition that a further scheme is to be prepared ; or they may require an amended scheme to be submitted within a time fixed by them : section 1 (3).

If the local authority do not prepare a scheme, or, when a scheme is prepared, do not carry it out, or if it seems better that the county council should prepare and carry out a scheme, the Ministry of Health may transfer the obligations of the local authority to the county council. Further, the Ministry may act themselves on default of a local authority or a county council. In all cases of default the expenses incurred by the Ministry or the county council, as the case may be, may be recovered from the local authority. sections 3 and 4.

Where the circumstances of adjoining districts are such that a combined housing scheme is desirable, two or more authorities may agree to combine in a scheme. If they do not do so where clearly necessary, the Ministry of Health may insist on a joint scheme. A county council may also combine in a joint scheme, with the Ministry's consent : section 1 (6).

Should the local authorities neglect to carry out a joint scheme when required, the Ministry of Health may authorise the county council to proceed, or may proceed themselves : sections 3 and 4.

Local authorities are required to submit certain documents to the Ministry of Health either directly or to its local representatives, the Housing Commissioners, to secure assent to the proposals in the scheme (section 1), their nature being indicated in the following statement :—

D. 48. Site proposals : Situation ; area ; houses to be built thereon, immediately and eventually ; tenure, &c.

•20 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

- D. 49. Proposals for general lay-out, streets, and sewers.
- D. 50. Application for approval of house plans.
- D. 51. Estimate of street and sewerage works : Various details including cost.
- D. 107. Assisted scheme (local authority) statement of annual income and expenditure : Full details (estimated), including cost and rental per house.

Where the local authority does not possess the necessary land (as to the appropriation of such land, see page 210, and note the power in the Land Settlement (Facilities) Act, 1919, section 22, page 85), arrangements have to be made for its acquisition, such arrangements being provisional until the approval of the Ministry has been obtained.

Valuation of land.

The arrangements : With a view to providing a check on the prices paid for land for housing, the Ministry made arrangements with the Board of Inland Revenue that the services of their Valuation Office should be placed at the disposal of the local authorities, and in accordance with circulars issued by the Ministry the local authorities now avail themselves of the advice of the district valuers in respect of all land proposed to be acquired.

For the purposes of the Inland Revenue the country is divided into over 100 valuation districts in charge of district valuers, who are supervised by superintending valuers and the chief valuer. The district valuers not only have local knowledge of the values, but they are in a unique position to advise on the value of land, owing to the experience gained in the valuation of the country under the Finance (1909-10) Act, 1910, for estate duty purposes and the records kept in connection therewith. But for this organisation it would have been most difficult to deal with such a large number of valuations in so short a time.

To 31st December 1919, purchase negotiations had been completed in respect of 2,500 sites comprising nearly 12,500 acres, the price agreed being approximately £2,200,000.

There is a known saving effected by such negotiations amounting to £759,810, without regard to 540 cases in which the saving cannot be definitely ascertained. For later figures see Cmd. 917, page 15.

The average price paid for land is slightly in excess of £180 per acre, which on the basis of 10 houses to the acre shows a cost of £18 per house. The whole of the services rendered by the Valuation Office have been free of cost to the local authorities.

land.

There have been many cases where landowners have been prepared to sell their land for housing purposes at lower figures than the values placed upon it by the valuers. Some have given land—sections 8 (1909) and 31 (1919).

On occasion, however, it has been necessary to resort to the compulsory purchase powers, given in section 57 of the 1890 Act, and section 2 and the first schedule 1909 Act—as amended. The official circulars and regulations on the subject deal with the powers and procedure, and are given in Appendix I.

To avoid delay, section 10 of the 1919 Act enables local authorities to take early possession of land which is to be compulsorily purchased. This may be done at any time after the Order has been confirmed and notice to treat served, provided that not less than fourteen days' notice is given to the owner and to the occupier of the land (see also page 389).

Early
of land.

A similar power of entry on fourteen days' notice is given where land is acquired by agreement, and the land is in the possession of a person who has no greater interest in it than that of a tenant for a year or from year to year.

Under section 15 (1) (b) of the 1919 Act, local authorities will be able to sell or to lease land to other bodies or persons for the erection of working-class dwellings or of dwellings for other classes, or of factories or business premises, or for any purpose incidental to its development as a building estate. This power may be found especially useful where the local authority have, for instance, bought an estate containing more land than is needed for their own housing scheme, because by buying the whole estate they may have been able to obtain the land more easily and cheaply.

Redemption
of land tax.

The land tax charged on sites purchased for housing schemes should be redeemed.

There are no special provisions as to land tax in the Housing Acts, and consequently the local authority should communicate in the ordinary way with the appropriate Commissioner of Land Tax, who will require them to fill in a form headed "Redemption of Land Tax." Immediately after this form has been completed and delivered, they can proceed to build houses without danger of reassessment of the land tax on the improved value.

The cost of redeeming the land tax can be charged to the capital cost of the scheme, and will rank for financial assistance.

The great need for economy in the preparation of

The Minister of Health has not been able to approve, without examination, any and every project or scheme submitted by local authorities. He has a responsibility to Parliament and the country which would be serious enough in normal times, but is doubly so in present circumstances.

Speaking at Plymouth in December 1919, Viscount Astor, Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Health, said that the Ministry had by that date saved £578,000 on tenders submitted by local authorities for approval. This represented over 8 per cent. on the original sum. They had also saved £570,000 on land, or 26 per cent. of the original sum asked, or provisionally agreed to, by local authorities. The average saving per acre in over 1,500 cases was £64.

Speaking on 4th February 1920, Dr. Addison, Minister of Health, mentioned a case in which a re-adjustment of the lay-out had resulted in a saving of £2,000 on roads, and another case in which a saving was effected of £10,000 on a scheme for 300 houses.

The Ministry has pointed out that there must, necessarily, be differences between schemes for urban and rural areas. In particular, houses in urban areas should not generally exceed twelve to the acre (gross area), and in rural areas eight to the acre (nett area). But here there is no hard and fast rule. In the special case contemplated in the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, twenty houses to the acre may be allowed (see page 120), and, generally, special cases will be met, especially if the greater local density is compensated for by the provision of suitable open spaces in the neighbourhood.

Number of houses to the acre.

"Gross area" refers to the acreage of the site including the area of roads on the site and minor open spaces, but excluding any sites reserved for buildings other than dwellings, and also excluding large open spaces, although these latter may be taken into account to the extent to which they effectively contribute to the open space about the dwellings.

"Nett area" means the land devoted to sites for dwelling houses, gardens, and such minor open spaces as may be provided by dividing such land into separate gardens. The land occupied by the necessary roads, sites for other buildings or by large or detached open spaces is excluded.

It is not possible to provide in by-laws with regard to new streets and buildings, for limiting the density of houses per acre, but it is open to a local authority to make a town-planning scheme under which this limitation could be enforced.

If the plans and specifications for a housing scheme, as approved by the Ministry of Health, do not comply with Relaxation of by-laws.

the local building by-laws, these by-laws are to that extent superseded: section 24 (1919).

Where the Ministry of Health have approved plans and specifications which are in any respect inconsistent with the building by-laws in force in the district in which the works are to be executed, any private builder will have the privilege, in that district, of departing from the provision of local by-laws to the same extent, and subject to the same conditions.

The house itself.

In the Manual on the Preparation of State-aided Housing Schemes, the Ministry has given many particulars and plans of the types of houses which it recommends, and to which the State financial assistance (section 7, 1919 Act) would be applicable. These plans are offered as suggestions, and local authorities and public utility societies are recommended to employ competent architects who are acquainted with the mode of life and requirements of the people for whom the houses are intended.

Special cases.

While the Ministry have certain standards in regard to approved houses, they recognise that local conditions and requirements have to be considered, and they do not want monotony. The following decisions of the Ministry will give an indication of the way in which special cases are met :—

Accommodation

Four bedroom houses in seaside towns. Higher proportion may sometimes be allowed. In seaside towns where the working classes practically all take in visitors the Ministry propose to insist on four bedrooms as the maximum, but in special circumstances they might agree to a higher proportion of houses with four bedrooms than they would otherwise regard as proper.

From a financial point of view the Ministry would expect in such cases to secure better rents than are ordinarily obtainable.

Baths

Provision of baths in houses bought in order to repair : The Ministry is not prepared to lay down a rule applicable to all cases, but where there is an adequate water supply and the structure of the house makes it practicable, the Ministry consider that baths should be provided.

Baths in rural cottages : Where there is no proper water supply, provision of baths should not be insisted on, but a space should be left for a bath so that one can be added later. It does not necessarily follow that a well and hand-pump to a cistern would not provide a sufficient water supply, though care will have to be taken in connection with the hot water supply, which might in such cases have to be provided from the copper.

Buildings

Sanitary conveniences : The Ministry refused to agree to the provision of privy middens in a Part III/90 scheme, but consented to the provision of earth closets.

Materials

Thatched roofs : Owing to the scarcity of slates and tiles, thatch should be encouraged for use as a roof covering in rural areas, but should not be used in districts which are urban in character owing to the risk from fire. The thatch should be protected from damage by birds and vermin by galvanised chicken wire.

Land

Recreation grounds : Where a site forms part of land acquired for, and used as, a recreation ground, the Ministry are advised that the local authority have no power to appropriate it for a building scheme under the Housing Acts.

Allotments and open spaces : Provided that open space is secured about the houses, and that there is sufficient distance between rows of houses to give plenty of air space and sunlight, discretion must be exercised as to whether the area of ground remaining will be more welcome in the form of individual gardens, allotments or open spaces.

Width of streets: The width of carriage-ways and foot-ways should be determined in relation to the probable traffic. An arbitrary limitation would involve expenditure on roads wider or more expensively constructed than necessary for the traffic.

Local authorities may agree with a contractor to purchase from him, on completion, houses which he proposes to build. In such cases, plans and specifications have to be approved by the Ministry, as in the case of the scheme of a local authority. When local authorities are fully occupied with details of their own schemes, they may find that, by making use of these powers, a number of houses might be completed at an earlier date than would otherwise be possible. Such houses will rank for the State subsidy.

New methods of construction.

New materials and methods of construction have been sanctioned, and, in view of the high cost of the usual materials and methods, the Ministry have given the matter careful and sympathetic attention, and urged it strongly upon the attention of local authorities. Speaking on 4th February 1920, Dr Addison referred with satisfaction to a statement made by a daily newspaper, which had been one of his freest critics, to the effect that more progress had been made with regard to new and improved methods of housing in the last six months than had previously been made in this country since the time of the cave dwellers. Housing gives particulars of these new methods, from time to time.

Other projects to meet the high prices.

In addition to the above, many interesting suggestions and projects have been put forward to overcome other difficulties, notably in connection with the high tenders received for the building of houses. The Ministry has accepted proposals in suitable cases for the erection of houses by labour employed directly by local authorities. There has also been a number of experiments in Guild Socialism—members of trade unions connected with building undertaking contracts for the erection of houses ; and H.M. Office of Works has carried out schemes.

Tenders are to be advertised for, with rare exceptions in the case of rural district councils, and the lowest tender should be accepted unless there is some good ground for refusal, e.g. that the firm were not substantial or of good reputation.

In August 1919, the Ministry issued a "Standard Specification for Cottages" (D. 82). It is to be adapted to local conditions, and to the requirement of the particular works. It describes materials and modes of construction which the Ministry consider should generally be adopted for State-aided housing schemes. Standard specifications.

In September 1919, the Ministry issued a "Standard Specification for Roads and Sewers" (D. 91). It is to be adapted to local conditions. It is intended to apply only to residential roads, on which heavy traffic is not anticipated. For roads, carrying heavy traffic, a more substantial construction may be necessary.

The Ministry pointed out in the covering circulars that every scheme which had not then gone to tender should comply with the above standard forms, and stated that it would not be prepared to approve schemes which showed deviations, except in so far as they were rendered desirable by local circumstances and conditions.

Subsequently other specifications were issued.

Where quantities are supplied, there is no need to send specifications to builders for tendering, as the quantities contain all the necessary information, in addition to the amount of each item required. Printed quantities and estimates have been supplied by the Ministry.

The Ministry have also issued for the general guidance of local authorities and public utility societies model contracts for State-aided housing schemes. Subject to any modifications to suit local conditions, the forms should, wherever possible, be adopted. Model Form of Contract.

28 . LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

Owing to the uncertainty as regards costs of labour and materials, it was deemed desirable to include in the conditions of contract provisions for adjustment of the contract price in the event of changes in rates of labour or costs of materials during the currency of the contract.

Cost of houses.

Below are given two statements showing the cost of houses of different types for which the Ministry had approved tenders. The figures are exclusive of the cost of land, road-making and sewerage. The first statement covers the period from the commencement to the middle of October 1919, and the second the period from the commencement to 19th June 1920.

Of the 36,381 houses :—

28,287 were in urban districts, and cost on the average £826 each.

8,094 were in rural districts, and cost on the average £798 each.

This cost includes all the expenses of erection, drainage and interior fittings. It does not include the making of roads or sewers, or the purchase of land. The average cost of road-making and sewerage is from £40 to £50 per house. The cost of land per house may be estimated on the average at about £18.

The houses included in the table are divided into two principal groups :—

(a) The non-parlour types, consisting of living-room, scullery and bedrooms ; and

- (b) the parlour types, consisting of a parlour, living-room, scullery, and bedrooms.

Most of the houses contain three bedrooms. The parlour type includes a considerable number of houses with four bedrooms.

Rent for the houses.

The question of the rent to be charged by local authorities for the new houses has been the subject of much discussion. House rents are now at an artificially low level because of the Rents Restriction legislation. Dr. Addison has clearly stated that higher rents will have to be charged initially, and that increases will have to be imposed, year by year, until an economic rent is reached. The State subsidy is intended to help to cover some of the difference between the present cost of building and the normal. It is not the intention of the Government to subsidise rents permanently. On 1st June 1920, the average officially approved rent of the new houses was 12s. 3d. per week, exclusive of rates. 15 per cent. were under 6s., and 1·5 per cent over 20s. The Increase of Rent, &c. (Restrictions) Act, 1920, does not apply to new houses or flats (completed after 2nd April 1919), but though, therefore, the rents are not limited the rates are—see section 12 (9) thereof.

Tenants for the houses.

The Leeds Corporation have decided that the tenants shall be chosen in the following order —(1) Men who have served in H.M. Forces, wives and mothers of men serving, or widows or mothers and children of deceased soldiers or sailors; (2) families who have outgrown their accommodation or are residing in apartments; (3) newly-married couples not at present occupying houses; (4) persons under notice to quit owing to property having been sold; (5) former Leeds residents who have had to give up houses during the war (other than service or ex-service men); (6) persons living out of Leeds, but employed within the city; (7) people desiring a change; and (8) people desiring to live in the city but now residing outside.

Other local authorities have adopted similar rules.

The local authorities choose the tenants and fix the rents, but the latter are subject to the approval of the Minister, or in the absence of such approval to settlement by an impartial tribunal.

A local authority may, with the consent of the Ministry, lease or sell any land or houses bought or erected by them, and may agree to the price being paid by instalments or to the payment of part of the price being secured by mortgage of the premises, but any house so leased or sold may not be used by any person having an interest in it to house his employees. Having regard to any condition imposed, the best price or rent must be obtained (section 15, 1919 Act). Full information on this subject is given in General Housing Memoranda, Nos. 27 and 33.

Local authorities may sell houses bought or erected by them.

Under the Small Dwellings Acquisition Act, 1899, as amended (see page 241), a local authority may lend money to any person resident in the district to assist him to buy the house in which he lives or intends to live. They may lend on houses up to the value of £800 each; and the amount which may be lent may be 85 per cent. of the value. The rate of interest and the terms of repayment of the loan are, subject to certain conditions, a matter for agreement between the local authority and the borrower.

Loans under the Small Dwellings Acquisition Act.

CONVERSION OF HOUSES INTO FLATS

With a view to enabling local authorities to obtain an immediate increase in the amount of accommodation available to relieve overcrowding, powers were conferred upon them by the 1919 Act to acquire houses themselves and convert them into flats (section 12, page 394), and to lend money to owners desirous of undertaking the conversion (section 22). The Act also assists in the modification of restrictive covenants by enabling the county court, upon an application from the local authority or lessee, to make an Order varying the terms of the lease so as to permit of conversion (section 27, see page 429).

Temporary housing accommodation by army huts or hostels.

On 15th September 1919 the Ministry of Health issued General Housing Memorandum No. 5, stating that they had under consideration measures to secure the early provision of housing accommodation in places where the immediate needs were acute. After referring to the possibilities of converting large houses into working-class flats, the Ministry said the conversion of huts or hostels into temporary houses was another way in which such accommodation could be provided. They notified the arrangements to facilitate the action of local authorities in this direction.

The Ministry were prepared to consider proposals from a local authority for the provision of temporary accommodation, whether by the use of army huts or State-owned hostels, and, if they approved, the proposals would be regarded as part of the local authority's housing scheme under section 1 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, and rank for financial assistance accordingly.

Where necessary, the Ministry were prepared to sanction loans for the acquisition and adaptation of huts and hostels for housing purposes. The periods for which such loans would be sanctioned were, of course, shorter than those applicable to permanent houses, the maximum being fixed at fifteen years.

Speaking of the results of this policy Dr. Addison said, in the House of Commons on 13th December 1919, that up to that date 1,621 huts and 26 hostels had been taken over by local authorities, and in addition 631 huts had been offered to such authorities. The huts would provide accommodation for 3,217 families, and the hostels for 536 families. 88 local authorities had applied for such buildings.

The provisions which cover the subject of these huts are contained in section 25 of the 1919 Act, page 419. No huts can be converted after 31st July 1922 if they would transgress the local building by-laws.

Section 7 of the 1919 Act provides for a grant out of moneys provided by Parliament being paid to local authorities towards the loss resulting from schemes involving the provision of houses for the working classes. Towards making good this loss the local authority have to find the product of a 1d. rate, and the State finds the remainder, subject to conditions. The conditions and the machinery for arriving at the figures are given in the Local Authorities' (Assisted Housing Schemes) Regulations, 1919, printed on page 537, which constitute the second attempt to deal with this difficult subject. The conditions are discussed in General Housing Memos. Nos. 8 and 18. As to accountancy matters, see the Housing Accounts Order (Local Authorities), 1920 (page 550).

Financial assistance to local authorities —the State grant.

CHAPTER III

THE POWERS AND DUTIES OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES : UNFIT HOUSES AND UNHEALTHY AREAS

As already explained, the primary purpose of the Housing Acts prior to 1919 was public health, principally slum clearances (Part I Unhealthy Areas ; Part II Unhealthy Dwelling-houses).

The local authorities for this purpose (First Schedule 1890 Act) are :—

For Parts I and II :

Borough Councils.

Urban District Councils

The Common Council of the City of London.

The County Council of London.

For Part II :

The Metropolitan Borough Councils.

Rural District Councils.

That is, Rural District Councils and the Metropolitan Borough Councils have no Part I powers. The London County Council do not usually exercise Part II powers, but may contribute or may be required by the Minister of Health to contribute towards the expenses incurred under a Part II scheme by a Metropolitan Borough Council ; or if the London County Council carry out a Part II scheme the Metropolitan Borough Council concerned may, or may be required to, contribute to the expenses (section 46 of 1890 Act, section 14 of the 1903 Act, and section 33 of the 1909 Act).

The problem of the Housing Acts prior to 1919 was almost solely connected with public health (though in the 1909 Act town planning was also dealt with). Necessarily so ; in 1909 there was a building boom : too many houses were being built, and it was the following slump which discouraged builders, and produced to some extent the present shortage. The public health powers conferred under these earlier Acts were supplementary to those of the Public Health Act, 1875, and to appreciate the full powers of local authorities with regard to matters affecting housing it is necessary to consider certain of the provisions of the Act, as amended, or in London, the Public Health (London) Act, 1891.

The Ministry of Health has published an admirable summary of these latter provisions, and also of the whole of the Parts I and II Housing Acts provisions—Manual on Unfit Houses and Unhealthy Areas, volume II. It would be an affectation to attempt to supply a similar summary here, in merely different language, and the following numbered paragraphs are a reproduction thereof with a few minor alterations principally caused by the enactment, since the issue of that Manual, of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919 (section 6).

1. Under the Public Health Acts it is the duty of every local authority to inspect their district in order to abate nuisances.

Any premises in such a state as to be a nuisance or injurious to health and any pool, ditch, gutter, water-course, privy, urinal, cesspool, drain or ashpit, so foul or in such a state as to be a nuisance or injurious to health, and any house or part of a house so overcrowded as to be dangerous or injurious to the health of the inmates are to be deemed to be nuisances liable to be dealt with summarily under the Act (sections 91–111, Public Health Act, 1875).

The corresponding provisions in London are contained in sections 2–16 of the Public Health (London) Act, 1891.

2. The following matters also may be dealt with under General powers and duties under the Public Health Acts.

the Public Health Acts ; the sections of the Public Health Act, 1875, here referred to are summarised on page 60 :—

Any house without sufficient drainage (section 23) ;

Any house without sufficient closet accommodation, or a sufficient receptacle for refuse (section 36) ;

Examination of drains, privies, &c., on complaint of nuisance (section 41) ;

Any house without a proper water supply (section 62 and, as regards rural districts, the Public Health (Water) Act, 1878).

As regards the Metropolis, provisions are contained in the Public Health (London) Act, 1891, as to closets, ashpits, drains and cesspools (sections 37–43), and as to water supply (sections 48–50).

3. The provisions restricting or prohibiting the letting or occupation of cellar dwellings and the use of underground rooms as sleeping places, are summarised on page 65.

4. The following additional powers are available to local authorities where the respective sections of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1907, have been put in force by an order of the Local Government Board, or are put in force by an order of the Minister of Health :—

Special power to require the paving and drainage of yards (section 25) ;

Special power to require the provision of water closets in place of other forms of closet accommodation (section 39) ;

Special power as to testing drains (section 45) ;

Special power to require the provision of sinks and drains for carrying off refuse water (section 49) ;

Power to deal with the following defects summarily as nuisances :—

Any cistern for the supply of water for domestic purposes so placed constructed or kept as to render

- the water therein liable to contamination causing or likely to cause risk to health ; or Any gutter, drain, shoot, &c., causing dampness in a building (section 35).

5. Under sections 23, 36, 41 and 62 of the Public Health Act, 1875, and sections 25, 45 and 49 of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1907, the local authority may, in default of the owner, do the necessary works and recover the expenses from him. Any person deeming himself aggrieved by the decision of the local authority may appeal to the Minister of Health under section 268 of the Public Health Act, 1875, the effect of which is set out on page 63.

1. It is the duty of the local authority to cause a thorough inspection of the dwelling houses or localities in their district to be carried out from time to time by the medical officer of health, or by an officer designated by the local authority but acting under the medical officer's direction and supervision, in order to ascertain whether any dwelling house in the district is in a state so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for habitation (section 17 (1) /09 and Housing (Inspection of District) Regulations, 1910) ; these Regulations are printed on page 570.

Powers and duties under the Housing Acts.

The necessary power to enter any premises for the purpose of survey and examination is contained in section 36 /09.

2. Full records are to be kept giving information under prescribed headings as to the inspection under the Housing Acts and action taken on it ; and the local authority are, as far as may be necessary, to consider the records at each of their ordinary meetings, and to take all necessary action in regard to any dwelling house to which the records relate (Housing (Inspection of District) Regulations, 1910). •

It is the duty of the medical officer of health, in the case of any dwelling house which appears to him to be in a state so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation, to make a written representation to the local authority, stating that the dwelling house appears to him to be in such a state (sections 30/90 and 79 (2)/90).

3. Complaint of Justice of Peace or four householders. It is also the duty of the medical officer forthwith to inspect and, if necessary, to represent to the local authority, any house in regard to which complaint in writing has been made to him by any Justice of the Peace, or any four householders, that it is in a condition so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation (sections 31/90 and 39/19).

Where it appears to the Minister of Health that the local authority have failed to carry out the inspection of their district as required by the Act of 1909, he may, by order, require them to remedy the default within a time fixed by the order. The order may be enforced by proceedings in the High Court (section 11/09).

4. Notices requiring repairs. Under section 15 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, the local authority may serve a notice on the landlord of a house which is not in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation requiring him to execute any necessary works.

This section applies only to houses let since the 3rd December 1909, and of which the rental does not exceed certain limits. There is an appeal to the Minister of Health against notices served under it and the landlord may instead of repairing the house declare it to be closed (see, however, the next paragraph (5) and section 6 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919).

If the landlord does not do the works and does not declare the house to be closed the local authority may do the works and may, subject to an appeal to the Minister of Health, recover the expenses from him.

5. Fuller powers for securing that an unfit dwelling shall be rendered in all respects, reasonably fit, whether the defects are dangerous or injurious to health or not, are now given by section 28 of the Act of 1919.

This section provides that, if the owner of any house suitable for occupation by persons of the working classes fails to make and keep it in all respects fit for human habitation, the local authority may serve notice on the owner requiring him within a reasonable time, not being less than twenty-one days, to execute such works as may be necessary; the prescribed form of notice is given on page 612. If the house is not capable, without reconstruction, of being rendered fit for human habitation, the owner may within twenty-one days after the receipt of the notice, by written notice to the local authority, declare his intention of closing the house for human habitation. The house is then to be treated as if a closing order had been made and become operative in respect of it. Any question arising in this matter is, in case of difference between the owner and the local authority, to be determined by the Minister of Health. In this section "owner" has the same meaning as in the Public Health Act, 1875 (see page 423).

6. Power of local authority to execute repairs. If the owner does not comply with the requirements and does not give notice declaring the house to be closed, the local authority may, at the expiration of the period specified in the notice requiring the execution of works, themselves do the work and recover the expenses from him.

In a case in which the owner has given notice declaring the house to be closed, but the Minister of Health has determined that the house can be made fit for habitation without reconstruction, if then the owner fails to carry out the required repairs within twenty-one days of the date when the Minister gave his decision, the local authority may step in and do the work, as stated above.

Any expenses incurred by the local authority in doing the work may be recovered from the owner, together with interest at a rate not exceeding 5 per cent., in a court of summary jurisdiction, and until recovery are to be a charge on the premises.

The local authority may by order declare the expenses to be payable by monthly or annual instalments within a period not exceeding thirty years, with interest at a rate not exceeding 5 per cent., and any such instalments or interest may be recovered in a summary manner from the owner or occupier. If recovered from the occupier, the amount may be deducted by him from the rent.

By section 6 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, there is prohibited the demolition, in whole or in part, or the use otherwise than as a dwelling house, of any house which on 23rd December 1919, was in the opinion of the local authority reasonably fit or reasonably capable without reconstruction of being rendered fit for human habitation. The local authority may, however, grant permission to demolish, and if they refuse there is an appeal to the Minister. The section remains in force until 23rd December 1921.

7. Closing Orders. If on the representation of the medical officer of health, or of any other officer, or other information given (see page 47 as to representations by county medical officers of health), any dwelling house appears to the local authority to be in a state so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation, the authority are required to make a closing order.

Any owner aggrieved by the order may appeal to the Minister of Health within fourteen days after the service of the notice of the order (section 17 (2) /09).

If no appeal is made, or if an appeal is made and is dismissed or abandoned, the closing order becomes operative.

Nothing in the Increase of Rent and Mortgage Interest (War Restrictions) Act, 1915, and the enactments amending that Act (see page 710) is to affect the right of a local authority to make and enforce a closing order. (section 35 /19).

8. Where a closing order has become operative, the local authority are required to serve notice of it on the occupier of the dwelling house ordering him to quit it within a specified period, not being less than fourteen days.

Unless the dwelling house has been made unfit by the wilful act or default of the tenant, the local authority may pay him a reasonable allowance on account of his expense of removing, and the allowance is recoverable from the owner (section 17 (4) (5) /09).

If any owner of a house in respect of which a closing order is in force or any other person lets or attempts to let, or occupies or permits to be occupied, that house or any part of it as a dwelling house, he is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £20 (section 32 /19).

9. If a house is rendered fit for habitation after a closing order has been made, the local authority are required to determine the order, and it then ceases to be in force. If they refuse to do so, the owner may appeal to the Minister against their refusal (section 17 (6) /09).

A repairing notice under section 28 of the 1919 Act cannot be served on the owner of a house in respect of which a closing order has become operative.

10 Demolition Orders. Where a closing order has remained operative for a period of three months, the local authority are to take into consideration the question of the demolition of the dwelling house, and are to give every owner of the dwelling house notice of the time (which must not be less than one month after service of the notice) and place at which the question will be considered. Any owner is entitled to be heard when the question is considered. Demolition orders.

If upon such consideration the local authority are of opinion that the dwelling house has not been rendered fit, and that the necessary steps are not being taken with all due diligence to render it fit, or that the continuance of the dwelling house, or any part of it, is a nuisance or dangerous or injurious to the health of the public, or of the inhabitants of the neighbouring dwelling houses, they are to order the demolition of the building.

If any owner undertakes to execute forthwith the works necessary to render the dwelling house fit for human habitation, the local authority may postpone the operation of the order for a period not exceeding six months : and, if the necessary works are completed, they are to determine the Closing and Demolition Orders relating to the dwelling house (sections 18 (1) (2) (3) /09, 39 (1) /19).

11. Notice of an order for the demolition of a building is to be served forthwith on every owner of the building, and any owner aggrieved may appeal to the Minister of Health within twenty-one days after the notice is served on him, or, where the operation of the order has been postponed for any period, within fourteen days after the expiration of that period (sections 18 (4) /09, 39 (1) /19).

If a demolition order has become operative and the owner fails within three months to demolish the building, the local authority may do so, and may sell the materials to pay expenses and may recover any deficiency from the owner (sections 34 /90, 9 /03 and 46 /09).

12. Conversion of houses into tenements. A number of houses now remain unoccupied because, owing to changes in the character of the neighbourhood, they can no longer be let as single tenements. In some cases the houses are held under a lease containing provisions which prevent them from being converted into two or more tenements. In such cases application may now be made, by the local authority or the lessee, to the county court who may authorise the conversion of the houses (section 27 /19).

Where there are provisions in a lease which would prevent compliance with by-laws which will apply if the house is converted into two or more tenements, the local authority may apply to the county court for the provisions to be relaxed so as to make it possible to comply with the by-laws. Application may also be made, where the local authority consider that the whole or part of the expenses of complying with the by-laws should be borne by the lessor or the superior landlord, for a charging order, charging on the premises an annuity to repay the expenses properly incurred. Where a local authority have themselves acquired a leasehold interest in any house, the Minister of Health may, on the application of the local authority, make a similar order relaxing the provisions of the lease or charging an annuity on the premises (section 26/19).

13. Owners—Powers and Loans. The enforcement of necessary repairs has frequently been rendered difficult by the fact that the immediate landlord had little interest in the property, and was unwilling or unable to do what was required. This difficulty is met by section 30 of the Act of 1919, under which if the premises are or are likely to become dangerous or injurious to health or unfit for human habitation the court may authorise the superior landlord if his interests are prejudiced to enter and execute any necessary works.

14. A local authority may lend money to the owner of a house or building for works of reconstruction, enlargement or improvement, which will render the house or building in all respects fit for habitation as a house or houses for the working classes.

The loan is not to exceed one-half of the estimated value of the property mortgaged unless some collateral security is given.

Full particulars of the works are to be submitted to the local authority, and they must satisfy themselves that the works have been efficiently carried out before they make any loan.

The local authority may borrow for the purpose of such loans in the same manner as for the purposes of Part III of the Act of 1890 (section 22/19).

• 44 . LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

Requirements as to tenements.

15. Requirements as to tenement houses. A common evil is the letting of a house in lodgings to more families or lodgers than can be decently accommodated in it. The power under section 90 of the Public Health Act, 1875 to make by-laws as to houses let in lodgings for the working classes has now, by section 26¹ of the Act of 1919, been extended, so that in the case of houses intended or used for occupation by the working classes proper accommodation for each person or family may be more effectually secured.

A form of model by-laws to deal with these matters is given on page 637.

In the County of London, any such by-laws are to be made by the County Council, and are to be observed and enforced by each Metropolitan Borough Council with the exception that by-laws for securing stability and the prevention of and safety from fire are to be enforced by the County Council.

In the City of London by-laws of this kind are to be made and enforced by the Common Council, with the same exception as stated above.

As regards the water supply of tenement houses in London special powers are contained in section 78 of the London County Council (General Powers) Act, 1907, which is summarised on page 64.

16. A local authority may, under Part III of the Act of 1890 as extended by section 12/19, buy houses and alter, enlarge, repair and improve them so as to render them in all respects fit for habitation as houses for the working classes.

A separate manual has been issued by the Ministry dealing with the purchase of houses under this section for conversion into tenements.

17. Obstructive buildings. Under section 38 of the Obstructive buildings.
Housing Act of 1890 it is the duty of the medical officer of health to make the necessary representation to the local authority for the pulling down of a building, if he finds that the building, by reason of its proximity to or contact with any other buildings—

- (a) stops or impedes ventilation, or otherwise makes or conduces to make the other buildings to be in a condition unfit for human habitation, or dangerous or injurious to health ; or
- (b) prevents proper measures from being carried into effect for remedying any nuisance injurious to health or other evils complained of in respect of those other buildings.

A similar representation may be made by any Justice of the Peace acting for a district, or any four or more inhabitant householders.

18. The local authority, on receiving such a representation, are to cause a report to be made to them as to the circumstances of the building and the cost of pulling it down and acquiring the land. If they decide to proceed, they may, after hearing any objections which the owner has to make, order the obstructive building to be pulled down. The owner has the same right of appealing against the order as against a demolition order.

If no appeal against the order is made, or an appeal is made and either fails or is abandoned, the local authority may purchase the lands on which the obstructive building is erected either by agreement or compulsorily.

The owner may, within one month after notice to purchase the land is served on him, declare that he desires to retain the site of the obstructive building, and undertake either to pull down or to permit the local authority to pull down the obstructive building. In such case the owner is to retain the site and to receive compensation for the pulling down of the building.

19. The amount of compensation to be paid for the purchase of the land or for the pulling down of the building is, in case of difference, to be settled by arbitration.

Where part only of a holding is proposed to be taken as obstructive, and the arbitrator considers that it can be severed from the remainder without material detriment thereto, the owner cannot insist on the entire holding being taken, but the arbitrator may award compensation in respect of the severance.

Where, in the opinion of the arbitrator, the demolition of an obstructive building adds to the value of the other buildings, the arbitrator is to apportion so much of the compensation to be paid for the demolition of the obstructive building as may be equal to the increase in value of the other buildings amongst the other buildings.

20. Where the lands are purchased by the local authority, they are to pull down the obstructive building and to keep the whole site, or so much of it as is necessary, as an open space. They may, with the assent of the Minister of Health, sell any portion of this site which is not required as an open space.

The local authority may dedicate any land acquired by them under the section as a highway or other public place.

IMPROVEMENT SCHEMES

1. Improvement schemes for the clearance or reconstruction of slum areas may be made under Part I or Part II (section 39) of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, as amended by subsequent Acts. Schemes under Part II (section 39) of the Act are referred to in the Acts as reconstruction schemes, but as there is generally no practical difference, except in size, between such schemes and improvement schemes under Part I, the two kinds of scheme are both referred to as "Improvement Schemes" and are distinguished as "Part I" and "Part II" schemes respectively.

Both kinds of scheme usually provide for—

- (a) the purchase, compulsorily or by agreement, of the whole of an area;
- (b) the demolition of buildings on the area which are themselves insanitary or which would interfere with the re-development of the area on satisfactory lines;
- (c) the proper laying out of the area with convenient streets and any necessary open spaces;
- (d) the erection on the area, or elsewhere, of sufficient dwelling accommodation in respect of persons of the working classes displaced by the scheme;
- (e) the disposal of any surplus lands.

Financial assistance from the State will be available for both classes of schemes. . . .

3. It is the duty of the medical officer of health, in a district other than a rural district, to make a written representation (known as an "official representation") to the local authority in regard to any area which appears to him to be an area of the character described in section 4 of the Act of 1890. Such an area is one within which either—

- (a) any houses, courts or alleys are unfit for human habitation, or
- (b) the narrowness, closeness, and bad arrangement or bad condition of the streets and houses, or groups of houses, or the want of light, air, ventilation or proper conveniences, or any other sanitary defects, or one or more of such causes, are dangerous or injurious to the health of the inhabitants of the buildings in the area or of the neighbouring buildings.

A further condition required to justify an "official representation," is that the most satisfactory method of dealing with the evils is an improvement scheme for the re-arrangement and reconstruction of the streets and houses in the area, or some of them (section 22/09).

In London, any medical officer of health, whether appointed by the London County Council or by a Metropolitan Borough Council, may make such a representation to the London County Council. If a representation is made to the London County Council in regard to an area comprising not more than ten houses they are to direct the medical officer of health to represent the case to the Metropolitan Borough Council, who are to deal with it under Part II. (Sections 5/90 and 72/90.)

4. If any Justice of the Peace acting within the district or any six ratepayers complain to the medical officer of health of the unhealthiness of any area, it is the duty of the latter forthwith to inspect the area and make a report on it.

Where in any district (other than a rural district) a complaint of this kind has been made to the medical officer of health and the medical officer has failed to inspect the area, or has reported to the effect that in his opinion the area is not an unhealthy area, the complainant (or complainants) may appeal to the Minister of Health. The Minister may appoint a person to inspect the area, and to make a representation to him stating the facts of the case. The representation is to be transmitted by the Minister to the local authority, and if it states that the area is an unhealthy area, the local authority are to proceed as if it were an official representation made to them

5. Where an "official representation," as described above, has been made to a local authority (not being a Metropolitan Borough Council or a Rural District Council), the local authority, if satisfied of the truth of the representation, and of the sufficiency of their resources,¹ are to pass a resolution to the effect that the area is an unhealthy one and that an improvement scheme ought to be made in respect to it (section 4/90).

6. Where an official representation under Part I is made to the local authority with a view to their passing a resolution in favour of an improvement scheme, and they fail to pass a resolution, or pass a resolution that they will not proceed with a scheme, the local authority are required to send a copy of the official representation and their reasons for not acting upon it to the Minister of Health.

The Minister may direct a local inquiry to be held, and, where necessary, may order a scheme to be made, either under Part I or under Part II of the Act of 1890.

(Sections 10/90 and 4/03.)

7. A Part I scheme must be accompanied by maps, particulars and estimates, and :—

- (a) may exclude any part of the area included in the official representation ;
- (b) may include any neighbouring lands for the purpose of making the scheme efficient ;
- (c) may provide for widening any existing approaches to the unhealthy area or otherwise for opening out the same for the purposes of ventilation or health ;
- (d) must provide such dwelling accommodation, if any, as is necessary for persons of the working classes who are displaced ;
- (e) must provide for proper sanitary arrangements ;
- (f) may provide for any other matter (including the closing and diversion of highways) for which it seems expedient to make provision with a view to the improvement of the area or the general efficiency of the scheme.

The scheme must distinguish the lands proposed to be taken compulsorily.

Provision may also be made for the scheme, or any part of it, to be carried out by any person having such interest in any property comprised in the scheme as may be sufficient to enable him to carry out the same under the supervision and control of the local authority and on such terms and conditions (which must be embodied in the scheme) as may be agreed upon between him and the local authority.

50. LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

(Sections 6/90, 23 (1)/09 and 39/19.)

schemes.

8. It is the duty of the local authority to make a Part II scheme in either of the two following sets of circumstances :—

(a) Where an order for the demolition of a building has been made under Part II of the Act of 1890, and it appears to the authority that it would be beneficial to the health of the inhabitants of the neighbouring houses if the land were :—

- (1) dedicated as a highway or open space ; or
- (2) appropriated, sold or let for the erection of dwellings for the working classes ; or
- (3) exchanged with other neighbouring land which is more suitable for the erection of such dwellings ; or

(b) Where it appears to the local authority that the closeness, narrowness, and bad arrangement or bad condition of any buildings, or the want of light, air, ventilation, or proper conveniences, or any other sanitary defect in any buildings is dangerous or prejudicial to the health of the inhabitants of the said buildings, or of the neighbouring buildings, and that the demolition or the reconstruction and re-arrangement of the said buildings, or of some of them is necessary to remedy the evils, and that the area comprising those buildings and the yards, out-houses, and appurtenances thereof, and the site thereof, is too small to be dealt with as an unhealthy area under Part I of the Act.

9. There is no provision in the Acts prescribing the minimum size of an area for a Part I scheme or the maximum size of an area for a Part II scheme.

In London, as mentioned above, any unhealthy area comprising not more than ten houses is to be dealt with under Part II (section 72/90). Part II schemes may, however, be made for considerably larger areas.

10. Provision may be made in a Part II scheme for any matters for which provision may be made in a Part I scheme (section 7/03 and 23 (2)/09).

11. Both Part I and Part II schemes may provide for the erection, either within the area of the scheme or elsewhere, of dwellings for persons of the working classes who are displaced. The Minister of Health in confirming or sanctioning a scheme may require provision of this kind to be made. (Sections 11 (2)/90, 40/90 and 46/09.)

In these respects the position in London is now the same as elsewhere (section 33/19).

12. Duty of Local Authority to execute Improvement Schemes. When an improvement scheme under Part I or Part II has been confirmed or sanctioned, it is the duty of the local authority to proceed to execute it as soon as practicable.

It is not obligatory upon them to purchase any leasehold interest which can be allowed to expire without unduly delaying the execution of the scheme.

It is also open to them, instead of acquiring all the lands in the scheme, to contract with any person having sufficient interest in any land to carry out the scheme so far as it relates to such land.

(Sections 12/90, 39 (8)/90 and 39/19.)

13. On application from the local authority, the Minister of Health has power, where an improvement can be made in the details of a Part I or Part II scheme, to permit the local authority to modify it (sections 15/90, 39/90 and 25/09).

14. As soon as a local authority have passed a resolution to make a Part I or Part II scheme, they may proceed, if they obtain the consent of the Minister of Health, to purchase by agreement any land in the area of the proposed scheme (section 13/19).

Powers of compulsory purchase are available as soon as the Part I or Part II scheme is confirmed or sanctioned, subject to the provisions of the Confirming or Sanctioning Order (sections 20 and 39/90).

of land.

15. Valuation of Land. The Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, has altered the law with regard to the method of determining any question of disputed compensation where land is authorised to be acquired compulsorily by any local or public authority. The Act sets up a panel of official arbitrators, by one of whom the question is ordinarily determined. It also makes provision for reference, by consent, of any such question to the Commissioners of Inland Revenue, or to an arbitrator agreed upon between the parties.

The Acquisition of Land Act also contains important rules for determining the compensation to be paid for land which is compulsorily acquired, such as, that the value of the land, subject to certain conditions, is to be the amount which the land, if sold in the open market by a willing seller, might be expected to realise; that consideration is to be paid in determining the value to any return or assessment of capital value for taxation which has been made or acquiesced in by the claimant; that no allowance is to be made because of the fact that the acquisition is compulsory; that the special suitability of the land for any purpose is not to be taken into account if that purpose is a purpose to which it could be applied only in pursuance of statutory powers; and that no account is to be taken of any increase in the value of the land due to its use, or the use of premises upon it, in a manner which can be restrained by any court, or is contrary to law, or is detrimental to the health of the inmates of the premises or to the public health.

Section 7 of the Act provides that nothing in the Act, relating to the rules for assessing compensation is to affect any special provisions (in so far as the provisions are inconsistent with these rules) as to the assessment of the value of land acquired for the purposes of Part I or Part II of the Housing Act of 1890 and contained in that Act or any amending Act.

16. There are a number of special conditions in section 9 of the Housing Act of 1919 relating to the compensation to be paid for land in an unhealthy area which is acquired compulsorily.

In the first place payment is to be made only for the land as a cleared site ; nothing is to be paid in respect of the buildings on it. Subject to what is said in the next paragraph, the value of the land is to be its value as a cleared site available for development in accordance with any by-laws or local Acts in force in the district as to new streets or buildings.

In the second place if the land (or a part of it) is required under the improvement scheme to be used for rehousing of the working classes or as an open space the amount of compensation payable by the local authority in respect of the unhealthy area is to be reduced. The Act contains provisions under which the reduction of value is to be spread over all the owners of land in the unhealthy area.

The rules laid down by the Act in this matter are to be found on page 455.

The following example will give an indication of the operation of these rules. If the value of the whole of the land included in the scheme (whether land added to make the scheme efficient or land included in the unhealthy area) is by reason of the intended use of any part of it for housing or as an open space reduced from £5,000 to £3,000, then each owner of land in the unhealthy area will receive only three-fifths of the compensation to which he would have been entitled if the value of the area as a whole were not reduced on account of the restriction on its use.

As already explained, full compensation is to be paid for any land, and buildings on it, which is included in an improvement scheme only in order to make the scheme efficient, and not as part of the unhealthy area.

Default powers.

17. Default Powers. If it appears to the Minister of Health that owing to the density of population, or any other reason, it is expedient to inquire into the circumstances of any area, in order to determine whether any powers of the Housing Acts should be put into force in that area, he may require the local authority to make a report to him containing such particulars as he directs (section 37 /09).

Where a representation is made to the Minister as respects any county district that the local authority have failed to exercise their powers under Part I or Part II of the Act of 1890, he may direct the county council to instruct the county medical officer of health to inspect the district and to report to the Minister as to the exercise of their powers by the local authority (section 6/19).

18. Particulars have already been given (page 49) of the power of the Minister of Health, where an official representation has been made by a medical officer of health and the local authority do not proceed to make a scheme, to direct an inquiry and, if he thinks this necessary, to order a scheme to be made.

Where the Minister is satisfied that any area within the district of a local authority is an area in respect of which the local authority ought to exercise their powers under Part I or Part II of the Act of 1890, the Minister may require the local authority to make an improvement scheme and to carry it into execution. In case of default, he may either authorise the county council to make and carry out a scheme, or may himself do so (section 5/19).

Further on this subject, see Chapter IV, on the powers and duties of county councils.

PROCEDURE

1. In making a Part I or Part II scheme, it is important that the statutory requirements should be carefully observed in order that no question may arise as to the validity of the proceedings.

The stages in the procedure are summarised below. In connection with this summary, reference should be made to the forms and instructions given on page 580.

2. The representation must be made in writing to the local authority by the medical officer of health of the local authority (in London by that officer or by any medical officer of health in London). Part I schemes

The representation should follow the exact words of section 4 of the Act of 1890, as amended by section 22 of the Act of 1909, so far as the words apply to the particular case, and the medical officer of health should furnish the local authority with sufficient facts to enable the members properly to consider the representation. A form of official representation is given on page 580.

3. The local authority then take the representation into consideration and, if satisfied of the truth of it and of the sufficiency of their resources,¹ pass a resolution declaring that the area referred to is an unhealthy area and that an improvement scheme ought to be made in respect of it, and giving the necessary directions for the preparation of the scheme.

Any number of areas may be included in one improvement scheme.

4. After passing the resolution the local authority must in due course proceed to make the scheme.

The nature of the provisions which may be inserted in the scheme is indicated on page 584.

¹ As previously mentioned, the financial assistance which may be received in respect of improvement schemes should be borne in mind.

56 • LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

• The scheme must be accompanied by maps, particulars and estimates.

5. When the scheme has been duly made under seal, the local authority must forthwith publish an advertisement of it in a newspaper circulating in their district and deposit a copy of the scheme for inspection in or within the vicinity of the area. One advertisement is sufficient. A form of advertisement is given on page 586.

They must also serve a notice on owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, and occupiers (except tenants for a month or less period than a month) of any land proposed to be taken compulsorily. The Act contains provision as to the manner in which a notice may be served (sections 7/90, 5/03 and 39/19). Forms of notice are given on pages 587 and 588.

6. When the advertisement has been published and the notices have been served the local authority must present a petition under their seal to the Minister of Health praying that an order may be made confirming the scheme. The petition must state the names of the owners or reputed owners, and lessees or reputed lessees who dissent in respect of the taking of their land (section 8/90). A form of petition is given on page 590.

7. No "official representation" is expressly required in the case of a Part II scheme. But it is desirable that the local authority should have some such representation or report from the medical officer of health before them.

8. The local authority pass a resolution in the terms indicated in section 39 (1) (a) or (b) of the Act of 1890 (see page 184), directing a scheme to be prepared for the improvement of the specified area. A form of resolution is given on page 592.

9. The same course in the making of a scheme should be followed as in the case of a Part I scheme.

10. When the scheme is made notices must be served on every owner, &c., in the same way as in the case of a Part I scheme. No advertisement is necessary (section 39 (2)/90). Forms of notice are given on pages 593 and 595.

11. After the service of the notices, the local authority must apply to the Minister of Health, by a petition under their seal, for an order sanctioning the scheme (section 39 (3)/90). A suggested form of petition is given on page 596.

12. Proceedings after a Scheme has been made. Before Subsequent proceedings, deciding to confirm or sanction a Part I or Part II scheme, the Minister of Health will hold a local inquiry. At this stage the following matters will be considered:— the area of the scheme ; the delimitation of the unhealthy area ; the amount of re-housing to be provided ; the manner in which re-housing operations and demolitions are to be co-ordinated ; how far re-housing is to be effected within the area of the scheme (and on what part of the area) ; the accommodation to be provided ; what roads and open spaces are to be provided, and where, in the area of the scheme ; and the appropriation or disposal of lands not required for re-housing.

13. Purchase of Land. When a scheme is confirmed or sanctioned the local authority should proceed as soon as possible to purchase, by agreement or compulsorily, any land which they will require to purchase under the scheme. The powers of compulsory purchase will lapse on the expiration of three years after the confirmation or sanction of the scheme (section 20 and 39 (7)/90).

It will, however, be necessary for the local authority to obtain the consent of the Minister of Health before incurring any expenditure, whether in connection with the acquisition of land, the clearance of the area or any other matter, if the expenditure is to be brought into account in an application for financial assistance from the State.

Before purchasing any land or any interest in land by agreement, whether under section 13 of the Act of 1919 before the scheme is confirmed or after confirmation of the scheme, the local authority should obtain a valuation from the District Valuer and should consult the Ministry. The Ministry have arranged with the Board of Inland Revenue that the District Valuers shall be at the service of local authorities for negotiating the purchase of land or of any interest therein ; and local authorities will find it to their advantage to avail themselves of this arrangement.

The new provisions as to assessment of compensation on the compulsory purchase of land in an unhealthy area should be borne in mind.

14. When the local authority have ascertained what lands they will have to acquire compulsorily, they should follow the procedure laid down for the purpose by the Ministry.

Before making any application to the Reference Committee under the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, for the appointment of an official arbitrator, the local authority must, in the case of a Part I scheme, cause to be made out maps and schedules of all lands proposed to be taken compulsorily, with the names of all persons interested in such lands as owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, or occupiers (except tenants for a month or a less period than a month). The maps should be on the scale of $\frac{1}{200}$, or on a scale approximating to this, and should show, by figures referring to the schedules, the lands of all the several owners and, by distinctive colours, each of the separate properties proposed to be taken compulsorily for the purposes of the improvement scheme.

One copy of the maps and schedules should be sent to the Ministry of Health, and one copy deposited in the office of the local authority. (Second schedule /90 and section 39/19.)

Re-housing.

15. Re-housing. The displacement of tenants from occupied buildings in the area of the scheme must, of course, be deferred until any necessary accommodation is available. The scheme as confirmed often provides for the re-housing and clearance to be carried out in sections.

Where re-housing accommodation is to be provided on a site outside the area of the improvement scheme, the procedure in regard to the selection of sites, submission of plans, &c., for Part III schemes set out in the Manual on State-aided Housing Schemes should be followed.

16. Loans. Application to the Minister of Health for Loans. sanction to loans may be made from time to time when the local authority are in a position to supply a statement showing how the sums required to be borrowed are made up.

A Metropolitan Borough Council carrying out a Part II scheme should apply to the London County Council for sanction to any loan required by them.

Some proposals have recently been brought before the Ministry where the local authority have contemplated the purchase under their Part III powers of houses in areas which should apparently be dealt with as "unhealthy" under Part I or Part II of the Act of 1890. Purchase of unfit houses.

If an area is "unhealthy," within the meaning of the Housing Acts, it is the duty of the local authority to deal with it as such; and the Ministry would not be justified in approving the purchase, under Part III of houses in such an area. To do so would be to throw away the advantages of the special powers granted by Parliament for the acquisition of slum areas, and to cast an unnecessarily heavy charge on the Exchequer.

District Valuers. Arrangements have been made with the Inland Revenue, by which the services of their district valuers will be available to local authorities in cases such as these mentioned, in the same manner as in the purchase of sites for the houses. Before approving of any purchase, the Ministry will require to know the valuation of the district valuer. Where negotiations are necessary, local authorities are advised to have them carried out by the district valuers.

SUMMARY OF THE PROVISIONS IN THE PUBLIC HEALTH ACTS, &c., AFFECTING UNHEALTHY HOUSES AND AREAS

1—HOUSE WITHOUT A DRAIN SUFFICIENT FOR EFFECTUAL DRAINAGE

(Section 23, Public Health Act, 1875.)

Where any house is without a drain sufficient for effectual drainage, the local authority are, by written notice, to require the owner or occupier, within a reasonable time to be specified in the notice, to make a drain or drains emptying into a sewer if there is one available not more than one hundred feet from the site of such house, or otherwise into a suitable cesspool or other place.

If the notice is not duly complied with, the local authority may do the work required and may recover the expenses incurred by them in so doing from the owner.

2—CLOSET ACCOMMODATION AND RECEPTACLE FOR REFUSE

(Section 36, Public Health Act, 1875.)

If a house appears to a local authority by the report of their surveyor or inspector of nuisances to be without a sufficient water-closet, earth-closet, or privy and an ashpit furnished with proper doors and coverings, the local authority are, by written notice, to require the owner or occupier of the house to provide a sufficient water-closet, earth-closet, or privy and an ashpit, or either of them, as the case may require.

If the notice is not duly complied with the local authority may do the work and recover the expenses incurred by them in so doing from the owner.

DEFINITION OF ASHPIT

(Section 11 (1), Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890.)

The expression "ashpit" in the Public Health Acts is, for the purposes of the execution of those Acts, to include any ashtub or other receptacle for the deposit of ashes, faecal matters, or refuse.

3—NUISANCE FROM DRAIN, CLOSET, ASHPIT OR CESSPOOL

(Section 41, Public Health Act, 1875.)

On the written application of any person to a local authority stating that any drain, water-closet, earth-closet, privy, ashpit or cesspool on or belonging to any premises within their district is a nuisance or injurious to health, the local authority may, by writing, empower their surveyor or inspector of nuisances, after twenty four hours' written notice to the occupier of the premises, or in case of emergency without notice, to enter the premises, with or without assistants, and cause the ground to be opened, and examine the drain, water-closet, earth-closet, privy, ashpit or cesspool.

If the drain, water-closet, earth-closet, privy, ashpit or cesspool on examination appears to be in bad condition, or to require alteration or amendment, the local authority are forthwith to cause notice in writing to be given to the owner or occupier of the premises requiring him to do the necessary works. If the notice is not complied with, the person to whom it is given is liable to a penalty for default, and the local authority may execute the works and recover the expenses incurred by them in so doing from the owner.

Similar provisions with regard to London are contained in sections 40 and 41 Public Health (London) Act, 1891.

4—WATER SUPPLY

(Section 62, Public Health Act, 1875.)

Where, on the report of the surveyor of a local authority, it appears to them that any house is without a proper supply of water, and that such a supply of water can be furnished at a cost not exceeding the water rate authorised by any local Act in force within the district, or, where there is not any local Act in force, at a cost not exceeding 2d. a week, or at such other cost as the Minister of Health may, on the application of the local authority, determine to be reasonable, the local authority are to give notice in writing to the owner requiring him to obtain such supply, and to do any necessary works for that purpose.

62 • LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

If the notice is not duly complied with the local authority may do the works and obtain the supply, and for that purpose may enter into any contract with any water company supplying water within their district ; and water rates may be made and levied on the premises by the authority or company which furnishes the supply and may be recovered as if the owner or occupier of the premises had demanded a supply of water and were willing to pay water rates for the same. Any expenses incurred by the local authority in doing any such works may be recovered by them from the owner.

5—PAVING AND DRAINAGE OF YARDS

(Section 25, Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1907.)

If any yard in connection with, and exclusively belonging to, a dwelling house shall not be so formed, flagged, asphalted, or paved, or shall not be provided with such works on, above, or below the surface of the yard, as to allow of the effectual drainage of the subsoil or surface of the yard by safe and suitable means to a proper outfall, the local authority may, by notice in writing, require the owner of the dwelling house, within twenty-one days after the service of the notice, to execute all such works as are necessary for the effectual drainage of the subsoil or surface of the yard to a proper outfall.

If, within the period of twenty-one days, the owner has failed to complete the execution of the works specified in the notice, the local authority may execute the works, and may recover the expenses from the owner.

6—APPLICATION OF SMOKE TEST OR OTHER TESTS TO DRAINS

(Section 45, Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1907.)

If the medical officer, surveyor or inspector of nuisances reports to the local authority that he has reasonable grounds for believing that any drains of any building are so defective as to be injurious or dangerous to health, the local authority may authorise their medical officer, surveyor or inspector of nuisances to apply the smoke or coloured water test, or other similar test (not including a test by water under pressure) to the drains, subject to the condition that either the consent of the owner or the occupier of the building must be given to the application of the test, or an order of a court of summary jurisdiction in the place where the building is situated must be obtained, authorising the application of the test.

If the drains are found to be defective, the local authority may, by notice, require the owner to remedy the defect, and if the owner does not comply with the notice, the local authority may themselves do the work, and recover the expense from the owner.

7—SINKS AND DRAINS FOR REFUSE WATER

(Section 49, Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1907.)

In addition to all other powers vested in a local authority, the local authority, if it appears to them, on the report of the surveyor, medical officer, or inspector of nuisances, that any building is not provided with a proper sink or drain or other necessary appliance for carrying off refuse water, may give notice in writing to the owner or occupier of the building requiring him to provide such sink, drain, or other appliances.

If the owner or occupier fails to comply with the notice, he is liable to penalties, and the local authority may themselves provide the sink, drain, or other appliances, and recover the expenses incurred by them from the owner or occupier.

8—APPEAL TO MINISTER OF HEALTH

(Section 268, Public Health Act, 1875.)

Where any person deems himself aggrieved by the decision of the local authority in any case in which the local authority are empowered to recover in a summary manner any expenses incurred by them, or to declare such expenses to be private improvement expenses, he may, within twenty-one days after notice of the decision, address a memorial to the Minister of Health, stating the grounds of his complaint. He must deliver a copy of any such memorial to the local authority.

The Minister of Health may, on any such complaint, make such order as seems to him equitable.

9—WATER SUPPLY TO TENEMENT HOUSES IN LONDON

As to the water supply of tenement houses in London, section 78 of the London County Council (General Powers) Act, 1907, provides that, for the purposes of section 48 (which contains provisions as to houses without a proper water supply) of the Public Health (London) Act, 1891, a tenement house is to be deemed a house without a proper and sufficient supply of water unless there is provided on the storey or one of the storeys in which the rooms or lodgings in the separate occupation of each family occupying the house are situate a sufficient provision for the supply of water for domestic purposes.

In the case of a building existing and in use as a tenement house on the 28th August 1907, the section does not apply where the only storey or storeys on which a proper and sufficient supply of water is not provided is or are a storey or storeys (i) constructed at a height exceeding that to which the Metropolitan Water Board may for the time being be required to furnish a supply of water for domestic purposes, and (ii) to which a supply of water for such purposes was not, on the 28th August 1907, being furnished by the Water Board by agreement.

The section does not apply to any tenement house in respect of which it can be shown that the provision of a supply of water as above is not reasonably necessary.

10—WATER SUPPLY IN RURAL DISTRICT

(Section 6, Public Health (Water) Act, 1878.)

In a rural district it is not lawful for the owner of any dwelling house erected after the 25th March 1879, or of any dwelling house which after that date may be pulled down to or below the ground floor and rebuilt, to occupy the same, or cause or permit the same to be occupied, unless he has obtained from the local authority a certificate that there is provided, within a reasonable distance of the house, such an available supply of wholesome water as may appear to the authority, on the report of their inspector of nuisances or of their medical officer of health, to be sufficient for the consumption and use for domestic purposes of the inmates of the house.

The owner may appeal to a court of summary jurisdiction against the refusal of a certificate by the local authority, and the court may make an order authorising the occupation of the house.

Any owner who contravenes the section is liable to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds.

11—CELLAR DWELLINGS AND UNDERGROUND ROOMS

(Sections 71–75, Public Health Act, 1875.)

The provisions in force outside London are to the following effect :—

It is not lawful to let or occupy or suffer to be occupied separately as a dwelling, any cellar, vault or underground room built or rebuilt since the 31st August 1848, or which was not so let or occupied before that date.

It is not lawful to let or occupy or suffer to be occupied separately as a dwelling any cellar whatsoever (a) unless it is at least seven feet in height, and is to the extent of at least three feet of its height above the surface of the street or ground adjoining or nearest to it, and fronts on an area which complies with certain specified conditions ; and (b) unless it is effectually drained and is provided with sufficient closet accommodation, and an ashpit, and with a fireplace and an external window made to open.

Any cellar in which any person passes the night is to be deemed to be occupied as a dwelling.

(Sections 96–98, Public Health (London) Act, 1891.)

In London an underground room (that is, a room of which the floor is more than three feet below the level of the adjoining street or ground) may not be let or occupied separately as a dwelling unless it is at least seven feet in height, and unless at least three feet of its height are above ground level (but where the width of the area on which the room fronts is equal to the height of the room from the floor to ground level a height of one foot above ground suffices).

The walls of the underground room must have a damp-proof course, and the floor, if hollow, must be ventilated.

The room must front on a paved and drained area at least four feet wide, must be provided with proper closet accommodation, a receptacle for refuse, a fire-place and one or more windows opening externally, and must be properly drained and ventilated.

In the case of an underground room which was occupied separately as a dwelling before 5th August 1891, the sanitary authority have a limited power of dispensing with these requirements, and the owner may appeal to the Minister of Health against a refusal on their part to exercise it.

Where two convictions against the provisions of any Act relating to the occupation of a cellar as a separate dwelling place have taken place within three months, a court of summary jurisdiction may direct the closing of the premises.

(See also sections 17 (7) of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, and 39 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919.)

12—DEFINITIONS OF “ OWNER ”

1. For the purposes of Part II of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, generally, “owner” is defined by section 49 (2) of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909 (see page 333).
2. For the purposes of sections 26 and 28 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, the definition of “owner,” contained in section 4 of the Public Health Act, 1875, is applicable (see page 423).

CHAPTER IV

THE POWERS AND DUTIES OF COUNTY COUNCILS

THE direct housing powers and duties of county councils (excepting the London County Council) arise under section 8 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919 (housing of their employees), and section 12 of the Land Settlement (Facilities) Act, 1919, and the Acts amended by that Act (housing for small holders and for ex-soldiers settling on the land). This latter legislation is beyond the scope of this volume, though extracts from the Land Settlement (Facilities) Act, 1919, are printed on page 85.

The indirect housing powers are mainly those arising under sections 3-6 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919. They are indirect in that they have to be, almost wholly, transferred specially by order of the Minister of Health, and chiefly where the local authority is in default.

There are, however, several other powers arising under the Housing Acts which, if they have not a great deal to do with the provision of houses, are, nevertheless, of importance. The whole of the references in the Acts will be taken in order.

By section 45 of the 1890 Act, the London County Council as regards a Metropolitan area, and other county councils as regards rural districts, are entitled to copies of representations and complaints about unhealthy dwelling houses, to copies of closing orders and to particulars respecting any proceedings thereunder taken by the district authority. And where the county council are

of opinion that closing, demolition or "obstructive building" orders ought to be enforced or made they may, after giving not less than one month's notice to the district authority, resolve that such authority are in default and thereupon exercise that authority's statutory (Part II) powers—except in respect of an improvement scheme, as to which see section 5 of the 1919 Act—and may recover their expenses.

Section 69 of the 1909 Act requires the clerk of the rural district council to forward copies of the above representations to the county medical officer of health; requires the district medical officer of health to give to the county medical officer information reasonably required; and provides that the Minister of Health shall settle any disputes arising under that section.

Report to local authority by county medical

By section 52 of the 1890 Act, a representation from a county medical officer of health submitted to the county council and by that council forwarded to the district council shall, for the purposes of Part II, have the like effect as a representation from the district medical officer of health. Such representations precede closing and demolition orders and improvement schemes, and are aimed at unhealthy and obstructive houses and buildings (see sections 30 and 38 of the 1890 Act and section 17 of the 1909 Act). This provision does not apply to boroughs.

Local authority's default—

By section 10 of the 1909 Act, if the Minister of Health, following complaint, is satisfied that a rural district council, or the council of a non-county borough, or other urban district, have failed to exercise their powers under Part II (unhealthy dwelling houses) or Part III (provision of houses) he may make an order against that authority. And where such an order is made and is not complied with, the Minister may, with the consent of the county council, direct the county council to carry out the necessary works: see also section 5 of the 1919 Act.

By section 12 of the 1909 Act, where complaint is made to the county council in the manner specified, the county council may cause a public local inquiry to be held, and if satisfied that the rural district council has failed to exercise their Part III (housing) powers may take over those powers or any of them.

By section 13 of that Act a county council may, in the circumstances specified, have the Part III (housing) powers of a rural district council transferred to them by the Minister of Health, though the rural district council is not in default : see also section 3 of the 1919 Act.

Section 56 is altered as explained in a note on section 42 of the 1919 Act, see below.

Section 68 of the 1909 Act provides that every county council shall appoint a (full-time) medical officer of health, and gives powers for the Local Government Board (now the Minister of Health) to prescribe his duties. Such duties are prescribed in the County Medical Officers of Health (Duties) Order, 1910, which is printed on page 74.

County
health.

Section 69 of the 1909 Act (which deals with the clerk of the rural district council forwarding copies of representations, &c., to the county medical officer) is referred to on page 68.

Section 70 thereof excepts Scotland and (excluding one small point) the Administrative County of London from the provisions relating to county medical officers of health.

Section 71 requires every county council (except the London County Council) to establish a public health and housing committee, to which health and housing matters shall stand referred, and to which the council may delegate its public health and housing powers (except the power of raising a rate or borrowing money, and any power of resolving that the powers of a district council in default should be transferred to the council).

Section 3 of the 1919 Act gives the Minister of Health power to authorise county councils to act in the place of local authorities in respect of Part III schemes (provision of county councils under the

1919 Act.

70 . LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

- of houses for the working classes), not only where local authorities are in default but where for any reason it is desirable. But both the local authority and the county council concerned are first to have an opportunity of being heard. Provision is also made in the section for expenses and disputes.

Section 4 provides that if the local authority and the county council are in default the Minister of Health may act in their place, and again provision is made for expenses.

Default provisions.

Section 5 provides that the Minister may by order require a local authority to make and carry out an improvement scheme under Part I (unhealthy areas) or Part II (unhealthy dwelling houses); and if the local authority fail within the time fixed the Minister may empower the county council to act, or may himself act, at the expense of the local authority.

Section 6 provides that where a representation is made to the Minister as respects any county district that the local authority have failed to exercise their Part I or Part II powers, he may direct the county council to instruct their medical officer of health to inspect the district and to make a report to him as to the exercise of the power by the local authority—whereupon the Minister may take the necessary steps under section 5.

The Exchequer grant.

Section 7 provides for State subsidies to county councils (1) to whom the powers of local authorities have been transferred as above mentioned, and (2) who carry out approved schemes for housing persons in their employment, viz. the provision of new houses. The details of the latter subsidy are given in the County Councils (Assisted Schemes for the Housing of Employees) Regulations, 1920, which are printed on page 76.

Borrowing: housing of employees.

Section 8 deals with the borrowing powers of county councils in connection with the housing of their employees, and extends the maximum period for the repayment of loans to eighty years. It provides that loans to county councils by the Public Works Loan Commissioners shall be on the same terms and conditions as those to local authorities. It also provides that county councils shall have power and shall be deemed always to have had the power to provide houses for persons in their employment, and for that purpose may be authorised to acquire land in like manner as a local authority for Part III (housing) purposes: see section 12 and notes thereto, page 394.

Where a county council build houses for their employees on land belonging to them, the fair value of the land may be brought into account for the purpose of estimating the amount of the Exchequer grant.

A county council can, but a local authority cannot, provide "tied" houses for their employees, and a local authority could not sell houses to a county council with a view to their becoming tied houses (section 15).

Section 14 gives power to county councils to acquire water rights for houses provided under the Housing Acts, subject to conditions.

Section 18 authorises county councils to promote and assist public utility societies (as to which societies, see Chapter VI), and where the local authority are unwilling to acquire the land required by such societies for houses for the working classes, the county council may do so on the application of such societies, and for this purpose may exercise the powers of local authorities. County councils may hold shares in public utility societies, and are not restricted to an interest of £200. The county council's expenses herein are to be defrayed as expenses for general county purposes, and the council may borrow —the maximum period for repayment being fifty years.

Public utility societies—
assistance.

Building schemes made by a county council obtain Sundry advantages in regard to the relaxation of building by-laws: see section 24 (3) and (4). "

Section 29, which provides for information being given to tenants, is of importance to county councils who provide houses.

Section 34, which provides for arrangements between the Ministry of Health and other government departments for the exercise of powers under the Housing Acts, is also to be noted.

Section 36 provides for compensation in cases of subsidence notwithstanding the Brine Pumping (Compensation for Subsidence) Act, 1891.

Section 41 deals with the special case of the London County Council, which throughout the Acts is dealt with, in certain respects, as a local authority.

Town planning. Section 43 makes an addition to section 56 of the 1909 Act, by requiring that the council of the county in which any land proposed to be included in a town-planning scheme is situated shall be furnished with notice of any proposal to prepare or adopt such a scheme, and with a copy of the draft scheme before the scheme is made. The county council will be entitled to be heard at any public local inquiry held by the Ministry in regard to the scheme.

Housing Additional Powers) Act, 19. Section 47 provides that if a local authority fails to provide a town-planning scheme as therein mentioned, the Minister of Health may empower the county council to act in the place and at the expense of a borough or other urban district the population of which is less than 20,000, or of a rural district.

Section 4 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, increases the amount of the State subsidy to county councils in respect of schemes for the housing of persons in their employment. The regulations giving effect to this appear on page 76. Briefly stated there is an extra 20 per cent. of the loan charges for the period up to 31st March 1927.

Local bonds. Section 7 authorises county councils, with the consent of the Minister of Health, to borrow any sums which they have power to borrow for the purposes of the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919 (see page 477) by the issue of "local bonds." A county council may also lend to any local authority within their area any money which that local authority have power to borrow for the said purposes, and may with the sanction of the Minister, and irrespective of any limit of borrowing, raise the money required either by the issue of local bonds or by a loan under any of their powers. On the subject of these bonds, &c., see page 477.

Section 9 makes into trustee securities local bonds and future mortgages of any fund or rate.

Section 10 authorises the Minister of Health to acquire land for the purpose of garden cities or town-planning schemes "if satisfied that any local authority (including a county council) . . . are prepared to purchase and develop that land for that purpose."

It will be understood that the foregoing statements of the statutory provisions are offered merely as a guide to the Acts: the sections named should be read for fuller details.

County councils may provide houses for their employees, but are not required so to do. But county councils are the authorities for the provision of housing accommodation for small-holders, and for the settlement of ex-soldiers on the land. Rural district councils are primarily responsible for the housing of the working classes in their areas. Where it is desirable to group labourers' cottages near a colony of small-holders, there should be co-ordination of effort as far as possible.

Many of the documents issued by the Ministry of Health have been forwarded to county councils, so that they should be aware of the provisions of the Acts and the procedure adopted.

The Unemployment (Relief Works) Act, 1920 (10 & 11 Geo. 5. c. 57) facilitates the acquisition of, and entry on, land required for works of public utility, and for purposes connected therewith (see page 488).

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1910. NO. 801

MEDICAL OFFICER OF HEALTH, ENGLAND

The County Medical Officer of Health (Duties) Order, 1910
Dated 29th July 1910

55,475

To the County Council of every Administrative County in England and Wales other than London ;—

And to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas it is enacted by subsection (2) of section 68 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act of 1909"), that the duties of a medical officer of health of a county shall be such duties as may be prescribed by general order of the Local Government Board and such other duties as may be assigned to him by the county council ;

And whereas by virtue of section 70 of the Act of 1909
the above cited subsection does not apply to the Administrative County of London :

Now therefore, we, the Local Government Board, in pursuance of the powers given to us in that behalf, by this order prescribe the following duties as the duties of every medical officer of health of a county other than the Administrative County of London ; that is to say :—

(1) The medical officer of health of the county shall inform himself as far as practicable respecting all influences affecting or threatening to affect injuriously the public health in the county. For this purpose he shall visit the several county districts in the county as occasion may require, giving to the medical officer of health of each county district prior notice of his visit, so far as this may be practicable.

(2) The medical officer of health of the county shall from time to time inquire into and report upon the hospital accommodation available for the isolation of cases occurring in the county—

(a) of small-pox, and
(b) of other infectious diseases, and upon any need for the provision of further hospital accommodation.

(3) The medical officer of health of the county shall communicate to the medical officer of health of a county district within the county any information which he may possess as to any danger to health threatening that district.

- (4) The medical officer of health of the county shall consult with the medical officers of health of county districts within the county whenever the circumstances may render this desirable.
- (5) If the annual or special reports of the medical officer of health of a county district in the county shall not contain adequate information in regard to
 - (a) the vital statistics of the district,
 - (b) the sanitary circumstances and administration of the district, and
 - (c) the action taken in the district for putting in force the provisions of the Housing of the Working Classes Acts, 1890 to 1909, the medical officer of health of the county shall obtain from the medical officer of health of the county district such further information on those matters as the circumstances may demand.
- (6) The medical officer of health of the county shall, when directed by us, or by the county council, or as occasion may require, make a special report to the county council on any matter appertaining to his duties under this order.
- (7) The medical officer of health of the county shall as soon as practicable after the 31st day of December in each year make an annual report to the county council up to the end of December on the sanitary circumstances, the sanitary administration and the vital statistics of the county.
In addition to any other matters upon which the medical officer of health may consider it desirable to report, his annual report shall contain the following sections :—
 - (a) A digest of all annual and special reports made by the medical officers of health of all county districts within the county ;
 - (b) a section as to the isolation hospital accommodation available for each county district and as to the steps which should be taken to remedy any deficiencies which may exist;
 - (c) a section on the administration of the Housing of the Working Classes Acts, 1890 to 1909, within the county ;

76 . LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

- (d) a section on the water supply of the several county districts within the county ;
 - (e) a section on the pollution of streams within the county and as to the steps for the prevention of pollution taken :—
 - (i) by the local authorities, and
 - (ii) by the county council :
 - (f) a section on the administration within the county of the Midwives Act, 1902 ; and
 - (g) a section on the administration of the Sale of Food and Drugs Acts, 1875 to 1907, within that part of the county in which the county council have jurisdiction for the purposes of those Acts.
- (8) The medical officer of health of the county shall send to us two copies of his annual report and two copies of any special report ; he shall also send one copy of his annual report to the council of every county district in the county and shall send three copies of any special report to the council of every such county district affected by the special report.

This Order may be cited as the County Medical Officers of Health (Duties) Order, 1910.

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1920. No. 336
HOUSING, ENGLAND

The County Councils (Assisted Schemes for the Housing of Employees) Regulations, 1920, dated 5th March 1920

65,815

To the councils of the several administrative counties in England and Wales ;—

And to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas by subsection (1) of section 7 of the Housing,

Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919,¹ it is enacted (amongst other things) that if it appears to the Local Government Board that the carrying out of any scheme approved by the Board for the provision of houses for persons in the employment of, or paid by, a county council, or a statutory committee thereof, has resulted or is likely to result in a loss, the Board shall, if the scheme is carried out within such period after the passing of that Act as may be specified by the Board with the consent of the Treasury, pay or undertake to pay to the county council, out of moneys provided by Parliament, such part of the loss as may be determined to be so payable under regulations made by the Board with the approval of the Treasury, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed by those regulations :

And whereas by subsection (2) of the said section 7, as altered by section 4 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919,² it is enacted that the regulations shall provide that the amount of any annual payment to be made under the section shall, in the case of a scheme for the provision of houses for persons in the employment of, or paid by, a county council, or a statutory committee thereof, be an amount equivalent during the period ending on the 31st day of March 1927, to 50 per centum and thereafter to 30 per centum of the annual loan charges as calculated in accordance with the regulations on the total capital expenditure incurred by the county council for the purposes of the scheme :

Now, therefore, the Minister of Health, in pursuance of his powers under the recited enactments and under any other Statutes in that behalf, hereby makes the following regulations :—

ARTICLE I—(1) These regulations may be cited as “The County Councils (Assisted Schemes for the Housing of Employees) Regulations, 1920.”

(2) The County Councils (Assisted Schemes for the Housing of Employees) Regulations, 1919,³ are hereby revoked, without prejudice to any right, privilege or liability acquired, accrued or incurred thereunder.

² 9-10 Geo. 5. c. 99.

³ S.R. & O., 1919, No. 1430.

- (a) The expression "the Minister" means the Minister of Health;
 - (b) The expression "the Act of 1919" means the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919; and
 - (c) The expression "County Council" includes a statutory committee of a county council, the Lancashire Asylums Board, the West Riding of Yorkshire Asylums Board, and any other body constituted for the purpose of the administration of the Lunacy Acts on behalf of any combination of county councils and county borough councils.
- (2) The Interpretation Act, 1889,¹ applies to the interpretation of these regulations as it applies to the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

ARTICLE III—Subject to the provision of Article IV of these regulations :—

- (1) An annual contribution out of moneys provided by Parliament (hereinafter referred to as "the Exchequer subsidy") shall be made by the Minister towards the cost of carrying out a scheme submitted by a county council, and approved by the Minister, for the provision of houses for persons in the employment of, or paid by, the county council
- (2) The Exchequer subsidy shall be an amount equivalent during the period ending on the 31st day of March 1927, to 50 per centum and thereafter to 30 per centum of the annual charges, for interest and repayment of principal, in respect of the aggregate amount of the loans raised by the county council for the purposes of the approved scheme :

Provided that the Minister may reduce the amount of the Exchequer subsidy in any case in which he is satisfied that the capital expenditure incurred by the county council has been excessive.

- (3) The Exchequer subsidy shall be payable in two half-yearly instalments or in such other manner as the Minister may think fit during the periods allowed for the repayment of the loans raised by the county council for the purposes of the approved scheme, and shall be reduced by the Minister so far as may be necessary as and when the period allowed for the repayment of any one of the said loans expires.

- (4) For the purposes of this Article the annual charges in respect of the aggregate amount of the loans raised by the county council shall be ascertained by calculating the total amount which would be annually payable in respect of the several loans for principal and interest if the loans were repayable by equal annual instalments of principal and interest combined :

Provided that, save with the consent of the Minister, the rate of interest shall not for the purposes of this paragraph exceed the rate for the time being in force for loans advanced by the Public Works Loan Commissioners for the purposes of schemes to which section 7 of the Act of 1919 applies.

- (5) The foregoing provisions of this Article shall apply to accumulated funds or capital moneys belonging to a county council and used by them for the purposes of an approved scheme as though such funds or moneys were loans, and for the purpose of the last preceding paragraph the rate of interest in respect of such funds or moneys shall be deemed to be—

(i) where moneys have been borrowed for the purposes of the scheme from sources other than funds or moneys belonging to the county council, the rate of interest payable in respect of the moneys last previously so borrowed ; and

(ii) where no moneys have been borrowed for the purposes of the scheme from such sources as aforesaid, the rate in force for loans advanced by the Public Works Loan Commissioners for the purposes referred to in the last preceding paragraph at the date when the funds or moneys were so used.

ARTICLE IV—(1) The Exchequer subsidy shall cease to be payable—

(a) in any case in which the Minister is not satisfied that reasonable progress has been made with the carrying into effect of the scheme within twelve months from the passing of the Act of 1919, or such later date as the Minister may allow, regard being had to the supplies of labour and material available from time to time and all other local or general circumstances affecting the carrying into effect of the scheme ; and

(b) in respect of any scheme or part of a scheme not carried into effect before the expiry of a period of three years from the passing of the Act of 1919, or such later date as the Minister may allow, regard being had to the supplies of labour and material available from time to time and all other local or general circumstances affecting the carrying into effect of the scheme.

(2) For the purposes of these regulations a scheme or part of a scheme shall be deemed to have been carried into effect when all the houses to be provided thereunder are let or available for letting.

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1920. No. 1465

HOUSING, ENGLAND

The Housing (Loans by County Councils) Order, 1920, dated 12th August 1920, made by the Minister of Health under section 7 (2) of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919 (9 & 10 Geo. 5. c. 99)

68,495.

The Minister of Health, in exercise of the powers conferred on him by subsection (2) of Section 7 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, and of all other powers enabling him, hereby makes the following Order :

1. This Order may be cited as the Housing (Loans by County Councils) Order, 1920.

2.—(1) In this Order, unless the context otherwise requires,—

“The Act” means the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919;

“Housing Loan” means a loan raised by a county council for the purpose mentioned in Section 7 (2) of the Act, or, where a loan is raised partly for that purpose and partly for other purposes, such portion of the loan as is declared by the Minister to have been raised for the purpose of the said Section 7 (2).

(2) The Interpretation Act, 1889,¹ shall apply to the interpretation of this Order as it applies to the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

3. Where the proceeds of a Housing Loan have been lent to local authorities, the county council shall discharge or provide for repayment of such part of the loan as represents the money lent to each local authority within a term ending not later than one year after the date at which that local authority is required to pay off the money lent to it.

4. Money lent to a local authority shall be repayable by it to the county council by equal half-yearly instalments of principal and interest combined within the period for which the local authority has power to borrow:

Provided that where the money lent to a local authority has been raised by the issue of stock, the local authority shall repay to the county council not less than six months before the expiration of the maximum period of the currency of the stock any outstanding balance of the amount borrowed from the county council.

5. All sums received by the county council from a local authority representing repayment of principal shall be applied in or towards discharge of the Housing Loan, or where the Housing Loan was raised by the issue of stock, in or towards redemption of such stock.

6. All sums which under the last preceding Article are required to be applied in or towards redemption of stock shall be transferred to the fund or account to which, under the provisions of the Acts or Regulations for the time being governing the issue and redemption of stock by the county council, sums required to be applied in redemption of stock are to be paid, and notwithstanding anything in those provisions the county council shall not be under any obligation to transfer to that fund or account in any year any greater sum than the aggregate of the sums received during that year and required by this Article to be so transferred.

7. The rate of interest at which money may be lent by the county council to a local authority shall be subject to the approval of the Minister and shall be calculated so as to cover the interest payable by the council in respect of such money together with all expenses incurred by the council in raising the same, and all expenses incurred or to be incurred by them in connection with the management or redemption of any stock or local bonds by means of which the money was raised, including any loss incurred by the council by reason of the rate of interest received in respect of any portion of the proceeds of the Housing Loan and not immediately required for loans to local authorities or in respect of any investments of moneys standing to the credit of any fund or account for the redemption of the Housing Loan falling short of the rate at which interest is payable by the council upon the Housing Loan :

Provided that where the Housing Loan was raised by the issue of stock, the rate of interest payable by the local authority may, with the consent of the Minister, be the same as that payable by the county council on such stock, but in that event the mortgage to be entered into by the local authority shall, in addition to securing the repayment of principal and interest as provided in Article 4 of this Order, include the provisions specified in the Schedule to this Order.

8. This Order shall not apply to the London County Council.

SCHEDULE

The following provisions shall apply to every mortgage made between a county council and a local authority for securing repayment of a loan where the rate of interest charged is the same as that payable on the stock issued by the county council, and the mortgage shall include such covenants and conditions as may be necessary to give effect to such provisions.

(a) The local authority shall pay to the county council by means of an annuity of an amount to be specified in the mortgage payable half-yearly during a period to be similarly specified not exceeding the maximum period of currency of the stock, a sum equal to the amount, if any, by which the nominal amount of that part of the stock of which the proceeds were applied in making the loan to the local authority exceeded the net proceeds of such nominal amount of stock with interest on that sum at the rate payable under the mortgage in respect of the principal money secured thereby. In ascertaining net proceeds for the purpose of this paragraph a proportionate part of the expenses of the issue of the stock and of any unaccrued interest payable under the terms of issue at the date of the first payment of interest shall be deducted from the proceeds.

(b) The local authority shall pay annually to the county council on a date to be specified in the mortgage a proportionate part of the expenses incurred by the council during the previous year in connection with the management of the stock, including any composition for stamp duties and any remuneration payable to the registrar of the said stock and other establishment charges in connection therewith.

(c) At a date within one year from the commencement of the loan to be specified in the mortgage and thereafter at the end of each year from that date during the continuance of the loan and until the redemption of the stock, the amount, if any, by which the total interest paid by all the local authorities (i) in respect of loans made to them out of the proceeds of the Housing Loan, and (ii) under paragraph (a) of this Schedule, together with any interest received by the county council either upon any portion of the proceeds of the Housing Loan which has not for the time being been lent to any local authority, or upon moneys representing principal previously repaid by any such local authority and forming part of the council's redemption fund account relating to the Housing Loan, exceeds or falls short of the amount required to pay interest on the Housing Loan shall be ascertained, and in the case of any excess a proportionate part thereof shall be set off against any sum payable by the local authority under paragraphs (a), (b) or (d), of this Schedule, and in the case of any deficiency a proportionate part thereof shall be paid by the local authority to the county council.

(d) (i) If upon the realisation of any investments standing to the credit of the county council's redemption fund account relating to the Housing Loan the net proceeds of the sale of such investments represent a profit or loss to the council, a proportionate part of the amount of such profit or loss shall in the case of a profit be set off against the sums payable by the local authority to the county council, and in the case of a loss be paid by the local authority to the county council.

(ii) If the county council redeem or purchase and extinguish stock at less than its nominal value by the application of any part of the money carried to the said redemption fund account, the difference between the price at which the stock is so redeemed or purchased and its nominal value shall be treated for the purposes of this Article as a profit made on the realisation of an investment.

(iii) The necessary adjustments between the county council and the local authority for the purpose of this paragraph shall be made annually upon a date to be specified in the mortgage.

(e) Upon the redemption by the county council of any stock issued for the purposes of the Housing Loan the local authority shall repay to the council a proportionate part of any expenses incurred by the council in connection with such redemption.

(f) All powers and remedies of the county council for securing and recovering payment of the principal and interest payable under the mortgage shall be exercisable in respect of any payment to be made by the local authority to the council under the foregoing provisions of this Schedule.

(g) For the purposes of this Schedule a proportionate part of any expenses, profit, loss or other amount shall mean as regards any local authority a part of such expenses, profit, loss or other amount bearing the same proportion to the whole as the nominal amount of stock represented by the moneys lent to that local authority bears to the total nominal amount of the stock representing the amount lent to local authorities issued for the purpose of Housing.

Given under the Official Seal of the Minister of Health this Twelfth day of August, in the year One thousand nine hundred and twenty.

LAND SETTLEMENT (FACILITIES) ACT, 1919

[9 & 10 GEO. 5. CH. 59.]

An Act to make further provision for the acquisition of land for the purposes of small holdings, reclamation, and drainage, to amend the enactments relating to small holdings and allotments, and otherwise to facilitate land settlement. [19th August 1919.]

12. (1) Subject to the consent of the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries in cases where their consent is required under this section or under regulations made by the Board, a county council shall have power in any case where in the opinion of the council it is necessary or expedient so to do for the better carrying into effect of the principal Act—

(a) to erect, repair, or improve dwelling houses and other buildings on any land acquired by the council under the principal Act, or to execute any other improvement on or in connection with and for the benefit of any such land, or to arrange with the tenant of any such land for the execution of any such improvement of such terms as may be agreed :

Extension of powers of councils in relation to land acquired under principal
Act.

20. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, a county council may provide a holding of less than one acre if it is not less than half an acre and has a cottage erected thereon, and such a holding shall be deemed to be a small holding for the purposes of the principal Act.

Provision as to small holdings less than one acre.

(2) As respects holdings to which this section relates provided by a county council during such period after the passing of this Act as may be specified by the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries with the consent of the Treasury, the county council shall keep separate accounts of all receipts and expenditure in respect thereof, and at the end of each financial year ending on the 31st day of March the excess of the expenditure over the receipts or of the receipts over the expenditure during that year shall be paid to the county council by the local authority, for the purposes of Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, of the district in which the holdings are situate, or to that authority by the county council, as the case may be, and any amount so paid or received by the local authority shall be treated as if it was expenditure or receipts of the authority in carrying out a scheme for the exercise of their powers under that Part approved by the Local Government Board.

(3) As respects holdings to which this section relates provided by a county council after the expiration of the period so specified, the local authority, for the purposes of Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, of the district in which the holdings are situate may contribute or agree to contribute to the expenses of providing such holdings, and any sums so payable to the county council by the local authority shall be treated as expenses of the local authority under Part III of that Act.

(4) Any question as to the amount payable to or by a local authority under this section may be determined by the Local Government Board.

(5) Any receipts and expenditure of the council of a county borough in respect of the provision of holdings to which this section relates shall be treated as if they were receipts and expenditure of the council in carrying out such a scheme as aforesaid.

Power of
of land.

22. (1) A council of a borough, urban district, or parish may, in a case where no power of appropriation is otherwise provided, with the consent of the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries and the Local Government Board, and subject to such conditions as to the repayment of any loan obtained for the purpose of the acquisition of land or otherwise as the last-mentioned Board may impose—

- (a) appropriate for the purpose of allotments any land held by the council for other purposes of the council ; or
 - (b) appropriate for other purposes of the council land acquired by the council for allotments.
- (2) This section shall apply, in the county of London, to the council of the county and to any Metropolitan borough council.

CHAPTER V

TOWN PLANNING

THE legislation affecting town planning is contained in Part II of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, as amended by Part II of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919—see pages 324 and 447.

By section 10 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, provision is made as to the acquisition of land for the purpose of garden cities and town-planning schemes.

Before sanctioning a housing scheme, the Minister of Health requires to be satisfied not only that the site is a good one for building purposes, but also that it is in a locality which, having regard to the district as a whole, will be suitable for working-class dwellings. He requires a well-considered lay-out plan, which will secure that the houses shall be advantageously placed on the site and that the streets shall be arranged with due regard to the needs of through traffic and to the development of the surrounding area. To this extent the new housing schemes include town planning.

It is, however, very important to ensure not only that any development of the land around the sites of the housing schemes shall be in harmony with the lay-out plans of the housing schemes, but that all future building development shall be properly controlled. It is essential, therefore, that local authorities should proceed as quickly as possible to prepare town-planning schemes. By means of such schemes all future development may be regulated in accordance with definite plans, which will prevent the faulty street planning and congestion of buildings which mar so many existing towns and villages. Provision may be made by such schemes for arterial and other roads, for fixing building lines, limiting the number of buildings per acre, reserving sufficient land for open spaces, and assigning suitable areas for industrial, commercial, and residential purposes respectively.

By the 1919 Act the procedure for making town-planning schemes has been simplified. A local authority may now by resolution decide to prepare a town-planning scheme, and it is not necessary for them to obtain authority from the Ministry of Health to do so, except where the area to be town-planned extends to land outside the district of the local authority (section 42). New procedure.

Additional powers have been given to the Ministry to make regulations as to the preparation of town-planning schemes and for securing that schemes shall be prepared with all reasonable speed (section 43).

In order that there may be no unnecessary holding up of development during the preparation of schemes, the Minister of Health is empowered to make an order, or orders prescribing the conditions under which any proposed development may be permitted to proceed pending the making and approval of the scheme (section 45).

Any local authority may at any time be required by the Ministry of Health to prepare a town-planning scheme for any area for which the Ministry are satisfied that a scheme ought immediately to be prepared (section 47). After the 1st January 1923, the preparation of town-planning schemes will be compulsory on all boroughs or urban districts with a population exceeding 20,000. The scheme will have to be prepared within three years of that date (section 46).

Further, if a local authority fail to carry out their duties as regards town planning, the Ministry of Health may themselves act, or in the case of a borough or other urban district with a population of less than 20,000, or of a rural district, may empower the county council to do so, in either case charging the expense to the local authority (section 47 (3)).

90. LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

Doubtless progress will be made in town planning before 1923, and many local authorities have the subject well in mind, but at present energy is being concentrated on the provision of houses, and big town-planning schemes are often more involved than many people imagine.

The resolution.

A resolution deciding to prepare a town-planning scheme should include a reference to section 42/19, and should define the area by reference to a map on the scale of 25·344 inches to the mile and marked Map No. 1.

The following resolution has been considered by the Ministry "too vague to be effective":—

"That a town-planning scheme be prepared to include all land in the urban district of X, on the eastern side of the High Road, in respect of which a town-planning scheme may be made under the above Act."

No portion of the costs in connection with the preparation and carrying out of a town-planning scheme may be included in the expenditure on a housing scheme ranking for financial assistance. The scope of such assistance is indicated in section 7 (1)/19.

The 1909
amended.

The land which can be town-planned is land which is in course of development or appears likely to be used for building purposes (section 54/09), but the definitions are wide—see notes to section 54/09. Land already built upon and land not likely to be used for building purposes can be included in the scheme in certain circumstances, and the scheme can provide for demolition or alteration of the buildings—section 54 (1)/09.

Joint schemes may be prepared or adopted by two or more local authorities.

In addition to preparing schemes, local authorities have power to adopt, with or without modifications, schemes proposed by land-owners. A scheme may be varied or revoked by a subsequent scheme, and the Ministry may make modifications in any scheme and impose conditions, or even revoke it.

Section 55 of the 1909 Act deals with the contents of town-planning schemes and refers to the Fourth Schedule in which matters of detail are set out.

Section 56 deals with procedure regulations, as to which see page 93. Co-operation on the part of the local authority and the owners and other persons interested is to be secured, and county councils are given certain rights by an extension by section 43 of the 1919 Act, i.e. the right to a notice of the proposal for a scheme, copy of the draft scheme before the scheme is made, and the right to be heard at any public local inquiry.

Section 57 deals with "power to enforce scheme." If any question arises whether any building or work contravenes the scheme it is referred to the Ministry, which determine it as arbitrators.

Section 58 deals with "compensation in respect of property injuriously affected by scheme." Any person whose property is injuriously affected is entitled to compensation on making a claim within due time; but not on account of any building erected, or contract made, after the date of the resolution of the local authority to prepare or adopt the scheme, or after certain other times—but see below.

tion.

If property is increased in value by the scheme the local authority may recover one half of the amount of the increase from its owner.

Any question on these points is to be determined by a single arbitrator appointed by the Ministry unless the parties otherwise agree. Compensation may be payable where a scheme is revoked.

By section 45 of the 1919 Act, the above was extended to enable the Minister of Health to make an order permitting any proposed development to proceed pending the making and approval of the scheme, and where such permission has been given, the person concerned may be entitled to compensation on account of any building erected on, or contract made or other thing done with respect to, land included in a scheme after the date of the resolution of the local authority to prepare or adopt the scheme.

Section 59 deals with "exclusion or limitation of compensation in certain cases." No compensation is payable if the injurious affection would have resulted from by-laws made by the local authority ; or if the scheme prescribes the space about buildings or limits the number of buildings, or prescribes the height or character of buildings, if the Ministry consider the provisions reasonable. If a person is entitled to compensation under any other Act as well as under the present Act, he cannot get it twice, nor can he get greater compensation under this Act than under the other Act.

Acquisition of land.

Section 60 deals with "acquisition by local authorities of land comprised in a scheme," as to which reference should also be made to sections 12 and 15 of the 1919 Act, and section 10 of the 1919 (Additional Powers) Act. Land may be acquired voluntarily or (if authorised) compulsorily, subject to the same conditions as a local authority may acquire land for Part III purposes—see Chapter II.

Default.

By section 61 of the 1909 Act the Ministry, in case of default of local authority to make or execute a town-planning scheme, may hold a public local inquiry and make an order on the local authority, which it may enforce by mandamus. But extended powers in this direction are conferred on the Ministry by sections 46 and 47 of the 1919 Act, as already explained.

Sundry points.

By section 62 the Ministry may determine certain matters in dispute as arbitrators or otherwise ; by section 63 it may hold inquiries affecting town planning as under section 85 of the 1890 Act. By section 64 its "general provisions" have to be laid before Parliament. Section 65 defines "local authority" and deals with expenses and the borrowing of money. Section 66 deals with "application to London."

The new Town Planning Regulations have not been issued up to the time of printing this volume, but if available before binding will be found on page 739.

CHAPTER VI

THE WORK OF PUBLIC UTILITY SOCIETIES AND HOUSING TRUSTS

SECTION 19 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, provides that where a public utility society or a housing trust, as defined by section 40 thereof, has submitted to the Local Government Board (now the Minister of Health) an approved scheme for the provision of houses for the working classes then, if the scheme is carried out within a specified time (see page 99), the Minister may contribute towards the cost of carrying out the scheme. Section 18 gives powers to local authorities and county councils to promote and assist public utility societies (not housing trusts), and section 20 provides that the Public Works Loan Commissioners may make loans to such societies.

The sections above mentioned cover the provisions affecting public utility societies and housing trusts now in force in the Housing Acts, but there is an amendment affecting finance made by section 4 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919.

A public utility society is essentially a co-operative society. It is defined by section 40 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, as "a society registered under the Industrial and Provident Societies Acts, 1893 to 1913, the rules whereof prohibit the payment of any interest or dividend at a rate exceeding 6 per cent. per annum." (This dividend is non-cumulative.)

co-operative societies are registered) is defined by section 4 of the Industrial and Provident Societies Act, 1893, as "a society for carrying on any industries, businesses or trades specified in or authorised by its rules, whether wholesale or retail, and including dealings of any description with land." The section also provides that no member other than a registered society shall have or claim any interest in the shares of the society exceeding two hundred pounds; but this is amended by section 18 (2) of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, which provides that where a local authority or county council assist a public utility society under that subsection, the local authority or council shall not be prevented from having or claiming an interest in the shares of the society exceeding two hundred pounds.

A public utility society must consist of at least seven persons with a secretary. Application for registration must be made to the Registrar of Friendly Societies, 17, North Audley Street, W.1, who provides forms for the purpose. The application for registration must be signed by seven members and the secretary, and must be accompanied by two printed copies of the rules. These rules must cover provisions required by or under the Industrial and Provident Societies Acts and sections 18 and 19 of the Housing Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919.

Certain very useful organisations have drawn up model rules which cover these provisions; and these organisations will supply copies and give all guidance and help. Amongst them are the following:—

The Garden Cities and Town Planning Association,
3 Gray's Inn Place, W.C.;

The Welsh Town Planning and Housing Trust, Ltd., 32 Park Place, Cardiff; and

The Agricultural Organisation Society, 40 Broadway, S.W.1.

The rules of these organisations have a further advantage: the Registrar of Friendly Societies has the power

when model rules, accepted by him, are adopted, to reduce the registration fee from £5 to £1.

The rules and any amendment require the approval of the Minister of Health, and this should be obtained before the rules or amendments are submitted to the registrar.

The registration of a society renders it a body corporate, with perpetual succession and a common seal, and with limited liability.

Assistance
by local authority.

Under section 18 (2) of the 1919 Act, a local authority or county council, with the consent of, and subject to any regulations or conditions which may be made or imposed by, the Minister of Health, may :—

- (a) Make grants or loans to the society ;
- (b) Subscribe for any share or loan capital of the society ; or
- (c) Guarantee or join in guaranteeing the payment of interest on money borrowed by the society or of any share or loan capital issued by the society ;

on such terms and conditions as to rate of interest and repayment or otherwise, and on such security, as the local authority or council think fit.

Any assistance which they may give to a public utility society will be outside the arrangement by which the financial obligations of the local authority under an assisted housing scheme are limited to a penny rate. In future years it may be found that the whole of the housing needs of a district can be suitably provided for by a public utility society, and in such cases the local authority would no doubt be willing to render financial assistance. In any case the local authority may be willing to take up a portion of the share capital of the society. By so doing they would secure a voice in the management of the society, and it may be expected that both the authority and society would welcome the measure of co-operation which would follow from the participation of the local authority in the society's affairs.

In some cases a public utility society may find it difficult to acquire a site at a reasonable cost. Under section 12 (2) of the Act of 1919, a local authority may assist the society by acquiring a site compulsorily and selling or leasing it to the society. Section 18 provides that where a society is desirous of erecting houses for the working classes which, in the opinion of the Minister of Health, are required, and the local authority of the area in which the houses are proposed to be built are unwilling to acquire land with a view to selling or leasing the same to the society, the county council may, on the application of the society, acquire the land and sell or lease it to the society.

Under section 67 of the Housing of the Working Classes Loans Act, 1890, as amended by section 4 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, the Public Works Loan Commissioners were empowered to make loans to public utility societies, for a period of forty years, up to two-thirds of the value (not cost) of the land or houses to be mortgaged. Under the 1919 Act the period for the maximum period for repayment is extended to fifty years, and loans may be made, during a period to be specified by the Minister of Health, with the consent of the Treasury, up to 75 per cent. of the cost of the land and houses.

Advances of the loan may be made by instalments as the building progresses. The loans and advances may be made by the Commissioners, on the recommendation of the Minister, and it is important that the information which the Commissioners will require before deciding whether they can make a loan, should be forwarded to them at an early stage, and the society should obtain from the local Housing Commissioner, well in advance, a note of the information which the Loan Commissioners will require.

The State subsidy.

In addition to the loan, an annual subsidy may be paid by the Minister of Health to the public utility society during a maximum period of fifty years. The amount of the subsidy (see section 19 of the 1919 Act, as amended by section 4 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919) will be equivalent, during the period ending on 31st March 1927, to 50 per cent. and thereafter to 30 per cent. of the loan charges (including interest and the payments for redemption of principal) on the whole of the capital borrowed under the approved scheme; and for the purpose of the calculation of the amount of the subsidy it will be assumed that loan charges are payable on the annuity system (i.e. by equal half-yearly instalments of principal and interest combined) on the whole of the capital at the same rate as the charges fixed in the case of loans to public utility societies by the Public Works Loan Commissioners. It is immaterial for this purpose whether loans have in fact been made to the society by the Commissioners. This is an important point. A society may be able to borrow from others at a lower rate of interest than the State charges (see the Treasury Minute on page 536), but it will get its annual subsidy from the Minister of Health as though it had borrowed three-quarters of its capital from the State and were paying the full Government rate of interest.

The payment of the subsidy is conditional upon the society complying with the financial regulations (see page 650).

The State subsidy is an emergency measure due to the temporary disturbance of normal economic conditions, and it is not contemplated that housing should permanently be placed on a subsidised footing. The intention of the subsidy is to encourage building during the present emergency period, by placing the societies who build during this period in a not less favourable position than those who defer building until more normal conditions are established. Accordingly, the subsidy is available only for those who commence building forthwith. Article III of the 1919 Regulations (page 653) provides that financial assistance will cease (a) unless reasonable progress is made with carrying the scheme into effect within one year from the passing of the Act, and (b) in respect of any scheme, or part, not completed within three years from that date; or, in each case, within such further period as the Minister may allow. The Act was passed on 31st July 1919.

The site, lay-out, house plans and cost of the scheme will be subject to the approval of the Ministry, and before the scheme is finally approved the society must submit a statement in Form D.107 (see page 657), showing the estimated income and expenditure under the scheme (Article IV of the 1919 Regulations). Professional charges must not exceed 5 per cent. of the total capital approved expenditure (Article V). The rents will be subject to the approval of the Ministry (Article VI). The plans must also be passed by the local authority in the usual way (under section 167 of the Public Health Act, 1875, and the by-laws), but the by-laws may be relaxed (see page 416).

Houses provided under an approved scheme must not be sold except on conditions laid down by the Ministry (Article VII). These conditions form the subject of the Sale of Houses Regulations, printed on page 663. Under them a tenant may buy his house outright, in which connection the provisions of the Small Dwellings Acquisition Act, 1899, as to loans from the local authority (see page 258), may be read. Or of course he can borrow (if necessary) from any other source. The alternative method of purchase by instalments, in addition to the rent, presents many practical difficulties, notably in regard to the custody of the instalments and the safeguarding of the interests of the tenant-purchaser in the possible event of the bankruptcy of the society, and is not recommended.

houses, &c.

100 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

Other points in the regulations. The accounts of the society will be subject to audit by the district auditor, in addition to the audit prescribed by the Industrial and Provident Societies Acts (Article VIII, page 654).

In the event of the dissolution of the society before the Exchequer subsidy has ceased to be payable, the State will be a creditor for the amount of the subsidies actually paid (Article IX). The society will be required to enter into an agreement to give effect to this regulation. A form of agreement for this purpose is obtainable from the Housing Commissioner.

The objects of the society must include the provision of houses for the working classes, and it is only the provision of working class houses (with the necessary land, street works, &c.) which will rank for the Government subsidy. The scheme may include larger houses, or such buildings as factories, shops, clubs, or places of worship, or additional land for the purpose of small holdings, but the additional expenditure for these purposes will not be subsidised by the Government. There is no statutory definition of "the working classes" which is applicable to housing by public utility societies, and it is intended that this term should be generously interpreted. Certain types of houses have, however, come to be regarded, by accepted usage, as working-class houses. Such types of houses are instanced in the Manual on State-Aided Housing Schemes (see page xiii), and the local housing commissioner will be prepared to advise as to the standard of accommodation which can be approved.

Societies may be formed for acquiring large empty houses and converting them into flats for the working classes. Where this is contemplated the promoters should refer to the Manual on the Conversion of Houses into Flats for the Working Classes (see page xiii).

Housing trusts.

The expression "housing trust" is defined by section 40 of the Act of 1919 as "a corporation or body of persons which, by the terms of its constituent instrument, is required to devote the whole of its funds, including any surplus which may arise from its operations, to the provision of houses for persons the majority of whom are in fact members of the working classes, and to other purposes incidental thereto."

The definition is intended to apply mainly to trustees who have the administration of trust funds, and will not ordinarily require to borrow. Accordingly no provision is made for State assistance towards the capital expenditure, but an annual subsidy may be granted on the same terms as in the case of public utility societies. In other words it will be calculated as though the trust were a public utility society and had borrowed for the purposes of the approved scheme an amount equivalent to the trust funds used for those purposes. The subsidy will then be calculated as per the regulations, "The Housing Trusts (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1919 and 1920"), printed on pages 669 and 673. These regulations contain many other matters of importance, and should be read.

Public utility societies are of comparatively recent introduction as far as housing purposes are concerned. Though recognised by the Act of 1890 and encouraged by the Act of 1909, it is only during the past ten or eleven years that they have had much construction to their credit. To some extent their rise has coincided with the decline in private enterprise.

One hundred and six societies were in active operation before the war and at the date of the armistice. They had built rather less than 8,000 houses. Nevertheless, they were seen to be a new force, particularly at Letchworth, Bournville, Hampstead, &c. Better still, they were often possessed of ideals which promised much in the matter of improving the worker's house, its architecture, arrangement, and surroundings.

Though essentially co-operative associations, there was an element of commerce about them, within the limits of the legislation—in a few cases a strong element.

General remarks on public utility societies.

Their founders in some cases were working men wanting houses, and in other cases housing reformers ; and occasionally a philanthropist or an employer of labour was interested in them.

It may here be mentioned that, in the past, quite a large number of houses have been built by co-operative societies, and that several of such societies, by a small addition to their rules, have become public utility societies, as the term is here used.

Private capital.

The money needed by the societies came from several sources : (1) the Public Works Loan Commissioners ; (2) the tenants ; (3) philanthropists ; (4) employers ; and (5) public companies and societies, which usually lent on mortgage but occasionally subscribed for loan stock. It is still intended that they should raise as much money as possible in this way, but the Public Works Loan Commissioners may lend up to the 75 per cent. of the cost, as already explained. If, in the opinion of these Commissioners, there is a special risk that it may at some future date, during the currency of the loan, be impossible to secure tenants for a large proportion of the houses, owing to changes in the industrial circumstances of the locality, it will be open to them to require collateral security. Though the loan from the Commissioners is the first charge on the premises, the money lent on mortgage or the loan stock can, by arrangement, rank first after the loan has been repaid to the Commissioners. Land and materials, subject to the valuation thereof being officially approved, can be subscribed for loan stock instead of cash. In the case of leaseholds the Ministry will accept terms of not less than sixty years, but prefers ninety-nine years.

Dr. Addison touched on some of the above points when moving the second reading of the Housing (Additional Powers) Bill. He said : "There has been already built a goodly number of houses by public utility societies on the experimental plan adopted in the early stages.

Some of them have very big enterprises in front of them, but they are nearly all, though not quite all, great employers of labour for great firms which must have the houses anyhow. They are iron companies, steel companies, engineering companies, and so forth, and they have frankly recognised that under the existing terms for public utility societies they will get very little or no return on their share of the capital. It was evident that, in order to bring in the aid of public utility societies and to make the best use of them, we must, at any rate for the first few years, improve the terms to them" (Hansard, 8th December 1919, cols. 563-4).

A special department was set up at the Ministry of Health to deal with public utility societies and housing trusts, and it has supplied, by means of circulars and the like, much useful information to them, while the Housing Commissioners and their staffs have been anxious to give assistance and advice.

The following is a list of the official publications dealing specially with public utility societies and housing trusts:

In addition the Ministry's fortnightly journal, Housing, and the valuable manuals and other documents have been available.

Another form of assistance took the form of the provision by the Government, at an early stage, of certain building materials and standardised fittings.

Some difficulties.

It would, however, be idle to deny that public utility societies have had difficulties. In the initial stages, at least, there is a considerable amount of work falling upon committee men and other officers of such societies, in making the thousand and one arrangements which have to be made, including interviews with the Housing Commissioner, and the landowner, framing the rules, instructing the architect (the societies have been advised to employ architects), agreeing to the plans, and so forth. Not only so, the Ministry, through its Housing Commissioner, has had to go into many matters carefully so as to protect the interests of the taxpayer. The price provisionally agreed to with the landowner has possibly been found to be too high, when the valuation of the Inland Revenue District Valuer has come to hand. The plans have been wasteful, possibly, in some respects.

It may be added that the State allowance to public utility societies is larger than the subsidy to private builders—some one-third of the cost per house, against the maximum subsidy to the private builder of £260.

CHAPTER VII

THE HOUSING (ADDITIONAL POWERS) ACT, 1919

GENERAL SUMMARY

THE Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, confers certain powers which supplement those contained in the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919. The Government scheme, which was brought into force by the latter Act, inevitably threw a severe strain on the machinery of local government. By the new Act that machinery has been strengthened and relieved of a part of its burden.

Its most notable feature was that of authorising grants to private builders (averaging £250 per house) for the construction of houses. The houses must comply with the conditions prescribed by the Minister of Health (section 1) (see page 114); they must be in material accordance with the conditions approved in the case of local authorities' schemes; they must comply with the local by-laws; and they must be certified by the local authority or, on appeal, by the Minister of Health, to have been completed in a proper and workmanlike manner. Subject to this the builder has a very free hand, and there is no limitation as to the selling price or rent of the houses. The subsidy will be available only for building commenced within twelve months (or at most, in special cases, sixteen months) after the passing of the Act (23rd December 1919). Further information on this subject is given on pages 113 and 114.

The Act also provides for revised and improved terms to public utility societies. The annual subsidy of 30 per cent. (based on the loan charges on the borrowed capital) has been increased to 50 per cent. during the terms to public utilit

societies, &

106. LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

years ending 31st March 1927, after which date it will be 30 per cent. as before. The revised terms are also available for housing trusts and for county councils who wish to provide houses for their employees (section 4).

Luxury building.

One of the chief obstacles to the building of working-class houses by local authorities has been the diversion of the resources of the building trade into other channels. There are large arrears of repair work to be completed, but, apart from that, building works have been put in hand in many parts of the country, which are of less public importance, or of less urgency, than the building of houses. The Act enables a local authority to prohibit what is known as "luxury" building (section 5). This does not mean that useful commercial expansion is to be checked or hampered. The Regulations are printed on pages 684 and 694.

The above provisions are in force for two years from 23rd December 1921 (section 15).

The Act also deals on a permanent basis with the issue of Housing Bonds, &c., by local authorities for the purpose of raising the necessary money for their housing schemes (section 7); with the acquisition of land for garden cities or town-planning schemes (section 10); and certain minor matters.

Housing bonds, &c.

The Minister's explanation

On 8th December 1919 Dr. Addison, Minister of Health, in moving the second reading of the Housing (Additional Powers) Bill, which had been introduced four days previously, said that it was still the fact that private persons would not build houses because there was not a reasonable chance of getting an economic return in the shape of a sufficient rent. Further, there was an abundance of remunerative repair work for builders. Therefore, a subsidy was essential to secure the assistance of private individuals and builders to relieve the present great shortage of houses.

Certain other concessions could be made to them in certain circumstances, notably as to the number of houses to the acre. Dr. Addison said : " We have allowed, in some cases, even under the [previous] Bill, in urban areas up to as many as twenty houses per acre, although we have been very reluctant to go above twelve " (Hansard, 8th December 1919, col. 559). The Minister said : " The private builder can build more cheaply than the local authority."

The subsidy to public utility societies was to be increased, as under the existing terms they could get very little or no return on their share of the capital.

It was necessary to check luxury building. The Minister had several cases where a person wanting to put up an extravagant building had offered 2d. and 3d. per hour more for building labour than the rate current in the district, and in one such case the number of brick-layers employed on a housing scheme went down from 162 to 42.

The proposal regarding housing bonds was intended to help local authorities to finance their own housing schemes by issuing bonds. The Minister was opposed to any suggestion that the Chancellor of the Exchequer should raise the money.

Discussing the clause providing for the acquisition of land for the purpose of garden cities and town-planning schemes by the Minister as agent for local authorities or authorised associations, Dr. Addison said that experience had shown that if housing was to be done with proper foresight a good many schemes of this character would have to be undertaken. The London County Council had recently acquired 3,000 acres on the north side of the Thames, to the east of the city ; but in many cases the powers in the clause were necessary, as for instance in South Wales, where the proper thing was to have a grouping of authorities and to have residential quarters at the end of valleys with road communications towards the collieries, rather than perched in difficult positions on the hill-sides at great cost.

The subject of the difficulty experienced by some local authorities in raising the necessary money for their housing schemes, had been inquired into by the Treasury Committee on Housing Finance (Mr. W. H. N. Goschen, chairman), which in its interim report (Cmd. 444], dated 27th November 1919, recommended that mortgage loans of local authorities be constituted a trustee security, that they have power to issue local bonds as a trustee security, and that the onus of finding the capital necessary for housing remain on them. It also recommended that the local bonds should be accepted at their face value from people purchasing houses from the local authority, in which connection it may be noted that it was the policy of the Ministry to encourage people to own the houses in which they live.

The Government adopted these recommendations almost entirely, and incorporated the necessary provisions in the new Bill.

A Bill to extend the subsidy period and to strengthen the provisions affecting luxury building, is to be introduced in the first parliamentary session of 1921.

CHAPTER VIII

THE POSITION OF THE PRIVATE BUILDER

THE term "private" builder has latterly and popularly been used by way of distinction from the public body, e.g. the local authority. It means, the "speculative" builder; the "contract" builder; and the building-owner.

During the war, when the subject of the shortage of houses was officially enquired into (see the Report of the Tudor Walters' Committee, Cd. 9191), it was apparent that the local authorities would have to undertake to provide houses on a large scale. But at that early stage it was hoped that the private builder, or private enterprise, would also be made use of. The private builder, principally in mind in this connection, was the speculative builder, who, as principal, and on his own account, built houses with the object (primarily) of selling them at a profit. There was also the private person, who, though not a builder himself, engaged a builder to erect houses for him, usually on contract, such houses being intended either to be sold or to be let.

In the past more than 90 per cent. of working-class houses have been built by private enterprise, mostly by speculative builders. The usual plan has been for a builder to purchase an estate, or several sites according to the scale of his business, and to build a few houses at a time. He obtained temporary financial assistance from a bank, a solicitor, a builder's merchant, or a building society, and sold the houses as soon as possible after completion. It was essential to the continuance of

before the war.

his business that he should have a ready sale, for only in this way could he turn over his capital. He almost always expected to make some profit on the retailing of the land, which he had usually purchased wholesale: in many cases he sold the houses at cost and made his profit by the creation of improved ground rents.

The subsidy question.

For some years before the war, conditions had been hardening against the private builder, and after the war he was not prepared to resume the building of houses for the working classes: apart from anything else, the cost of building had so greatly increased that there was hardly a possibility of getting an economic rent for any new houses, and so no profit would be obtained on such building. That indeed was the general trouble, and the Government had long foreseen, for this and other reasons, that the provision of such houses would have to be at least augmented by the efforts of local authorities, and would have to be subsidised.

Here a further trouble arose. There was at that time a very strong objection to subsidising a private individual, and when the Bill was introduced the grant of a sum of money to a private individual was not then attempted.

The Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919. The Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, does, however, contain provisions of interest to the private builder. It makes it possible for him to help in the provision of houses.

Section 12 (2) (a) empowers the local authority to acquire land and to "lease or sell it with a view to the erection thereon of houses for the working classes by persons other than the local authority." It can thus acquire, by compulsion if necessary, land which the private builder could not get, at a reasonable price. When, with the consent of the Minister of Health, the local authority so sells or leases the land, it will be under the condition that the private builder will erect and maintain thereon such number of houses suitable for the working classes as may be fixed by the local authority in accordance with plans approved by them (section 15 (1) (b)). The conveyance or lease must contain the necessary covenants for the above purposes and limit the amount of rent which may be charged . . . and the local authority may contribute towards the expenses of the development of the land and the laying out and construction of streets thereon, subject to the condition that the streets are dedicated to the public (section 15 (2)).

But section 12 (3) is probably more attractive. It provides that subject to the conditions of the Minister of Health a local authority may agree to purchase or take on lease working-class houses whether built at the date of the agreement or intended to be built thereafter.

There are advantages to the builder, to the local authority, and to the public in this provision. After the local authority have approved the site and general outline of the proposals, they can leave it to the contractor to obtain the official approvals necessary at the various stages (site, plans and cost), though they must maintain some supervision. The section also enables the local authority to utilise the services of small builders who will not be in a position to tender for big contracts, or who do not care for contract work under detailed specifications and quantities. In general, builders who know local conditions and requirements, and who prefer the fuller measure of elasticity in the private builder's arrangements—including the substitution of a different material or fitting (equally good and possibly better)—may be fully accommodated. Further, large contractors might run an arrangement of the kind under discussion, concurrently with their other operations.

The local authority may indicate the type of house, taking as instances the plans in the official Manual on State-Aided Housing Schemes, or other plans which have received official approval; or may agree to houses of the type which the builder has already built. The builder will agree to build accordingly at a certain cost per house. The local authority will apply to the Ministry for approval of the agreement, which should include a time limit for the completion of the houses, and on this being obtained the builder will proceed. Some further particulars are given in Circular 39 and Enclosure B therewith.

It may be said that this section 12 (3) is not of great value in view of the offer in the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, of a direct subsidy to the private builder. To some extent this is true, but whereas the latter subsidy is temporary, section 12 (3) is permanent. Many hundreds of houses have been built under the provisions of the section.

The contract builder pure and simple is also dealt with in Circular 39 and in Enclosure A therewith.

By-laws and other provisions of the

By section 23 of the 1919 Act bricks or building material acquired by a Government department may, until 31st July 1924, be sold, subject to conditions, to any person who undertakes to use them forthwith for the erection or improvement of working-class houses, at a price sufficient to cover the cost of replacement. This provision is perfectly general.

Section 24 provides, briefly, that the private builder is not bound by more restrictive by-laws than operate to affect the new schemes of the local authority. The said new schemes, when approved by the Minister of Health, supersede the local by-laws to any necessary extent.

Section 25 makes further provision for the relaxation of building by-laws. Regulations have been made on the subject (see page 565).

But notwithstanding these provisions of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, the speculative builder and the building owner did not come forward to any appreciable extent. The summer and autumn of 1919 passed, and it became clear that the provisions of this Act needed supplementing. Those who had knowledge of the difficulties and the preliminary work required, had not expected a great output of houses by the local authorities during 1919; but the private builder who had his sites already partly developed, and who was otherwise in a better position to make an early start, was apparently not attracted by the terms.

The Government, therefore, took the unusual step of offering a State subsidy to the private builder who built houses for the working classes. The Prime Minister addressed representatives of the Building Trades' Industrial Council on 16th December 1919, and explained the reasons. There was a feeling against subsidising the private man. It was only when they found that they could not get the houses that the Government were in a position to make an offer to the private builder. The delay was inevitable in order to convince the public that it was necessary to take a step never taken in the whole experience of this country.

The Housing
(Additional
Act, 1919.

Legislation was necessary for this purpose, and the Housing (Additional Powers) Bill, 1919, was introduced and rapidly passed by Parliament, receiving the Royal Assent on 23rd December 1919. The Act is given in full on page 368, and a summary of it appears on page 105. The conditions, and a general explanation of the procedure, are given in the official document printed on the next page, and a free explanatory pamphlet—How to Get a House of Your Own—can be obtained from any Housing Commissioner, or from the Ministry of Health, Whitehall, S.W.1.

The private builder is affected by section 5 also, which deals with the prohibition of building operations in so far as they interfere with the provision of dwelling-houses ; or, more popularly, the section checks "luxury" building. The regulations made under the section are printed in full on pages 684 and 694.

GRANTS TO PRIVATE PERSONS OR BODIES OF PERSONS CONSTRUCTING HOUSES UNDER THE HOUSING (ADDITIONAL POWERS) ACT, 1919

1. Grants will be made by the Minister of Health under the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, to persons or bodies of persons who construct houses in accordance with the conditions set out below and who begin the construction of such houses within twelve months of the passing of the Act (viz. within twelve months of the 23rd of December 1919¹) and who complete the same within that period or such further period not exceeding four months as the Minister may in any special case allow. No grant can be made in the case of any house the construction of which was begun before the passing of the Act. The total amount of grants to be paid for the United Kingdom will not exceed £15,000,000, and should the number of applications received by the Minister give rise to the expectation that the total sum available for England and Wales will be exceeded, it will of course be necessary to take steps to secure that an undue proportion of the total amount is not distributed to a particular area.

2. The amount of grant payable in the case of houses the construction of which is begun on or after 1st April 1920, and completed within twelve months of the passing of the Act as above will be :—

(a) In respect of houses containing two living-rooms (i.e. living-room and parlour) and three or four bedrooms and comprising not less than 920 feet superficial area—£260 per house.

- (b) In respect of houses containing one living-room and three bedrooms, and comprising not less than 780 feet superficial area—£240 per house.
- (c) In respect of houses containing one living-room and two bedrooms, and comprising not less than 700 feet superficial area—£230 per house.

In the case of one-storey cottages, or bungalows, the minimum superficial areas referred to in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) above may be reduced by 70 feet super.

No grant will be made in respect of any house with more than four bedrooms or which has a superficial area in excess of 1,400 feet.

The superficial area will be measured by taking the combined areas of both storeys measured within the external or containing walls of the house. A cellar shall not be taken into account, but any habitable accommodation provided as an attic must be included.

Subject to the express sanction of the Minister, grants will be available for houses built in flats of two or more storeys in height in areas where there is a demand for accommodation of this kind. Each flat which complies with the conditions as to superficial area and accommodation will be treated as one house. In calculating the superficial area, the minimum areas referred to in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) may be reduced by 70 feet super, but the space occupied by a staircase shall be excluded.

The number of two-bedroom houses in any district in respect of which a grant will be made shall not, without the express sanction of the Minister, exceed 5 per cent. of the total number of houses for which grant will be payable.

If a form of construction is employed for which, in the case of a local authority's scheme, the Ministry of Health would not sanction a loan for a period exceeding forty years, the amount of grant per house will be reduced by one-third.

3.¹ In the case of any house begun within twelve months after the passing of the Act but not certified by the authorised officer of the local authority to have been completed fit for occupation (see Schedule III) within that period, no grant can be made unless the house is completed within sixteen months after the passing of the Act, and then only if the Minister in any special case allows such payment. If in such a case the Minister allows a grant, the grant (unless the Minister is satisfied that the failure to complete the house within twelve months after the passing of the Act is due to circumstances over which the person constructing the house had no control) will be proportionately reduced, i.e. :—

- (a) If the house is completed in the thirteenth month after the passing of the Act, a reduction of one-twelfth of the appropriate figure in paragraph 2, above.
- (b) If completed in the fourteenth month, a reduction of two-twelfths.
- (c) If completed in the fifteenth month, a reduction of three-twelfths.
- (d) If completed in the sixteenth month, a reduction of four-twelfths.

4. The planning of the houses must comply with Part I of Schedule I below. The construction of the houses must not fall below the standard prescribed under Parts II and III of Schedule I.

PROCEDURE WHICH MUST BE FOLLOWED BY PERSONS OR BODIES OF PERSONS APPLYING FOR GRANTS

5. Plans shall be submitted to the local authority of the district in which it is proposed to erect the house or houses, in the form required by the by-laws (if any)

in force with regard to new streets and buildings or by any local Act. In every case, whether by-laws are in force or not, there shall be submitted to the local authority by the person, or persons, proposing to construct the houses :—

- (a) a block plan in duplicate drawn to a scale of 1/500 showing the lay-out, roads and sewers ;
- (b) complete plans and sections in duplicate of the proposed house or houses drawn to a scale of not less than eight feet to one inch ;
- (c) where the houses are to be built of brick or stone, an undertaking in writing that the standard of construction will be in accordance with Part II of Schedule I or equivalent thereto ; and
- (d) where some other form of construction approved by the Ministry of Health is proposed, a description of the method to be adopted and an undertaking that the form of construction will be carried out strictly in the form approved by the Ministry and that the standard of construction will comply with the conditions in Part II of Schedule I so far as they are applicable.

6. On receipt of such plans and undertakings and descriptive note, the local authority shall cause them to be examined with all possible speed, and, subject to the compliance of the plans with the conditions set out in Schedule I, below, and with paragraph 2, above, shall issue a certificate (Certificate A) under the hand of their clerk, surveyor, or other duly authorised officer of the local authority, in the form set out in Schedule II, below, accompanied by one set of the plans and sections marked with their approval. If any dispute arises as to the approval of plans, number of houses per acre, or methods of construction, the question shall be referred to the Housing Commissioner of the region in which the houses are proposed to be erected for decision. Upon the application, however, of either party, the Commissioner

7. When the houses have been completed, the person or body of persons constructing the houses shall apply to the local authority of the district in which the houses have been erected for a certificate that they have been completed in a proper and workmanlike manner and the local authority shall at once cause the houses to be examined and, if satisfied, shall issue a certificate (Certificate B) under the hand of their clerk, surveyor, or other authorised officer in the form set out in Schedule III. If the local authority refuse or neglect to grant such a certificate appeal may be made to the Minister of Health, through the Housing Commissioner, who, if satisfied that the appeal is justified, will himself issue the certificate.

8. The local authority may require the applicant to give an undertaking in writing to pay to them, in respect of any expenses incurred by them in the examination of plans and other works involved, in connection with the applications, a fee not exceeding £3 3s. (three guineas) for each type of house for which separate plans are required, provided that where more than three houses are to be erected to the same plan a fee not exceeding £1 1s. (one guinea) per house may be charged. The fee will be payable after Certificate B has been issued.

9. When any person or body of persons constructing houses has received both the Certificates A and B referred to in paragraphs 6 and 7, above, he shall forward each of the original certificates, together with a written application made on the back of Certificate B for the sum of money to which he claims to be entitled, to the Secretary Ministry of Health, Whitehall, London, S.W.1.

10. The Minister when satisfied as to the correctness of the application will pay the amount due.

11. The local authority shall give a serial number to the Certificates A. and B. The certificates shall be issued in triplicate, one copy being sent to the Housing Commissioner, and one copy being retained by the local authority.

12. No certificate shall be issued in respect of any house in respect of which any payment out of moneys provided by Parliament may be made under section 7 or section 19 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919.

13. In the Administrative County of London the existing jurisdiction of the London County Council, the District Surveyors, the Common Council of the City and the Metropolitan Borough Councils with regard to buildings will remain in force in so far as such jurisdiction is not inconsistent with the conditions contained in Schedule I; and consequently the existing procedure will remain unaltered as regards the submission of plans and other matters. Applications for Certificates A and B, accompanied by the plans and other particulars required under paragraph 5, should be made to the London County Council through the district surveyor of the district in which it is proposed to build, and these applications will be dealt with by the London County Council, who are the local authority for the Administrative County of London (including the City) for this purpose.

MINISTRY OF HEALTH,
WHITEHALL, S.W.1.
September 1920.

SCHEDULE I

CONDITIONS PRESCRIBED BY THE MINISTER OF HEALTH AS TO THE PLANNING AND CONSTRUCTION OF HOUSES IN RESPECT OF WHICH GRANTS MAY BE MADE UNDER SECTION 1 OF THE HOUSING (ADDITIONAL POWERS) ACT, 1919

In so far as the provisions of any building by-laws are inconsistent with the conditions in this Schedule, such provisions shall not apply in respect of houses which comply with these conditions but otherwise such provisions shall apply.

PART I—PLANNING

(a) Number of houses per acre. The number of houses per acre should not exceed eight in agricultural areas or twelve in other areas. On land partly developed, however, it will be within the discretion of the local authority to allow a larger number, provided that in no case shall the number of houses per acre exceed twelve in agricultural areas, or twenty in other areas, without the express authority of the Minister. In calculating the number of houses per acre each tenement will count as a house.

(b) The number of houses built in one continuous terrace shall not exceed eight, except with the approval of the local authority.

(c) Height of rooms. No house shall be approved which contains a living-room or a bedroom of a less height than 8 feet. In the case of a room partly in the roof, the height of 8 feet shall apply to not less than two-thirds of the area, and no height shall be less than 5 feet. The local authority shall not insist on a greater height than has been determined in the case of any house in their area comprised in an assisted scheme under the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, and approved by the Ministry of Health, and where no relaxation of the height prescribed by the by-laws (if any) in force has been made in the area of the local authority a greater height than 8 feet shall not be required.

(d) Baths and w.cs. No house to which a sufficient water supply and drainage is available shall be approved unless a bath and w.c. are provided. Where no drainage is available an earth-closet must be provided.

(e) It shall be open to the local authority, where it appears to them desirable, to approve proposals with regard to the level, width and construction of streets which do not comply in all respects with the building by-laws in force.

(f) It shall be open to the local authority, where it appears to them desirable, to permit the drainage of not more than fourteen houses in any one case by a common drain, without requiring separate intercepting traps and ventilation for each house.

PART II—CONSTRUCTION WHEN HOUSES ARE BUILT IN BRICK, STONE OR CONCRETE

Houses should comply with the standard of construction required by the following specification. It is intended, however, that the normal methods and materials which are customary in each particular district shall be adopted to the extent that such methods and materials do not fall below the standard hereby prescribed.

Specification

Foundations. The foundations are to be of sufficient depths to secure a firm bottom. Where in the opinion of the local authority the nature of the soil requires it, adequate foundations of concrete must be provided not less than 6 inches thick, 12 inches wider than the base of external and party walls, and 9 inches wider than internal walls. The concrete to be composed of one part of good Portland cement to not more than eight parts of good clean aggregate. Other suitable foundations which are approved by the Ministry can be used.

Surface concrete. Where in the opinion of the local authority the nature of the soil requires it, the whole site of the buildings should be covered with a bed of cement or other suitable concrete not less than 4 inches thick.

Drains. The drains, sanitary work, and plumbing are to be laid out and constructed to the approval of the local authority.

Bricks. All bricks are to be good, hard, well-burnt, common bricks; facing bricks and particularly those below the damp course are to be such as will not scale or perish. Where London stocks can be obtained, approved grizzles or place bricks may be used for party walls and internal walls carrying no weight. Approved old bricks, where available, may also be used.

Mortar. Mortar is to be composed of one part of good lime and not more than three parts of sand, or of one part of Portland cement to four parts of sand.

Brickwork. No main external brick wall is to be less than 9 inches thick if solid, or if hollow than two $4\frac{1}{2}$ -inch brick walls with a 2-inch cavity and with galvanised iron ties, two at least for every superficial yard. Cavity walls may also be constructed 9 inches thick with bricks on edge having headers and stretchers alternating in each course. The external face of this wall must be rendered in cement or finished roughcast. In exposed situations, external solid walls must be rendered in cement or hydraulic lime or finished roughcast, or otherwise adequately protected. All division ground floor walls carrying upper floor joists are to be $4\frac{1}{2}$ -inch brick. The joints of all brickwork to be filled solid with mortar and well flushed up.

Stone walls. Stone walling may be substituted for brickwork, in which case it must be at least 12 inches in thickness.

Damp courses. Lay adequate damp courses the full thicknesses of all walls.

Other methods of wall construction. (1) Houses framed in hardwood constructed in accordance with the Ministry's specification for cottages of timber construction, and covered with hardwood weather-boarding of the specified scantling, hanging tiles, natural slates, or cement rendering not less than 1 inch thick. If the cement rendering is applied under pressure the framing may be of deal.

(2) Concrete houses must be either built to a special method of construction approved by the Ministry or in accordance with the Ministry's Standard Specification.

(3) In a cavity wall $4\frac{1}{2}$ -inch brickwork or 3-inch brick on edge, built in cement mortar with adequate wall ties can be substituted for one of the concrete faces of cavity walls specified in the Ministry's Standard Concrete Specification.

(4) A solid wall may also be composed of two thicknesses of clinker slabs, with the space between filled in with poured concrete, the total thickness of the un-plastered wall being not less than 8 inches. A wall built in this manner must be finished on the outside roughcast or rendered in cement.

(5) Reinforced concrete may be employed, provided it complies with the recognised practice in this type of construction, and is approved by the local authority.

(6) Solid ballast concrete walls 4 inches thick may be used for bungalows of one storey, and 6 inches for two storey cottages, provided that a cavity of at least 2 inches is left between the concrete and an inner or outer lining, and the cavity is ventilated top and bottom, with air spaces through the wall battens to prevent dry rot. In a timber-framed house brick nogging may be used where a 2-inch cavity is provided in accordance with the above.

Inner lining of walls and ceilings. Walls and ceilings of living-rooms and bedrooms should be either plaster or covered with fibrous plaster slabs, compressed sheeting, or framed panelling other than matchboarding.

Timber generally. All timber is to be sound, free from wrack or dead wood, and suitable for its purpose.

The timber for carcassing to be of suitable building quality, reasonably seasoned, and not inferior to good fourth Swedish classification. Equal qualities in Finnish or Russian timber, spruce, red pine, pitch pine, Oregon pine, British Columbia pine, or suitable home-grown timbers may be used.

The timber for joinery to be of suitable joinery quality, well seasoned and dry, and not inferior to good third Swedish or White Sea classification.

Floor joists. Wood floors to be constructed with joists spaced not more than 14 inches apart, and of the following scantlings, or with scantlings of equal strength :—

Length of bearing not exceeding 5 feet	Dimensions. Inches. Inches.
" " " 6 "	4 x 2
" " " 8 "	4½ x 2
" " " 9 "	5½ x 2
" " " 10 "	6 x 2
" " " 11 "	6½ x 2
" " " 12 "	7 x 2
" " " 13 "	8 x 2

Trimmers and trimming joists are to be $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch thicker than the other joists. One row of herring-bone strutting to be provided for bearings exceeding 8 feet.

Joists 6-inch by 2-inch can be allowed where the span does not exceed 10 feet, provided a row of 6-inch by 2-inch solid strutting is fixed across the centre of the span, and joists 7-inch by 2-inch can be accepted in lieu of 8-inch by 2-inch where the span does not exceed 12 feet, provided a row of 7-inch by 2-inch solid struttings is fixed across the centre of the span.

Roofs. The roofs to be constructed with rafters spaced not more than 14-inch apart and of the following scantlings or of equal area and suitable depths :—

Length of bearing not exceeding 5 feet	Dimensions. Inches. Inches.
" " " 6 "	3 x 2
" " " 7 "	3½ x 2
" " " 8 "	4 x 2
" " " 9 "	4½ x 2
" " " 10 "	5 x 2

Where necessary, suitable purlins, hips and valleys to be provided.

These scantlings may be reduced where the minimum sizes specified in the local authority's by-laws allow of such reduction.

Roof coverings. Roofs to be covered with tiles, slates or other suitable fire-resisting material.

Thatch will be accepted subject to compliance with the conditions contained in the Ministry's (Temporary Relaxation of Building By-Laws) Regulations, 1920.

Rendering. The faces of brickwork or walling over smoke flues passing through floors, ceilings, and in roof spaces, to be roughly rendered with cement mortar.

Footings. Footings need not be required at the base of the wall where the building is not more than two storeys high, exclusive of attics, provided that the wall rests upon a layer of cement or other suitable concrete of sufficient thickness and strength laid on the solid ground, or some other solid and sufficient foundation.

Eaves gutters. Eaves gutters are to be cast-iron, the joints made in red lead and bolted, fixed on suitable brackets, or screwed to rafters, or fascias. Compressed asbestos gutters, not less than $\frac{3}{8}$ -inch in thickness, painted or coated in pitch on the inside, or properly framed wood gutters not less than 1-inch thick, coated with pitch on the inside, may be used as an alternative.

Fall pipes. All the fall pipes are to be cast-iron or compressed cement asbestos not less than $\frac{3}{8}$ -inch thick, or framed up in wood not less than 1 inch in thickness and coated with pitch on the inside.

Soil pipes. All the soil and ventilating pipes to be $3\frac{1}{2}$ -inch cast-iron, dipped in Dr. Angus Smith's solution, the joints caulked and run with lead.

PART III—OTHER FORMS OF CONSTRUCTION

(a) Grants will also be payable in respect of houses built in accordance with any special form of construction approved by the Ministry of Health and notified as approved in the journal Housing.

(b) Where a special form of construction including houses built of wood is adopted it must be carried out strictly in the form approved by the Minister and must comply with the conditions in Part II of this Schedule so far as they are applicable.

(c) Houses of timber construction must comply with the Ministry's Standard Specification for Cottages & Timber Construction, so far as the framing and covering are concerned and otherwise with the Specification in Part II of this Schedule.

(Old sound material may be re-used if the scantlings are equal to those described in the above-mentioned specification.)

SUPPLY OF GOVERNMENT BUILDING MATERIALS TO PRIVATE PERSONS

Arrangements have been made under which persons building houses for the working classes will be enabled to obtain building materials through the Director of Building Materials Supply who is already supplying materials required for State-aided schemes. The following conditions will apply :—

A certificate must be obtained from the clerk of the local authority or the Housing Commissioner of the Ministry of Health in whose district the houses are to be erected to the effect that :—

- (a) The material is required for the purpose of erecting or improving houses for the working classes ;
- (b) The development, design and construction are such as, having regard to the standards laid down by the Ministry of Health, the local authority or Commissioner approve :
- (c) The houses proposed to be erected are needed and the provision of the same in the manner proposed will, to that extent, relieve the programme of building by the local authority.

It will be a condition of the contract of sale that the purchaser enters into a written undertaking to use the materials forthwith for the sole purpose of erecting or improving houses for the working classes.

Application for the purchase of building materials should be made to the Director of Building Materials Supply, Ministry of Health, Imperial House, Tothill Street, Westminster, S.W.1, who will supply particulars and copies of the certificate and undertaking required.

It is anticipated that the above arrangements will enable builders to effect a saving of 5 per cent. on their materials.

The above sets out the conditions prescribed by the Ministry of Health with the consent of the Treasury under section 23 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919. The form of certificate should be obtained by the applicant from the Director of Building Materials Supply.

SCHEDULES.

An Act to consolidate and amend the Acts relating to Artizans and Labourers Dwellings and the Housing of the Working Classes. [18th August 1890.]

BE it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1. This Act may be cited as the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890. Short titl of Act.

This Act has been amended by the other Acts given in this volume, and throughout the amending Acts it is referred to as the principal Act (see page 2 for further notes). It is deemed to include any provisions of the 1909 and 1919 Acts which supersede or amend its provisions (section 47 (1) of the 1909 Act and section 40 of the 1919 Act).

S. 2 (90).

PART I

UNHEALTHY AREAS

Definitions.

2. In this part of this Act—

The expression “this part of this Act” includes any confirming Act, and

The expression “the Acts relating to nuisances” means—as respects the county of London and city of London, the Nuisances Removal Acts as defined by the Sanitary Act, 1866, and any Act amending these Acts ; and as respects any urban sanitary district in England, the Public Health Acts ; and in the case of any of the above-mentioned areas, includes any local Act which contains any provisions with respect to nuisances in that area.

Confirming Act. A confirming Act is not now necessary (see notes to section 8 hereof).

The Nuisances Removal Acts were repealed and consolidated by the Public Health (London) Act, 1891, which with its amending Acts must be regarded as here substituted.

Urban Sanitary District. This part of this Act does not apply to rural districts (see section 3).

Public Health Acts. See the Short Titles Act, 1896, and the Public Health (Ports) Act, 1896, the Public Health Act, 1896, the Public Health Act, 1904, the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1907, the Public Health Act, 1908, and the Public Health (Prevention and Treatment of Disease) Act, 1913.

For other definitions see Index, and note the definition of “street” by section 48 of the 1909 Act.

3. This part of this Act shall not apply to rural sanitary districts.

Application of Part I of
Act.

Now called "rural districts"—see the Local Government Act, 1894, section 21 (2). S. 3 (90).

Scheme by Local Authority

4. Where an official representation as herein-after mentioned is made to the local authority that within a certain area in the district of such authority either—

- (a) any houses, courts, or alleys are unfit for human habitation, or
- (b) the narrowness, closeness, and bad arrangement, or the bad condition of the streets and houses or groups of houses within such area, or the want of light, air, ventilation, or proper conveniences, or any other sanitary defects, or one or more of such causes, are dangerous or injurious to the health of the inhabitants either of the buildings in the said area or of the neighbouring buildings ; and * that the most satisfactory method of dealing with the evils connected with such houses, courts, or alleys, and the sanitary defects in such area is an improvement scheme for the re-arrangement and reconstruction of the streets and houses within such area, or of some of such streets or houses, the local authority shall take such representation into their consideration, and if satisfied of the truth thereof, and of the sufficiency of their resources, shall pass a resolution to the effect that such area is an unhealthy area, and that an improvement scheme ought to be made in respect of such area, and after passing such resolution they shall forthwith proceed to make a scheme for the improvement of such area.

Local authority on being satisfied by official representation of the un-healthiness of district to make scheme for its improvement.

Provided always, that any number of such areas may be included in one improvement scheme.

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, section 22.

As herein-after mentioned. See the next section, and section 16.

Local Authority. See page 234. As to joint action by local authorities, see section 38 of the 1909 Act, page 317; and as to committees appointed by local authorities for purposes of the Housing Acts—see section 81 hereof, page 225.

Street includes court, alley, street, square or row of houses—see section 29 hereof and section 48 of the 1909 Act.

Improvement Scheme. As to requisites of scheme—see section 6 hereof. As to London—see sections 72 and 73 hereof. Schemes under Part I are improvement schemes, under Part II reconstruction schemes.

Sufficiency of their resources. Until 1922 at the earliest there will be little or no point in these words, inasmuch as if the improvement scheme provides for rehousing, as it usually will do (sections 6 (1) (c) and 11), the local authority will have no further burden in respect of it than a 1d. rate—see section 7 of the 1919 Act—but before incurring any expenditure they must obtain the consent of the Minister of Health if they desire to obtain the State financial assistance.

Generally. There is no statutory form of official representation, but a form suggested by the Ministry, a form of resolution of the local authority, and further useful information prepared by the Ministry, are given on pages 580 to 588, etc.

The official representation must be in writing—section 79 (2) hereof. It should follow the exact words of this (amended) section as far as they apply to the particular case, and the medical officer should furnish the local authority with sufficient facts to enable the members properly to consider the representation.

If satisfied of the truth of the representation the local authority must pass a resolution and forthwith make a scheme. As to default—see section 10 hereof, section 4 (1) of the 1903 Act, section 11 of the 1909 Act, and section 5 of the 1919 Act. The latter which empowers the Ministry to permit the county council to act, or to act itself, at the expense of the local authority will, doubtless, be the most useful. As to county districts—see section 6 of the 1919 Act.

A member of the local authority cannot vote upon the resolution if it relates to any dwelling house, building or land in which he is beneficially interested—section 88 hereof.

As to representation made to the London County Council—see sections 72 and 73 hereof.

It should be noted that schemes under Part I (unhealthy areas) are larger in scope than those under Part II (unhealthy dwelling houses).

It should also be noted that the representation is to certify that an improvement scheme is the most satisfactory method of dealing with the evils—not the only method. An amendment to this effect was made by section 22 of the 1909 Act.

Before preparing a scheme relating to land within half a mile of a royal park or palace, or two miles of Windsor Parks or Castle, the local authority must communicate with the Commissioners of Works—see section 74 of the 1909 Act and notes thereto. See also sections 8, 45 and 73 thereof as to donations of land, ancient monuments, &c., and commons, open spaces and allotments.

Under section 13 of the 1919 Act there is power to acquire in advance lands in areas proposed for inclusion in improvement schemes, after a resolution has been passed under the present section.

The Minister has power to require reports as to the exercise of a local authority's powers—section 37 of the 1909 Act, and section 6 of the 1919 Act.

See section 17 of the 1909 Act as to the duty of a local authority to cause to be made from time to time inspection of their district.

5. (1.) An official representation for the purposes of this part of this Act shall mean a representation made to the local authority by the medical officer of health of that authority, and in London made either by such officer or by any medical officer of health in London.

Official representation by whom to be made.

(2.) A medical officer of health shall make such representation whenever he sees cause to make the same; and if * any justice * of the peace acting within the district for which he acts as medical officer of health, or * six or more persons liable to be rated to the local rate complain to him of the unhealthiness of any area within such district, it shall be the duty of the medical officer of health forthwith to inspect such area, and to make an official representation stating the facts of the case, and whether in his opinion the said area or any part thereof is an unhealthy area or is not an unhealthy area.

Official Representation. See general note to section 4 hereof. It includes also the representation under section 16 hereof.

Medical Officer. Including one acting temporarily—sections 26 and 79 (1) hereof. As to his power to enter premises—see section 36 of the 1909 Act. In case of complaint he must forthwith inspect (and report), even though well-acquainted with the area. In case of his default or of a representation adverse to the complainants, they may appeal to the Ministry, which may send an inspector—see section 16 hereof. Before amendment by the 1919 Act, the complaint was to be made by two or more justices or twelve or more local ratepayers. Any six or more ratepayers may appeal (not necessarily the same six as make the original complaint)—section 4 (2) 1903 Act.

of improvement scheme of local authority.

6. (1.) The improvement scheme of a local authority shall be accompanied by maps, particulars, and estimates, and
 - (a) may exclude any part of the area in respect of which an official representation is made, or include any neighbouring lands, if the local authority are of opinion that such exclusion is expedient or inclusion is necessary for making their scheme efficient *; and
 - (b) may provide for widening any existing approaches to the unhealthy area or otherwise for opening out the same for the purposes of ventilation or health ; s. 6(90).

and

- (c) shall provide such dwelling accommodation, if any, for the working classes displaced by the scheme as is required to comply with this Act ; and
- (d) shall provide for proper sanitary arrangements * ; and
- (e) may provide for any other matter (including the closing and diversion of highways) for which it seems expedient to make provision with a view to the improvement of the area or the general efficiency of the scheme.

(2.) The scheme shall distinguish the lands proposed to be taken compulsorily.

(3.) The scheme may also provide for the scheme or any part thereof being carried out and effected by † any person having such interest in any property comprised in the scheme as may be sufficient to enable him to carry out and effect the same, under the superintendence and control of the local authority, and upon such terms and conditions to be embodied in the scheme as may be agreed upon between the local authority and such person.

Scheme . . . Maps, particulars, and estimates. See the suggestions of the Ministry, printed on pages 580 to 588. By section 36 of the 1909 Act, there is power to enter the premises for the purpose of survey and valuation.

Scheme efficient. Following these words in the Act before amendment were the words "for sanitary purposes." It follows that the exclusion or inclusion may be made to secure the efficiency from any point of view.

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, section 23.

S. 6 (90).

But land which does not carry insanitary houses, does not suffer the liability to a reduced rate of compensation, on compulsory acquisition, set out in section 9 of the 1919 Act. In other words the compensation for neighbouring lands is on a different basis; and for this reason (amongst others) the scheme should clearly indicate the "neighbouring lands." Formerly there was here a considerable difficulty often leading to much opposition and expense. The Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, has lessened this, but it is still necessary to proceed with caution.

Taken Compulsorily. See note to section 8 (5) below.

Working Classes Displaced. See sections 11 (2) and 12 (3) hereof, and section 3 of the 1903 Act.

Generally. With the consent of the owners of any right or easement which would be extinguished under section 22 hereof, clauses may be inserted, in the scheme for modifications, &c., in its application to the right or easement—section 27 of the 1909 Act.

Paragraph (e) was added by section 23 of the 1909 Act. In subsection (3) the words printed after "effected by" were, by the 2nd schedule to the 1919 Act, substituted for the words "the person entitled to the first estate of freehold in any property comprised in the scheme or with the concurrence of such person"—in which connection sections 26 and 28 of the 1919 Act should be read. Section 12 (6) hereof also deals with any person having a sufficient interest in the land, carrying the improvement scheme into effect, but in that subsection there is no mention of the superintendence and control of the local authority, whereas under the present subsection, whether the scheme is effected by that person, or with his concurrence, there is such superintendence and control.

Confirmation of Scheme

of notices.

7. Upon the completion of an improvement scheme the local authority shall* forthwith—

(a) publish,* in a newspaper circulating within the district of the local authority, an advertisement

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 2nd schedule.

stating the fact of a scheme having been made, the s. 7 (90). limits of the area comprised therein, and naming a place within such area or in the vicinity thereof where a copy of the scheme may be seen at all reasonable hours ; and

- (b) *serve a notice on every owner or reputed owner, lessee or reputed lessee, and occupier, except tenants for a month or a less period than a month, of any lands proposed to be taken compulsorily, so far as such persons can reasonably be ascertained, stating that such lands are proposed to be taken compulsorily for the purpose of an improvement scheme, and in the case of any owner or reputed owner, lessee or reputed lessee, requiring an answer stating whether the person so served dissents or not in respect of taking such lands ;
- (c) Such notice shall be served—
 - (i) by delivery of the same personally to the person required to be served, or if such person is absent abroad, or cannot be found, to his agent, or if no agent can be found, then by leaving the same on the premises ; or,
 - (ii) by leaving the same at the usual or last known place of abode of such person as aforesaid ; or,
 - (iii) by post addressed to the usual or last known place of abode of such person.
- (d) One notice addressed to the occupier or occupiers without naming him or them, and left at any house, shall be deemed to be a notice served on the occupier or on all the occupiers of any such house.

Advertisements . . . Notices. For forms, see pages 586 to 588. The Ministry has power to prescribe them, and to dispense with them—section 41 of the 1909 Act. The notices must be signed by the clerk, &c.—section 86 (2) hereof. The notice does not affect the right of an owner as against adjoining owners who injure his easements—Dye v. Patman 62 J.P. 135.

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 2nd schedule.

Services of notices.

S. 7 (90).

Owner . . . There is no definition in this part of this Act.

Occupier . . . The words “except tenants for a month or a less period than a month” were added by the 1919 Act—see also the added proviso to section 12 (1) hereof—the effect being that such tenants will not have to be bought out.

Lands proposed to be taken compulsorily. It is only in respect of such lands that notice has to be served. By section 93 hereof, “land” includes any right over land, but following the principle of Swainston v. Finn [1883] 48 L.T. (N.S.) 634, Badham v. Marris [1882] 45 L.T. (N.S.) 579, and Bedford v. Dawson [1875] L.R. 30 Eq. 353, it would appear that notice need not be served on the owner of any such right. See also section 22 hereof and note thereto.

Requiring an answer. An answer need not be required from an occupier. There is no period fixed by the Act in which the answer should be given, and it does not appear that any detriment follows if no answer is given. The names of those who have dissented must accompany the petition—section 8 (2).

Generally. The amendments in the section have eased and quickened the procedure.

As to improvements made in the premises after publication of the advertisement—see section 21 hereof.

If the local authority changes its mind after advertisement and notice it is apparently not bound to take the land, but, at least, when the scheme has been confirmed—section 12 (1)—it must do so. On this point, however, it should be noted that any particular land might be excluded from the scheme by a modification thereof under section 15, and it does not appear that the owner would have any remedy.

The Ministry require evidence of service of notices, &c.—section 8 (2), and see page 589. Service would appear to be good although the owner is known to have left the place—re Follick 97 L.T. 645. Service by post shall be deemed to be effected by properly addressing, prepaying and posting a letter containing the document, S. 7 (90). and, unless the contrary is proved, to have been effected at the time at which the letter would be delivered in the ordinary course of post—Interpretation Act, 1889, section 26. Prepayment must be proved—Walthamstow U.D.C. v. Henwood [1897] 1 Ch. 41.

8. (1.) Upon compliance with the foregoing provisions with respect to the publication of an advertisement and the service of notices, the local authority shall present a petition,* to the Local Government Board, praying that an order may be made confirming such scheme. Making and confirmation of provisional order.

Foregoing Provisions. See section 7 and notes thereto.

(2.) The petition shall be accompanied by a copy of the scheme, and shall state the names of the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, who have dissented in respect of the taking their lands, and shall be supported by such evidence as the * Local Government Board * (in this part of this Act referred to as the confirming authority), may from time to time require.

Confirming Authority. Now the Ministry of Health, for England and Wales ; the Scottish Board of Health, for Scotland ; and the Irish Local Government Board, for Ireland.

(3.) If, on consideration of the petition and on proof of the publication of the proper advertisements and the service of the proper notices, the confirming authority think fit to proceed with the case, they shall direct a local inquiry to be held in, or in the vicinity of, the area comprised in the scheme, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of the official representation made as to the area and the sufficiency of the scheme provided for its improvement, and any local objections to be made to such scheme.

Local Inquiry. See section 85 hereof. Subsection (8) below also deals with costs.

Sufficiency of the Scheme. See page 137. As to persons displaced, see section 11 hereof.

(4.) After receiving the report made upon such inquiry, the confirming authority may make a provisional order declaring the limits of the area comprised in the scheme and authorising such scheme to be carried into execution.

Provisional Order. The order is no longer provisional, except in the rare case where section 73 of the 1909 Act applies. It does not require confirmation by Parliament—see section 24 of the 1909 Act and note thereto. Such an order cannot be renewed by the High Court—Ex parte Ringer [1909] 73 J.P. 436.

(5.) Such provisional order may be made either absolutely or with such conditions and modifications of the scheme as the confirming authority may think fit, so that no addition be made to the lands proposed in the scheme to be taken compulsorily, and it shall be the duty of the local authority to serve a notice* of any provisional order so made in the manner and upon the persons in which and upon whom notices in respect of lands proposed to be taken compulsorily are required by this part of this Act to be served.*

Modifications. Section 15 also deals with modifications but those are after the scheme has been confirmed. The modifications here dealt with are those shown to be necessary or desirable as the result of the local inquiry, e.g. the inclusion of certain lands as "neighbouring" rather than as "unhealthy" (section 6).

Taken Compulsorily. See section 6 (2). The order

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 2nd schedule.

cannot add to the lands proposed to be taken compulsorily, so that in framing its scheme the local authority must be careful in coming to a decision.

Notice. Formerly it was necessary to serve a copy of the order, which is usually of a lengthy character.

Required to be served. See section 7 hereof. The words "except tenants for a month or a less period than a month" originally appeared at the end of this subsection—see section 7 (b) hereof.

This repealed subsection required provisional orders to be confirmed by Act of Parliament.

(7.) The confirming authority may make such order as they think fit in favour of any person whose lands were proposed by the scheme to be taken compulsorily for the allowance of the reasonable costs, charges, and expenses properly incurred by him in opposing such scheme.

Opposing, i.e. in connection with the local inquiry—subsection (3). The presumption is that the Ministry will fix the amount, but as to this and as to recovery see subsection (9) below.

(8.) All costs, charges, and expenses incurred by the confirming authority in relation to any provisional order under this part of this Act shall, to such amount as the confirming authority think proper to direct, and all costs, charges, and expenses of any person to such amount as may be allowed to him by the confirming authority in pursuance of the aforesaid power, shall be deemed to be an expense incurred by the local authority under this part of this Act, and shall be paid to the confirming authority and to such person respectively, in such manner and at such times and either in one sum or by instalments

S. 8 (90). as the confirming authority may order, with power for the confirming authority to direct interest to be paid at such rate not exceeding five pounds in the hundred by the year as the confirming authority may determine, upon any sum for the time being due in respect of such costs, charges, and expenses as aforesaid.

See section 85 as to the costs of the local inquiry. See also sections 24 and 25 hereof, and subsection (9) below.

(9.) Any order made by the confirming authority in pursuance of this section may be made a rule of a superior court, and be enforced accordingly.

A Superior Court. In England, the Supreme Court —section 93. A rule of court is enforced as a judgment —1 & 2 Vict. c. 110, section 18, in this case most effectively by mandamus. If the Ministry did not fix the amount allowed under subsection (7) above, the costs might be taxed in the usual way, on the order being made a rule of court.

9. ("Costs to be awarded in certain cases.") Repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909.

Inquiry on refusal of local authority to make an improve-mentscheme.

10. Where an official representation is made to the local authority with a view to their passing a resolution in favour of an improvement scheme, and they fail to pass any resolution in relation to such representation, or pass a resolution to the effect that they will not proceed with such scheme, the local authority shall, as soon as possible, send a copy of the official representation, accompanied by their reasons for not acting upon it, to the confirming authority, and, upon the receipt thereof, the confirming authority may direct a local inquiry to be held, and a report to be made to them with respect to the correctness of the official representation made to the local authority, and any matters connected therewith on which the confirming authority may desire to be informed.

See section 4 and notes thereto, and especially, sections 5 and 6 of the 1919 Act. See also section 85 hereof as to local inquiries.

Provision of Dwelling Accommodation for Working Classes displaced by Scheme

11. (1.) Repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, section 33.

(2.) * A scheme shall, if the confirming authority so require (but it shall not otherwise be obligatory on the local authority so to frame their scheme), provide for the accommodation of such number of those persons of the working classes displaced in the area with respect to which the scheme is proposed in suitable dwellings to be erected in such place or places either within or without the limits of the same area as the said authority on a report made by the officer conducting the local inquiry may require.

Requisites of improvement scheme as to accommodation of working classes.

See section 6 (1) (c) hereof. There is, however, not now a great deal of substance in this section, as under section 1 (1) of the 1919 Act it is the duty of the local authority "to consider the needs of their area with respect to the provision of houses for the working classes" and to submit schemes, &c. It is not generally intended that there should be re-housing on cleared unhealthy areas.

Execution of Scheme by Local Authority

12. (1.) When the confirming Act authorising any improvement scheme of a local authority under this part of this Act has been passed by Parliament, it shall Duty of local authority to carry scheme, when confirmed, into execution.

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, section 33.

- S. 12 (90). be the duty of that authority to take steps for purchasing the lands required for the scheme, and otherwise for carrying the scheme into execution as soon as practicable : * Provided that the local authority shall not be required to acquire any leasehold interest in any property comprised in a scheme which can be allowed to expire without unduly delaying the execution of the scheme.*

No confirming Act is now necessary. The order made under section 8 (4) hereof is sufficient (see note thereto). As to purchasing the land—see page 156, section 20 hereof and section 7 (1), 9 and 13 of the 1919 Act. See also the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, page 495.

As to default—see section 13 hereof and section 5 of the 1919 Act. See subsection (6) below for a case where purchase may not be necessary.

(2.) They may sell or let all or any part of the area comprised in the scheme to any purchasers or lessees for the purpose and under the condition that such purchasers or lessees will, as respects the land so purchased by or leased to them, carry the scheme into execution ; and in particular they may insert in any grant or lease of any part of the area provisions binding the grantee or lessee to build thereon as in the grant or lease prescribed, and to maintain and repair the buildings, and prohibiting the division of buildings, and any addition to or alteration of the character of buildings without the consent of the local authority, and for the re-vesting of the land in the local authority, or their re-entry thereon, on breach of any provision in the grant or lease.

See section 82 hereof as to application of the proceeds. The provisions set out in the grant or lease (see also subsection (4) below) may be enforced by action for specific performance—Wolverhampton Corporation v. S. 12790). Emmons [1901] 1 Q.B. 515.

The new buildings would include factories, workshops and the like.

(3.) The local authority may also engage with any body of trustees, society, or person, to carry the whole or any part of such scheme into effect upon such terms as the local authority may think expedient, but the local authority shall not themselves, without the express approval of the confirming authority, undertake the rebuilding of the houses or the execution of any part of the scheme, except that they may take down any or all of the buildings upon the area, and clear the whole or any part thereof, and may lay out, form, pave, sewer, and complete all such streets upon the land purchased by them as they may think fit, and all streets so laid out and completed shall thenceforth be public streets, repairable by the same authority as other streets in the district.

Engage. This would include any reasonable agreement—see section 24 as to expenditure.

It was clearly shown, many times, during the debates on the 1919 Bill, that it was not the general policy of the Ministry that re-housing should take place on these areas.

Apparently the sale mentioned in subsection (2) above may take place either before or after the area is cleared.

See also section 7 (1) of the 1919 Act.

Compare the local authority's power to build under section 59 hereof.

(4.) Provided that in any grant or lease of any part of the area which may be appropriated by the scheme for the erection of dwellings for the working classes the local authority shall impose suitable conditions and restrictions as to the elevation, size, and design of the See subsections (2) and (3) above, and section 11 (2) hereof.

(6.) The local authority may, where they think it expedient so to do, without themselves acquiring the land, or after or subject to their acquiring any part thereof, contract with any person having such interest in any land comprised in an improvement scheme as may be sufficient to enable him to carry out and effect the same for the carrying of the scheme into effect by him in respect of such land.

13. If within five years after the removal of any buildings on the land set aside by any scheme authorised by a confirming Act as sites for working men's dwellings, the local authority have failed to sell or let such land for the purposes prescribed by the scheme, or have failed to make arrangements for the erection of the said dwellings, the confirming authority may order the said land to be sold by public auction or public tender, with full power to fix a reserve price, subject to the conditions imposed by the scheme, and to any modifications thereof which may be made in pursuance of this part of this Act, and to a special condition on the part of the purchaser to erect upon the said land dwellings for the working classes, in accordance with plans to be approved by the local authority, and subject to such other reservations and regulations as the confirming authority may deem necessary.

See notes to section 12, and—as to modifications—sections 8 (5) and 15. Section 5 of the 1919 Act is important on the general subject of default of the local authority—see also section 11 of the 1909 Act. The power here is limited to the default in respect of land set aside for working men's dwellings.

14. (“Notice to occupiers by placards.”) Omitted by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 2nd schedule, and see 5th schedule hereof.

15. (1.) The confirming authority, on application from the local authority, and on its being proved to their satisfaction that an improvement can be made in the details of any scheme authorised by a confirming Act, may permit the local authority to modify any part of their improvement scheme which it may appear inexpedient to carry into execution, but any part of the scheme respecting the provision of dwelling accommodation for persons of the working class, when so modified, shall be such as might have been inserted in the original scheme.

This permits modification by abandonment only, but section 25 of the 1909 Act permits amendment or addition “to the scheme in matters of detail in such manner as appears expedient to the Board.” It may be anticipated that the Board (Ministry) will take care even in these modifications in matters of detail, of the interests of persons thereby affected. There could be a local inquiry—section 85 hereof.

Provision of dwelling accommodation. See section 11 hereof.

16 (90).

Inquiries with respect to Unhealthy Areas

Inquiry on default of medical officer in certain cases.

16. (1.) Where in any district complaint has been made to a medical officer of health of the unhealthiness of any area within that district, by any person or persons competent under the foregoing provisions of this part of this Act to make such complaint, and the medical officer of health has failed to inspect such area, or to make an official representation with respect thereto, or has made an official representation to the effect that in his opinion the area is not an unhealthy area, such complainant or complainants as the case may be may appeal to the confirming authority, and the confirming authority may appoint a legally qualified medical practitioner to inspect such area, and to make representation to the confirming authority, stating the facts of the case, and whether, in his opinion, the area or any part thereof is or is not an unhealthy area. The representation so made shall be transmitted by the confirming authority to the local authority, and if it states that the area is an unhealthy area the local authority shall proceed therein in the same manner as if it were an official representation made to that authority.

Competent under the foregoing provisions. A justice of the peace or six ratepayers—see section 5 hereof and notes thereto. See the next subsection as to costs.

Confirming Authority. The Ministry of Health, which apart from any appeal may require a report from the local authority—section 37 of the 1909 Act—or a report under section 6 of the 1919 Act.

May appoint a legally qualified medical practitioner. The word “may” was originally “shall.” As to this see section 26 of the 1909 Act, which allows any official of the Ministry to make the inspection or inquiry, and s. 16 (90). applies section 85 hereof.

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 2nd schedule.

In the same manner. See section 4 hereof.

(2.) The confirming authority shall make such order as to the costs of the inquiry as they think just, with power to require the whole or any part of such costs to be paid by the appellants where the medical practitioner appointed is of opinion that the area is not an unhealthy area, and to declare the whole or any part of such costs to be payable by the local authority where he is of opinion that the area or any part thereof is an unhealthy area.

In view of this the complainant or complainants may be advised not to make a formal appeal, and merely to ask the Ministry to use its large powers under section 5 (or 6 where it applies) of the 1919 Act.

(3.) Any order made by the confirming authority in pursuance of this section may be made a rule of a superior court, and be enforced accordingly.

See note to section 8 (9) hereof.

17. ("Proceedings on local inquiry.") Repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909.

18. ("Notice of inquiry to be publicly given.") Repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909.

19. ("Power to administer oath.") Repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909.

Acquisition of Land

20. The clauses of the Lands Clauses Acts, with respect to the purchase and taking of lands otherwise than by agreement shall not, except to the extent set forth in the Second Schedule to this Act, apply to any lands

of land.*

S. 20 (90). taken in pursuance of this part of this Act, but save as aforesaid the said Lands Clauses Acts, as amended by the provisions contained in the said schedule, shall regulate and apply to the purchase and taking of lands, and shall for that purpose be deemed to form part of this part of this Act in the same manner as if they were enacted in the body thereof ; subject to the provisions of this part of this Act and to the provisions following ; that is to say,

- (i.) This part of this Act shall authorise the taking by agreement of any lands which the local authority may require for the purpose of carrying into effect the scheme authorised by any confirming Act, but it shall authorise the taking by the exercise of any compulsory powers of such lands only as are proposed by the scheme in the confirming Act to be taken compulsorily :
- (ii.) In the construction of the Lands Clauses Acts, and the provisions in the Second Schedule to this Act, this part of this Act shall be deemed to be the special Act, and the local authority shall be deemed to be the promoters of the undertaking ; and the period after which the powers for the compulsory purchase or taking of lands shall not be exercised shall be three years after the passing of the confirming Act.

Lands Clauses Acts. The Interpretation Act, 1889, section 23, defines them. For England and Wales they are : the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845 ; the Lands Clauses Consolidation Acts Amendment Act, 1860 ; the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1869 ; the Lands Clauses (Umpire) Act, 1883 ; and the Lands Clauses (Taxation of Costs) Acts, 1895.

The clauses of the Lands Clauses Act "with respect to the purchase and taking of lands otherwise than by s. 20 (90). "agreement" are sections 18-68 of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845. They do not apply to lands taken under this part of the present Act, for the words in the text "except to the extent set forth in the Second Schedule to this Act" have now no effect, as Article 27 of the Schedule (which formerly did set them forth) is now repealed.

The present section may therefore be taken to read : "sections 18-68 of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, shall not apply," &c. Sections 21 and 22 (Compensation) and the Second Schedule hereof (Assessment) take their place—but see notes thereto.

All the other sections in the Lands Clauses Acts, subject to section 34 of the 1909 Act, to the Second Schedule hereof, "to the provisions of this part of this Act, and to the provisions following" are to apply (see following notes and the Second Schedule). It may be noted that by section 121 of the 1845 Act, compensation is to be paid to tenants whose interest in the land is no greater than as tenants for a year or from year to year, if they are required to give up possession before expiry of their terms—see Wilkins v. Mayor of Birmingham [1883] 25 Ch. D. 78, and note a similar provision in section 10 (2) of the 1919 Act.

This part of this Act. See section 2 hereof. It includes a provisional order—section 8.

Provisoos. For "confirming Act" read provisional order—sections 8 (4) and 12 (1). The powers of compulsion will lapse on the expiration of three years after the date of the provisional order.

Generally. "Land" includes any right over land—section 93 hereof. Section 9 of the 1919 Act and the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, apply to the amount of compensation payable for land acquired compulsorily.

21. (1.) Whenever the compensation payable in respect of any lands or of any interests in any lands proposed to be taken compulsorily in pursuance of this part of this Act requires to be assessed—vision as to compensation.

S. 21 (90).

- (a) the estimate of the value of such lands or interests shall be based upon the fair market value, as estimated at the time of the valuation being made of such lands, and of the several interests in such lands, due regard being had to the nature and then condition of the property, and the probable duration of the buildings in their existing state, and to the state of repair thereof, without any additional allowance in respect of the compulsory purchase of an area or of any part of an area in respect of which an official representation has been made, or of any lands included in a scheme which, in the opinion of the arbitrator, have been so included as falling under the description of property which may be constituted an unhealthy area under this part of this Act ; and
- (b) in such estimate any addition to or improvement of the property made after the date of the publication in pursuance of this part of this Act of an advertisement stating the fact of the improvement scheme having been made shall not (unless such addition or improvement was necessary for the maintenance of the property in a proper state of repair) be included, nor in the case of any interest acquired after the said date shall any separate estimate of the value thereof be made so as to increase the amount of compensation to be paid for the lands ; and

Generally. See notes to last section. It should be particularly noted that in so far as these provisions are inconsistent or in conflict with the provisions of section 9 of the 1919 Act they shall cease to apply to "unhealthy areas"—that is, these provisions apply only to neighbouring lands (land included in the scheme only s. 21 (90) for the purpose of making the scheme efficient and not on account of sanitary condition) proposed to be taken compulsorily (section 6). Further, the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, applies to the assessment of compensation; and the rules therein contained (section 2) apply, except so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of the present Act—see section 7 (1) thereof. For the most part the rules in the said section 2 are very similar to the present provisions, except that under the present provisions there can be an additional allowance for compulsory purchase of the neighbouring lands—Lord Mayor of Dublin v. Dowling [1880] L.R. Ir. 6 Q.B. 502.

Lands. See section 93 hereof, but as to easements—see section 22, below; and Great Western Railway Co. v. Swindon, &c. Railway Co. [1884] 9 App. Cas. 787.

As to land bearing rent charge in lieu of tithes—see the Tithe Act, 1878, section 1.

Publication . . . of Advertisement. See section 7 hereof, and section 41 of the 1909 Act.

Principles of Compensation. See general note above. The basis is the fair market value, and everything in connection with or affecting the market value will have to be considered. A covenant making a public-house a “tied-house” is to be taken into account if it adds to the market value—Chandler's Wiltshire Brewery Co., Ltd. v. London County Council [1903] 1 K.B. 569. Compensation could probably be given for loss of profits and goodwill—Lord Mayor of Dublin v. Dowling [1880] L.R. Ir. 6 Q.B. 502. Probably it could be awarded for loss occasioned to the owner by his being turned out, e.g. cost of removal, loss of profits while removing, and fixtures—Jubb v. Hull Dock Co. [1846] 9 Q.B. 443. See also Dye v. Patman [1897] 62 J.P. 135, Higgins v. Lord Mayor of Dublin [1891] 28 L.R. Ir. 484, Wilkins v. Mayor of Birmingham [1884] 25 Ch.D. 78, Cranwell v. Mayor of London [1870] L.R. 5 Ex. 284, Leeds Corporation v. Ryder [1907] A.C. 420 (an interesting case in connection with licensed premises); and Mills v. East London Union [1872] L.R. 8 C.P. 79.

The Arbitrator. This will be the official arbitrator appointed under section 1 (1) of the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919.

S. 21 (90).

(2.) On the occasion of assessing the compensation payable under any improvement scheme in respect of any house or premises situate within an unhealthy area evidence shall be receivable by the arbitrator to prove—

(1st) that the rental of the house or premises was enhanced by reason of the same being used for illegal purposes or being so overcrowded as to be dangerous or injurious to the health of the inmates ; or

(2ndly) that the house or premises are in such a condition as to be a nuisance within the meaning of the Acts relating to nuisances, or are in a state of defective sanitation, or are not in reasonably good repair ; or (3rdly) that the house or premises are unfit, and not reasonably capable of being made fit, for human habitation ;

and, if the arbitrator is satisfied by such evidence, then the compensation—

(a) shall in the first case so far as it is based on rental be based on the rental which would have been obtainable if the house or premises were occupied for legal purposes and only by the number of persons whom the house or premises were under all the circumstances of the case fitted to accommodate without such overcrowding as is dangerous or injurious to the health of the inmates ; and

(b) shall in the second case be the amount estimated as the value of the house or premises if the nuisance had been abated, or if they had been put into a sanitary condition, or into reasonably good repair, after deducting the estimated expenses of abating the nuisance, or putting them into such condition S. 21 (90).

or repair, as the case may be; and

- (c) shall in the third case be the value of the land, and of the materials of the buildings thereon.

See notes to foregoing subsection. In view of section 9 of the 1919 Act, the present subsection has a very limited application.

For definition of the Acts relating to nuisances, see section 2 hereof.

22. Upon the purchase by the local authority of any lands required for the purpose of carrying into effect any scheme, all rights of way, rights of laying down or of continuing any pipes, sewers, or drains on, through, or under such lands, or part thereof, and all other rights or easements in or relating to such lands, or any part thereof, shall be extinguished, and all the soil of such ways, and the property in the pipes, sewers, or drains, shall vest in the local authority, subject to this provision, that compensation shall be paid by the local authority to any persons or bodies of persons proved to have sustained loss by this section, and such compensation shall be determined in the manner in which compensation for lands is determinable under this part of this Act, or as near thereto as circumstances admit.

Extinction of rights of way and other easements.

By section 27 of the 1909 Act, an improvement scheme may provide, with the consent of the persons interested, for modifications, &c., of this section; so that, for instance, the mains, &c., of gas and other companies may be protected.

The point of this section is that all rights and easements are extinguished, and that all persons who thereby sustain loss must be compensated by the local authority. The compensation will be determinable as under section 21 above (see notes thereto), but in Re Harvey and the London County Council [1909] 1 Ch. 528, it was held that evidence of injury to goodwill or trade cannot be admitted in a claim under this section. As the rights are extinguished by this section, the remedy would appear to be compensation from the local authority and not an injunction to prevent the erection or pulling down of buildings. The compensation can be claimed whenever the loss appears. See Badham v. Morris, 45 L.T. 579; Swanston v. Finn, &c. [1883] 52 L.J. Ch. 235; and Barlow v. Ross [1890] 24 Q.B.D. 381. If access is interfered with, compensation could probably be recovered, and so, generally, with regard to "injurious affection."

Application of lands for accommodation of working classes.

23. A local authority may, for the purpose of providing accommodation for persons of the working classes displaced *in consequence of any improvement scheme, appropriate any lands for the time being belonging to them which are suitable for the purpose, or may purchase by agreement any such further lands as may be convenient.

Appropriate. See the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, section 111, and section 57 (3) hereof. Note also the power under section 74 (2) hereof. It has been doubted if the present section authorises the appropriation of lands acquired for some other specific purpose—see Attorney-General v. Hanwell Urban District Council [1900] 2 Ch. 377; Attorney-General v. Pontypridd Urban District Council [1906] 2 Ch. 257; but by section 95 of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1907, such land may be appropriated to other purposes with the consent of the Ministry, &c., and similarly land acquired for educational purposes—Education (Administrative Provisions) Act, 1905, section 5.

But the Part III powers would be more generally used, as to which see section 10 (2) of the 1919 Act and notes thereto.

See section 4 of the 1900 Act as to keeping accounts in respect of land appropriated.

Purchase by agreement. As to acquisition in advance—see section 13 of the 1919 Act; as to sale by a tenant for life—see section 31 of that Act; as to donations s. 23 (190).

of land, &c.—see section 8 of the 1909 Act.

Expenses

24. (1.) The receipts of a local authority under this part of this Act shall form a fund (in this Act referred to as “the Dwelling-house Improvement Fund”), and their expenditure shall be defrayed out of such fund.

The receipts and expenditure will come under review in connection with the State subsidy under section 7 (1) of the 1919 Act, provided that the scheme includes re-housing.

(2.) The moneys required in the first instance to establish such fund, and any deficiency for the purposes of this part of this Act from time to time appearing in such fund by reason of the excess of expenditure over receipts, shall be supplied out of the local rates or out of moneys borrowed in pursuance of this Act.

No deficiency shall be supplied out of borrowed money unless the deficiency arises in respect of money required for purposes to which borrowed money is, in the opinion of the Local Government Board (Ministry of Health) properly applicable—section 30 of the 1909 Act.

For borrowing power—see section 25 hereof.

For definition of “local rates”—see section 92 hereof and First Schedule.

As to application of purchase money of land sold by the local authority—see section 82 hereof.

(3.) In settling any accounts of the local authority in respect of any transactions under this part of this Act, care shall be taken that as far as may be practicable all expenditure shall ultimately be defrayed out of the property dealt with under this part of this Act; and any balances of profit made by the local authority under

S. 24 (90). this part of this Act shall be applicable to any purposes to which the local rate is for the time being applicable.

Separate accounts shall be kept of receipts and expenditure under each part of this Act—section 80 (1) hereof. Note also the special case under section 4 of the 1900 Act.

(4.) Any limit imposed on or in respect of local rates by any other Act of Parliament shall not apply to any rate required to be levied for the purpose of defraying any expenses under this part of this Act.

(5.) The local authority may carry to the account of the Dwelling-house Improvement Fund any such money or produce of any property, as is legally applicable to purposes similar to the purposes of this part of this Act; and in case of doubt as to whether, in any particular case, the purposes are so similar the confirming authority may decide such doubt, and such decision shall be conclusive.

Power of borrowing money for the purposes of Part I
of Act.

25. (1.) A local authority may, in manner in this section mentioned, borrow such money as is required for the purposes of this part of this Act on the security of the local rate.

For definition of "local authority" and "local rate"—see section 92 hereof and First Schedule. The maximum period of the loan is 80 years—section 1 (1) of the 1903 Act. For further powers (issue of bonds, &c.)—see sections 7 and 8 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919.

(2.) For the purpose of such borrowing, the London County Council may, with the assent of the Treasury, create consolidated stock under the Metropolitan Board of Works Loans Acts, 1869 to 1871, but all moneys required for the payment of the dividends on and the redemption of the consolidated stock created for the purposes of this part of this Act shall be charged to the S. 25 (90). special county account to which the expenditure for the purposes of this part of this Act is chargeable.

The Acts mentioned were repealed by the London County Council (Finance Consolidation) Act, 1912—see sections 3 and 48 thereof.

The “special county account.” “The Dwelling-house Improvement Fund”—section 24 (1).

(3.) For the purpose of such borrowing, the Commissioners of Sewers for the City of London may borrow and take up at interest such money on the credit of the local rates, or any of them, as they may require for the purposes of this part of this Act, and may mortgage any such rate or rates to the persons by or on behalf of whom such money is advanced for securing the repayment to them of the sums borrowed, with interest thereon, and for the purposes of any mortgages so made by the Commissioners of Sewers, the clauses of the Commissioners Clauses Act, 1847, with respect to the mortgages to be executed by the Commissioners shall be incorporated with this part of this Act; and in the construction of that Act “the special Act” shall mean this part of this Act; “the commissioners” shall mean the Commissioners of Sewers; “the clerk of the commissioners” shall include any officer appointed for the purpose by the Commissioners of Sewers by this part of this Act; and the mortgages or assignees of any mortgage made as last aforesaid may enforce payment of the arrears of principal and interest due to them by the appointment of a receiver.

o. 16.

For Commissioners of Sewers now read the Common Council of the City of London—City of London Sewers Act, 1897. The “local rates” are now the general rate. The clauses of the Commissioners Clauses Act, 1847, referred to are sections 75-88; and as to a receiver—see sections 86 and 87 thereof.

(4.) For the purpose of such borrowing, the urban sanitary authority shall have the same power as they have under the Public Health Acts for the purpose of defraying any expenses incurred by them in the execution of those Acts.

Urban Sanitary Authority. Now the urban district council or the borough council (or corporation).

Public Health Acts. See sections 233-243 of the Public Health Act, 1875. The consent of the Ministry is required.

As to the period of loan (now 80 years) and as to the money not being reckoned as part of the debt—see section 1 of the 1903 Act.

See also section 7 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919.

(5.) The Public Works Loan Commissioners may, on the recommendation of the confirming authority, lend to any local authority any money required by them for purposes of this part of this Act, on the security of the local rate.*

The rates of interest at which loans may be made by the Public Works Loan Commissioners out of the Local Loans Fund may be fixed by the Treasury from time to time—the Public Works Loans Act, 1897. For current rates see the Treasury minute dated 1st November 1920, printed on page 536. See also sections 1 /03, 3 /09, and 7 (4) /19. As to temporary loans see the Public Works Loans Act, 1920 (page 487).

General Provisions

Provision in case of absence of health.

26. In case of the illness or unavoidable absence of a medical officer of health, the authority, board, or vestry who appointed him may (subject to the approval s. 26 (30). of the confirming authority) appoint a duly qualified medical practitioner, for the period of six months, or any less period to be named in the appointment.

Section 191 of the Public Health Act, 1875, and other Acts give the same power. See section 79 hereof as to the powers of the deputy.

27. ("Power of confirming authority as to advertisements and notices.") Repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909.

28. ("Power of confirming authority to dispense with notices in certain cases.") Repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909.

As to the two above repealed sections—see section 41 of the 1909 Act.

PART II.—UNHEALTHY DWELLING-HOUSES

Preliminary

29. In this part of this Act, unless the context otherwise requires— Definitions:

The expression "street" includes any court, alley, "Street" street, square, or row of houses :

The expression "dwelling-house" * includes any yard, "Dwelling garden, outhouses, and appurtenances belonging house." thereto or usually enjoyed therewith, and includes the site of the dwelling-house as so defined :

The expression "owner," in addition to the definition "Owner" given by the Lands Clauses Acts, includes all lessees or mortgagees of any premises required to be dealt with under this part of this Act, except persons holding or entitled to the rents and profits of such premises under a lease the original term whereof is less than twenty-one years : *

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, section 49.

S. 29 (90).

" Closing order."

The expression "closing order" means an order prohibiting the use of premises for human habitation made under the enactments set out in the Third Schedule in this Act.

Part II. Sections 29–52. See Chapter II, page 34. Sections 14 and 15 of the 1909 Act and sections 28 of the 1919 Act are deemed to be part of Part II of this, the 1890, Act.

Street. This definition has been extended to Part I hereof, by section 48 of the 1909 Act. Compare the more extended definition in section 4 of the Public Health Act, 1875. Private streets do not appear to be excluded. See Merrick v. Liverpool Corporation [1910] 74 J.P. 445 as to the meaning of "court."

Dwelling-house. After this word there were originally the words "means any inhabited building, and"—the effect of the repeal being to include dwelling-houses whether inhabited or not. Any dwelling-house, or if it be let in tenements or flats any tenement therein, may be closed by a closing order. On this point, however, see Kirkpatrick v. Maxwelltown Town Council [1912] S.C. 288, and Johnston's Trustees v. Glasgow Corporation [1912] S.C. 300, from which it may be concluded that the better course is to serve a closing order in respect of each separate tenement in the building.

Owner. By section 3 of the Lands Clauses Act, 1845, "the word 'owner' should be understood to mean any person or corporation who, under the provisions of this or the special Act, would be enabled to sell and convey lands to the promoters of the undertaking." Such persons are, under section 7 thereof, all parties seised, possessed of, or entitled to any such lands, or any estate or interest therein, including corporations, tenants in tail or for life, married women seised in their own right or entitled to dower, guardians, committees of lunatics and idiots, trustees or feoffees in trust for charitable or other purposes, executors and administrators, and all parties for the time being entitled to the receipt S. 29 (90). of the rent and profits of any such lands in possession or subject to any estate in dower, or to any lease for life, or for lives and years, or for years or any less interest.

As to further points R. v. Vestry of St. Marylebone [1887] 20 Q.B.D. 415; and Osborne v. Skinners Co. [1891] 60 L.J. M.C. 156, may be read. Note also section 47 hereof and section 30 of the 1919 Act.

Closing Order. In effect this definition is repealed—see sections 17, 18, 47, 75 and Schedule VI of the 1909 Act. The present definition is given in section 17 (2) thereof.

Buildings unfit for Human Habitation

30. It shall be the duty of the medical officer of health of every district to represent to the local authority of that district any dwelling-house which appears to him to be in a state so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation.

Representation by medical officer of health.

For definitions—see sections 29 and 92 and Schedule I. Both rural and urban districts are included. By section 81 hereof the local authority may appoint committees.

The representation by the medical officer must be in writing—section 79 (2) hereof. There is, apparently, no prescribed or recommended form. The local authority must give attention to the representation—section 31 (2).

By section 17 (1) of the 1909 Act it is the duty of the local authority to cause inspections to be made from time to time—see the Housing (Inspection of District) Regulations, 1910 (page 570). See also sections 45 hereof and 5 and 6 of the 1919 Act.

Dangerous . . . habitation. There is no definition of the concluding words of this section; but section 26 (1) of the 1919 Act provides a useful standard, and Walker v. Hobbs [1889] 23 Q.B.D. 458; Kirkpatrick v. Maxwell-town Burgh [1912] S.C. 288; Ryall v. Kidwell [1914] 30 T.L.R. 503; Hall v. Manchester Corporation [1914] 78 J.P. 315, affirmed House of Lords [1915] 79 J.P. 385; and London County Council v. Herring [1894] 2 Q.B. 522, may be usefully read.

Dwelling-houses in bad repair are not necessarily included in the phrase, but as to these—see section 75 hereof, section 15 of the 1909 Act, and, particularly, section 28 of the 1919 Act.

Certain cellar dwellings are included by section 17 (7) of the 1909 Act, and see section 43 thereof as to back-to-back houses.

In London there are special provisions, more particularly with regard to lack of water, but in such cases the more convenient remedy will probably be that given under section 26 of the 1919 Act, or section 28 thereof as regards structurally dangerous houses, either in London or elsewhere.

The phrase has to be read in its ordinary meaning, the standard being that of the ordinary reasonable man : it does not follow that a whole building is unfit for human habitation because certain rooms are ; see Hall v. Manchester Corporation, above.

Representation on householders' complaint.

31. (1) If *any justice of the peace acting for a district or any four or more householders in a district complain in writing to the medical officer of health of that district that any dwelling-house is in a condition so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation, he shall forthwith inspect the same, and transmit to the local authority the said complaint, together with his opinion thereon, and if he is of opinion that the dwelling-house is in the condition aforesaid, shall represent the same to the local authority, but the absence of any such complaint shall not excuse him from inspecting any dwelling-house and making a representation thereon to the local authority.

By section 6 (2) of the Local Government Act, 1894, a parish council can also make complaint under this section.

The representation must be in writing—section 79 (2) hereof. See section 52 as to representation by a county medical officer. See also sections 5 and 6 of the 1919 s. 31 (90). Act as to default.

(2.) If within three months after receiving the said complaint and opinion or representation of the medical officer, the local authority, not being in the administrative county of London, or not being a rural sanitary authority in any other county, declines or neglects to take any proceedings to put this part of this Act in force, the justice of the peace or householders who signed such complaint may petition the Local Government Board for an inquiry, and the said Board after causing an inquiry to be held may order the local authority to proceed under this part of this Act, and such order shall be binding on the local authority.

Note the restrictions in this subsection as compared with subsection (1), but see section 45 hereof, section 10 of the 1909 Act and section 5 of the 1919 Act—the latter being the power which, it may be expected, will now be more commonly used. As to the inquiry—see section 85 hereof.

The changes in the text made by the 1919 Act permit a justice of the peace to make the complaint.

Closing Order and Demolition procedure in regard to closing and demolition orders. If they are read here the provisions of Part II can be better followed.

Execution of an order for demolition, and provision as to site.

34. (1.) Where an order for the demolition of a building has been made, the owner thereof shall within three months after *the order becomes operative proceed to take down and remove the building, and if the owner fails therein the local authority shall proceed to take down and remove the building and shall sell the materials, and after deducting the expenses incident to such taking down and removal, pay over the balance of money (if any) to the owner.

“Order for demolition” is the subject of section 18 of the 1909 Act which should be read as coming before the present section.

As to the word “building”—see sections 18 (2) and 47 of the 1909 Act.

Interpretation Act, 1889, section 3.

For definition of owner—see section 29 hereof.

For form of order see page 626.

The order becomes operative. These words displace the original words “service of the order.” See section 39 (2) of the 1909 Act as to when the order becomes operative.

The Balance. See section 9 of the 1903 Act as to a deficiency.

(2.) Where a building has been so taken down and removed, no house or other building or erection which will be dangerous or injurious to health shall be erected on all or any part of the site of such building; and if any house, building, or erection is erected contrary to the provisions of this section, the local authority may at any time order the owner thereof to abate the same, and in the event of non-compliance with the order, s. 34 (90). may at the expense of the owner abate or alter the same.

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, 2nd schedule.

In view of building byelaws there is little, if any, point left in this subsection.

The owner referred to is the owner of the new building. The order of the local authority must be under seal, &c.,—section 86 hereof. See the next section as to appeal. There is no special provision as to the method of recovery of the expense.

35. (1) Any person aggrieved by an order of the local authority under this part of this Act, may *if he is not entitled to appeal to the Local Government Board against the order, appeal against the same to a court of quarter sessions, and no work shall be done nor proceedings taken under any order until after the appeal is determined or ceases to be prosecuted ; and section thirty-one of the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1879, respecting appeals from courts of summary jurisdiction to courts of quarter sessions shall apply with the necessary modifications as if the order of the local authority were an order of a court of summary jurisdiction.

Appeal

authority.

42 & 43 Vict.
c. 49.

(2.) Provided that—

- (a) Notice of appeal may be given within one month after notice of the order of the local authority has been served on such person ;
- (b) The court shall, at the request of either party, state the facts specially for the determination of a superior court, in which case the proceedings may be removed into that court.

Any person aggrieved. It should be noted that the expression is not "any owner"—section 29—and so would probably include any lessee who is not an owner. For a lengthy discussion of the term, reference may be made to page 559 of Lumley's Public Health, 8th edition.

Owners may appeal to the Board (Ministry) against repairing, closing and demolition orders—sections 15, 17 and 18 of the 1909 Act. The other orders of the local authority include an order to abate—sections 34 (2) and 38 (10)—and an order granting a charge—section 36 (1).

For a manner of service of notice—see section 49 hereof.

For forms of notice of appeal to the Ministry—see the Housing Acts (Forms of Orders and Notices) Order, 1919, page 610.

Quarter Sessions, in the circumstances covered by subsection (2) (b), will find the facts, leaving the inferences therefrom to be drawn by the Divisional Court, which is the superior court referred to. There is no appeal from the Divisional Court unless it, or the Court of Appeal, gives leave to appeal—sections 1 (5) and 2 of the Judicature Act, 1894. No writ is required for the removal to the Divisional Court—section 40 of the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1879—and for further points see the Rules of the Supreme Court, Order 34, and Clarke v. Alderbury Union Assessment Committee [1881] 29 W.R. 334.

Grant of charges by way of annuity to owner on completion of works.

36. (1.) Where any owner has completed in respect of any dwelling-house any works required to be executed by an order of a local authority under this part of this Act, he may apply to the local authority for a charging order, and shall produce to the local authority the certificate of their surveyor or engineer that the works have been executed to his satisfaction, and also the accounts of and vouchers for the costs, charges, and expenses of the works, and the local authority, when satisfied that the owner has duly executed such works and of the amount of such costs, charges, and expenses, and of the costs of obtaining the charging order which have been properly incurred, shall make and order accordingly, charging on the dwelling-house an annuity to repay the s. 36 (90) amount.

Owner. For definition—see section 29 hereof. There may be several of such owners. The one who does the work gets the charging order.

Works required. Namely for keeping houses in repair, as per (1) section 15 of the 1909 Act (which is deemed to be part of Part II of this (1890) Act—section 39 (2) of the 1919 Act) and (2) section 28 of the 1919 Act. It is doubtful if there are other works required . . . by an order of the local authority : closing and demolition orders under sections 17 and 18 of the 1909 Act, do not themselves require works to be executed—see also section 34 (1) hereof—but the charging order is on the dwelling-house, and where that is demolished there appears to be no power to charge a subsequent building erected on the site. Arlidge v. Scrase [1915] 3 K.B. 325 may be usefully read here.

Charging order. This is made by the local authority, and there is an appeal under section 35 hereof. There are other references to charging orders in these Acts—see sections 26 (6) and (8) and 28 of the 1919 Act, and section 15 (5) of the 1909 Act. The incidence of the charge is dealt with in section 37 hereof. See also note to section 26 (8) of the 1919 Act.

Annuity. See further as to this, the two following subsections and section 37.

(2.) The annuity charged shall be a sum of six pounds for every one hundred pounds of the said amount and so in proportion for any less sum, and shall commence from the date of the order, and be payable for a term of thirty years to the owner named in such order, his executors, administrators, or assigns.

The annuity can be transferred—section 37 (5), and can be redeemed—section 19 of the 1909 Act.

(3.) Every such annuity may be recovered by the person for the time being entitled to it by the same means and in the like manner in all respects as if it were

S. 36(90). a rentcharge granted by deed out of the dwelling-house by the owner thereof.

See note to section 28 (8) of the 1919 Act. The holder of the rentcharge can distrain (Dodds v. Thompson [1865] L.R. 1 C.P. 133); an action will be for arrears (Thomas v. Sylvester [1873] L.R. 8 Q.B. 368; Re Herbage Rents, Greenwich [1896] 2 Ch. 811, &c.), and distress may be statute barred (Jones v. Withers [1896] 74 L.T. 572).

(4.) Charging orders made under this section shall be made according to the Form marked A. in the Fifth Schedule to this Act, or as near thereto as the circumstances of the case will admit.

The schedule has been repealed by the 1909 Act, section 75, Schedule VI, and so this subsection is inoperative. Forms may be prescribed under section 41 of the 1909 Act, but none appear to have been prescribed affecting this matter.

Incidence of charge.

37. (1.) Every charge created by a charging order under this part of this Act shall be a charge on the dwelling-house specified in the order having priority over all existing and future estates, interests, and incumbrances, with the exception of quitrents and other charges incident to tenure, tithe commutation rentcharge, and any charge created under any Act authorising advances of public money; and where more charges than one are charged under this part of this Act on any dwelling-house such charges shall, as between themselves, take order according to their respective dates.

(2.) A charging order shall be conclusive evidence that all notices, acts, and proceedings by this part of this Act directed with reference to or consequent on the obtaining of such order, or the making of such charge, have been duly served, done, and taken, and that such charge has been duly created, and that it is a valid s. 37 (90) charge on the dwelling-house declared to be subject thereto.

(3.) Every such charging order, if it relates to a dwelling-house in the area to which the enactments relating to the registration of land in Middlesex apply or to a dwelling-house in Yorkshire, shall be registered in like manner as if the charge were made by deed by the absolute owner of the dwelling-house.

(4.) Copies of the charging order and of the certificate of the surveyor or engineer, and of the accounts as passed by the local authority, certified to be true copies by the clerk of the local authority, shall within six months after the date of the order be deposited with the clerk of the peace of the county in which the dwelling-house is situate, and be by him filed and recorded.

(5.) The benefit of any such charge may be from time to time transferred in like manner as a mortgage or rentcharge may be transferred. Any transfer may be in the Form marked B. in the Fifth Schedule to this Act, or in any other convenient form.

Charging order. See section 36 hereof, section 15 (5) of the 1909 Act, and section 26 (7) of the 1919 Act.

Exception. See the addition made by section 20 of the 1909 Act. Reliefs, heriots and fines also take precedence of the charging order as they are "charges incident to tenure," but ground rents do not as they are not such charges.

Subsection 4 does not apply to charging orders under section 27 of the 1919 Act—see subsection (8) thereof.

Subsection 5. The Fifth Schedule has been repealed—1909 Act section 95, Schedule VI. Forms may be prescribed under section 41 thereof, but none appear to have been prescribed affecting the charge under section 36.

Power to local authority to purchase houses for opening alleys, &c.

Obstructive Buildings

38. (1.) If a medical officer of health finds that any building within his district, although not in itself unfit for human habitation, is so situate that by reason of its proximity to or contact with any other buildings it causes one of the following effects, that is to say,—

- (a) It stops or impedes ventilation, or otherwise makes or conduces to make such other buildings to be in a condition unfit for human habitation or dangerous or injurious to health ; or
- (b) It prevents proper measures from being carried into effect for remedying any nuisance injurious to health or other evils complained of in respect of such other buildings ;

in any such case, the medical officer of health shall represent to the local authority that particulars relating to such first-mentioned building (in this Act referred to as "an obstructive building") stating that in his opinion it is expedient that the obstructive building should be pulled down.

Any building. Not limited to dwelling-houses—Jackson v. Knutsford Urban District Council [1914] W.N. 321. A wall in certain circumstances may be a building—Ellis v. Plumstead Board of Works [1893] 68 L.T. 291. As to a house being closed because other houses impede its ventilation—see Hall v. Manchester Corporation [1914] 78 J.P. N. 208. See also Merrick v. Liverpool Corporation [1910] 2 Ch. 449. As to part of a building—see subsections (7) and (11) below.

Representation. The representation must be in writing—section 79.

District. See section 92. Generally. See page 45.

(2.) †Any justice of the peace acting for a district, or† any four or more inhabitant householders of a district s. 38 (90) may make to the local authority of the district a representation as respects any building to the like effect as that of the medical officer under this section.

By section 6 (2) of the Local Government Act, 1894, a parish council may make a representation hereunder.

(3.) The local authority on receiving any such representation as above in this section mentioned shall cause a report to be made to them respecting the circumstances of the building and the cost of pulling down the building and acquiring the land, and on receiving such report shall take into consideration the representation and report, and if they decide to proceed, shall cause a copy of both the representation and report to be given to the owner of the lands on which the obstructive building stands, with notice of the time and place appointed by the local authority for the consideration thereof ; and such owner shall be at liberty to attend and state his objections, and after hearing such objections the local authority shall make an order either allowing the objection or directing that such obstructive building shall be pulled down, and such order shall be subject to appeal in like manner as an order of demolition of the local authority under the foregoing provisions of this part of this Act.

As to default of local authority—see sections 5 and 6 of the 1919 Act, section 45 hereof, and sections 10 and 11 of the 1909 Act.

The report will, presumably, be made by the surveyor of the local authority.

As to the duty in London and rural districts to report to the county council, &c.—see section 45 hereof.

As to report to local authority by county medical officer—see section 52 hereof.

As to interested persons voting—see section 88 hereof.

180 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 38 (90).

Owner. See section 29 hereof. Copies will have to be given to each such owner. As to service—see section 49 hereof.

Appeal. To the Local Government Board (now Ministry of Health)—see sections 18, 39 and 47 of the 1909 Act.

(4.) Where an order of the local authority for pulling down an obstructive building is made under this section and either no appeal is made against the order, or an appeal is made and either fails or is abandoned, the local authority shall be authorised to purchase the lands on which the obstructive building is erected in like manner as if they had been authorised by a special Act to purchase the same; and for the purpose of such purchase the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts, with respect to the purchase and taking of lands otherwise than by agreement shall be deemed to be incorporated in this part of this Act (subject nevertheless to the provisions of this part of this Act), and for the purpose of the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts this part of this Act shall be deemed to be the special Act, and the local authority to be the promoters of the undertaking, and such lands may be purchased at any time within one year after the date of the order, or if it was appealed against after the date of the confirmation.

See notes to sections 20 and 41 hereof.

(5.) The owner of the lands may within one month after notice to purchase the same is served upon him declare that he desires to retain the site of the obstructive building and undertake either to pull down or to permit the local authority to pull down the obstructive building, and in such case the owner shall retain the site and shall receive compensation from the local authority for the pulling down of the obstructive building. S. 38 (90).

"Month" means calendar month (Interpretation Act, 1889). As to service of notice—see section 49 hereof. In addition to the "owners" specified in section 29 hereof it would seem that in accordance with the Lands Clauses Acts the notice should be served on lessees the original term of whose lease was less than twenty-one years, though such lessees could not claim to retain the site. There would be no point in purchasing from persons whose tenancies could be terminated by a short notice. Persons having easements are not entitled to notice, but they can claim compensation for destroyed rights, under the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, section 68.

If any owner, being a lessee, wishes to retain the site and the reversioner to sell, the local authority would purchase the reversion; but on this and on the general subject of retaining the site note the powers of the local authority under section 39 and Part III hereof.

In Jackson v. Knutsford Urban District Council [1914] 2 Ch. 686, the owner wished to retain the site and undertook to pull down a portion of the building: held, that he was estopped from setting up that the building was not obstructive.

(6.) The amount of such compensation, and also the amount of any compensation to be paid on the purchase of any lands under this section, shall in case of difference be settled by arbitration in manner provided in this part of this Act.

(7.) Where the local authority is empowered to purchase land compulsorily, it shall not be competent for the owner of a house or other building or manufactory to insist on his entire holding being taken, where part only is proposed to be taken as obstructive, and where such part proposed to be taken can, in the opinion of the arbitrator to whom the question of disputed compensation is submitted, be severed from the remainder of the house * or other building * or manufactory without material detriment thereto, provided that compensation may be awarded in respect of the severance of the part so proposed to be taken in addition to the value of that part.

(8.) Where in the opinion of the arbitrator the demolition of an obstructive building adds to the value of such other buildings as are in that behalf mentioned in this section, the arbitrator shall apportion so much of the compensation to be paid for the demolition of the obstructive building as may be equal to the increase in value of the other buildings amongst such other buildings respectively, and the amount apportioned to each such other building in respect of its increase in value by reason of the demolition of such obstructive building shall be deemed to be private improvement expenses incurred by the local authority in respect of such building, and such local authority may, for the purpose of defraying such expenses, make and levy improvement rates on the occupier of such premises accordingly; and the provisions of the Public Health Acts relating to private improvement expenses and to private improvement rates, shall so far as circumstances admit, apply accordingly in the same manner as if such provisions were incorporated in this Act.

(9.) If any dispute arises between the owner or occupier of any building (to which any amount may be apportioned in respect of private improvement expenses) and the arbitrator by whom such apportionment is made, such dispute shall be settled by two justices in manner provided by the Lands Clauses Acts, in cases s. 38 (9d). where the compensation claimed in respect of lands does not exceed fifty pounds.

See section 41 hereof (as to settlement of compensation) and section 28 of the 1909 Act (as to distribution of compensation money, and as to betterment charges). But the arbitration (not the rules for assessing compensation) is now under the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919—see sections 1 (1), 2 and 7 thereof. See also Jackson v. Knutsford Urban District Council above.

In subsection (8) "such other buildings" are the obstructed ones—subsection (1).

Private Improvement Expenses. See sections 213, 214, 215, 232 and 257 of the Public Health Act, 1875. As to London—see section 46 (1) hereof.

In manner provided by the Lands Clauses Acts. See sections 22 and 24 of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845. See also R. v. Edwards [1884] 13 Q.B.D. 586.

(10.) Where the owner retains the site or any part thereof, no house or other building or erection which will be dangerous or injurious to health, or which will be an obstructive building within the meaning of this section, shall be erected upon such site or any part thereof; and if any house, building, or erection is erected on the site contrary to the provisions of this section the local authority may at any time order the owner to abate or alter the said house, building, or erection; and in the event of non-compliance with such order may, at the expense of the owner thereof, abate or alter the same.

See subsection (5), and also similar provision in section 34 (2) hereof. There is an appeal against the order of the local authority—section 35.

(11.) Where the lands are purchased by the local authority the local authority shall pull down the obstructive building, or such part thereof as may be obstructive within the meaning of this section, and keep as an open space the whole site, or such part thereof as may be required to be kept open for the purpose of remedying the nuisance or other evils caused by such obstructive building, and may, with the assent of the Local Government Board, and upon such terms as that Board think expedient, sell such portion of the site as is not required for the purpose of carrying this section into effect.

As to the proceeds—see section 82 hereof. Note also section 7 (1) of the 1919 Act, and section 57 (3) hereof.

(12.) A local authority may, where they so think fit, dedicate any land acquired by them under the authority of this section as a highway or other public place.

See also section 39 hereof.

Scheme for Reconstruction

~~Scheme for area comprising houses closed by closing order.~~

39. (1.) In any of the following cases, that is to say—
(a) where an order for the demolition of a building has been made in pursuance of this part of this Act, and it appears to the local authority that it would be beneficial to the health of the inhabitants of the neighbouring dwelling-houses if the area of the dwelling-houses of which such building forms part were used for all or any of the following purposes, that is to say, either—

- (i) dedicated as a highway or open space, or
- (ii) appropriated, sold, or let for the erection of dwellings for the working classes, or
- (iii) exchanged with other neighbouring land which is more suitable for the erection of such dwellings, and on exchange will be appropriated, sold, or let s. 39 (96).

for such erection ; or

(b) where it appears to the local authority that the closeness, narrowness and bad arrangement or bad condition of any buildings, or the want of light, air, ventilation, or proper conveniences, or any other sanitary defect in any buildings is dangerous or prejudicial to the health of the inhabitants either of the said buildings or of the neighbouring buildings, and that the demolition or the reconstruction and re-arrangement of the said buildings or of some of them is necessary to remedy the said evils, and that the area comprising those buildings and the yards, outhouses, and appurtenances thereof, and the site thereof, is too small to be dealt with as an unhealthy area under Part I of this Act.

the local authority shall pass a resolution to the above effect and direct a scheme to be prepared for the improvement of the said area.

Order for demolition. See section 38 (1) hereof and section 18 of the 1909 Act.

Of which such building forms part. Under section 38 that part which is obstructive can be demolished and the space dedicated, &c. Under the present section the whole dwelling-house can be taken. But if the whole dwelling-house is obstructive, it may be better to proceed under section 38 as no order of the Ministry is required thereunder.

If it is desired to widen, improve, or lengthen a street or public place in London—see sections 80–86 of Michael Angelo Taylor's Act (57 Geo. 3, c. 29).

Paragraph (b) is independent of section 38 hereof and sections 17 and 18 of the 1909 Act. But the local authority can proceed under this paragraph whether the houses have been closed or not, under a closing order ; and usually it will consider in the initial stages whether it requires what it obtains under the above-quoted sections, including the repair of a particular house or houses (under the closing order procedure, but see also section 28 of the 1919 Act), or whether it requires a reconstruction scheme made as per this section.

As to the evidence and a standard regarding "dangerous or prejudicial to health"—see note to section 4 hereof.

Under Part I. The procedure under Part I is not so simple as that under Part II. Rural districts will necessarily come under Part II as Part I does not apply to them. Urban district authorities will decide which part they will proceed under, subject to the sanction by the Ministry of the scheme, but as to what may be regarded as a standard see section 72 hereof—which in London contemplates up to ten houses as a Part II scheme.

In the county of London the question of whether the scheme is under Part I or Part II has a special financial significance. In the city this does not apply as the Common Council of the city is the local authority under both Parts I and II. But in the county of London—see section 93 hereof—the London County Council is the local authority under Part I and the Metropolitan borough councils are the local authorities under Part II. If a scheme is carried out under Part I the expense falls on the county council, i.e. on the whole of London. These difficulties have been met by sections 46, 72 and 73 hereof, and section 14 of the 1903 Act. By section 46 (5) and (6) the county council may prepare and carry out a scheme under Part II, and the borough may contribute towards the expenses—section 14, 1909 Act—or the county may get an order from the Ministry that the expenses, or a part, should be met by the Metropolitan borough council. By section 72 the borough council shall proceed where the representation relates to not more than ten houses. By section 73 the question of whether the scheme is of general importance to the county of London is dealt with: if the borough decides that it is, or if the county council decides that it is not, a local inquiry may be held and the arbitrator shall report, to the end that the Ministry shall decide, though if the matter has to be dealt with under Part II it may be decided that the London County Council shall make a contribution towards the expense. (See also section 4 of the 1903 Act.)

Shall pass a resolution. As to default—see section S. 39 (96). 31 (2) hereof, sections 5 and 6 of the 1919 Act, and section 10 of the 1909 Act. Interested members must not vote—section 88 hereof.

Forms of Reports by the Medical Officer (to precede the resolution), a Form of Resolution, information as to Maps, Particulars and Estimates required, and a Form of Clauses for the Scheme—all suggested by the Ministry—are given on pages 591 to 593.

By section 23 (2) of the 1909 Act provision may be made in a reconstruction scheme under Part II for any matters for which provision may be made in an improvement scheme under Part I—as to which see section 6 hereof.

By section 7 of the 1903 Act neighbouring lands may be included, but they will get an additional allowance in respect of compulsory purchase—section 21 (1) (a) hereof.

Sites of ancient monuments, &c., cannot be acquired—see note to section 20 hereof.

By section 13 of the 1919 Act there is power to acquire lands in advance.

As to duty to carry out the scheme, &c.—see subsection (8) below. Generally on the section, see page 46.

(2.) Notice of the scheme may at any time after the preparation thereof be served in manner provided in Part I of this Act with respect to notices of lands proposed to be taken compulsorily under a scheme made in pursuance of that part of this Act, on every owner or reputed owner, lessee or reputed lessee, and occupier of any part of the area comprised in the scheme, so far as those persons can reasonably be ascertained.

See section 7 hereof as to manner of service, but notice may be served “at any time.” No advertisement is required, but, unless the Minister grants a dispensation under section 41 (2) of the 1909 Act, the notice must be served even on “tenants for a month or a less period than a month.” See also final note to subsection (1) above.

For Forms of Notices suggested by the Ministry, see pages 593 to 595.

(3.) The local authority shall, after service of such notice, petition the Local Government Board for an order sanctioning the scheme, and the Board may cause a local inquiry to be held, and, if satisfied on the report of such local inquiry that the carrying into effect of the scheme either absolutely, or subject to conditions or modifications would be beneficial to the health of the inhabitants of the said buildings or of the neighbouring dwelling-houses, may by order sanction the scheme with or without such conditions or modifications.

Inquiry. See section 85 hereof, which also deals with the Order.

(4.) *Upon such order being made, the local authority may purchase the area comprised in the scheme as so sanctioned.

By section 13 of the 1919 Act it can acquire lands in advance.

The order does not require confirmation by Parliament—section 24 (2), 1909 Act. As to borrowing powers —see section 43 hereof and notes to section 25 hereof.

(7.) The order may incorporate the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts, and for the purpose of those provisions this Act shall be deemed to be the special Act, and the local authority to be the promoters of the undertaking, and the area shall be acquired within three years after the date of the confirmation of the order: Pro-

See note to section 20 hereof. As to arbitration—see section 41 hereof.

(8.) *The provisions of Part I of this Act as amended by any subsequent Act relating to the duty of a local authority to carry a scheme when confirmed into execution, to the power of the Local Government Board to enforce that duty, to the completion of a scheme on failure by a local authority, and to the extinction of rights of way and other easements, shall, with the necessary modifications, apply for the purpose of any scheme under this section in like manner as if it were a scheme under Part I of this Act.

As to duty to carry out—see section 12 hereof; power to enforce—sections 31, 38, 39 (8) and 45 hereof, section 4 (1) of the 1903 Act, sections 5 and 6 of the 1919 Act, and section 10 and 11 of the 1909 Act; completion—section 23 hereof; extinction of rights—section 22 hereof, and section 27 of the 1909 Act.

(9.) The Local Government Board, on being satisfied by the local authority that an improvement can be made in the details of any scheme under this section, may by order permit the local authority to modify any part of the scheme which it may appear inexpedient to carry into execution.*

Further on this subject—see section 25 of the 1909 Act. See also note to section 15 hereof.

If there is re-housing there will be a State subsidy in respect of the whole scheme, under section 7 (1) of the 1919 Act—see note to section 4. See also section 11 hereof, and section 3 of the 1903 Act.

Settlement of Compensation

Provisions as to arbitration.

41. In all cases in which the amount of any compensation is, in pursuance of this part of this Act, to be settled by arbitration, the following provisions shall have effect ; (namely,) (1.)

(1.) The amount of compensation shall be settled by an arbitrator to be appointed and removable by the Local Government Board.

Settlement of Compensation. This applies where there is a dispute, and in view of the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919 (page 495), it is to be expected that there will be fewer disputes.

The preliminary procedure will be a notice to treat—see section 18 of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845.

There is a power of entry for survey or valuation—section 36, 1909 Act. See also notes to section 21 hereof.

In all cases . . . , namely obstructive buildings demolished—section 38 hereof—and land taken for schemes under section 39.

Settled by arbitration. By the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919. “where by or under any statute . . . land is authorised to be acquired compulsorily by any . . . local authority, any question of disputed compensation . . . shall be referred to and determined by the arbitration of such one of a panel of official arbitrators to be appointed under this section as may be selected in accordance with rules S. 41 (90). made by the Reference Committee under this section" (subsection 1). "Provided that nothing in this Act relating to the rules for assessing compensation shall affect any special provisions as to the assessment of the value of land acquired for the purpose of Part I or Part II of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 . . . if and so far as the provisions in those Acts are inconsistent with the rules under this Act . . ."—section 7 (1) proviso.

By section 9 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, special provisions are made as to the assessment of compensation for slum lands, and the provisions of the present section (41) cease to apply thereto.

Thus the special provisions of this section as to the amount of the compensation apply to obstructive buildings—section 38 hereof—and land included in the scheme for the purpose of making the scheme efficient.

(2.) In settling the amount of any compensation—

(a) The estimate of the value of the dwelling-house shall be based on the fair market value as estimated at the time of the valuation being made of such dwelling-house, and of the several interests in such dwelling-house, due regard being had to the nature and then condition of the property and the probable duration of the buildings in their existing state, and to the state of repair thereof, and without any additional allowance in respect of compulsory purchase ; and

(b) The arbitrator shall have regard to and make an allowance in respect of any increased value which, in his opinion, will be given to other dwelling-houses of the same owner by the alteration or demolition by the local authority of any buildings.

(a) Compare the almost identical section 21 (1) (a) and see note thereto. If neighbouring lands are included there may be an extra allowance for compulsory purchase—section 7, 1903 Act. The word here, however, is “dwelling-house” (which includes outhouses, appurtenances and the site—section 29) while in section 21 “lands and interests” are dealt with, which causes a doubt if buildings, included in a Part II scheme or under section 38 hereof, but outside the definition of dwelling-house, are to have compensation hereunder or under the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, section 2, which prohibits an allowance for compulsory acquisition (see Jackson v. Knutsford Urban District Council [1914] 2 Ch. 686).

S. 41 (90).

(b) See also section 38 (8) hereof.

(3.) Evidence shall be receivable by the arbitrator to prove—

(1st) that the rental of the dwelling-house was enhanced by reason of the same being used for illegal purposes or being so overcrowded as to be dangerous or injurious to the health of the inmates ; or

(2ndly) that the dwelling-house is in a state of defective sanitation, or is not in reasonably good repair ; or (3rdly) that the dwelling-house is unfit, and not reasonably capable of being made fit, for human habitation ;

and, if the arbitrator is satisfied by such evidence, then the compensation—

(a) shall in the first case so far as it is based on rental be based on the rental which would have been obtainable if the dwelling-house was occupied for legal purposes and only by the number of persons whom the dwelling-house was under all the circumstances of the case fitted to accommodate without such overcrowding as is dangerous or injurious to the health of the inmates ; S. 41 (9d).

and

- (b) shall in the second case be the amount estimated as the value of the dwelling-house if it had been put into a sanitary condition, or into reasonably good repair, after deducting the estimated expense of putting it into such condition or repair ; and
- (c) shall in the third case be the value of the land, and of the materials of the buildings thereon.

Compare the similar provisions of section 21 (2) hereof, and see note to section 41 (2) (a) above. The local authority may tender evidence notwithstanding that they have not taken any steps with a view to remedying the defects or evils disclosed by the evidence—section 29, 1909 Act. See also section 9 of the 1919 Act.

- (4.) On payment or tender to the person entitled to receive the same of the amount of compensation agreed or awarded to be paid in respect of the dwelling-house, or on payment thereof in manner prescribed by the Lands Clauses Acts, the owner shall, when required by the local authority, convey his interest in such dwelling-house to them, or as they may direct ; and in default thereof, or if the owner fails to adduce a good title to such dwelling-house to the satisfaction of the local authority, it shall be lawful for the local authority, if they think fit, to execute a deed poll in such manner and with such consequences as are mentioned in the Lands Clauses Acts.

See sections 69-83 of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845 : all costs connected with the conveyance are payable by the local authority ; the money is paid into the bank where the owner is incapacitated or refuses to convey.

S. 41 (90)

8 & 9 Vict.
c. 18.

- (5.) Sections thirty-two, thirty-three, thirty-five, thirty-six, and thirty-seven of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, shall apply, with any necessary modifications, to an arbitration and to an arbitrator appointed under this part of this Act.

But see now the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, page 495. See also section 38 (4) hereof.

(6.) The arbitrator may, by one award, settle the amount or amounts of compensation payable in respect of all or any of the dwelling-houses included in one or more order or orders made by the local authority ; but he may, and, if the local authority request him so to do, shall, from time to time make an award respecting a portion only of the disputed cases brought before him.

(7.) In the event of the death, removal, resignation, or incapacity, refusal, or neglect to act of any arbitrator before he shall have made his award, the Local Government Board may appoint another arbitrator, to whom all documents relating to the matter of the arbitration which were in the possession of the former arbitrator shall be delivered.

(8.) The arbitrator may, where he thinks fit, on the request of any party by whom any claim has been made before him, certify the amount of the costs properly incurred by such party in relation to the arbitration, and the amount of the costs so certified shall be paid by the local authority.

(9.) The arbitrator shall not give such certificate where the arbitrator has awarded the same or a less sum than has been offered by the local authority in respect of such claim before the appointment of the arbitrator, and need not give such certificate s 41 (90). to any party where he considers that such party neglected, after due notice from the local authority, to deliver to that authority a statement in writing within such time, and containing such particulars respecting the compensation claimed, as would have enabled the local authority to make a proper offer of compensation to such party before the appointment of the arbitrator.

- (10.) If within seven days after demand the amount so certified be not paid to the party entitled to receive the same, such amount shall be recoverable as a debt from the local authority with interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum for any time during which the same remains unpaid after such seven days as aforesaid.
- (11.) The award of the arbitrator shall be final and binding on all parties.

But see now the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, page 495.

Expenses of Borrowing

42. (1.) All expenses incurred by a local authority in the execution of this part of this Act shall be defrayed by them out of the local rate; and that authority, notwithstanding any limit contained in any Act of Parliament respecting a local rate, may levy such local rate, or any increase thereof, for the purposes of this part of this Act.

incurred in and incidental to proceedings for obtaining a closing order, shall be charged as special expenses on the contributory place in respect of which they are incurred.

By section 17 of the 1909 Act the local authority make the closing order so that there will be no expenses in obtaining the order, but there may be expenses in connection with appeals—see also section 18 thereof—which will be general expenses. As to general and special expenses—see sections 229–232 of the Public Health Act, 1875.

Provision
borrowing.

43. (1.) A local authority may borrow for the purpose of raising sums required for purchase money or compensation payable under this part of this Act in like manner, and subject to the like conditions, as for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the execution by such authority of the Public Health Acts.

See notes to section 25 hereof.

For purchase money or compensation. See extension by section 1 of the 1894 Act, page 256.

Public Health Acts. Sections 233–243 of the Public Health Act, 1875. The local rate will be the security. See section 1 of the 1903 Act as to term of loans—eighty years.

This section does not apply to London, as to which see section 46.

(2.) The Public Works Loan Commissioners may, if they think fit, lend to any local authority the sums borrowed in pursuance of this part of this Act.

See notes to section 25 hereof.

authority.

44. Every local authority shall every year present to the Local Government Board, in such form as they may direct, an account of what has been done, and of all moneys received and paid by them during the previous year, with a view to carrying into effect the purposes S. 44 (90). of this part of this Act.

See section 80 hereof, and section 7 of the 1919 Act.

Powers of County Councils

45. (1.) Where the medical officer of health, inspector of nuisances or other officer of the district authority or any inhabitant householders make a representation or complaint, or give information to any vestry or district board in the administrative county of London or to the local board of Woolwich, or to any rural sanitary authority elsewhere (which vestry, board, or authority is in this Act referred to as the district authority) or to the medical officer of such authority either respecting any dwelling-house being in a state so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation, or respecting an obstructive building, and also where a closing order has been made as respects any dwelling-house, the district authority shall forthwith forward to the county council of the county in which the dwelling-house or building is situate, a copy of such representation, complaint, information, or closing order, and shall from time to time report to the council such particulars as the council require respecting any proceedings taken by the authority with reference to such representation, complaint, information, or dwelling-house.

borough councils, of which Woolwich is one (London Government Act, 1899). By section 76 (2) hereof the London County Council medical officer of health, &c., is deemed to be a medical officer of health of a local authority. By the Sanitary Officer (London) Order, dated 8th December 1891, any report of the medical officer of health hereunder is to be deemed a special report and copies must be sent to the Board (Ministry) and to the county council.

District authority. This section does not apply to urban districts.

By section 6 (2) of the Local Government Act, 1894, a parish council may make a complaint, &c., which must be forwarded to the county council hereunder.

Unfit for human habitation. Sections 30 and 31 hereof.

Obstructive building. Section 38 hereof.

Closing Order. Section 17, 1909 Act.

Forward to the county council. And to the medical officer of health of the county—section 69, 1909 Act. In case of default the next subsection will apply—see also section 11 of the 1909 Act, and sections 5 and 6 of the 1919 Act.

(2.) Where the county council—

(a) are of opinion that proceedings for a closing order as respects any dwelling-house ought to be instituted, or that an order ought to be made for the demolition of any buildings forming or forming part of any dwelling-house as to which a closing order has been made, or that an order ought to be made for pulling down an obstructive building specified in any representation under this part of this Act; and

(b) after reasonable notice, not being less than one month, of such opinion has been given in writing to the district authority, consider that such authority have failed to institute or properly prosecute proceedings, or to make the order for demolition, or to take steps for pulling down an obstructive building; the council may pass a resolution to that effect, and thereupon the powers of the district authority as respects S. 45 (90). the said dwelling-house and building under this part of this Act (otherwise than in respect of a scheme), shall be vested in the county council, and if a closing order or an order for demolition or for pulling down an obstructive building is made, and not disallowed on appeal, the expenses of the council incurred as respects the said dwelling-house and building, including any compensation paid, shall be a simple contract debt to the council from the district authority.

(3.) Any debt to the council under this section shall be defrayed by the district authority as part of their expenses in the execution of this part of this Act.

The county council may now make a scheme also—section 5 of the 1919 Act, which section possibly covers in an alternative way the default here dealt with, though it seems to contemplate schemes rather than closing orders, &c.

As to expenses—see section 42 hereof.

The county councils are not entitled to charge for the time of their whole-time medical officer of health or inspector of nuisances in inspecting, &c.—Durham County Council v. Easington Rural District Council [1897] 61 J.P. 121.

As to London—see section 46 (5), (6) and (7).

(4.) The county council and any of their officers shall, for the purposes of this section, have the same right of admission to any premises as any district authority or their officers have for the purpose of the execution of their duties under the enactments relating to public health, and a justice may make the like order for enforcing such admission.

See sections 102 and 305 of the Public Health Act, 1875, and sections 10 and 115 of the Public Health Act (London), 1891. See, however, sections 36 and 68

Special Provisions as to London

Application of part of Act to London.

46. This part of this Act shall apply to the administrative county of London with the following modifications :—

(1.) The provisions of the Public Health Acts relating to private improvement expenses and to private improvement rates shall, for the purpose of this part of this Act, extend to the county and to the city of London, and in the construction of the said provisions, as respects the county of London, any local authority in that county, and as respects the city of London the Commissioners of Sewers, shall be deemed to be the urban authority.

Private improvement expenses. See section 38 (8) hereof.
Commissioners of Sewers. Now the Common Council of the city—see note to section 25 (3) hereof.

(2.) The raising of sums required for purchase money or compensation payable under this part of this Act shall be a purpose for which the London County Council or the Commissioners of Sewers of the city of London, may borrow under Part One of this Act, and a purpose for which a vestry or district board may borrow under the Metropolis Management Act, 1855, and the provisions of Part One of this Act with respect to borrowing, and sections one hundred and eighty-three to one hundred and ninety-one of the Metropolis Management Act, 1855, shall apply and have effect accordingly.

18 & 19 Vict.
c. 120.

For the borrowing powers under Part I—see section 25 (2) and (3). See also section 1 of the 1894 Act ; and, particularly, sections 7 and 11 of the Housing (Additional S. 46 (96). Powers) Act, 1919.

Vestry or district board. Now a Metropolitan borough council.

Metropolis Management Act, 1855. The borrowing powers, which appear in sections 183–192 thereof, are transferred to the Metropolitan borough councils by the London Government Act, 1899, sections 1 and 4.

See also sections 1 and 14 of the 1903 Act (page 274), and section 3 of the 1909 Act.

(3.) The London County Council may, if they think fit, lend to a local authority in the administrative county of London the sums borrowed in pursuance of this part of this Act.

See the London County Council (Finance) Consolidation Act, 1912, section 7.

(4.) Repealed by the Statute Law Revision Act, 1908.

(5.) Where it appears to the county council, whether in the exercise of the powers of a vestry or district board or on the representation of a vestry or district board or otherwise, that a scheme under this part of this Act ought to be made, the council may take proceedings for preparing and obtaining the confirmation of a scheme, and the provisions of this Act respecting the scheme shall apply in like manner as if they were the vestry or district board, and all expenses of and incidental to the scheme and carrying the same into effect shall, save as herein-after mentioned, be borne by the county fund.

Exercise of the Powers. Under section 45 (2) hereof.

A Scheme. Under section 39 hereof. See note to subsection (1) thereof, headed "Under Part I"; and sections 72 and 73 hereof. See also section 5 of the 1919 Act.

(6.) Where the council consider that such expenses, or a contribution in respect of them, ought to be paid or made by a vestry or district board, they may apply to a Secretary of State, and the Secretary of State, if satisfied that, having regard to the size of the area, to the number, position, structure, sanitary condition, and neighbourhood of the buildings to be dealt with, the vestry or district board ought to pay, or make a contribution in respect of, the said expenses, the Secretary of State may order such payment or contribution to be made, and the amount thereof shall be a simple contract debt from the vestry or district board to the council.

45(90)

Secretary of State. Now the Minister of Health.

This subsection will apply only where there is disagreement between the London County Council and the Metropolitan Borough Council—section 14 of the 1903 Act. See also section 33 of the 1909 Act.

(7.) The county council may, if they think fit, pay or contribute to the payment of the expenses of carrying into effect a scheme under this part of this Act by a vestry or district board, and if a vestry or district board consider that the expenses of carrying into effect any scheme under this part of this Act, or a contribution in respect of those expenses, ought to be paid or made by the county council, and the county council decline or fail to agree to pay or make the same, the vestry or district board may apply to a Secretary of State, and if the Secretary of State is satisfied that, having regard to the size of the area, to the number, position, structure, sanitary condition, and neighbourhood of the buildings to be dealt with, the council ought to pay or make a contribution in respect of the said expenses, he may order such payment or contribution to be S. 46 (90). made, and the amount thereof shall be a simple contract debt from the council to the vestry or district board.

See section 73 hereof. For vestry or district board read Metropolitan Borough Council, and for Secretary of State read Minister of Health.

(8.) In the application of this section to Woolwich, the local board of health shall be deemed to be a district board, but the raising of any sums required for purchase money or compensation payable under this part of this Act shall be a purpose for which they may borrow under the Public Health Acts, and the Public Health Acts shall apply accordingly.

Woolwich is now a Metropolitan borough—London Government Act, 1899.

Supplemental

47. (1.) Where an owner of any dwelling-house is not the person in receipt of the rents and profits thereof, he may give notice of such ownership to the local authority, and thereupon the local authority shall give such owner notice of any proceedings taken by them in pursuance of this part of this Act in relation to such dwelling-house.

Provision as
landlord.

(2.) If it appears to a court of summary jurisdiction on the application of any owner of the dwelling-house that default is being made in the execution of any works required to be executed on any dwelling-house in respect of which a closing order has been made, or in the demolition of any building or any dwelling-house or in claiming to retain any site, in pursuance of this part of this Act, and that the interests of the applicant will be prejudiced by such default, and that it is just to make the order,

204 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 47 (90). the court may make an order empowering the applicant forthwith to enter on the dwelling-house, and within the time fixed by the order to execute the said works, or to demolish the building or to claim to retain the site, as the case may be, and where it seems to the court just so to do, the court may make a like order in favour of any other owner.

(3.) A court of summary jurisdiction may in any case by order enlarge * the time within which a claim may be made to retain the site of a building.

(4.) Before an order is made under this section notice of the application shall be given to the local authority.

Owner. For definition—see section 29 hereof, from which it will be seen that there may be several owners, including a lessee. The superior landlord's interests are hereby preserved.

As to the effect of subsection (1)—see Osborne v. Skinners Co. [1891] 60 L.J. M.C. 156.

The application under subsection (2) must be made in open court—Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1879, section 20. Note also section 30 of the 1919 Act. Sections 28 and 32 thereof and sections 14 and 15 of the 1909 Act may also be usefully read.

For closing and demolition orders—see sections 17 and 18 of the 1909 Act. For claim to retain the site—see section 38 (5) hereof.

Remedies of owner for breach of covenant, &c. not to be prejudiced.

48. Nothing in this part of this Act shall prejudice or interfere with the right or remedies of any owner for the breach, non-observance, or non-performance of any covenant or contract entered into by a tenant or lessee in reference to any dwelling-house in respect of which an order is made by a local authority under this part of this Act; and if any owner is obliged to take possession of any dwelling-house in order to comply with any such order, the taking possession shall not affect his S. 48 (90). right to avail himself of any such breach, non-observance, or non-performance that may have occurred prior to his so taking possession.

See section 47 and notes thereto. The object is to preserve to the freeholder or lessor his rights or remedies under the lease, notwithstanding closing or demolition orders or his intervention under section 47 (2).

49. (1.) Where the owner of any dwelling-house and his residence or place of business are known to the local authority, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the local authority, if the residence or place of business is within the district of such local authority, to serve any notice by this part of this Act required to be served on the owner, by giving it to him, or for him, to some inmate of his residence or place of business within the district ; and in any other case it shall be the duty of the clerk of the local authority to serve the notice by post in a registered letter addressed to the owner at his residence or place of business.

(2.) Where the owner of the dwelling-house or his residence or place of business is not known to, and after diligent inquiry cannot be found by the local authority, then the clerk of the local authority may serve the notice by leaving it, addressed to the owner, with some occupier of the dwelling-house, or if there be not an occupier, then by causing it to be put up on some conspicuous part of the dwelling-house.

(3.) Notice served upon the agent of the owner shall be deemed notice to the owner.

See the amendment made by section 13 (1) of the 1903 Act. As to authentication—see section 86 hereof. As to service by post—see note to section 7 hereof.

Description of owner in proceedings.

Penalty for preventing execution of

50. Where in any proceedings under this part of this Act it is necessary to refer to the owner of any dwelling-house, it shall be sufficient to designate him as the "owner" thereof without name or further description.

51. (1.) If any person being the occupier of any dwelling-house prevents the owner thereof, or being the owner or occupier of any dwelling-house prevents the medical officer of health, or the officers, agents, servants, or workmen of such owner or officer from carrying into effect with respect to the dwelling-house any of the provisions of this part of this Act, after notice of the intention so to do has been given to such person any court of summary jurisdiction on proof thereof may order such person to permit to be done on such premises all things requisite for carrying into effect, with respect to such dwelling-house, the provisions of this part of this Act.

(2.) If at the expiration of ten days after the service of such order such person fails to comply therewith, he shall for every day during which the failure continues be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds: Provided that if any such failure is by the occupier, the owner, unless assenting thereto, shall not be liable to such fine.

See section 90 hereof as to recovery of fines, and section 89 hereof and note thereto, further as to obstruction.

52. A representation from the medical officer of health of any county submitted to the county council and forwarded by that council to the local authority of any district in the county, not being a borough as defined by the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, shall, for the purposes of this part of this Act, have the like effect as

WORKING CLASS LODGING HOUSES

Adoption of Part III

53. (1.) The expression “lodging houses for the working classes” when used in this part of this Act shall include separate houses or cottages for the working classes, whether containing one or several tenements, and the purposes of this part of this Act shall include the provision of such houses and cottages.

(2.) The expression “cottage” in this part of this Act may include a garden of not more than one acre.

The definition of “cottage” is given as per section 50 of the 1909 Act.

Execution of Part III by Local Authority

56. Where this part of this Act has been adopted in any district, the local authority shall have power to carry it into execution (subject to the provisions of this part of this Act with respect to rural sanitary authorities), and for that purpose may exercise the same powers whether of contract or otherwise as in the execution of their duties in the case of the London County Council under the Metropolis Management Act, 1855, and the Acts amending the same, or in the case of sanitary authorities under the Public Health Acts, or in the case of the Commissioners of Sewers under the Acts conferring powers on such Commissioners.

Adopted. Adoption is no longer necessary—section 1, 1909 Act, and the words in brackets are practically superfluous.

Local authority. See section 92 and the First Schedule hereto. It is now the duty of the local authority to prepare and carry out housing schemes—sections 1 and 2 of the 1919 Act—and if default is made the Ministry may act—section 5 thereof—or in certain cases, whether there is default or not, the Ministry may authorise the county council to act—sections 4 and 5 thereof. Further as to default—see sections 10–13 of the 1909 Act.

As to joint action by local authorities—see section 38 of the 1909 Act, and section 1 (6) of the 1919 Act.

As to London—see section 41 of the 1919 Act.

As to Commissioners of Sewers—see section 25 (3) hereof.

Metropolis Management Act, 1853. Section 149 thereof, and possibly sections 150–156 thereof, but see section 57 hereof as to acquisition of land, and also section 41 of the 1919 Act.

As to expenses and borrowing power of Metropolitan borough councils—see section 3 of the 1900 Act.

Public Health Act. See sections 173 and 174 thereof for powers of contracting by sanitary authorities.

Acquisition
of land.

38 & 39 Vict.
c. 55.

57. (1.) Land for the purposes of this part of this Act may be acquired by a local authority in like manner as if those purposes were purposes of the Public Health Act, 1875, and sections one hundred and seventy-five to one hundred and seventy-eight, both inclusive, of that Act (relating to the purchase of lands), shall apply accordingly, and shall for the purposes of this part of S. 57 (90), this Act extend to London in like manner as if the Commissioners of Sewers and London County Council respectively were a local authority in the said sections mentioned.*

As to the purposes of this part—see section 59 hereof, section 11 of the 1903 Act, section 6 of the 1909 Act; and as to additional powers for the acquisition of land—section 2 (3) of the 1909 Act and section 12 of 1919 Act.

By section 8 of the 1909 Act a local authority may accept gifts of land, and see section 31 of the 1919 Act as to the powers of tenants for life to sell for nominal prices, &c., and section 74 hereof and section 7 of the 1909 Act for, amongst other things, reasonable prices, having regard to the purposes.

The quoted sections of the Public Health Act, 1875, still apply to purchase by agreement (see, however, section 5 of the 1909 Act) but compulsory powers are now obtained under section 2 of the 1909 Act. The procedure is regulated by the First Schedule to the Act, but as to the assessment of compensation—see the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919.

As to the purchase money or compensation payable by one local authority to another—see section 5 of the 1909 Act.

An urban authority may acquire land outside their district—section 1, 1900 Act; and land may be acquired in anticipation—section 2 (3), 1909 Act. As to deficiency in rates—see section 34 thereof; ancient monuments, &c.—section 45; commons, open spaces and allotments—section 73; and royal parks—section 74 thereof.

As to acquiring water rights—see section 14 of the 1919 Act.

As to dealing with the land acquired—see section 15 of the 1919 Act and notes thereto.

Section 177 of the Public Health Act, 1875, provides as follows: “Any local authority may, with the consent of the Local Government Board, let for any term any lands which they may possess, as and when they may conveniently spare the same." There is some doubt as to this applying to land acquired for housing, but a statutory body holding land to be ultimately used for a particular purpose may use it or allow it to be used for a temporary purpose provided that this does not interfere with its use for the ultimate purpose—Attorney-General v. Teddington Urban District Council [1898] 1 Ch. 66. The consent of the Board (Ministry) is not needed to such temporary letting.

(3.) *The local authority may, with the consent of the Local Government Board, appropriate, for the purposes of this part of this Act, any lodging houses so purchased or taken on lease, and any other land which may be for the time being vested in them, or at their disposal.

The words "any lodging houses so purchased or taken on lease" appear to be meaningless, as subsection (2) which allowed such purchase or lease (of any lodging houses for the working classes already or hereafter to be built and provided) is repealed. But see section 12 (3) of the 1919 Act.

As to appropriation—see also section 23 hereof. By section 111 of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, a municipal corporation may convert corporate land into sites for working men's dwellings.

Local authority may purchase existing lodging houses.

58. The trustees of any lodging houses for the working classes for the time being provided in any district by private subscriptions or otherwise, may, with the consent of a majority of the committee or other persons by whom they were appointed trustees, sell or lease the

See also sections 8 and 9 of the 1909 Act. As to management—see section 61 hereof.

59. The local authority may, on any land acquired or appropriated by them, erect any building suitable for lodging houses for the working classes, and convert any buildings into lodging houses for the working classes, and may alter, enlarge, repair, and improve the same respectively, and fit up, furnish, and supply the same respectively with all requisite furniture, fittings, and conveniences.

See also section 12 (1) of the 1919 Act. As to acquisition and appropriation—see section 57 (1) and (3) hereof. As to the local authority itself erecting houses—compare section 12 (3) hereof.

The provision of houses is compulsory under a scheme prepared under section 1 of the 1919 Act, section 2 thereof. See notes thereto, section 11 of the 1903 Act, and section 1 of the 1900 Act.

As to the purchase of buildings to be converted—see section 57 hereof, and sections 12 and 16 of the 1919 Act.

By section 3 of the 1903 Act, where local authorities or others in carrying out other works take dwellings occupied by thirty or more persons belonging to the working classes, they may be required to provide other housing accommodation.

Management of Lodging Houses

ment to be

authority.

212 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 61 (90).

(2.) The local authority may make such reasonable charges for the tenancy or occupation of the lodging houses provided under this part of this Act as they may determine by regulations.

See section 7 of the 1919 Act as to reasonable charges ; and section 17 as to non-disqualification of tenants.

The regulations may be altered from time to time without the consent of any superior authority. See section 188 of the Public Health Act, 1875. They are not byelaws.

As to power to repair, furnish, &c.—see section 59 hereof.

The houses are those for the working classes and should be let to such persons, but the term " working classes " is not defined (deliberately so) and the Minister of Health has stated, repeatedly, that the term should be liberally construed. See Marron v. Cootehill No. 2 Rural District Council [1915] A.C. 792, as to undue preference under the Irish Acts.

With the consent of the Ministry the houses may be sold or leased, but not to employers to be " tied-houses " —section 15 (1) (d) of the 1919 Act.

See section 35, 1909 Act and note thereto as to exemption from inhabited house duty in certain circumstances.

Byelaws for regulation of lodging houses.

62. (1.) The local authority may make byelaws for the management, use, and regulation of the lodging houses, and it shall be obligatory on the local authority, except in the case of a lodging house which is occupied as a separate dwelling, by such byelaws to make sufficient provision for the several purposes expressed in the Sixth Schedule to this Act.

(2.) A printed copy or sufficient abstract of the byelaws relating to the management, use, and regulation of the lodging houses shall be put up and at all times kept in every room therein.

For definition of " lodging houses "—see section 53 hereof.

Act.

Expenses and Borrowing of Local Authorities.

65. All expenses incurred by a local authority in the execution of this part of this Act shall be defrayed— Payment of expenses.

- (i.) in the case of an authority in the administrative county of London, out of the Dwelling House Improvement Fund under Part I of this Act;
- (ii.) in the case of an urban sanitary authority, as part of the general expenses of their execution of the Public Health Acts.*

Provided that if on the application of the rural sanitary authority it is so declared* by the county council* then the said expenses of the rural sanitary authority shall be defrayed as general expenses of the said authority in the execution of the Public Health Acts, and if such expenses are not to be borne by the whole of the district, shall be paid out of a common fund to be raised in manner provided by the Public Health Act, 1875, but as if the contributory places which are to bear those expenses constituted the whole of the district.

67. (1.) In addition to the powers conferred upon them by any other enactment, the Public Works Loan Commissioners may, out of the funds at their disposal, advance on loan to any such body or proprietor as S. 67 (90), herein-after mentioned ; namely,—

- (a) any railway company or dock or harbour company, or any other company, society, or association established for the purpose of constructing or improving, or of facilitating or encouraging the construction or improvement of dwellings for the working classes, or for trading or manufacturing purposes (in the course of whose business, or in the discharge of whose duties persons of the working classes are employed) ;
- (b) any private person entitled to any land for an estate in fee simple, or for any term of years absolute, whereof not less than fifty years shall for the time being remain unexpired ;

and any such body or proprietor may borrow from the Public Works Loan Commissioners such money as may be required for the purpose of constructing or improving, or of facilitating or encouraging the construction or improvement of dwellings for the working classes.

- (2.) Such loans shall be made in manner provided by 38 & 39 Vict.

c. 89.

S. 67 (90). the Public Works Loans Act, 1875, subject to the following provisions :—

- (a) Any such advance may be made whether the body or proprietor receiving the same has or has not power to borrow on mortgage or otherwise, independently of this Act ; but nothing in this Act shall repeal or alter any regulation, statutory or otherwise, whereby any company may be restricted from borrowing until a definite portion of capital is subscribed for, taken, or paid up.
- (b) The period for the repayment of the sums advanced shall not exceed forty years.
- (c) No money shall be advanced on mortgage of any land or dwellings solely, unless the estate therein proposed to be mortgaged shall be either an estate in fee simple, or an estate for a term of years absolute, whereof not less than fifty years shall be unexpired at the date of the advance.
- (d) The money advanced on the security of a mortgage of any land or dwellings solely shall not exceed one moiety of the value, to be ascertained to the satisfaction of the Public Works Loan Commissioners, of the estate or interest in such land or dwellings proposed to be mortgaged ; but advances may be made by instalments from time to time as the building of the dwellings on the land mortgaged progresses, so that the total advance do not at any time exceed the amount aforesaid ; and a mortgage may be accordingly made to secure such advances so to be made from time to time.

Act.

Paragraph (d). Seventy-five per cent. instead of one moiety, under the special conditions of sections 20 (2) (c) and 21 of the 1919 Act. See also section 4 (1) of the 1909 Act.

(3.) For the purpose of constructing or improving or facilitating or encouraging the construction or improvement of dwellings for the working classes, every such body as aforesaid is hereby authorised to purchase, take, and hold land, and if not already a body corporate shall, for the purpose of holding such land under this part of this Act, and of suing and being sued in respect thereof, be nevertheless deemed a body corporate with perpetual succession.

This provision removes the difficulty of conveying to trustees for the bodies mentioned, who may be frequently changed. It also removes difficulties which might arise under the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888. See also the Working Classes Dwellings Act, 1890, page 254.

68. Any railway company, or dock or harbour company or any other company, society, or association, established for trading or manufacturing purposes in the course of whose business or in the discharge of whose duties persons of the working class are employed, may and are hereby (notwithstanding any Act of Parliament, or charter, or any rule of law or equity to the contrary) authorised at any time to erect, either on their own land or on any other land (which they are hereby authorised to purchase and hold for the purpose, and to pay for out of any funds at their disposal), dwellings for the accommodation of all or any of the persons of the working class employed by them.

72. Where an official representation made to the London County Council in pursuance of Part I of this Act relates to not more than ten houses, the London County Council shall not take any proceedings on such representation, but shall direct the medical officer of health making the same to represent the case to the local authority under Part II of this Act, and it shall be Official representation . . . Part I. See sections 4, 5 and 16 hereof. But though the Metropolitan Borough Council must then Act, the London County Council may contribute towards the payment of the expenses —section 46 (7) hereof.

73. (1.) In either of the following cases :

- (a) Where a medical officer of health has represented to any local authority in the county of London under Part II of this Act that any dwelling-houses are in a condition so dangerous or injurious to health, as to be unfit for human habitation, or that the pulling down of any obstructive buildings would be expedient, and such authority resolve that the case of such dwelling-houses or buildings is of such general importance to the county of London that it should be dealt with by a scheme under Part I of this Act ; or
- (b) Where an official representation as mentioned in Part I of this Act has been made to the London County Council in relation to any houses, courts, or alleys within a certain area, and that council resolve that the case of such houses, courts, or alleys is not of general importance to the county of London and should be dealt with under Part II of this Act ; such local authority or council may submit such resolution to a Secretary of State, and thereupon the Secretary of State may appoint an arbitrator, and direct him to hold a local inquiry, and such arbitrator shall hold such inquiry, and report to the Secretary of State as to whether, having regard to the size of the area, to the number of houses to be dealt with, to the position, structure, and sanitary condition of such houses, and of the neighbourhood thereof, and to the provisions of Part I of this Act, the case is either wholly or partially of any and what importance to the county of London, with power to such arbitrator to report that in the event of the case being dealt with under Part II of this Act, the London County Council ought to make a contribution in respect of the expense of dealing with the case.

(2.) The Secretary of State, after considering the report of the arbitrator, may, according as to him seems just, decide that the case shall be dealt with either under Part II of this Act, or under Part I of this Act, and the medical officer of health or other proper officer shall forthwith make the representation necessary for proceedings in accordance with such decision.

For "Secretary of State" read the Minister of Health.

Paragraph (a). The representation is made under sections 30 and 38 hereof.

Paragraph (b). The representation is evidently made under sections 5 and 16 hereof, though the words there used are not those here used—note also that the words of paragraph (b) of section 4 hereof are not here repeated.

Local inquiry. See section 85 hereof.

Contribution in respect of the expense. See section 46 (7) hereof.

Generally. Normally a Part II scheme will be done at the expense of the Metropolitan borough council concerned, while a Part I scheme will be at the expense of the London County Council. The provisions of section 46 (5), (6) and (7) and section 14 of the 1903 Act help to deal with the difficulties which may thus arise, and may be sufficient without recourse to this section.

Amendment of 45 &
46 Vict. c. 38.
as regards erection of buildings for working classes.

74. (1.) The Settled Land Act, 1882, shall be amended as follows :—

(a) Any sale, exchange, or lease of land in pursuance of the said Act, when made for the purpose of the erection on such land of dwellings for the working classes, may be made at such price, or for such consideration, or for such rent, as having regard to the said purpose, and to all the circumstances of the case, is the best that can be reasonably obtained, notwithstanding that a higher price, consideration, or rent might have been obtained if the land were sold, exchanged, or leased for another purpose.

(b) The improvements on which capital money arising under the Settled Land Act, 1882, may be expended enumerated in section twenty-five of the said Act, and referred to in section thirty of the said Act, shall, in addition to cottages for labourers, farm servants, and artizans whether employed on the settled land or not, include the provision of dwellings available for the working classes, either by means of building new buildings or by means of the reconstruction, enlargement, or improvement of existing buildings, so as to make them available for the purpose, if that provision of dwellings is, in the opinion of the court, not injurious to the estate, or is agreed to by the tenant for life and the trustees of the settlement.

(2.) Any body corporate holding land may sell, exchange, or lease the land for the purpose of the erection of dwellings for the working classes at such price, or for such consideration, or for such rent as having regard to the said purposes and to all the circumstances of the case is the best that can reasonably be obtained, notwithstanding that a higher price, consideration, Without this, municipal corporations, colleges, hospitals and other corporate bodies holding lands upon trust could not sell except at the best market price.

Condition to be implied on letting houses for the working classes.

c. 41.

75. In any contract made after the fourteenth day of August one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five for letting for habitation by persons of the working classes a house or part of a house, there shall be implied a condition that the house is at the commencement of the holding in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation. In this section the expression "letting for habitation by persons of the working classes" means the letting for habitation of a house or part of a house at a rent not exceeding in England the sum named as the limit for the composition of rates by section three of the Poor Rate Assessment and Collection Act, 1869, and in Scotland or Ireland four pounds.

This has been extended by section 12 of the 1903 Act, which provides that the present section shall, as respects any contract made after 14th August 1903, take effect notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, &c. See also sections 14 and 15 of the 1909 Act, by which the rateable values named in the quoted Act (£20 in the Metropolis, £13 in Liverpool, £10 Manchester and Birmingham, and £8 elsewhere) are materially extended. But in practice these provisions are largely ineffective to secure good repair, and the remedy will be rather that (to require repairs) given to local authorities by section 28 of the 1919 Act. Where the text applies the tenant can recover damages for breach of the implied condition and can repudiate the contract—see Walker v. Hobbs, 23 Q.B.D. 458.

Weekly tenancies do not expire each week-end without notice—Bowen v. Anderson [1894] 1 Q.B. 164.

If part of a house is let at a rent within the limits fixed, apparently the implied condition will extend to s. 75 (90). the whole house.

A house for which no rent is paid is not within the section.

Rent is not defined, and there is nothing to indicate whether rent which includes rates, &c., is to be taken as the rent.

Reasonably fit for human habitation. These words are not defined, but section 26 (1) of the 1919 Act may be taken as a standard. There are also many decided cases touching on the subject, the leading ones being Walker v. Hobbs [1889] 23 Q.B.D. 458, and Ryall v. Kidwell [1913] 3 K.B. 123, affirmed [1914] 30 T.L.R. 503.

76. (1.) The London County Council may, with the consent of a Secretary of State, at any time appoint one or more legally qualified practitioner or practitioners, with such remuneration as they think fit, for the purpose of carrying into effect any part of this Act.

(2.) Any medical officer of health appointed by the London County Council, and any officer appointed under this section by the London County Council, shall be deemed to be a medical officer of health of a local authority within the meaning of this Act.

Closing Order, made under section 17 of the 1909 Act, subsection (5) whereof provides for a reasonable allowance on account of the tenant's expense in removing.

Generally. This section appears to cover the case where the local authority have purchased the building and are terminating the tenancy by notice to quit. They may make the tenant an allowance towards removal expenses. If they require him to quit before the notice expires he will usually be entitled to compensation—see section 121 of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845.

Duties of medical officer of health.

79. (1.) Anything which under Part I or Part II of this Act is authorised or required to be done by or to a medical officer of health may be done by or to any person authorised to act temporarily as such medical officer of health.

(2.) Every representation made by a medical officer of health in pursuance of this Act shall be in writing.

Temporarily. See section 26 hereof.

Representation. See sections 5, 30 and 38 hereof.

Writing includes "printing, lithography, photography, and other modes of representing or reproducing words in a visible form"—Interpretation Act, 1889, section 20.

Accounts
and audit.

80. (1.) Separate accounts shall be kept by the local authority and their officers of their receipts and expenditure under each part of this Act.

(2.) Such accounts shall be audited in the like manner and with the like power to the officer auditing the same, and with the like incidents and consequences, as the accounts of the local authority are for the time being required to be audited by law.

See also section 4 of the 1900 Act. For other accountancy matters—see sections 24, 42, 44, and 65 hereof, and section 31 of the 1909 Act. There are also references S. 80 (90). thereto in the 1919 Act, notably section 7.

Audited. By district auditors—see section 71 of the Local Government Act, 1888, and, as regards Metropolitan boroughs, section 14 of the London Government Act, 1899.

81. *For the purposes of this Act, a local authority acting under this Act may appoint so many persons as they may think fit, for any purposes of this Act which in the opinion of such authority would be better regulated and managed by means of a committee: Provided that a committee so appointed shall consist as to a majority of its members of members of the appointing local authority and shall in no case be authorised to borrow any money, or to make any rate, and shall be subject to any regulations and restrictions which may be imposed by the authority that formed it.

c. 55.

84. With respect to byelaws authorised by this Act to be made—

(a) sections two hundred and two and two hundred and three of the Metropolis Management Act, 1855, where such byelaws are made by the London County Council, or any nuisance authority in the administrative county of London ; and

(b) the provisions of the Public Health Act, 1875, relating to byelaws, where such byelaws are made by a sanitary authority, shall apply to such byelaws, and a fine or penalty under any such byelaws may be recovered on summary conviction.

See further as to byelaws—section 62 hereof, and sections 24 and 26 of the 1919 Act.

Paragraph (a). The quoted sections empower any Metropolitan borough council to make byelaws, which must be confirmed at a subsequent meeting and by a Secretary of State, and provide for publication, &c.

Paragraph (b). The provisions referred to are contained in sections 182–187 of the quoted Act : the byelaws must be confirmed by the Ministry, printed and published, &c.

See section 90 hereof as to recovery of fine.

Local
inquiries.

85. *(1.) For the purposes of the execution of their powers and duties under this Act the Local Government Board may cause such local inquiries to be held as the Board see fit, and the costs incurred in relation to any such local inquiry, and to the local inquiry which any other confirming authority holds or causes to be held, including the salary or remuneration of any inspector or s. 85 (90). officer of or person employed by the Board or confirming authority engaged in the inquiry, shall be paid by the local authorities and persons concerned in the inquiry, or by such of them and in such proportions as the Board or confirming authority may direct, and that Board or authority may certify the amount of the costs incurred, and any sum so certified and directed by that Board or authority to be paid by any local authority or person shall be a debt to the Crown from such local authority or person.

(2.) Sections two hundred and ninety-three to two hundred and ninety-six and section two hundred and ninety-eight of the Public Health Act, 1875, shall apply for the purpose of any order to be made by the Local Government Board or any local inquiry which that Board cause to be held in pursuance of any part of this Act.

The words printed in italics, though not repealed, are now spent—section 2, 1903 Act.

Local inquiries may be held under sections 8 (3), 31 (2) and 39 (3) hereof, and sections 2 (1), 10 (1) and the First Schedule, paragraph (6), of the 1909 Act. Usually there is an inquiry under the procedure adopted by the Ministry under section 39 of the 1909 Act. But by section 11 (3) of the 1919 Act an inquiry may be dispensed with within two years of 31st July 1919, where otherwise it would be required under section 2 (1) and the First Schedule, paragraph (6), of the 1909 Act.

The inquiry made under section 16 hereof is also by section 26 of the 1909 Act, one of the local inquiries dealt with in the present section.

Sections 293–296 and 298 of the Public Health Act, 1875, are as follows:—

293. “The Local Government Board may from time to time cause to be made such inquiries as are directed by this Act, and such inquiries as they see fit in relation to any

294. "The Local Government Board may make orders as to the costs of inquiries or proceedings instituted by, or of appeals to, the said Board under this Act, and as to the parties by whom the rates out of which such costs shall be borne ; and any such order may be made a rule of one of the superior courts of law on the application of the person named."

295. "All orders made by the Local Government Board in pursuance of this Act shall be binding and conclusive in respect of the matters to which they refer, and shall be published in such manner as that Board may direct."

296. "Inspectors of the Local Government Board shall, for the purposes of any inquiry directed by the Board, have in relation to witnesses and their examination, the production of papers and accounts, and the inspection of places and matters required to be inspected, similar powers to those which poor law inspectors have under the Acts relating to the relief of the poor for purposes of those Acts."

298. "The reasonable costs of any local inquiry in respect of provisional orders made in pursuance of this Act and of the inquiry preliminary thereto, as sanctioned by the Local Government Board, whether in promoting or opposing the same, shall be deemed to be expenses properly incurred for purposes of this Act by the local authority interested in or affected by such provisional orders, and such costs shall be paid accordingly, and if thought expedient by the Local Government Board, the local authority may contract a loan for the purpose of defraying such costs.

Orders, notices, &c.

86. (1.) An order in writing made by a local authority under this Act shall be under their seal and authenticated by the signature of their clerk or his lawful deputy.

(2.) A notice, demand, or other written document proceeding from the local authority under this Act shall be signed by their clerk or his lawful deputy.

In writing. See note to section 79 hereof.

A Notice, &c., does not require sealing.

Service of notice, &c., on the local authority.

87. Any notice, summons, writ or other proceeding at law or otherwise required to be served on a local authority in relation to carrying into effect the objects or purposes of this Act, or any of them, may be served S. 87 (90). upon that authority by delivering the same to their clerk, or leaving the same at his office with some person employed there.

By section 13 (2) of the 1903 Act, it may be sent by registered post.

For service by the local authority—see sections 7, 39 and 49 hereof and section 13 (1) of the 1903 Act.

88. (1.) A person shall not vote as member of a local authority or county council or any committee thereof upon any resolution or question which is proposed or arises in pursuance of Part I or Part II *or Part III of this Act, if it relates to any dwelling house, building, or land in which he is beneficially interested.

authority.

(2.) If any person votes in contravention of this section he shall, on summary conviction, be liable for each offence to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds; but the fact of his giving the vote shall not invalidate any resolution or proceeding of the local authority or county council.

Note also section 17 of the 1919 Act.

See section 90 as to recovery of fine. The information may be laid by anyone—R. v. Stewart [1896] 1 Q.B. 300 at page 303.

89. *Where any person obstructs the medical officer of health, or any officer of the local authority, or of the confirming authority mentioned in Part I of this Act, or any person authorised to enter dwelling-houses, premises, or buildings in pursuance of this Act, in the performance of anything which such officer, authority or person is by this Act required or authorised to do, he shall, on summary conviction, be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds.

Penalty for obstructing the execution of Act.

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, section 46 and 2nd schedule.

This part of the Act being supplemental the present section applies to all the parts (see the remarks of Lord Reading in Arlidge v. Scarse [1915] 2 K.B. 333), but there is also a special provision for penalty for preventing execution of Part II, in section 51 hereof. The present section and section 51 are thus in some cases alternative, e.g. where an owner prevents the entrance of a duly authorised person for survey under section 36 of the 1909 Act, an order may be obtained under section 51 hereof or a penalty under the present section (Arlidge v. Scarse, above, which see also as to the owner's responsibility for the tenant's obstruction). It will be noticed that under section 51 the first procedure is for an order and that it is only on failure to comply therewith within ten days that the fine is imposed.

Sections 15, 17 (4), 68 (4) and 70 of the 1909 Act should also be noticed.

Authorised to enter. See section 36 of the 1909 Act.

Fine. For recovery—see section 90 hereof.

(Punishment of offences and recovery of fines.)

90. Offences under this Act punishable on summary conviction may be prosecuted and fines recovered in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

Summary Jurisdiction Acts. In England, the Summary Jurisdiction Acts of 1848 and 1879 and any amending Acts—see definition in the Interpretation Act, 1889. The chief amending Act is the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1884.

In London the fines will be recovered before a police magistrate; elsewhere before a stipendiary magistrate or two justices.

By section 71 hereof any fine for the breach of byelaws is paid to the credit therein mentioned. Other fines are to be paid as directed by the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1848, section 31, or the Metropolitan Police Courts Act, 1839, section 47.

(Powers of Act to be cumulative.)

91. All powers given by this Act shall be deemed to be in addition to and not in derogation of any other powers conferred by Act of Parliament, law, or custom, and such other powers may be exercised in the same manner as if this Act had not passed, and nothing in this Act shall exempt any person from any penalty to S. 91 (90). which he would have been subject if this Act had not passed.

Provided that a local authority shall not, by reason of any local Act relating to a place within its jurisdiction, be exempted from the performance of any duty or obligation to which such authority are subject under any part of this Act.

But see section 33 of the Interpretation Act, 1889, as to two punishments for one offence.

The chief advantage of the present section is that it permits local authorities to proceed, as some of them prefer to do, under the Public Health Acts or local Acts. See also Hall v. Manchester Corporation [1915] 79 J.P. 395.

REPEAL AND TEMPORARY PROVISIONS

Repeal of Acts.

102.* (1.) Where the Labouring Classes Lodging Houses Acts, 1851 to 1885, have been adopted in any district, that adoption shall be deemed to be an adoption of Part III of this Act, and this Act shall apply accordingly.

* As altered by the Statute Law Revision Act, 1908.

(2.) Any officer appointed under any enactment hereby repealed shall continue and be deemed to be appointed under this Act. S. 102 (90).

(3.) Any dwelling houses acquired by the local authority under the Artizans Dwellings Acts, 1868 to 1885, and vested in them at the commencement of this Act, shall be held by such local authority as if they had been acquired under the provisions of Part III of this Act, and any land or premises other than dwelling houses so acquired and held by them at the commencement of this Act shall be held as if the same had been acquired as a site of an obstructive building in pursuance of Part II of this Act, but may with the consent of the authority authorised by the said part of this Act to consent to the sale of land so acquired be appropriated for the purposes of Part III of this Act.

103. The provisions of this Act relating to compensation, to the power of the local authority to enter and value premises, to the compensation of tenants for expense of removal, shall be applicable in the case of all improvement schemes which have been confirmed by Act of Parliament during the session in which this Act is passed.

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 2nd schedule.

Note

1st Sch. (90).

In any case in the United Kingdom where an urban sanitary authority does not levy a borough rate or any general district rate, but is empowered by a local Act or Acts to borrow money and to levy a rate or rates throughout the whole of their district for purposes similar to those or to some of those for which a general district rate is leviable, it shall be lawful for such sanitary authority to defray the expenses incurred in the execution of Part III of this Act by means of money to be borrowed, and a rate or rates to be levied, under such Local Act or Acts.

Urban sanitary district. Now urban district. The authority is the borough council or the urban district council—see the Local Government Act, 1894, section 21. The rate will be the general district rate ; or, in boroughs, the borough rate or a rate under a local Act—see sections 27 and 210 of the Public Health Act, 1875. See also footnote to the schedule.

County of London. See also section 41 of the 1919 Act. As to the county fund—see section 78 of the Local Government Act, 1881.

(2.) For the purposes of Part II. In effect this now disappears, and the following should be added to (3) :—

A Metropolitan borough	The borough council	The general rate of the borough
------------------------	---------------------	------------------------------------

The vestries, &c., have been displaced by the Metropolitan borough councils and the latter have power concurrently with the London County Council for Part III purposes—London Government Act, 1899. See also section 3 of the 1900 Act, page 272, and, particularly, section 41 of the 1919 Act, page 444.

Rural Sanitary district. Now rural district, and the authority is the rural district council—Local 2nd Sch. (90). Government Act, 1894, section 21. As to the rate mentioned—see sections 229 and 230 of the Public Health Act, 1875, and section 31 of the 1909 Act.

SECOND SCHEDULE

Section 20. PROVISIONS WITH RESPECT TO THE PURCHASE AND TAKING OF LANDS IN ENGLAND OTHERWISE THAN BY AGREEMENT, AND OTHERWISE AMENDING THE LANDS CLAUSES ACTS.

Note

The Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, which is printed on page 495, should be read in connection with the subject dealt with in this schedule. Section 1 (1) of that Act provides that where by or under any statute land is authorised to be acquired compulsorily by any local authority, any question of disputed compensation, &c., shall be referred to and determined by an arbitrator selected in accordance with rules from the panel of official arbitrators. But section 7 (1) proviso enacts that nothing in that Act relating to the rules for assessing compensation shall affect any special provisions as to the assessment of the value of land acquired for the purposes of Part I or Part II of this (the 1890) Act, if and so far as the provisions herein are inconsistent with those rules; and it adds that the provisions of the present schedule, as amended “(except paragraphs (4), (5), (29) and (31) thereof) shall apply to an official arbitrator as they apply to an arbitrator appointed under that schedule, and an official arbitrator may exercise all the powers conferred by those provisions on such arbitrator.”

This schedule amends the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts as incorporated by section 20 hereof.

Deposit of Maps and Plans

1-4, 38 & 39
Act. o. 36.
Sch. (1.) The local authority shall before making an application for the appointment of an arbitrator as herein-after mentioned cause to be made out, and to be signed by their clerk or some other principal officer 2nd Sch. (90) appointed by them, maps and schedules of all lands proposed to be taken compulsorily (which lands are herein-after referred to as the scheduled lands), together with the names, so far as the same can be reasonably ascertained, of all persons interested in such lands as owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, or occupiers, except tenants for a month or a less period than a month.

See sections 6 and 8 hereof and notes thereto. As to interests omitted by error—see paragraph (13) of this schedule. As to application for appointment of arbitrator—see paragraphs (4) and (6) below.

(2.) The maps made by the local authority shall be upon such scale and be framed in such manner as may be prescribed by the confirming authority.

(3.) The local authority shall deposit such maps and schedules at the office of the confirming authority, and shall deposit and keep copies of such maps and schedules at the office of the local authority.

The confirming authority is the Ministry of Health—see section 8 hereof.

Appointment of Arbitrator

(4.) After such deposit at the office of the confirming authority as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the confirming authority, upon the application of the local authority, to appoint an arbitrator between the local authority, and the persons interested in such of the scheduled lands, or lands injuriously affected by the execution of such scheme, so far as compensation for the same *is not made the subject of agreement.

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 2nd schedule.

2nd Sch. (90). But see now the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, or note at head of this schedule, as to the arbitrator.

There is no provision as to undue delay in the application by the local authority, but it is their duty to purchase the land when the order has been made—see section 12 and notes thereto. See also the remarks of Blackburn, J., in Birch v. St. Marylebone Vestry [1869] 20 L.T., at page 701. There are other proceedings before application—paragraph (6) below.

As to the “lands injuriously affected”—see section 22 hereof.

The alteration affected in the concluding words of the paragraph, namely, “is not made” for “has not been made,” apparently contemplates negotiations for agreement up to a late stage in the proceedings.

Proceedings on Arbitration

45 & 46 Vict.
c. 54. Sch.
(1.) a-f.

(5.) Before any arbitrator enters upon any inquiry he shall, in the presence of a justice of the peace, make and subscribe the following declaration ; that is to say,

“ I A.B. do solemnly and sincerely declare, that I will faithfully and honestly, and to the best of my ability, hear and determine the matters referred to me under the provisions of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890.

A.B.

“ Made and subscribed in the presence of . . . ”
And such declaration shall be annexed to the award when made ; and if any arbitrator, having made such declaration wilfully act contrary thereto, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. .

But see now the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, section 7 (1) proviso, or note at head of this schedule.

(6.) As soon as an arbitrator has been appointed as aforesaid, the confirming authority shall deliver to him the maps and schedules deposited at their office. 2nd Sch. (90).

 Before applying to the arbitrator to determine the compensation in respect of any particular lands or interest therein, the local authority shall send a notice by post of their intention to the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, so far as they can be reasonably ascertained. 42 & 43 Vict. c. 63. Sch. Art. 1.

Notice by post. See section 7 hereof and paragraph (32) below.

(7.) In every case in which compensation is payable under Part I of this Act, by the local authority to any claimant, and which compensation has not been made the subject of agreement (in this Act referred to as "a disputed case"), the arbitrator * after hearing all such parties interested in each disputed case as may appear before him at a time and place of which notice has been given as in Part I of this Act mentioned, shall proceed to decide on the amount of compensation to which he may consider the claimant to be entitled in each case.

In which compensation is payable. See sections 21 and 22 hereof.

As in Part I. Section 18 hereof, now repealed.

The arbitrator is not entitled to know the amount offered by the local authority—see paragraph (30) below.

(8.) *The arbitrator shall give notice to the claimants in disputed cases of a time and place at which the difference between the claimants and the local authority will be decided by the arbitrator.

As to such notice—see paragraph (32) below.

(9.) After the arbitrator has arrived at a decision on all the disputed cases brought before him he shall make

See section 6 of the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, as to stating a special case for the opinion of the High Court ; and further as to finality—see Ex parte Strabane Rural District Council [1910] 1 I.R. 135.

As to irregularity—see Carr v. Metropolitan Board of Works [1880] 14 Ch.D. 807.

(10.) Such award as aforesaid shall be deposited at the office of the confirming authority, and a copy thereof shall be deposited at the office of the local authority. The title in the case of a person claiming a fee simple interest in any lands included in any such award as aforesaid shall commence twenty years previous to the date of the claim, except there has been an absolute conveyance on sale within twenty years, and more than ten years previous to the claim when the title shall commence with such conveyance : Provided that the local authority shall not be prevented if they think fit from requiring at their own expense any further abstract or evidence of title respecting any lands included in any such award as aforesaid in addition to the title herein-before mentioned.

The proviso at the end, which was added by the 1919 Act, takes the place of paragraph (22).

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 2nd schedule.

Special Powers of Arbitration

2nd Sch. (90).

(11.) The arbitrator shall have the same power of apportioning any rent-service rentcharge, chief or other rent, payment, or incumbrance, or any rent payable in respect of lands comprised in a lease, as two justices have under the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845.

*Power of arbitrator as to apportionment.
42 & 43 Vict. c. 63. Sch.(2).*

See sections 116 and 119 of that Act.

(12.) Notwithstanding anything in section ninety-two of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, the arbitrator may determine that such part of any house, building, or manufactory as is proposed to be taken by the local authority can be taken without material damage to such house, building, or manufactory, and if he so determine may award compensation in respect of the severance of the part so proposed to be taken, in addition to the value of that part, and thereupon the party interested shall be required to sell and convey to the local authority such part, without the local authority being obliged to purchase the greater part or the whole of such house, building, or manufactory.*

Amendment respecting severance of properties, 8 & 9 Vict. c. 18. 42 & 43 Vict. c. 63. Sch.(3).

If the arbitrator is satisfied that the failure or omission to purchase the said estate, right, interest, or charge, arose from any default on the part either of the claimant or of the local authority, he may direct the costs to be paid by the party so in default.

The quoted section deals with interests not acquired by the promoters before entering upon the lands.

Payment of Purchase Money

Arts. 14-24.
See 38 & 39
Vict. c. 36.
Sch.

(14.) Within thirty days from the delivery of *a statement in writing by any person claiming any right to or interest in the lands and an abstract of title on which the same is founded to the local authority, the local authority shall, where it appears to them that any person so claiming is absolutely entitled to the lands, estate, or interest claimed by him, deliver to such person, on demand, a certificate stating the amount of the compensation to which he is entitled under the said award.

See also paragraph (23).

(15.) Every such certificate shall be prepared by and at the cost of the local authority ; and where any agreement has been entered into as to the compensation payable in respect of the interest of any person in any lands, the local authority may, where it appears to them that such person is absolutely entitled, deliver to such person a like certificate.

Any lands. Only those compulsorily acquired (paragraph 1), as others do not come under the arbitration.

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 2nd schedule.

(16.) The local authority shall, thirty days after 2nd Sch. (90) demand, pay to the party to whom any such certificate is given, or otherwise as herein provided in the cases herein-after mentioned, the amount of moneys specified to be payable by such certificate to the party to whom or in whose favour such certificate is given, his or her executors, administrators, or assigns.

Herein-after mentioned. Paragraphs (20) and (21).

(17.) If the local authority wilfully make default in such payment as aforesaid, then the party named in such certificate shall be entitled to enter up judgment against the local authority in the High Court, for the amount of the sums specified in such certificate, in the same manner in all respects as if he had been, by warrant of attorney from the local authority, authorised to enter up judgment for the amount mentioned in the certificate, with costs, as is usual in like cases; and all moneys payable under such certificates, or to be recovered by such judgments as aforesaid, shall at law and in equity be taken as personal estate as from the time of the local authority entering on any such lands as aforesaid.

(18.) When and so soon as the local authority have paid to the party to whom any such certificate as aforesaid is given, or otherwise, as herein provided, in the cases herein-after mentioned, the amount specified to be payable by such certificate to the party to whom or in whose favour the certificate is given, his executors, administrators, or assigns, it shall be lawful for the local authority, upon obtaining such receipt as herein-after mentioned, from time to time to enter upon any lands in respect of which such certificate is given, and thenceforth to hold the same for the estate or interest 2nd Sch. (90). in respect of which the amount specified in such certificate was payable.

Or otherwise, as herein provided. Paid into the bank—paragraphs (20) and (21). See also in Re Shaw and the Corporation of Birmingham [1884] 27 Ch.D., at page 619.

Receipt. See the next paragraph.

(19.) In every case in which any moneys are paid by any local authority under this Act for such compensation as aforesaid, the party receiving such moneys shall give to the local authority a receipt for the same, and such receipt shall have the effect of a grant, release, and conveyance of all the estate and interest of such party, and of all parties claiming under or through him, in the lands in respect of which such moneys are paid, provided such receipt has an ad valorem stamp of the same amount impressed thereon in respect of the purchase moneys mentioned in such certificate as would have been necessary if such receipt had been an actual conveyance of such estate or interest, every such receipt to be prepared by and at the cost of the local authority.

In every case. Including, presumably, that where the money is paid into the bank under paragraphs (20) and (21).

Such compensation. Under paragraphs (14) and (15) above.

Receipt. Obviously this should identify the lands, &c., in respect of which it is given. The costs are recovered independently and need not have been paid before this receipt is given—paragraph (29).

(20.) If it appears to the local authority, from any such statement and abstract as aforesaid, or otherwise, that the person making any such claim as aforesaid is not absolutely entitled to the lands, estate, or interest in respect of which his claim is made, or is under any disability, or if the title to such lands, estate, or interest 2nd Sch. (90). be not satisfactorily deduced to the local authority, then and in every such case the amount to be paid by the local authority in respect of such lands, estate, or interest as aforesaid shall be paid and applied as provided by the clauses of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, as amended by the Court of Chancery Funds Act, 1872, "with respect to the purchase money or compensation coming to parties having limited interests, or prevented from treating, or not making title."

Statement and Abstract. See paragraph (14).

The effect of this paragraph is that the money can be paid into Court (see paragraph 21); but note the alternative in section 5 of the 1909 Act, where one local authority is acquiring from another local authority.

Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845. See sections 69–80 thereof, and, as to costs, &c., note Ex parte Jones [1880] 14 Ch.D. 624.

Chancery Funds Act, 1872. This has been amended by the Supreme Court of Judicature (Funds) Act, 1883, and as to the procedure in the Paymaster-General's office—see the Supreme Court Fund Rules.

(21.) Where any person claiming any right or interest in any lands refuses to produce his title to the same, or where the local authority have under the provisions of Part I of this Act taken possession of any lands in respect of the compensation whereof, or of any estate or interest wherein, no claim has been made within one year from the time of the local authority taking possession, or if any party to whom any such certificate has been given or tendered refuses to receive such certificate, or to accept the amount therein specified as payable to him, then and in any such case the amount payable by the local authority in respect of such lands, estate, or interest, or the amount specified in such certificate, shall be paid into the Bank of 2nd Sch.(90). England, in manner provided by the last-mentioned clauses of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, as amended by the Court of Chancery Funds Act, 1872, and the amount so paid into the said Bank shall be accordingly dealt with as by the said Act provided.

See notes to last paragraph, and also paragraphs (24) and (25).

Paragraph (22) is omitted per the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 2nd schedule.

(23.) If from any reason whatever the local authority does not deliver the certificate aforesaid to any party claiming to be entitled to any interest in any lands the possession whereof has been taken by the local authority as aforesaid, then the right to have a certificate according to the provisions of this Act may, at the cost and charge of the local authority, be enforced by any party or parties, by application to the High Court, in a summary way by petition, and all other rights and interests of any party or parties arising under the provisions of this Act may be in like manner enforced against the local authority by such application as aforesaid.

As to procedure hereunder—see the Judicature Act, 1884, section 13; and the Court of Chancery Act, 1855, section 16; and the Rules of the Supreme Court, Order 52, rules 16–18, and Order 55, rule 2 (7).

On other points arising—see Cork and Youghal Railway Company v. Harnett [1871] L.R. 5 H.L. 111; and Re Fishguard and Rosslare Railways, &c. [1908] 1 Ir. R. 321.

Entry on Lands on making Deposit

(24.) Where the local authority are desirous, for the purposes of their works, of entering upon any lands before they would be entitled to enter thereon under the provisions herein-before contained, it shall be lawful for the local authority, at any time after the arbitrator ^{2nd Sch. (90).} has framed his award, upon depositing in the Bank of England such sum as the arbitrator may certify to be in his opinion the proper amount to be so deposited in respect of any lands authorised to be purchased or taken by the local authority, and mentioned in such award, to enter upon and use such lands for the purposes of the improvement scheme of the local authority : and the arbitrator shall, upon the request of the local authority at any time after he has framed such award, certify under his hand the sum which, in his opinion, should be so deposited by the local authority in respect of any lands mentioned in such award before they enter upon and use the same as aforesaid, and the sum to be so certified shall be the sum or the amount of the several sums set forth in such award as the sum or sums to be paid by the local authority in respect of such lands, or such greater amount as to the arbitrator, under the circumstances of the case, may seem proper ; and, notwithstanding such entry as aforesaid, all proceedings for and in relation to the completion of the award, the delivery of certificates, and other proceedings under Part I of this Act, shall be had, and payments made, as if such entry and deposit had not been made ;

Provided that the local authority shall, where they enter upon any lands by virtue of this present provision, pay interest at the rate of five pounds per centum per annum upon the compensation money payable by them in respect of any lands so entered upon, from the time of their entry until the time of the payment of such money and interest to the party entitled thereto, or where, under the provisions of Part I of this Act, such compensation is required to be paid into the Bank of

Sch. (90). England, then until the same, with such interest, is paid into such Bank accordingly; and where under this provision interest is payable on any compensation money the certificate to be delivered by the local authority in respect thereof shall specify that interest is so payable, and the same shall be recoverable in like manner as the principal money mentioned in such certificate.

But notwithstanding this the local authority may enter to take down a dangerous building, on a magistrate's order—see Barnett v. Metropolitan Board of Works [1882] 46 L.T. 384. There is also a power of entry, for survey valuation, &c., given by section 36 of the 1909 Act. They may also enter with consent and as per the provisions of this paragraph. Entry otherwise will be actionable—see Birmingham and District Land Company v. London and North Western Railway Co. [1888] 40 Ch.D. 268.

See section 91 of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, as to obtaining possession, and section 89 hereof as to obstruction of the local authority's officer.

(25.) The money so deposited as last aforesaid shall be paid into the Bank of England to such account as may from time to time be directed by any regulation or Act for the time being in force in relation to moneys deposited in the bank in similar cases, or to such account as may be directed by any order of the High Court, and remain in the bank by way of security to the parties interested in the lands which have been so entered upon for the payment of the money to become payable by the local authority in respect thereof under the award of the arbitrator; and the money so deposited may, on the application by petition of the local authority, be ordered to be invested in Bank Annuities or Government securities, and accumulated: and upon such payment as aforesaid by the local authority it shall be lawful for the High Court, upon a like application, to order the 2nd Sch. (90) money so deposited, or the funds in which the same shall have been invested, together with the accumulation thereof, to be repaid or transferred to the local authority, or, in default of such payment as aforesaid by the local authority, it shall be lawful for the said court to order the same to be applied in such manner as it thinks fit for the benefit of the parties for whose security the same shall so have been deposited.

As to costs and the payment of money out of Court—see Ex parte Jones [1880] 14 Ch.D. 624.

Paragraphs (26) and (27) ("Appeal") are omitted, per the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 2nd schedule.

Costs of Arbitration

(28.) The salary or remuneration, travelling, and other expenses of the arbitrator, and all costs, charges, and expenses (if any) which may be incurred by the confirming authority in carrying the provisions of Part I of this Act into execution, shall, after the amount thereof shall have been certified under this article, be paid by the local authority ; and the amount of such costs, charges, and expenses shall from time to time be certified by the confirming authority after first hearing any objections that may be made to the reasonableness of any such costs, charges, and expenses by or on behalf of the local authority ; and every certificate of the said confirming authority certifying the amount of such costs, charges, and expenses shall be taken as proof in all proceedings at law or in equity of the amount of such respective costs, charges, and expenses, and the Further, any such certificate may be made a rule of a superior court on the application of any party named therein, and may be enforced accordingly.

See also sections 8 (8) and (9), 16 and 85 hereof.

(29.) (1.) It shall be lawful for the arbitrator, where he thinks fit, upon the request of any party by whom any claim has been made before him, to certify the amount of the costs properly incurred by such party in relation to the arbitration, and the amount of the costs so certified shall be paid by the local authority ;

Provided that—

See 45 & 46
Vict. c. 54.
Sch. (I).

- (a) The arbitrator shall not be required to certify the amount of costs in any case where he considers such costs are not properly payable by the local authority ;
- (b) The arbitrator shall not be required to certify the amount of costs incurred by any party in relation to the arbitration, in any case where he considers that such party neglected, after due notice from the local authority, to deliver to that authority a statement in writing within such time, and containing such particulars respecting the compensation claimed, as would have enabled the local authority to make a proper offer of compensation to such party before the appointment of the arbitrator.
- (c) No certificate shall be given where the arbitrator has awarded the same or a less sum than has been offered by the local authority in respect of the of the arbitration in that particular case.*

(2.) If within seven days after demand the amount certified be not paid to the party entitled to receive the same, such amount shall be recoverable as a debt from the local authority with interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum for any time during which the same remains unpaid after such seven days as aforesaid.

But see sections 5 and 7 (1) proviso of the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919.

Miscellaneous

(30.) The arbitrator may call for the production of any documents other than any formal offer made by the local authority in the possession or power of the local authority, or of any party making any claim under the provisions of Part I of this Act, which such arbitrator may think necessary for determining any question or matter to be determined by him under Part I of this Act, and may examine any such party and his witnesses, and the witnesses for the local authority, on oath, and administer the oaths necessary for that purpose.

(31.) If any arbitrator appointed in pursuance of Part I of this Act die, or refuse, decline, or become incapable to act, the confirming authority may appoint an arbitrator in his place, who shall have the same powers and authorities as the arbitrator first appointed ; and upon the appointment of any arbitrator in the place of an arbitrator dying, or refusing, declining, or becoming incapable to act, all the documents relating to

But see the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, section 7 (1) proviso.

(32.) All notices required by this schedule to be published shall be published in *a newspaper circulating within the jurisdiction of the local authority, and where no other form of service is prescribed all notices required to be served or given by the local authority under this schedule or otherwise upon any persons interested in or entitled to sell lands, shall be served in manner in which notices of lands proposed to be taken compulsorily for the purpose of an improvement scheme are directed by Part I of this Act to be served upon owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, and occupiers.

WORKING CLASSES DWELLINGS ACT, 1890

[53 & 54 VICT. CH. 16.]

An Act to facilitate Gifts of Land for Dwellings for the Working Classes in Populous Places.

[25th July 1890.]

BE it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

Exemption from 51 & 52 Vict.
c. 42.
Parts I, II,
& 7 & 8 Vict.
c. 97. s. 16.
of gifts for working classes dwellings.

1. Parts I and II of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888, and section sixteen of the Act of the session held in the seventh and eighth years of Her present Majesty, chapter ninety-seven, intituled "An Act for the more effectual application of charitable donations and bequests in Ireland," shall not apply to any assurance, by deed or will, of land, or of personal estate to be laid out in land, for the purpose of providing dwellings for the working classes in any populous place.

Provided as follows :—

- (i.) The quantity of land which may be assured by will under this section shall not exceed five acres ; and
- (ii.) The deed or will containing the assurance must, within six months, in the case of a deed after the execution thereof, or in the case of a will after the probate thereof, be enrolled in the books of the Charity Commissioners, if the land is situate in England or Wales, and the deed containing the assurance must, within six months after the execution thereof, be registered in the office for registering deeds in the city of Dublin, if the land is situate in Ireland.

For the purposes of this Act, the expression "populous place" means the administrative county of London, any municipal borough, any urban sanitary district, and any other place having a dense population of an urban character.

2. This Act shall extend to any assurance by deed made within twelve months before the passing of this Act by a person alive at that passing as if it had been made after the passing, except that the assurance shall be enrolled or registered as aforesaid within six months after the passing of this Act.

3. (1.) This Act may be cited as the Working Classes Dwellings Act, 1890.

(2.) Expressions used in this Act shall have the same meaning as in the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888.

Application
of Act.

Short title and construction.

51 & 52 Vict.
c. 42.

Note

By section 8 of the 1909 Act, it is provided that "a local authority may accept a donation of land or money or other property for any of the purposes of the Housing Acts, and it shall not be necessary to enrol any assurance with respect to any such property under the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888."

In Re Sutton, Lewis v. Sutton [1901] 2 Ch. 640, Buckley, J., expressed the opinion that the present Act did not apply to a case where money had been left to buy land and erect houses for the purpose of supplying the poor with dwelling houses at less than their value. In the same case it was held that the bequest was valid and was not affected by section 7 of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891, which amended the above quoted Act of 1888.

HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES ACT, 1894. [57 & 58 VICT. CH. 55]

An Act to explain the provisions of Part II of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, with respect to powers of borrowing. [25th August 1894.]

BE it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

Borrowing
powers under a scheme for reconstruction.
c. 70.

1. For any purpose for which a local authority are, by a scheme for reconstruction duly sanctioned under Part II of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, or by the order sanctioning the scheme, authorised to borrow, the authority shall have power and shall be deemed always to have had power to borrow in like manner and subject to the like conditions as they may borrow under section forty-three of that Act, for the purpose of raising the sums required for the purchase money or compensation therein mentioned, and sections forty-three and forty-six of that Act shall apply accordingly.

2. This Act may be cited as the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1894.

The purpose of this Act is to permit the local authority to borrow for any purpose of a Part II reconstruction scheme, authorised by the scheme or the sanctioning order. By the sections mentioned they had power to borrow only for the purpose of raising the purchase money or the compensation.

SCHEDULES.

An Act to empower Local Authorities to advance Money for enabling Persons to acquire the Ownership of Small Houses in which they reside.

[9th August 1899.]

Note

By section 49 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919 (see page 453), certain amendments are made in this Act, and are noted in the text below. The same section further provides that a receipt under seal in the form set out in Part I of the Fourth Schedule to that Act (see page 463) endorsed on . . . a mortgage for money advanced under this Act . . . shall without any reconveyance, &c., operate as a discharge of the mortgaged property, &c. The receipt shall not be liable to stamp duty, and shall be granted free of cost.

While money is so difficult to raise, it is possible that full advantage will not be taken of this Act, which is a valuable and useful one, but it is to be hoped that eventually it will be generally used.

BE it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

Power of local authority to advance money to residents in houses for the purchase of houses.

1. (1.) A local authority for any area may, subject to the provisions of this Act, advance money to a resident in any house within the area for the purpose of enabling him to acquire the ownership of that house ; provided that any advance shall not exceed—

(a) *eighty-five per cent. of that which in the opinion of the local authority is the market value of the ownership ; nor and an advance shall not be made for the acquisition of the ownership of a house where in the opinion of the local authority the market value of the house exceeds *eight hundred pounds.

(2.) Every such advance shall be repaid with interest within such period not exceeding thirty years from the date of the advance as may be agreed upon.

(3.) The interest shall be at such rate as may be agreed upon, not exceeding ten shillings above the rate at which the local authority can at the time borrow from the Public Works Loan Commissioners the money for the advance.

(4.) The repayment may be made either by equal instalments of principal or by an annuity of principal and interest combined, and all payments on account of principal or interest shall be made either weekly or at any periods not exceeding a half year, according as may be agreed.

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, section 49.

(5.) The proprietor of a house in respect of which an advance has been made may at any of the usual quarter days, after one month's written notice, and on paying all sums due on account of interest, repay to the local authority the whole of the outstanding principal of the advance, or any part thereof being ten pounds or a multiple of ten pounds, and where the repayment is made by an annuity of principal and interest combined, the amount so outstanding and the amount by which the annuity will be reduced where a part of the advance is paid off, shall be determined by a table annexed to the instrument securing the repayment of the advance.

2. Before making an advance under this Act in respect of a house a local authority shall be satisfied—

Procedure for obtaining advance.

- (a) that the applicant for the advance is resident or intends to reside in the house, and is not already the proprietor within the meaning of this Act of a house to which the statutory conditions apply ; and
- (b) that the value of the ownership of the house is sufficient ; and
- (c) that the title to the ownership is one which an ordinary mortgagee would be willing to accept ; and
- (d) that the house is in good sanitary condition and good repair ; and
- (e) that the repayment to the local authority of the advance is secured by an instrument vesting the ownership (including any interest already held by the purchaser) in the local authority subject to the right of redemption by the applicant, but such instrument shall not contain anything inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

Conditions
house purchased by means of advance.

3. (1.) Where the ownership of a house has been acquired by means of an advance under this Act, the house shall, until such advance with interest has been fully paid, or the local authority have taken possession or ordered a sale under this Act, be held subject to the following conditions (in this Act referred to as the statutory conditions), that is to say :—

- (a) Every sum for the time being due in respect of principal or of interest of the advance shall be punctually paid :
 - (b) The proprietor of the house shall reside in the house :
 - (c) The house shall be kept insured against fire to the satisfaction of the local authority, and the receipts for the premiums produced when required by them :
 - (d) The house shall be kept in good sanitary condition and good repair :
 - (e) The house shall not be used for the sale of intoxicating liquors, or in such a manner as to be a nuisance to adjacent houses :
 - (f) The local authority shall have power to enter the house by any person, authorised by them in writing for the purpose, at all reasonable times for the purpose of ascertaining whether the statutory conditions are complied with.
- (2.) The proprietor of the house may with the permission of the local authority (which shall not be unreasonably withheld) at any time transfer his interest in the house, but any such transfer shall be made subject to the statutory conditions.
- (3.) Where default is made in complying with the statutory condition as to residence, the local authority may take possession of the house, and where default is made in complying with any of the other statutory conditions, whether the statutory condition as to residence has or has not been complied with, the local authority may either take possession of the house, or order the sale of the house without taking possession.

(4.) In the case of the breach of any condition other than that of punctual payment of the principal and interest of the advance, the authority shall, previously to taking possession or ordering a sale, by notice in writing delivered at the house and addressed to the proprietor, call on the proprietor to comply with the condition, and if the proprietor—

- (a) within fourteen days after the delivery of the notice gives an undertaking in writing to the authority to comply with the notice ; and
- (b) within two months after the delivery of the notice complies therewith, shall not take possession or order a sale, as the case may be.

(5.) In the case of the bankruptcy of the proprietor of the house, or in the case of a deceased proprietor's estate being administered in bankruptcy under section one hundred and twenty-five of the Bankruptcy Act, 1883, 46 & 47 Vict. c. 52. the local authority may either take possession of the house or order the sale of the house without taking possession, and shall do so except in pursuance of some arrangement to the contrary with the trustee in bankruptcy.

4. (1.) Where the ownership of a house has been acquired by means of an advance under this Act, the person who is the proprietor shall be personally liable for the repayment of any sum due in respect of the

to personal liability and powers of

advance until he ceases to be proprietor, by reason of a transfer made in accordance with this Act.

(2.) The provisions of this Act requiring the permission of the local authority to the transfer of the proprietor's interest in a house under this Act shall not apply to any charge on that interest made by the proprietor, so far as the charge does not affect any rights or powers of the local authority under this Act.

Recovery of possession and disposal of house.

5. (1.) Where a local authority take possession of a house, all the estate, right, interest, and claim of the proprietor in or to the house shall, subject as in this section mentioned, vest in and become the property of the local authority, and that authority may either retain the house under their own management or sell or otherwise dispose of it as they think expedient.

(2.) Where a local authority take possession of a house they shall, save as herein-after mentioned, pay to the proprietor either—

(a) such sum as may be agreed upon ; or

(b) a sum equal to the value of the interest in the house at the disposal of the local authority, after deducting therefrom the amount of the advance then remaining unpaid and any sum due for interest ; and the said value, in the absence of a sale and in default of agreement, shall be settled by a county court judge as arbitrator, or if the Lord Chancellor so authorises, by a single arbitrator appointed by the county court judge, and the Arbitration Act, 1889, shall apply to any such arbitration.

(3.) The sum so payable to the proprietor if not paid within three months after the date of taking possession shall carry interest at the rate of three per cent. per annum from the date of taking possession.

(4.) All costs of or incidental to the taking possession, sale, or other disposal of the house (including the costs of the arbitration, if any) incurred by the local authority, before the amount payable to the proprietor has been settled either by agreement or arbitration, shall be deducted from the amount otherwise payable to the proprietor.

(5.) Where the local authority are entitled under this Act to take possession of a house, possession may be recovered (whatever may be the value of the house) by or on behalf of the local authority either under sections one hundred and thirty-eight to one hundred and forty-five of the County Courts Act, 1888, or under the Small Tenements Recovery Act, 1838, as in the cases therein provided for, and in either case may be recovered as if the local authority were the landlord and the proprietor of the house were the tenant.

6. (1.) Where a local authority order the sale of a house without taking possession, they shall cause it to be put up for sale by auction, and out of the proceeds of sale retain any sum due to them on account of the interest or principal of the advance, and all costs, charges, and expenses properly incurred by them in or about the sale of the house, and pay over the balance (if any) to the proprietor.

(2.) If the local authority are unable at the auction to sell the house for such a sum as will allow of the payment out of the proceeds of sale of the interest and principal of the advance then due to the authority, and the costs, charges, and expenses aforesaid, they may take possession of the house in manner provided by this Act, but shall not be liable to pay any sum to the proprietor.

c. 43.
1 & 2 Vict.
c. 74.

Procedure as to ordering sale.

Suspension of condition as to residence.

7. (1.) An advance may be made to an applicant who intends to reside in a house, as if he were resident, if he undertakes to begin his residence therein within such period not exceeding six months from the date of the advance, as the local authority may fix, and in that case the statutory condition requiring residence shall be suspended during that period.

(2.) The local authority may allow a proprietor to permit, by letting or otherwise, a house to be occupied as a furnished house by some other person during a period not exceeding four months in the whole in any twelve months, or during absence from the house in the performance of any duty arising from or incidental to any office, service, or employment held or undertaken by him, and the condition requiring residence shall be suspended while the permission continues.

(3.) Where the proprietor of a house subject to statutory conditions dies, the condition requiring residence shall be suspended until the expiration of twelve months from the death, or any earlier date at which the personal representatives transfer the ownership or interest of the proprietor in the course of administration; and where the proprietor of any such house becomes bankrupt, or his estate is administered in bankruptcy under section one hundred and twenty-five of the Bankruptcy Act, 1883, and in either case an arrangement under this Act is made with the trustee in bankruptcy, the condition as to residence shall, if the local authority think fit, be suspended during the continuance of the arrangement.

advances.

8. (1.) A local authority shall keep at their offices a book containing a list of any advances made by them under this Act, and shall enter therein with regard to each advance—

- (i) a description of the house in respect of which the advance is made;
- (ii) the amount advanced;
- (iii) the amount for the time being repaid;
- (iv) The name of the proprietor for the time being of the house; and
- (v) such other particulars as the local authority think fit to enter.

(2.) The book shall be open to inspection at the office of the local authority during office hours free of charge.

9. (1.) A local authority for the purpose of this Act shall be the council of any county or county borough; and if the council of any urban district not being a county borough, or of any rural district, pass a resolution undertaking to act under this Act, that council shall, subject in the case of the council of a district containing a population according to the last census for the same being of less than ten thousand to the consent of the county council, be the local authority in that district for the purpose of this Act to the exclusion of any other authority: Provided that, if the council of any district are dissatisfied with any refusal or failure of the county council to give their consent, they may appeal to the Local Government Board, and the Local Government Board may, if they think fit, give their consent, and the consent so given shall have the same effect as the consent of the county council.

authorities
and rates.

(2.) Where the council of an urban or rural district becomes the local authority for the purposes of this Act, all the powers, rights, and liabilities of the county council in respect of advances already made by them under this Act for the purchase of the ownership of any house in the district shall rest in the council of the urban or rural district, subject to the payment by that council to the county council of the outstanding principal and interest of any such advance.

(3.) All expenses of a local authority in the execution of this Act shall be paid in the case of a county out of the county rate, and in the case of a county borough, out of the borough fund or borough rate, and in the case of an urban or rural district out of any fund or rate applicable to the general purposes of the Public Health Acts ; but no sum shall be raised in any urban or rural district the council of which becomes a local authority for the purposes of this Act on account of the expenses of a county council under this Act.

(4.) If in any local financial year the expenses payable by a council and not reimbursed by the receipts under this Act exceed in a county a sum equal to one half-penny, and in a county borough or urban or rural district a sum equal to one penny in the pound upon the rateable value of the county, county borough, or district, deducting in the case of a county the rateable value of any urban or rural district in the county, the council of which have become a local authority under this Act, no further advance under this Act shall be made by that council, until the expiration of five years after the end of that financial year or if those expenses at that date exceed one halfpenny or one penny in the pound, as the case may be, on the rateable value for the time being, until they fall below such sum.

(5.) A local authority may borrow for the purposes of this Act in like manner as they may borrow, in the case of a county council for the purposes of the Local Government Act, 1888, and in the case of the council of a county borough for the purpose of section one hundred and six of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, and in the case of an urban or rural district council for the purpose of the Public Health Acts, and those Acts shall apply accordingly with the necessary modifications.

(6.) Money borrowed under this Act shall not, in the case of a county council, be reckoned as part of the total debt of a county for the purposes of section sixty-nine, subsection two, of the Local Government Act, 1888, ^{51 & 52 Vict.}
^{c. 41.} and shall not, in the case of an urban or rural district council, be reckoned as part of their debt for the purpose of the limitation on borrowing under section two hundred and thirty-four, subsection two, of the Public Health ^{38 & 39 Vict.}
^{c. 55.} Act, 1875.

(7.) The Public Works Loan Commissioners may in manner provided by the Public Works Loans Act, 1875, ^{38 & 39 Vict.}
^{c. 89.} lend any money which may be borrowed by a local authority for the purposes of this Act.

(8.) Any capital money received or retained by a local authority in payment or discharge of any advance under this Act, or in respect of the sale or other disposal of any house taken possession of under this Act, shall be applied, with the sanction of the Local Government Board, either in repayment of debt or for any other purpose to which capital money may be applied.

(10.) In the application of this Act to the county of London any sanitary authority—

(a) shall have the same powers as an urban district council, and the expenses of such authority shall be paid out of the general rate or in the case of the city of London out of the consolidated rate; and

(b) may borrow in like manner as they can borrow for the purposes of the Metropolis Management Acts, 1855 to 1893; and those Acts shall apply with the necessary modifications.

Residence and ownership.

10. (1.) A person shall not be deemed for the purposes of this Act to be resident in a house unless he is both the occupier of and resident in that house.

(2.) For the purposes of this Act "ownership" shall be such interest or combination of interest in a house as, together with the interest of the purchaser of the ownership, will constitute either a fee simple in possession or a leasehold interest in possession of at least sixty years unexpired, at the date of the purchase.

(3.) Where the ownership of a house is acquired by means of an advance under this Act, the purchaser of the ownership, or, in the case of any devolution or transfer, the person in whom the interest of the purchaser is for the time being vested, shall be the proprietor of the house for the purposes of this Act.

HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES ACT,
1900. [63 & 64 VICT. CH. 59.]

An Act to amend Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890. [8th August 1900.]

BE it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

1. Where any council, other than a rural district council, have adopted Part Three of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 (in this Act referred to as "the principal Act"), they may, for supplying the needs of their district, establish or acquire lodging houses for the working classes under that Part outside their district. Exercise of powers outside district.

Adopted. Adoption is no longer necessary—section 1 of the 1909 Act.

This section was passed to remove a difficulty which had arisen in London. As to London now—see section 41 of the 1919 Act, and as to joint schemes affecting the areas of two or more local authorities—see sections 1 (6) and 3 (3) thereof.

On the general subject of these houses—see section 57 of the 1890 Act and notes thereto, but all the provisions applying to the houses will apply equally whether they are inside or outside the district, even including the making of byelaws under section 62 of the 1890 Act. Similarly land outside the district can be acquired compulsorily.

2. ("Adoption of Part Three of Act by rural district

Provisions as to metropolitan
councils.

3. (1.) Any expenses incurred by the council of a metropolitan borough under Part III of the principal Act, whether within or without the borough, shall be defrayed as part of the ordinary expenses of the council, and in that Act the expressions "district," "local authority," and "local rate" shall, for the purposes of Part III of the Act, include a metropolitan borough, the council of the borough, and the general rate of the borough.

(2.) Where the council of a metropolitan borough adopt Part III of the principal Act, the power of the council to borrow for the purposes of that Part shall be exerciseable in the like manner and subject to the like conditions as the power of the council to borrow for the purposes of Part II of that Act.

As to the power of the council to borrow—see section 46 of the 1890 Act, and notes thereto.

Accounts.

4. Where land acquired by a council under Part III of the principal Act is appropriated for the purpose of re-housing persons displaced by the council under the powers of any other Part of that Act or of any other enactment, the receipts and expenditure in respect of that land (including all costs in respect of the acquisition and laying out of the land), and of any buildings erected thereon, may be treated as receipts and expenditure under that Part or enactment, but shall be accounted for under a separate head.

See section 80 of the 1890 Act.

5. ("Leases by local authority for building lodging-houses.") Repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., s. 5 (00) Act, 1919, section 50, and 5th schedule.

6. ("Powers of county council to act on default of rural council.") Repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909.

7. ("Arbitration as to acquisition of land.") Repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909.

8. (1.) This Act may be cited as the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1900, and the Housing of the Working Classes Acts, 1890 to 1894, and this Act may be cited together as the Housing of the Working Classes Acts, 1890 to 1900.

(2.) This Act shall not extend to *Ireland.

SCHEDULE.

An Act to amend the Law relating to the Housing of the Working Classes. [14th August 1903.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

General Amendments of Law

Maximum term for repayment of loans.
53 & 54 Vict.
c. 70.
38 & 39 Vict
c. 55.

1. (1.) The maximum period which may be sanctioned as the period for which money may be borrowed by a local authority for the purposes of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 (in this Act referred to as "the principal Act"), or any Acts amending it, shall be eighty years, and as respects money so borrowed S. 1 (03). eighty years shall be substituted for sixty years in section two hundred and thirty-four of the Public Health Act, 1875.

(2.) Money borrowed under the principal Act or any Acts (including this Act) amending it (in this Act collectively referred to as the Housing Acts) shall not be reckoned as part of the debt of the local authority for the purposes of the limitation on borrowing under subsections two and three of section two hundred and thirty-four of the Public Health Act, 1875.

For the borrowing powers—see sections 25, 43, 46 and 66 of the 1890 Act, and section 1 of the 1894 Act. As to London—see section 15 hereof.

The period is subject to the sanction of the Ministry.

By section 3 of the 1909 Act there is a similar extension affecting the Public Works Loan Commissioners.

Note the power to issue bonds, &c., given by sections 7 and 8 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919.

2. (1.) His Majesty may by Order in Council assign to the Local Government Board any powers and duties of the Secretary of State under the Housing Acts, or under any scheme made in pursuance of those Acts, and the powers of the Secretary of State under any local Act, so far as they relate to the housing of the working classes, and any such powers and duties so assigned shall become powers and duties of the Local Government Board.

Transfer of powers and duties of Home Office to Local Government Board.

(2.) Section eleven of the Board of Agriculture Act, 1889, shall apply with respect to the powers and duties transferred under this section as it applies with respect to the powers and duties transferred under that Act, with the substitution of the Local Government Board for the Board of Agriculture and of the date of the 52 & 53 Vict.

c. 30.

transfer under this section for the date of the establishment of the Board of Agriculture.

All these powers now go to the Minister of Health, under the Ministry of Health Act, 1919. The Order in Council under this section was dated 27th February 1905.

Re-housing obligations when land is taken under statutory powers.

3. Where under the powers given after the date of the passing of the Act by any local Act or Provisional Order, or Order having the effect of an Act, any land is acquired, whether compulsorily or by agreement, by any authority, company, or person, or where after the date of the passing of this Act any land is so acquired compulsorily under any general Act (other than the housing Acts), the provisions set out in the Schedule to this Act shall apply with respect to the provision of dwelling accommodation for persons of the working class.

This section was designed to carry out the recommendations of a joint committee of the two Houses of Parliament. The private bill standing orders required that local bills, or bills to confirm Provisional Orders, of the nature indicated, should contain provisions similar to those of this section and the schedule, and the committee recommended that the provisions should be embodied in a General Act. But it would appear that the section applies to land acquired compulsorily under the Housing Acts, even though that may not have been the intention. Except under section 38 of the 1890 Act, land compulsorily acquired under the Housing Acts requires a "provisional order or order having the effect of an Act." But the point is not now of great importance as regards the duties of local authorities, in view of section 1 (1) of the 1919 Act. See also sections 11 and 40 of the 1890 Act.

The terms of the section appear to exclude Michael Angelo Taylor's Act [1817] 57 Geo. 3, c. 29, under which houses may be acquired by metropolitan borough councils.

Amendments as to Schemes

S. 4 (03).

4. (1.) If, on the report made to the confirming authority on an inquiry directed by them under section ten of the principal Act, that authority are satisfied that a scheme ought to have been made for the improvement of the area to which the inquiry relates, or of some part thereof, they may, if they think fit, order the local authority to make such a scheme, either under Part I of the principal Act, or, if the confirming authority so direct, under Part II of that Act, and to do all things necessary under the Housing Acts for carrying into execution the scheme so made, and the local authority shall accordingly make a scheme or direct a scheme to be prepared as if they had passed the resolution required under section four or section thirty-nine of the principal Act, as the case may be, and do all things necessary under the Housing Acts for carrying the scheme into effect.

Provisions on failure of local authority to make a scheme.

Any such order of the confirming authority may be enforced by mandamus.

But see now sections 3, 4, and 5 of the 1919 Act.

(2.) Any *six or more ratepayers of the district shall have the like appeal under section sixteen of the principal Act as is given to the *six or more ratepayers who have made the complaint to the medical officer of health mentioned in that section.

5. Subsection (1) repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, section 50, and 5th schedule.

Amendment of procedure for confirming improve-mentscheme.

(2.) The order of a confirming authority under subsection four of section eight of the principal Act shall,

S. 5 (03). notwithstanding anything in that section, take effect without confirmation by Parliament.*

(3.) For the purposes of the principal Act, the making of an order by a confirming authority, which takes effect under this section without confirmation by Parliament, shall have the same effect as the confirmation of the order by Act of Parliament, and any reference to a Provisional Order, made under section eight of the principal Act, shall include a reference to an order which so takes effect without confirmation by Parliament.

Thus, the order of the Ministry is all sufficient—except in the case of commons, open spaces or allotments—see section 73 of the 1909 Act.

6. ("Power to modify schemes in certain cases.")
Repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909.

Amendments as to scheme of reconstruction.

7. Where a scheme for reconstruction under Part II of the principal Act is made, neighbouring lands may be included in the area comprised in the scheme if the local authority under whose direction the scheme is made are of opinion that that inclusion is necessary for making their scheme efficient, but the provision of subsection two of section forty-one, as to the exclusion of any additional allowance in respect of compulsory purchase, shall not apply in the case of any land so included.

In this respect a Part II (reconstruction) scheme is thus in the same position as a Part I (improvement) scheme.

Amendments as to Closing Orders, Demolition, &c.

8. ("Amendment of procedure for closing orders.")
Repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909.

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, 6th schedule.

9. Where the amount realised by the sale of materials under section thirty-four of the principal Act is not sufficient to cover the expenses incident to the taking down and removal of a building, the local authority may recover the deficiency from the owner of the building as a civil debt in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts, or under the provisions of the Public Health Acts relating to private improvement expenses.

tion.

Acts. See section 35 of the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1879, and sections 213-215, 232 and 257 of the Public Health Act, 1875.

10. Where default is made as respects any dwelling house in obeying a closing order, * possession of the house may be obtained (without prejudice to the enforcement of any penalty under that provision), whatever may be the value or rent of the house, by or on behalf of the owner or local authority, either under sections one hundred and thirty-eight to one hundred and forty-five of the County Courts Act, 1888, or under the Small Tenements Recovery Act, 1838, as in the cases therein provided for, and in either case may be obtained as if the owner or local authority were the landlord.

Any expenses incurred by a local authority under this section may be recovered from the owner of the dwelling-house as a civil debt in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

After the words "closing order" there formerly appeared the words "in the manner provided by subsection three of section thirty-two of the principal Act." The said section 32 was repealed by the 1909 Act, and closing orders are now made under section 17 thereof. The words in brackets do not now seem to have any effect. The said section 17 provides for a summary order to Section 68 of the National Insurance Act, 1911, gives protection against ejectment which would endanger the life of a sick insured person, but it is doubtful if it has ever been made use of.

Miscellaneous

Powers in connection with provision of dwelling accommodation or lodging-houses.

11. (1.) Any power of the local authority under the Housing Acts, or under any scheme made in pursuance of any of those Acts, to provide dwelling accommodation or lodging-houses, shall include a power to provide and maintain, with the consent of the Local Government Board, and, if desired, jointly with any other person, in connection with any such dwelling accommodation or lodging-houses, any building adapted for use as a shop, any recreation grounds, or other buildings or land which in the opinion of the Local Government Board will serve a beneficial purpose in connection with the requirements of the persons for whom the dwelling accommodation or lodging-houses are provided, and to raise money for the purpose, if necessary, by borrowing.

(2.) The Local Government Board may, in giving their consent to the provision of any land or building under this section, by order apply, with any necessary modifications, to such land or building any statutory provisions which would have been applicable thereto if the land or building had been provided under any enactment giving any local authority powers for the purpose.

See also sections 6, 11, 12, 39, 40, and 59 of the 1890 Act; section 6 of the 1909 Act, and sections 12 and 15 of the 1919 Act.

Condition in contracts for letting houses for the working classes.

12. Section seventy-five of the principal Act (which relates to the condition to be implied on letting houses for the working classes) shall, as respects any contract made after the passing of this Act, take effect notwithstanding standing any agreement to the contrary, and any such S. 12 (03).

agreement made after the passing of this Act shall be void.

See note to section 75 of the 1890 Act.

13. (1.) Any notice required to be served under Part II of the principal Act upon an owner shall, notwithstanding anything in section forty-nine of that Act, be deemed to be sufficiently served if it is sent by post in a registered letter addressed to the owner or his agent at his usual or last known residence or place of business.

Service of notices.

(2.) Any document referred to in section eighty-seven of the principal Act shall be deemed to be sufficiently served upon the local authority if addressed to that authority or their clerk at the office of that authority and sent by post in a registered letter.

Special Provisions as to London

14. The council of a metropolitan borough may, if they think fit, pay or contribute towards the payment of any expenses of the London County Council under subsection five of section forty-six of the principal Act in connection with a scheme of reconstruction, and borrow any money required by them for the purpose under subsection two of the said section ; but an order under subsection six shall not be necessary except in cases of disagreement between the county council and the council of the borough.

Agreements between London County Council and metropolitan borough councils.

See section 46 of the 1890 Act, and notes thereto.

15. For the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Act as to the maximum period for which money may be borrowed, eighty years shall be substituted for sixty years in section twenty-seven of the Metropolitan Provisions consequential on extension of period for repayment of loans.

282 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

(2.) This Act shall not extend to * Ireland.

SCHEDULE

(See note to section 3 hereof)

Section 3, 16. (1.) If in the administrative county of London or in any borough or urban district, or in any parish not within a borough or urban district, the undertakers have power to take under the enabling Act working-men's dwellings occupied by thirty or more persons belonging to the working class, the undertakers shall not enter on any such dwellings in that county, borough, urban district, or parish, until the Local Government Board have either approved of a housing scheme under this schedule or have decided that such a scheme is not necessary.

* The words "Scotland or" appearing here were repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909.

For the purposes of this schedule a house shall be Sch. (03). considered a working-man's dwelling if wholly or partially occupied by a person belonging to the working classes, and for the purpose of determining whether a house is a working-man's dwelling or not, and also for determining the number of persons belonging to the working classes by whom any dwelling-houses are occupied, any occupation on or after the fifteenth day of December next before the passing of the enabling Act, or, in the case of land acquired compulsorily under a general Act without the authority of an order, next before the date of the application to the Local Government Board under this schedule, for their approval of or decision with respect to a housing scheme, shall be taken into consideration.

(2.) The housing scheme shall make provision for the accommodation of such number of persons of the working class as is, in the opinion of the Local Government Board, taking into account all the circumstances, required, but that number shall not exceed the aggregate number of persons of the working class displaced ; and in calculating that number the Local Government Board shall take into consideration not only the persons of the working class who are occupying the working-men's dwellings which the undertakers have power to take, but also any persons of the working class who, in the opinion of the Local Government Board, have been displaced within the previous five years in view of the acquisition of land by the undertakers.

(3.) Provision may be made by the housing scheme for giving undertakers who are a local authority, or who have not sufficient powers for the purpose, power for the purpose of the scheme to appropriate land or to acquire land, either by agreement or compulsorily under the authority of a Provisional Order, and for giving any local authority power to erect dwellings on land so appropriated or acquired by them, and to sell or dispose of any such dwellings, and to raise money for the purpose of the scheme as for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act, and for regulating the application of any money arising from the sale or disposal of the dwellings; and any provisions so made shall have effect as if they had been enacted in an Act of Parliament.

(4.) The housing scheme shall provide that any lands acquired under that scheme shall, for a period of twenty-five years from the date of the scheme, be appropriated for the purpose of dwellings for persons of the working class, except so far as the Local Government Board dispense with that appropriation; and every conveyance, demise, or lease of any such land shall be endorsed with notice of this provision, and the Local Government Board may require the insertion in the scheme of any provisions requiring a certain standard of dwelling-house to be erected under the scheme, or any conditions to be complied with as to the mode in which the dwelling-houses are to be erected.

(5.) If the Local Government Board do not hold a local inquiry with reference to a housing scheme, they shall, before approving the scheme, send a copy of the draft scheme to every local authority, and shall consider any representation made within the time fixed by the Board by any such authority.

(6.) The Local Government Board may, as a condition of their approval of a housing scheme, require that the new dwellings under the scheme, or some part of them, shall be completed and fit for occupation before possession is taken of any working-men's dwellings under Sch. (93). the enabling Act.

(7.) Before approving any scheme the Local Government Board may if they think fit require the undertakers to give such security as the Board consider proper for carrying the scheme into effect.

(8.) The Local Government Board may hold such inquiries as they think fit for the purpose of their duties under this schedule, and subsections one and five of section eighty-seven of the Local Government Act, 1888 (which relate to local inquiries), shall apply for the purpose, and where the undertakers are not a local authority shall be applicable as if they were such an authority.

(9.) If the undertakers enter on any working-men's dwelling in contravention of the provisions of this schedule, or of any conditions of approval of the housing scheme made by the Local Government Board, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred pounds in respect of every such dwelling :

Any such penalty shall be recoverable by the Local Government Board by action in the High Court, and shall be carried to and form part of the Consolidated Fund.

(10.) If the undertakers fail to carry out any provision of the housing scheme, the Local Government Board may make such order as they think necessary or proper for the purpose of compelling them to carry out that provision, and any such order may be enforced by mandamus.

(11.) The Local Government Board may, on the application of the undertakers, modify any housing scheme which has been approved by them under this

286 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

Sch. (03) Schedule, and any modifications so made shall take effect as part of the scheme.

(12.) For the purposes of this schedule—

- (a) The expression “undertakers” means any authority, company, or person who are acquiring land compulsorily or by agreement under any local Act or Provisional Order or order having the effect of an Act, or are acquiring land compulsorily under any general Act :
- (b) The expression “enabling Act” means any Act of Parliament or Order under which the land is acquired :
- (c) The expression “local authority” means the council of any administrative county and the district council of any county district, or, in London, the council of any metropolitan borough in which in any case any houses in respect of which the re-housing scheme is made are situated, or in the case of the city the common council :
- (d) The expression “dwelling” or “house” means any house or part of a house occupied as a separate dwelling :
- (e) The expression “working class” includes mechanics, artisans, labourers, and others working for wages ; hawkers, costermongers, persons not working for wages, but working at some trade or handicraft without employing others, except members of their own family, and persons other than domestic servants whose income in any case does not exceed an average of thirty shillings a week, and the families of any of such persons who may be residing with them.

An Act to amend the Law relating to the Housing of the Working Classes, to provide for the making of Town Planning schemes, and to make further provision with respect to the appointment and duties of County Medical Officers of Health, and to provide for the establishment of Public Health and Housing Committees of County Councils. [3rd December 1909.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

PART I

HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES

Facilities for Acquisition of Lands and other Purposes of the Housing Acts

1. Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 (in this Part of this Act referred to as the principal Act), shall, after the commencement of this Act, extend to and take effect in every urban or rural district, or other place for which it has not been adopted, as if it had been so adopted.

Part III of the principal Act to take effect without adoption.
53 & 54 Vict. c. 70.

2. (1.) A local authority may be authorised to purchase land compulsorily for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act, by means of an order submitted to the Local Government Board and confirmed by the Board in accordance with the First Schedule to this Act.

Provisions as to acquisition of land under Part III of the principal Act.

S. 2(09).

(2.) The procedure under this section for the compulsory purchase of land shall be substituted for the procedure for the same purpose under section one hundred and seventy-six of the Public Health Act, 1875, as applied by subsection (1) of section fifty-seven of the principal Act.

38 & 39 Vict.
c. 55.

(3.) A local authority may, with the consent of and subject to any conditions imposed by the Local Government Board, acquire land by agreement for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act, notwithstanding that the land is not immediately required for those purposes.

For additional powers—see section 12 of the 1919 Act.

See section 57 of the 1890 Act, and notes thereto, on the question of the acquisition of land.

It will be noticed that subsections (1) and (2) above relate to compulsory acquisition, while subsection (3) relates to acquisition by agreement.

The assessment of compensation for land compulsorily acquired is made under the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919 (page 495).

Loans by Public Works Loan Commissioners to local authorities.

3. Where a loan is made by the Public Works Loan Commissioners to a local authority for any purposes of the Housing Acts—

(a) The loan shall be made at the minimum rate allowed for the time being for loans out of the Local Loans Fund ; and

(b) If the Local Government Board make a recommendation to that effect, the period for which the loan is made by the Public Works Loan Commissioners may exceed the period allowed under the principal Act or under any other Act limiting the period for which the loan may be made, but the period shall not exceed the period recommended by the Local Government Board, s. 3 (09).

nor in any case eighty years; and

- (c) As between loans for different periods, the longer duration of the loan shall not be taken as a reason for fixing a higher rate of interest.

But see now section 7 (4) of the 1919 Act.

See also section 25 (5) of the 1890 Act, and section 1 of the 1903 Act. By the Public Works Loans Act, 1920, temporary loans can be secured up to 30th September 1921 (see page 487).

4. (1.) Where a loan is made by the Public Works Loan Commissioners under section sixty-seven, subsection (2) (d), of the principal Act, to a public utility society, the words "two thirds" shall be substituted for the words "one moiety."

See also section 20 of the 1919 Act.

5. (1.) Any purchase money or compensation payable in pursuance of the Housing Acts by a local authority in respect of any lands, estate, or interest of another local authority which would, but for this section, be paid into court in manner provided by the Lands Clauses Acts or by paragraph (20) of the Second Schedule to the principal Act may, if the Local Government Board consent, instead of being paid into court, be paid and applied as the Board determine.

Payment of purchase or compensation money (which would otherwise be paid into court) on direction of Local Government Board.

(2.) Any such decision of the Board as to the payment and application of any such purchase money or compensation shall be final and conclusive.

The effect of this is that the expense in the payment into and out of court can thus be avoided. It applies

45 & 46 Vict.
c. 38.

7. (1.) The following paragraph shall be substituted for paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section seventy-four of the principal Act :—

(b) The improvements on which capital money arising under the Settled Land Act, 1882, may be expended, enumerated in section twenty-five of the said Act and referred to in section thirty of the said Act, shall, in addition to cottages for labourers, farm servants, and artisans, whether employed on the settled land or not, include the provision of dwellings available for the working classes, either by means of building new buildings or by means of the reconstruction, enlargement, or improvement of existing buildings, so as to make them available for the purpose, if that provision of dwellings is, in the opinion of the court, not injurious to the estate or is agreed to by the tenant for life and the trustees of the settlement.

(2.) The provision by a tenant for life, at his own expense, of dwellings available for the working classes on any settled land shall not be deemed to be an injury to any interest in reversion or remainder in that land ; provided that the powers conferred upon a tenant for life by this subsection shall not be exercised by him without the previous approval in writing of the trustees of the settlement.

See section 74 of the 1890 Act, and, particularly, S. 7 (09) section 31 of the 1919 Act, and notes thereto.

8. A local authority may accept a donation of land or money or other property for any of the purposes of the Housing Acts, and it shall not be necessary to enrol any assurance with respect to any such property under the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888.

Donations for housing purposes.

51 & 52 Vict.
c. 42.

Donation. Doubtless by will or otherwise. As to gifts to other persons than local authorities—see the Working Classes Dwellings Act, 1890 (page 254).

9. (1.) If in any case it appears to the Local Government Board that the institution of legal proceedings is requisite or desirable with respect to any property required to be applied under any trusts for the provision of dwellings available for the working classes, or that the expediting of any such legal proceedings is requisite or desirable, the Board may certify the case to the Attorney-General, and the Attorney-General, if he thinks fit, shall institute any legal proceedings or intervene in any legal proceedings already instituted in such manner as he thinks proper under the circumstances.

(2.) Before preparing any scheme with reference to property required to be applied under any trusts for the provision of dwellings available for the working classes, the court or body who are responsible for making the scheme shall communicate with the Local Government Board and receive and consider any recommendations made by the Board with reference to the proposed scheme.

The local authority should bring the circumstances to the notice of the Ministry when they have reason to suppose that any trusts having for their object the provision of working-class dwellings are not being properly carried into effect promptly—Local Government Board Memo., 31st December 1909.

Power of Local Government Board on complaint to enforce exercise of powers.

Powers of enforcing Execution of Housing Acts

10. (1.) Where a complaint is made to the Local Government Board—

(a) as respects any rural district by the council of the county in which the district is situate, or by the parish council or parish meeting of any parish comprised in the district, or by any four inhabitant householders of the district ; or

(b) as respects any county district, not being a rural district, by the council of the county in which the district is situated, or by four inhabitant householders of the district ; or

(c) as respects the area of any other local authority by four inhabitant householders of the area ;

that the local authority have failed to exercise their powers under Part II or Part III of the principal Act in cases where those powers ought to have been exercised, the Board may cause a public local inquiry to be held, and if, after holding such an inquiry, the Board are satisfied that there has been such a failure on the part of the local authority, the Board may declare the authority to be in default, and may make an order directing that authority, within a time limited by the order, to carry out such works and do such other things as may be mentioned in the order for the purpose of remedying the default.

(2.) Before deciding that a local authority have failed to exercise their powers under Part III of the principal Act, the Board shall take into consideration the necessity for further accommodation for the housing of the working classes in such district, the probability that the required accommodation will not be otherwise provided, and the s. 10 (09). other circumstances of the case, and whether, having regard to the liability which will be incurred by the rates, it is prudent for the local authority to undertake the provision of such accommodation.

(3.) Where an order originally made under this section on the council of a county district is not complied with by that council, the Local Government Board may, if they think fit, with the consent of the county council, instead of enforcing that order against the council of the county district, make an order directing the county council to carry out any works or do any other things which are mentioned in the original order for the purpose of remedying the default of the district council.

(4.) Where the Board make an order under this section directing a county council to carry out any works or do any other thing, the order may, for the purpose of enabling the county council to give effect to the order, apply any of the provisions of the Housing Acts or of section sixty-three of the Local Government Act, 1894, with such modifications or adaptations (if any) as appear necessary or expedient.

56 & 57 Vict
c. 73.

(5.) An order made by the Local Government Board under this section shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament as soon as may be after it is made.

(6.) Any order made by the Local Government Board under this section may be enforced by mandamus.

See section 5 of the 1919 Act, and notes thereto, as to Part II ; and note also section 11 hereof. See sections 3 and 4 of the 1919 Act as to Part III, and note, further, sections 12 and 13 hereof.

As to local inquiries—see section 85 of the 1890 Act.

s. 11 (09).

Power of Local Government Board to order schemes, &c. to be carried out within a limited time.

11. (1.) Where it appears to the Local Government Board that a local authority have failed to perform their duty under the Housing Acts of carrying out an improvement scheme under Part I of the principal Act, or have failed to give effect to any order as respects an obstructive building, or to a reconstruction scheme, under Part II of that Act, or have failed to cause to be made the inspection of their district required by this Act, the Board may make an order requiring the local authority to remedy the default and to carry out any works or do any other things which are necessary for the purpose under the Housing Acts within a time fixed by the order.

See sections 4 and 5 of the 1919 Act, and notes thereto. As to "inspection"—see section 17 hereof.

Powers of county council to act in default of rural district council under Part III of the principal Act.

12. Where a complaint is made to the council of a county by the parish council or parish meeting of any parish comprised in any rural district in the county, or by any four inhabitant householders of that district, the county council may cause a public local inquiry to be held, and if, after holding such an inquiry, the county council are satisfied that the rural district council have failed to exercise their powers under Part III of the principal Act in cases where those powers ought to have been exercised, the county council may resolve that the powers of the district council for the purposes of that Part be transferred to the county council with respect either to the whole district or to any parish in the district, and those powers shall be transferred accordingly, and, subject to the provisions of this Act, section sixty-three of the Local Government Act, 1894, shall S. 12 (09). apply as if the powers had been transferred under that Act. .

See section 3 of the 1919 Act which provides a simpler procedure.

13. (1.) Where the council of a county are of opinion that for any reason it is expedient that the council should exercise, as respects any rural district in the county, any of the powers of a local authority under Part III of the principal Act, the council, after giving notice to the council of the district of their intention to do so, may apply to the Local Government Board for an order conferring such powers on them.

under Part III of the principal
Act.

(2.) Upon such an application being made, the Board may make an order conferring on the county council as respects the rural district all or any of the powers of a local authority under Part III of the principal Act, and thereupon the provisions of the Housing Acts relating to those powers (including those enabling the Public Works Loan Commissioners to lend, and fixing the terms for which money may be lent and borrowed) shall apply as if the council were a local authority under Part III of the principal Act: Provided that the expenses incurred by the county council under any such order shall be defrayed as expenses for general county purposes.

(3.) Where, under any such order, the county council have executed any works in a rural district they may transfer the works to the council of that district on such terms and subject to such conditions as may be agreed between them.

See also sections 3 and 4 of the 1919 Act.

S. 14 (09).

Contracts by Landlord

Extension of section 75 of the principal Act.

14. In any contract made after the passing of this Act for letting for habitation a house or part of a house at a rent not exceeding—

- (a) in the case of a house situate in the administrative county of London, forty pounds;
- (b) in the case of a house situate in a borough or urban district with a population according to the last census for the time being of fifty thousand or upwards, twenty-six pounds;
- (c) in the case of a house situate elsewhere, sixteen pounds;

there shall be implied a condition that the house is at the commencement of the holding in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation, but the condition aforesaid shall not be implied when a house or part of a house is let for a term of not less than three years upon the terms that it be put by the lessee into a condition reasonably fit for occupation, and the lease is not determinable at the option of either party before the expiration of that term.

See section 75 of the 1890 Act, and note thereto.

By section 39 (2) of the 1919 Act "sections 14 and 15 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, shall be deemed to be part of Part II of the principal Act." With regard to the present section (14) it is not very clear that this provision has a special significance, though there is the difficulty that in the present section there is no express provision against contracting out, as there is in section 75 of the 1890 Act—as per section 12 of the 1903 Act. Of course sections 14 and 15 stand together, and it may be that the object of section 39 (2) of the 1919 Act is to give an owner, who does repairs under section 15, the right to a charging order under section 36 of the 1890 Act.

That term. It is not clear that a house let for five years with the option of determination at the end of three years, is within the exception.

15. (1.) The last foregoing section shall, as respects contracts to which that section applies, take effect as if the condition implied by that section included an undertaking that the house shall, during the holding, be kept by the landlord in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation.

Condition as to keeping houses let to persons of the working classes in repair.

(2.) The landlord or the local authority, or any person authorised by him or them in writing, may at reasonable times of the day, on giving twenty-four hours' notice in writing to the tenant or occupier, enter any house, premises, or building to which this section applies for the purpose of viewing the state and condition thereof.

(3.) If it appears to the local authority within the meaning of Part II of the principal Act that the undertaking implied by virtue of this section is not complied with in the case of any house to which it applies, the authority shall, if a closing order is not made with respect to the house, by written notice require the landlord, within a reasonable time, not being less than twenty-one days, specified in the notice, to execute such works as the authority shall specify in the notice as being necessary to make the house in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation.

(4.) Within twenty-one days after the receipt of such notice the landlord may by written notice to the local authority declare his intention of closing the house for human habitation, and thereupon a closing order shall be deemed to have become operative in respect of such house.

(5.) If the notice given by the local authority is not complied with, and if the landlord has not given the

S. 15 (09). notice mentioned in the immediate preceding subsection, the authority may, at the expiration of the time specified in the notice given by them to the landlord, do the work required to be done and recover the expenses incurred by them in so doing from the landlord as a civil debt in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts, or, if they think fit, the authority may by order declare any such expenses to be payable by annual instalments within a period not exceeding that of the interest of the landlord in the house, nor in any case five years, with interest at a rate not exceeding five pounds per cent. per annum, until the whole amount is paid, and any such instalments or interest or any part thereof may be recovered from the landlord as a civil debt in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

(6.) A landlord may appeal to the Local Government Board against any notice requiring him to execute works under this section, and against any demand for the recovery of expenses from him under this section or order made with respect to those expenses under this section by the authority, by giving notice of appeal to the Board within twenty-one days after the notice is received, or the demand or order is made, as the case may be, and no proceedings shall be taken in respect of such notice requiring works, order, or demand, whilst the appeal is pending.

(7.) In this section the expression "landlord" means any person who lets to a tenant for habitation the house under any contract referred to in this section, and includes his successors in title; and the expression "house" includes part of a house.

(8.) Sections forty-nine and fifty of the principal Act as amended by section thirteen of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1903 (which relate to the service of notices and the description of owner in proceedings), shall apply for the purposes of this section, with the substitution, where required, of the landlord for the owner of a dwelling-house.

S. 15 (09).
3 Edw. 7.
c. 39.

(9.) Any remedy given by this section for non-compliance with the undertaking implied by virtue of this section shall be in addition to and not in derogation of any other remedy available to the tenant against the landlord, either at common law or otherwise.

See notes to foregoing section, and to section 75 of the 1890 Act.

In the committee-stage proceedings on the 1919 Bill, it was stated by Dr. Addison, Minister of Health, that this section had never worked. (Standing Committee Report, col. 75), and doubtless section 28 of the 1919 Act will be more usually made use of for the Minister's purpose—but see Walker v. Hobbs, 23 Q.B.D. 458., Smith v. Marrable, 12 L.J.Ex. 223, Campbell v. Lord Wenlock, 4 F. and F. 716; and Stanton v. Southwick, The Times, 30th April 1920.

Amendment of Procedure for Closing Orders and Demolition Orders

17. (1.) It shall be the duty of every local authority within the meaning of Part II of the principal Act to cause to be made from time to time inspection of their district, with a view to ascertain whether any dwelling-house therein is in a state so dangerous or injurious to

302 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 17 (09). health as to be unfit for human habitation, and for that purpose it shall be the duty of the local authority, and of every officer of the local authority, to comply with such regulations and to keep such records as may be prescribed by the Board.

Duty. As to default—see section 11 hereof and section 31 (2) of the 1890 Act.

By section 35 of the 1919 Act, nothing in the Increase of Rent and Mortgage Interest (War Restrictions) Act, 1915, &c., shall be deemed to affect the provisions of this section.

This section supersedes section 32 of the 1890 Act, and the procedure with regard to unhealthy houses can be better followed if it is read in its stead. It is to be deemed to be part of Part II of the 1890 Act—see section 47 hereof. As to “unfit for human habitation”—see section 30 of the 1890 Act.

As to “local authority”—see page 234; as to enforcement of its duty—see sections 10 and 11 hereof, and section 5 of the 1919 Act; and as to power of county councils—see section 45 of the 1890 Act. The local authority can act by a committee—section 81 of the 1890 Act, and, by section 88 thereof, an interested member must not vote.

For the regulations and records—see page 570.

For power of entry—see section 36 hereof.

(2.) If, on the representation of the medical officer of health, or of any other officer of the authority, or other information given, any dwelling-house appears to them to be in such a state, it shall be their duty to make an order prohibiting the use of the dwelling-house for human habitation (in this Act referred to as a closing order) until in the judgment of the local authority the dwelling-house is rendered fit for that purpose.

The preferable procedure is, usually, that under section 28 of the 1919 Act (repair of houses), but the local authority can proceed hereunder; or under the Public Health Acts if it prefers—section 91 of the 1890

Act (page 230); or under the powers of a local Act—S. 17 (9).
Hall v. Manchester Corporation [1915] 79 J.P. 385.

For form of closing order—see page 616. It must be under seal—section 86 of the 1890 Act.

Some difficulty may arise in the case of a house let in flats or separate tenements, and if only one such flat is in a bad state it would seem better, particularly in view of section 18, to proceed under section 28 of the 1919 Act as to repairs, or under the Public Health Acts as to nuisances. If a closing order refers to the whole house and one of the separate tenements is in good condition, it will be liable to reversal on appeal—Johnston's Trustees v. Glasgow Corporation [1912] S.C. 300. A closing order made under a byelaw under the Public Health Act, 1875, section 157, does not prevent another closing order being made hereunder with a view to having the building demolished—Slight v. Portsmouth (Mayor of) [1906] 70 J.P. 359.

Merrick v. Corporation of Liverpool [1910] 2 Ch. 449, raised several interesting points in connection with closing orders. The plaintiffs alleged that the corporation wanted to demolish the houses to admit air to other houses and that it was proceeding by closing order, where no compensation for demolition would be payable, instead of by sections 38 or 39 of the 1890 Act, where compensation would be payable. It was held that if this had been proved it would have been sufficient to justify intervention by the court, but it had not been proved. See also Hall v. Manchester Corporation, above.

As to other representations to be made by the medical officer of health—see sections 30 and 79 (2) of the 1890 Act.

(3.) Notice of a closing order shall be forthwith served

304 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 17 (09). on every owner of the dwelling-house in respect of which it is made, and any owner aggrieved by the order may appeal to the Local Government Board by giving notice of appeal to the Board within fourteen days after the * notice is served upon him.

The fifth word from the end was, formerly, "order."

For Form of Notice—see page 617. By Rayner v. Stepney Corporation [1911] 75 J.P. 468, it would appear that the notice will be invalid if it does not contain information about the owner's right of appeal.

Owner. For definition—see section 29 of the 1890 Act. It will not be easy in all cases to discover every owner as so defined, and in view of section 39 (2) hereof this causes a difficulty. Some help is given by sections 49 and 50 of the 1890 Act, which deal with service of notices and description of owner in proceedings. By section 41 hereof the Ministry may dispense with service of notices. Owners may give notice of their interests—section 47, 1890 Act.

Appeal. See section 39 hereof. This is the appeal before the works are done. There is another appeal thereafter—subsection (6), below. For Form of Notice of Appeal—see page 619.

(4.) Where a closing order has become operative, the local authority shall serve notice of the order on the * occupier of the dwelling-house in respect of which the order is made, and, within such period as is specified in the notice, not being less than fourteen days after the service of the notice, the order shall be obeyed by him, and he and his family shall cease to inhabit the dwelling-house, and in default he shall be liable on summary conviction to be ordered to quit the dwelling-house within such time as may be specified in the order.

Becomes operative. See section 39 (2) hereof, and note the special cases of section 15 (4) hereof, and section S. 17 (09). 28 (1) proviso of the 1919 Act.

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 2nd schedule.

The occupier, including an occupying owner. The words were, formerly, "every occupying tenant." For the form of notice to be served—see page 620.

Ordered to quit. If he does not obey the order of the Court of Summary Jurisdiction he will be liable to a penalty of £1 per day, not exceeding £20 in all, or to imprisonment up to two months—Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1879, section 34. Or proceedings may be taken under section 10 of the 1903 Act, in which case the owner will be liable for the expense.

By section 32 of the 1919 Act, if any owner or any other person lets or attempts to let, or occupies or permits to be occupied as a dwelling-house a house closed by a closing order he is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £20.

(5.) Unless the dwelling-house has been made unfit for habitation by the wilful act or default of the tenant or of any person for whom as between himself and the owner or landlord he is responsible, the local authority may make to every such tenant such reasonable allowance on account of his expense in removing as may be determined by the local authority with the consent of the owner of the dwelling-house, or, if the owner of the dwelling-house fails to consent to the sum determined by the local authority, as may be fixed by a court of summary jurisdiction, and the amount of the said allowance shall be recoverable by the local authority from the owner of the dwelling-house as a civil debt in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

Summary Jurisdiction Acts. See the Act of 1879, sections 6, 35 and 51.

(6.) The local authority shall determine any closing order made by them if they are satisfied that the dwelling-house, in respect of which the order has been made, has been rendered fit for human habitation.

. 17 (09). If, on the application of any owner of a dwelling-house, the local authority refuse to determine a closing order, the owner may appeal to the Local Government Board by giving notice of appeal to the Board within fourteen days after the application is refused.

Appeal. See section 39 hereof. For the prescribed forms—see page 623.

By section 47 of the 1890 Act the superior landlord may be authorised to enter and do the necessary works.

(7.) A room habitually used as a sleeping place, the surface of the floor of which is more than three feet below the surface of the part of the street adjoining or nearest to the room, * or more than three feet below the surface of any ground within nine feet of the room,* shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be a dwelling-house so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation, if the room either—

(a) is not on an average at least seven feet in height from floor to ceiling ; or

(b) does not comply with such regulations as the local authority with the consent of the Local Government Board may prescribe for securing the proper ventilation and lighting of such rooms, and the protection thereof against dampness, effluvia, or exhalation: Provided that if the local authority, after being required to do so by the Local Government Board, fail to make such regulations, or such regulations as the Board approve, the Board may themselves make them, and the regulations so made shall have effect as if they had been made by the local authority with the consent of the Board :

* Words added by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 2nd schedule.

Provided that a closing order made in respect of a S. 17 (09). room to which this subsection applies shall not prevent the room being used for purposes other than those of a sleeping place; and that, if the occupier of the room after notice of an order has been served upon him fails to comply with the order, an order to comply therewith may, on summary conviction, be made against him.

This subsection shall not come into operation until the first day of July nineteen hundred and ten, and a closing order made in respect of any room to which this subsection applies shall not be treated as a closing order in respect of a dwelling-house for the purposes of the next succeeding section.

For the regulations suggested by the Ministry—
see page 597.

See also the summary of sections 71–75 of the Public Health Act, 1875, printed on page 65.

18. (1.) Where a closing order in respect of any dwelling-house has remained operative for a period of three months, the local authority shall take into consideration the question of the demolition of the dwelling-house, and shall give every owner of the dwelling-house notice of the time (being some time not less than one month after the service of the notice) and place at which the question will be considered, and any owner of the dwelling-house shall be entitled to be heard when the question is so taken into consideration.

Order for demolition.

By section 47 hereof the present section, which supersedes section 33 of the 1890 Act, is deemed to be part of Part II of that Act. See also the next note.

Closing Order. This is made under section 17 hereof, or one may be deemed to have become operative under section 15 (4) hereof, and section 28 (1) of the 1919 Act. Otherwise the closing order becomes operative as per . 18 (09). section 39 (2) hereof. But, by section 47 (2) hereof, the present section refers only to orders made under the Housing Acts, thus excluding from the operation of the present section closing orders made under Public Health Acts.

As to local authority—see note to section 17 (1).

As to owner—see section 29 of the 1890 Act.

(2.) If upon any such consideration the local authority are of opinion that the dwelling-house has not been rendered fit for human habitation, and that the necessary steps are not being taken with all due diligence to render it so fit, or that the continuance of any building, being or being part of the dwelling-house, is a nuisance or dangerous or injurious to the health of the public or of the inhabitants of the neighbouring dwelling-houses, they shall order the demolition of the building.

This is obligatory. But (per Lancaster v. Burnley Corporation [1915] 1 K.B. 259) the Ministry may appeal quash the order, though it has been validly made. In this way the difficulty may be overcome of the "closed" dwelling-house which is not a nuisance or dangerous to the neighbourhood, and which the owner desires to convert to another purpose. Alternatively the local authority, before making the closing order, could inform the owner that if he desires to use such a house for other than housing purposes he should convert it forthwith. But note particularly section 6 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919.

For forms of demolition orders—see pages 626 and 630.

For power to determine closing and demolition orders—see subsection (3) below.

(3.) If any owner undertakes to execute forthwith the works necessary to render the dwelling-house fit for human habitation, and the local authority consider that it can be so rendered fit for human habitation, the local authority may, if they think fit, postpone the operation of the order for such time, not exceeding six months, as they think sufficient for the purpose of giving the owner an opportunity of executing the necessary works, and if and when the necessary works are completed to their satisfaction the local authority shall determine the closing and demolition orders relating to the dwelling-house.

For the prescribed forms—see page 636. See also note to section 17 (6).

(4.) Notice of an order for the demolition of a building shall be forthwith served on every owner of the building in respect of which it is made, and any owner aggrieved by the order may appeal to the Local Government Board by giving notice of appeal to the Board within twenty-one days after the * notice is served upon him, or where the operation of the order has been postponed for any period within fourteen days after the expiration of that period.*

See note to section 17 (3). As to taking down the building, &c.—see section 34 of the 1890 Act, and notes thereto.

For the prescribed forms—see pages 629 and 635.

19. Any owner of or other person interested in a dwelling-house on which an annuity has been charged by a charging order made under section thirty-six of the principal Act (which relates to the grant of charges) shall at any time be at liberty to redeem the annuity on payment to the person entitled to the annuity of such sum as may be agreed upon, or in default of agreement determined by the Local Government Board.

Amendments with respect to Improvement and Reconstruction Schemes

Amendment of section 4 of the principal Act as to official representation.

22. In section four of the principal Act (which relates to an official representation), the words "that the most satisfactory method of dealing with the evils connected with such houses, courts, or alleys, and the sanitary defects in such area is an improvement scheme" shall be substituted for the words "that the evils connected with such houses, courts, or alleys, and the sanitary defects in such area cannot be effectually remedied otherwise than by means of an improvement scheme."

Amendment
of the principal Act as to contents of schemes.

23. (1.) Section six of the principal Act (which relates to the contents of an improvement scheme) shall be read as if in subsection (1) the words "for sanitary purposes" were omitted in paragraph (a); and as if the following paragraph was inserted at the end of that subsection:—

"and

(e) may provide for any other matter (including the closing and diversion of highways) for which S. 23 (99). it seems expedient to make provision with a view to the improvement of the area or the general efficiency of the scheme."

- (2.) Provision may be made in a reconstruction scheme under Part II of the principal Act for any matters for which provision may be made in an improvement scheme made under Part I of that Act.

See sections 6 and 39 of the 1890 Act.

- 24. (1.) Paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (2) of section five of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1903 (which limit the cases under which an order confirming an improvement scheme takes effect without confirmation by Parliament), shall cease to have effect.

- (2.) An order of the Local Government Board sanctioning a reconstruction scheme, and authorising the compulsory purchase of land for the purpose shall, notwithstanding anything in section thirty-nine of the principal Act, take effect without confirmation.

See also sections 8, 39 and 73 (1) of the 1890 Act.

- 25. The Local Government Board may, in the exercise of their power under section fifteen or subsection (9) of section thirty-nine of the principal Act, permit the local authority to modify their scheme, not only by the abandonment of any part of the scheme which it may appear inexpedient to carry into execution, but also by amending or adding to the scheme in matters of detail in such manner as appears expedient to the Board.

- 26. Any inspector or officer of the Local Government Board, or any person employed by the Board, may be directed to make any inspection or inquiry which is required for the purposes of section sixteen of the principal Act (which relates to inquiries made on

28. (1.) The amount of any compensation payable under section thirty-eight of the principal Act (which relates to obstructive buildings) shall, when settled by arbitration in manner provided by that section, be apportioned by the arbitrator between any persons having an interest in the compensation in such manner as the arbitrator determines.

(2.) The power of the arbitrator to apportion compensation under the foregoing provision and to apportion any part of the compensation to be paid for the demolition of an obstructive building amongst other buildings under subsection (8) of the said section thirty-eight may be exercised in cases where the amount to be paid for compensation has been settled, otherwise than by arbitration under the principal Act, by an arbitrator appointed for the special purpose, on the application of the local authority, by the Local Government Board, and the provisions of that Act shall apply as if the arbitrator so appointed had been appointed as arbitrator to s. 28 (9). settle the amount to be paid for compensation.

See notes to section 38 (9) of the 1890 Act.

29. For removing doubts it is hereby declared that a local authority may tender evidence before an arbitrator to prove the facts under the headings (first) (secondly) (thirdly) mentioned in subsection (2) of section twenty-one and subsection (3) of section forty-one of the principal Act, notwithstanding that the local authority have not taken any steps with a view to remedying the defects or evils disclosed by the evidence.

31. (1.) The expenses incurred by a rural district council after the passing of this Act in the execution of Part III of the principal Act shall be defrayed as general expenses of the council in the execution of the Public Health Acts, except so far as the Local Government Board on the application of the council declare that any such expenses are to be levied as special expenses charged on specified contributory places, or as general expenses charged on specified contributory places, in the district, in such proportions as the district council may determine, to the exclusion of other parts of the district, and a rural district council may borrow for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act in like lands of which a local authority becomes possessed by S. 34 (09). virtue of the Housing Acts.

And the local authority is not required to make good any deficiency in land tax and poor rate caused by their taking land for housing purposes—the decision in Vestry of St. Leonard's, Shoreditch v. London County Council [1895] 2 Q.B. 104, being thus nullified.

35. (1.) The assessment to Inhabited House Duty of any house occupied for the sole purpose of letting lodgings to persons of the working classes, at a charge of not exceeding sixpence a night for each person, shall be discharged by the Commissioners acting in the execution of the Acts relating to the Inhabited House Duties, upon the production of a certificate to the effect that the house is solely constructed and used to afford suitable accommodation for the lodgers, and that due provision is made for their sanitary requirements.

General Amendments

36. Any person authorised in writing stating the particular purpose or purposes for which the entry is authorised, by the local authority or the Local Government Board, may at all reasonable times, on giving twenty-four hours' notice to the occupier and the owner, if the owner is known, of his intention, enter any house, premises, or buildings—

- (b) for the purpose of survey and examination, in the case of any dwelling-house in respect of which a closing order or an order for demolition has been made; or
- (c) for the purpose of survey and examination, where it appears to the authority or Board that survey or examination is necessary in order to determine whether any powers under the Housing Acts should be exercised in respect of any house, premises, or building.

Notice may be given to the occupier for the purposes of this section by leaving a notice addressed to the occupier, without name or further description, at the house, buildings, or premises.

Sections 51 and 89 of the 1890 Act apply when entry is obstructed—Arlidge v. Scarse [1915] 3 K.B. 325. For other powers of entry—see section 47 (2) of the 1890 Act, section 15 (2) hereof, and section 26 (3) of the 1919 Act.

37. If it appears to the Local Government Board that owing to density of population, or any other reason, it is expedient to inquire into the circumstances of any area with a view to determining whether any powers under the Housing Acts should be put into force in that area or not, the Local Government Board may require the local authority to make a report to them containing such particulars as to the population of the district and other matters as they direct, and the local authority shall comply with the requirement of the Local S. 37 (99). Government Board, and any expenses incurred by them in so doing shall be paid as expenses incurred in the execution of such Part of the principal Act as the Local Government Board determine.

See the wider provisions of sections 1-6 of the 1919 Act.

38. Where, upon an application made by one of the local authorities concerned, the Local Government Board are satisfied that it is expedient that any local authorities should act jointly for any purposes of the Housing Acts, either generally or in any special case, the Board may by order make provision for the purpose, and any provisions so made shall have the same effect as if they were contained in a provisional order made under section two hundred and seventy-nine of the Public Health Act, 1875, for the formation of a united district.

There is an almost identical provision in section 7 (4) of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919—see note thereto.

39. (1.) The procedure on any appeal under this Part of this Act, including costs, to the Local Government Board shall be such as the Board may by rules determine, and on any such appeal the Board may make such order in the matter as they think equitable, and any order so made shall be binding and conclusive on all parties, and, where the appeal is against any notice, order, or apportionment given or made by the local authority, the notice, order, or apportionment may be confirmed, varied, or quashed, as the Board think just.

(a) the Local Government Board may at any stage of the proceedings on appeal, and shall, if so directed by the High Court, state in the form of a special case for the opinion of the court any question of law arising in the course of the appeal ; and

(b) the rules shall provide that the Local Government Board shall not dismiss any appeal without having first held a public inquiry unless the appellant fails to prosecute his appeal with due diligence.

(2.) Any notice, order, or apportionment as respects which an appeal to the Local Government Board is given under this part of this Act shall not become operative, until either the time within which an appeal can be made under this Part of this Act has elapsed without an appeal being made, or, in case an appeal is made, the appeal is determined or abandoned, and no work shall be done or proceedings taken under any such notice, order, or apportionment, until it becomes operative.

(3.) The Local Government Board may, before considering any appeal which may be made to them under this Part of this Act, require the appellant to deposit such sum to cover the costs of the appeal as may be fixed by the rules made by them with reference to appeals.

and the National Insurance Act, 1911, section 66 (1). S. 39 (09).
 In the latter Act it is expressly provided that there is no appeal, and though there is no similar provision here, it would still seem that there is no appeal. There is an even greater similarity between the present section and section 44 of the National Insurance Act, 1918.

It is too late to state a case after the award has been given—Johnston's Trustees v. Glasgow Corporation [1912] S.C. 300. As to questions of law—see White v. St. Marylebone Borough Council [1915] 3 K.B. 249.

In Local Government Board v. Arlidge [1915] A.C. 120, it was held that the Board may act upon written evidence, need not hear the appellant orally, and need not disclose the reports and documents placed before them, and that the appellant is not entitled to know the name of the official whose decision the Board's order represents.

40. Notwithstanding anything contained in the principal Act it shall not be obligatory upon a local authority to sell and dispose of any lands or dwellings acquired or constructed by them for any of the purposes of the Housing Acts.

*Sale and disposal of

This referred to section 12 (5) of the 1890 Act, repealed by the Sixth Schedule hereto, which required a sale within ten years.

41. (1.) The Local Government Board may by order prescribe the form of any notice, advertisement, or other document, to be used in connection with the powers and duties of a local authority or of the Board under the Housing Acts, and the forms so prescribed, or forms as near thereto as circumstances admit, shall be used in all cases to which those forms are applicable.

notices.*

(2.) The Local Government Board may dispense with the publication of advertisements or the service of notices required to be published or served by a local authority under the Housing Acts, if they are satisfied

S. 41 (09). that there is reasonable cause for dispensing with the publication or service.

(3.) Any such dispensation may be given by the Local Government Board either before or after the time at which the advertisement is required to be published or the notice is required to be served, and either unconditionally or upon such conditions as to the publication of other advertisements or the service of other notices or otherwise as the Board think fit, due care being taken by the Board to prevent the interests of any person being prejudiced by the dispensation.

The dispensation is not given unless there are very good reasons and there will be no hardship resulting.

Provision as to publication in London Gazette.

42. Where under the Housing Acts, any scheme or order or any draft scheme or order is to be published in the London Gazette, or notice of any such scheme or order or draft scheme or order is to be given in the London Gazette, it shall be sufficient in lieu of such publication or notice to insert a notice giving short particulars of the scheme, order, or draft, and stating where copies thereof can be inspected or obtained in two local newspapers circulating in the area affected by the scheme, order, or draft, or to give notice thereof in such other manner as the Local Government Board determine.

Prohibition of back-to-back houses.

43. Notwithstanding anything in any local Act or byelaw in force in any borough or district, it shall not be lawful to erect any back-to-back houses intended to be used as dwellings for the working classes, and any such house commenced to be erected after the passing of this Act shall be deemed to be unfit for human habitation for the purposes of the provisions of the Housing Acts.

Provided that nothing in this section—

S. 43 (99).

- (a) shall prevent the erection or use of a house containing several tenements in which the tenements are placed back to back, if the medical officer of health for the district certifies that the several tenements are so constructed and arranged as to secure effective ventilation of all habitable rooms in every tenement; or
- (b) shall apply to houses abutting on any streets the plans whereof have been approved by the local authority before the first day of May nineteen hundred and nine, in any borough or district in which, at the passing of this Act, any local Act or byelaws are in force permitting the erection of back-to-back houses.

Back-to-back. This phrase is used in a popular and general sense: there is no definition—Murrayfield Real Estate Company, Limited v. Edinburgh Magistrates [1912] S.C. 217. See also White v. St. Marylebone Borough Council [1915] 3 K.B. 249. Briefly, there must be an air space before and behind each house—or tenement, but see proviso (a), the medical officer's certificate being conclusive.

44. If the Local Government Board are satisfied, by local inquiry or otherwise, that the erection of dwellings for the working classes within any borough, or urban or rural district, is unreasonably impeded in consequence of any byelaws with respect to new streets or buildings in force therein, the Board may require the local authority to revoke such byelaws or to make such new byelaws as the Board may consider necessary for the removal of the impediment. If the local authority do not within three months after such requisition comply therewith, the Board may themselves revoke such byelaws, and make such new byelaws as they may consider necessary for the removal of the impediment, and such new byelaws shall have effect as if they had been duly made by the local authority and confirmed by the Board.

53 & 54 Vict.
c. 70.

45. Nothing in the Housing Acts shall authorise the acquisition for the purposes of those Acts of any land which is the site of an ancient monument or other object of archaeological interest, or the compulsory acquisition for the purposes of Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, of any land which is the property of any local authority or has been acquired by any corporation or company for the purposes of a railway, dock, canal, water, or other public undertaking, or which at the date of the order forms part of any park, garden, or pleasure ground, or is otherwise required for the amenity or convenience of any dwelling-house.

Ancient Monuments. See the Ancient Monuments Amendment and Consolidation Act, 1913, under which county and borough councils can acquire or become the guardians of such monuments. See section 73 hereof as to commons and open spaces, and section 74 as to land in the neighbourhood of royal palaces or parks. Note also the proviso to section 1 (3) of the 1919 Act.

Minor amendments of Housing
Acts.

46. The amendments specified in the second column of the Second Schedule to this Act, which relate to minor details, shall be made in the provisions of the Housing Acts specified in the first column of that Schedule, and section sixty-three of the principal Act (which relates to the disqualification of tenants of lodging-houses on receiving poor relief) shall be repealed.

PART II

TOWN PLANNING

Preparation and approval of town planning scheme.

54. (1.) A town planning scheme may be made in accordance with the provisions of this Part of this Act as respects any land which is in course of development or appears likely to be used for building purposes, with the general object of securing proper sanitary conditions, amenity, and convenience in connexion with the laying out and use of the land, and of any neighbouring lands :

Provided that where a piece of land already built upon or a piece of land not likely to be used for building purposes is so situate with respect to any land likely to be used for building purposes that the general object of the scheme would be better secured by its inclusion in any town planning scheme made with respect to the last-mentioned land, the scheme may include such piece of land as aforesaid, and may provide for the demolition S. 54 (09). or alteration of any buildings thereon so far as may be necessary for carrying the scheme into effect.

Town Planning Scheme. The object is to ensure that land shall be developed in such a way as to secure proper sanitary conditions, amenity and convenience.

There are two schemes : (1) that under the present part of this Act, and (2) the modified one under section 46 of the 1919 Act. As to the nature, &c., of the present scheme—see section 55, below, and the Fourth Schedule.

Note the provision as to the acquisition of land for the purpose of garden cities and town planning schemes in section 10 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919.

May be made. There is compulsion to prepare, &c., in certain circumstances—see section 61 hereof and notes thereto. Either the local authority or the land-owners may originate it—see the next subsection. It takes effect when approved by the Ministry—subsection (5) below.

Provisions of this part of this Act. Sections 54 to 67. By the Fifth Schedule, it will be seen that there have to be publication of notices, submission of plans and estimates, a hearing of objections, &c. &c.

Any land. . . . These words are strictly limited by those which follow them, and those in the proviso below. Yet the words "likely to be used for building purposes" are very wide ; see the extension by subsection (7) below, and note that thereby the decision of the Ministry "whether land is likely to be used for building purposes or not shall be final." Thus the circumstances would be very rare in which land in, or in the neighbourhood of, any town could not be made subject to a town planning scheme ; and by the making of such a scheme at a suitable moment it would seem to be possible to prevent the erection of buildings anywhere, except in accordance with a scheme. From section 46 of the 1919 Act it will be seen that between 1st January 1923 and 1st January 1926, all the land which is in course of development or appears likely to be used for building purposes, within all boroughs and urban districts which contain a population exceeding 20,000, is to be made the subject of town planning schemes. Within these limits, therefore, the areas "planned" can be very large. Similarly there seems to be nothing whatever to prevent very small areas from being "planned"—certainly the contrary in the said boroughs and urban districts, as everything, within the limits, has to be dealt with. Thus a local authority could town-plan a comparatively small plot of land, and so prevent the erection of a building which it objected to, even though the building was within the byelaws. (See, however, section 57 (3) hereof.)

On the other hand it is not clear that the Ministry would approve a scheme the object of which was merely to effect a street improvement.

As to land outside the area of the local authority and joint schemes—see the next subsection.

Crown lands cannot be included in a scheme.

The proviso was added by the Third Schedule to the 1919 Act, but substantially it deals with the same subject as the former subsection (3).

As to the hearing of objections and representations by persons affected—see the Fifth Schedule hereto; and as to the compensation payable—see sections 58 and 59, below.

(2.) * A local authority within the meaning of this Part of this Act may by resolution decide—

(a) to prepare a town planning scheme with reference to any land within or in the neighbourhood of their area in regard to which a scheme may be made under this Act; or

(b) to adopt, with or without any modifications, any town planning scheme proposed by or any of the owners of any land with respect to which the local authority are themselves by this Act authorised to prepare a scheme:

Provided that—

(i) if any such resolution of a local authority extends

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, section 42.

to land not within the area of that local authority, S. 54 (9). the resolution shall not have effect until it is approved by the Local Government Board, and the Board may, in giving their approval, vary the extent of the land to be included within the area of the proposed town planning scheme; and (ii) where any local authorities are desirous of acting jointly in the preparation or adoption of a town planning scheme, they may concur in appointing out of their respective bodies a joint committee for the purpose, and in conferring with or without restrictions on any such committee any powers which the appointing councils might exercise for the purpose, and the provisions of sections fifty-seven and fifty-eight of the Local Government Act, 1894, in regard to joint committees, shall, with the necessary modifications, apply to any joint committee so appointed.

Local Authority. See section 65 (1).

Resolution. The date of this is important in its effect on compensation—see section 58 (2). The resolution has effect at once, as a resolution, except as per proviso (1). By section 43 (1) of the 1919 Act, the Ministry may make regulations as to the procedure consequent on the passing of a resolution, &c.—see that section, which is given in the notes to section 56 hereof, wherein the subject is also dealt with. The point is that when the resolution has been passed the preparation or adoption of a scheme must proceed with all reasonable speed. The procedure is almost wholly governed by regulations, as to which see page 93.

Prepare . . . adopt. The preparation is of a scheme of the authority's own; the adoption is of a scheme already prepared by the owners. The authority cannot, apparently, pay anything to the owners in respect of the preparation of the latter's scheme, but any expenses in connection with the adoption can be met by the authority

S 54 (09).

—section 65 (2). When the scheme has been adopted by the authority it will then be their scheme, but they will not necessarily meet the whole of the subsequent expenses : they could enter into agreement with the owners—Fourth Schedule, paragraph 13.

It is intended that the authority and the owners should co-operate, and that the county council shall have notice of scheme—section 56.

Proviso (i). One effect of this is dealt with in section 58 (2) ; but the chief effect is if there is land affected which is outside the area of the local authority, no steps shall be taken after passing the resolution until approval is given by the Ministry. It may be presumed that before giving approval the Ministry will consult the authority in whose area such land is situated ; and, possibly, the Ministry will, in suitable circumstances, consider whether or not a joint scheme might be prepared under the next proviso.

Proviso (ii). The provisions of section 57 of the Local Government Act, 1894, are as here indicated. Further, the joint committee cannot be empowered to borrow money or make a rate ; cannot hold office beyond the expiration of fourteen days after the next annual meeting of any of the councils who appointed it ; its costs shall be defrayed by the councils in such proportions as they may agree upon, &c. Section 58 deals with the audit of accounts.

(3.) *

(4.) A town planning scheme prepared or adopted by a local authority shall not have effect, unless it is approved by order of the Local Government Board, and the Board may refuse to approve any scheme except with such modifications and subject to such conditions as they think fit to impose :

The proviso which followed here was repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, section 44.

* By the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 3rd schedule, subsection (3) is omitted, its provisions being included in the proviso to subsection (1) thereby added.

As to the procedure before approval is given—see S. 54 (9). section 56 hereof and notes thereto. The date of the approval is important for the purposes of claims for compensation—section 58 (1).

(5.) A town planning scheme, when approved by the Local Government Board, shall have effect as if it were enacted in this Act.

There is a very similar provision in section 65 of the National Insurance Act, 1911, and in Glasgow Burgh Insurance Committee v. Scottish Insurance Commissioners [1915] 1 S.L.T. 217 the court of session held that the regulations in question had the same force as if they were incorporated in the Act and that the court had no jurisdiction to consider their validity. See also Ex parte Ringer [1909] 73 J.P. 436. But a scheme may be revoked, &c.—see the next sub-section.

(6.) A town planning scheme may be varied or revoked by a subsequent scheme prepared or adopted and approved in accordance with this Part of this Act, and the Local Government Board, on the application of the responsible authority, or of any other person appearing to them to be interested, may by order revoke a town planning scheme if they think that under the special circumstances of the case the scheme should be so revoked.

Responsible authority. For definition—see section 55 (2).

(7.) The expression “land likely to be used for building purposes” shall include any land likely to be used as, or for the purpose of providing open spaces, roads, streets, parks, pleasure or recreation grounds, or for the purpose of executing any work upon or under the land incidental to a town planning scheme, whether in the nature of a building work or not, and the decision of

. 54 (09). the Local Government Board, whether land is likely to be used for building purposes or not, shall be final.

See subsection (1) above.

Contents of town planning
schemes.

55. (1.) The Local Government Board may prescribe a set of general provisions (or separate sets of general provisions adapted for areas of any special character) for carrying out the general objects of town planning schemes, and in particular for dealing with the matters set out in the Fourth Schedule to this Act and the general provisions, or set of general provisions appropriate to the area for which a town planning scheme is made, shall take effect as part of every scheme, except so far as provision is made by the scheme as approved by the Board for the variation or exclusion of any of those provisions.

No "general provisions" have yet been prescribed.

It will be seen that they will deal with matters in considerable detail (Fourth Schedule); and in the compulsory scheme under section 46 it is contemplated that matters shall be dealt with much less elaborately.

There is no compulsion upon the Ministry to prescribe "a set of general provisions," and until they are prescribed it would seem that a town planning scheme need not deal with the matters set out in the Fourth Schedule. Note, however, the words "in addition" in the first line of the next subsection.

(2.) Special provisions shall in addition be inserted in every town planning scheme defining in such manner as may be prescribed by regulations under this Part of this Act the area to which the scheme is to apply, and the authority who are to be responsible for enforcing the observance of the scheme, and for the execution of any works which under the scheme or this Part of this Act are to be executed by a local authority (in this Part of this Act referred to as the responsible authority), S. 55 (09). and providing for any matters which may be dealt with by general provisions, and otherwise supplementing, excluding, or varying the general provisions and also for dealing with any special circumstances or contingencies for which adequate provision is not made by the general provisions, and for suspending, so far as necessary for the proper carrying out of the scheme, any statutory enactments, byelaws, regulations, or other provisions, under whatever authority made, which are in operation in the area included in the scheme.

The proviso which followed here was repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, section 44.

There being no "general provisions" (see above) the scheme will deal with the matters mentioned herein (as to the regulations, see page 93). The fact that there are no "general provisions" does not prevent the scheme from including any of the matters mentioned in the Fourth Schedule.

When the scheme is approved by the Ministry it has statutory effect—section 54 (5).

Responsible authority. See also the next subsection.

Suspending . . . any statutory enactments. These are very wide powers, and, following the repeal of the proviso, it is not now necessary to bring before Parliament a scheme which exercises them.

(3.) Where land included in a town planning scheme is in the area of more than one local authority, or is in the area of a local authority by whom the scheme was not prepared, the responsible authority may be one of those local authorities, or for certain purposes of the scheme one local authority and for certain purposes another local authority, or a joint body constituted specially for the purpose by the scheme, and all necessary provisions may be made by the scheme for constituting

S. 55 (09). the joint body and giving them the necessary powers and duties :

Provided that, except with the consent of the London County Council, no other local authority shall, as respects any land in the county of London, prepare or be responsible for enforcing the observance of a town planning scheme under this Part of this Act, or for the execution of any works which under the scheme or this Part of this Act are to be executed by a local authority.

On the subject of a joint body compare section 54 (2) (ii); the joint committee there mentioned is set up merely to prepare or adopt a scheme, but there seems to be no reason why it should not be empowered to carry it out under the present section, though it must be "specially constituted for the purpose by the scheme."

As to the purchase of land in these circumstances—see section 60 (2) hereof.

As to London—see section 66 hereof.

Procedure regulations of the Local Government Board.

56. (1.) The Local Government Board may make regulations for regulating generally the procedure to be adopted with respect to the preparation or adoption of a town planning scheme obtaining the approval of the Board to a scheme so prepared or adopted, the variation or revocation of a scheme and any inquiries, reports, notices, or other matters required in connexion with the preparation or adoption or the approval of the scheme or preliminary thereto, or in relation to the carrying out of the scheme or enforcing the observance of the provisions thereof or the variation or revocation of the scheme.

(2.) Provision shall be made by those regulations—

(a) for securing co-operation on the part of the local authority with the owners and other persons

* As altered by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, 3rd schedule.

- interested in the land proposed to be included in S. 56 (09), the scheme, by *such means as may be provided by the regulations ;
- (b) for securing that notice of the proposal to prepare or adopt the scheme should be given at the earliest stage possible to any council interested in the land ; and
- (c) for dealing with the other matters mentioned in the Fifth Schedule to this Act.

(1.) The power of the Local Government Board of making regulations under section fifty-six of the Act of 1909 shall include power to make regulations as to the procedure consequent on the passing of a resolution by a local authority to prepare or adopt a town planning scheme, and provision shall be made by those regulations for securing that a local authority after passing such a resolution shall proceed with all reasonable speed with the preparation or adoption of the town planning scheme, and shall comply with any regulations as to steps to be taken for that purpose, including provisions enabling the Local Government Board in the case of default or dilatoriness on the part of the local authority to act in the place and at the expense of the local authority.

(2.) Subsection (2) of section fifty-six of the Act of 1909 shall have effect as if the following paragraph were added thereto :

“ For securing that the council of the county in which any land proposed to be included in a town planning scheme is situated (1) shall be furnished with a notice of any proposal to prepare or adopt such a scheme and with a copy of the draft scheme before the scheme is made, and (2) shall be entitled to be heard at any public local inquiry held by the Local Government Board in regard to the scheme."

As to the regulations—see page 93. Several questions arising on this section are dealt with in the regulations, but it will usually be advantageous to consult the Ministry.

Power to enforce scheme.

57. (1.) The responsible authority may at any time, after giving such notice as may be provided by a town planning scheme and in accordance with the provisions of the scheme—

(a) remove, pull down, or alter any building or other work in the area included in the scheme which is such as to contravene the scheme, or in the erection or carrying out of which any provision of the scheme has not been complied with ; or

(b) execute any work which it is the duty of any person to execute under the scheme in any case where it appears to the authority that delay in the execution of the work would prejudice the efficient operation of the scheme.

(2.) Any expenses incurred by a responsible authority under this section may be recovered from the persons in default in such manner and subject to such conditions as may be provided by the scheme.

(3.) If any question arises whether any building or work contravenes a town planning scheme, or whether any provision of a town planning scheme is not complied with in the erection or carrying out of any such building or work, that question shall be referred to the Local Government Board, and shall, unless the parties otherwise agree, be determined by the Board as arbitrators, and the decision of the Board shall be final and conclusive and binding on all persons.

vantageous to wait before removing, &c., a building, and the time for claims for compensation could be fixed accordingly—see section 58 (1) below.

Paragraph (b) should be carefully noted. There must be a duty to execute under the scheme.

Subsection (3). The provisions of the Regulation of Railways Act, 1868, apply to the arbitration. See section 62 hereof and note thereto.

58. (1.) Any person whose property is injuriously affected by the making of a town planning scheme shall, if he makes a claim for the purpose within the time (if any) limited by the scheme, not being less than three months after the date when notice of the approval of the scheme is published in the manner prescribed by regulations made by the Local Government Board, be entitled to obtain compensation in respect thereof from the responsible authority.

Compensation in

Within the time . . . limited by the scheme. This could be fixed by the scheme at, say, within the period between notice to “remove, pull or alter any building” (as per section 57 (1), above) and three months thereafter; and so compensation would not be payable immediately the scheme was approved.

As to the amount, &c., of the compensation—see subsection (4) below.

As to the regulations—see page 93.

(2.) A person shall not be entitled to obtain compensation under this section on account of any building erected on, or contract made or other thing done with respect to, land included in a scheme after the date of the resolution of the local authority to prepare or adopt the scheme or after the date when such resolution takes effect as the case may be, or after such other time as the Local Government Board may fix for the purpose :

58 (29). Provided that this provision shall not apply as respects any work done before the date of the approval of the scheme for the purpose of finishing a building begun or of carrying out a contract entered into before such date or other time as aforesaid.

This has been extended by section 45 of the 1919 Act, which reads as follows:—

The Local Government Board may by special or general order provide that where a resolution to prepare or adopt a town planning scheme has been passed, or where before the passing of this Act the preparation or adoption of a town planning scheme has been authorised, the development of estates and building operations may be permitted to proceed pending the preparation or adoption and approval of the town planning scheme, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed by the order, and where such permission has been given the provisions of subsection (2) of section fifty-eight of the Act of 1909 which relates to the rights of compensation shall have effect as if the following proviso were added thereto:

“Provided also that this provision shall not apply as respects any building erected, contract made, or other thing done in accordance with a permission granted in pursuance of an order of the Local Government Board allowing the development of estates and building operations to proceed pending the preparation or adoption and approval of the scheme, and the carrying out of works so permitted shall not prejudice any claim of any person to compensation in respect of property injuriously affected by the making of the scheme.”

Date when such resolution takes effect. This refers to the circumstances covered by proviso (i) to section 54 (2) hereof.

Or after such other time as the Local Government Board may fix. An actual example, at present the subject of an inquiry, will illustrate the difficulties which may arise. A firm bought land for the erection of a chemical factory in a residential neighbourhood. To prevent the erection, the local authority passed a resolution for a town planning scheme. The firm state they bought the site in May 1919, after inquiries which brought their purpose before the notice of officials of the local authority, and then entered into contracts for the erection of the works. On 5th September 1919, they were notified that their plans were disapproved, and they allege that they first heard of a town planning scheme on 9th September 1919. The question is as to whether the first proviso (above) applies, whether the Ministry should grant permission as per the new proviso, or whether the Ministry should fix "such other time" as would enable the firm to get compensation.

As to the "date of the approval of the scheme," mentioned in the first proviso above—see section 54 (4) hereof.

As to when a building is begun—see White v. Sunderland (Mayor of) [1903] 88 L.T. 592; and Harrogate Corporation v. Dickinson [1904] 1 K.B. 468.

(3.) Where, by the making of any town planning scheme, any property is increased in value, the responsible authority, if they make a claim for the purpose within the time (if any) limited by the scheme (not being less than three months after the date when notice of the approval of the scheme is first published in the manner prescribed by regulations made by the Local Government Board), shall be entitled to recover from any person whose property is so increased in value one-half of the amount of that increase.

(4.) Any question as to whether any property is injuriously affected or increased in value within the meaning of this section, and as to the amount and manner of payment (whether by instalments or otherwise) of the sum which is to be paid as compensation under this section or which the responsible authority are entitled to recover from a person whose property is increased in

A single arbitrator, who under the Arbitration Act, 1889, may be required to state a special case on a point of law.

(5.) Any amount due under this section as compensation to a person aggrieved from a responsible authority, or to a responsible authority from a person whose property is increased in value, may be recovered summarily as a civil debt.

(6.) Where a town planning scheme is revoked by an order of the Local Government Board under this Act, any person who has incurred expenditure for the purpose of complying with the scheme shall be entitled to compensation in accordance with this section in so far as any such expenditure is rendered abortive by reason of the revocation of the scheme.

Revoked. Under section 54 (6) hereof.

Exclusion or limitation of compensation in certain cases.

59. (1.) Where property is alleged to be injuriously affected by reason of any provisions contained in a town planning scheme, no compensation shall be paid in respect thereof if or so far as the provisions are such as would have been enforceable if they had been contained in byelaws made by the local authority.

(2.) Property shall not be deemed to be injuriously affected by reason of the making of any provisions inserted in a town planning scheme, which * prescribe the space about buildings or limit the number of buildings to be erected, or prescribe the height or character of buildings, and which the Local Government Board, s. 59 (69), having regard to the nature and situation of the land affected by the provisions, consider reasonable for the purpose.

(3.) Where a person is entitled to compensation under this Part of this Act in respect of any matter or thing, and he would be entitled to compensation in respect of the same matter or thing under any other enactment, he shall not be entitled to compensation in respect of that matter or thing both under this Act and under that other enactment, and shall not be entitled to any greater compensation under this Act than he would be entitled to under the other enactment.

60. (1.) The responsible authority may, for the purpose of a town planning scheme, purchase any land comprised in such scheme by agreement, or be authorised to purchase any such land compulsorily in the same manner and subject to the same provisions (including any provision authorising the Local Government Board to give directions as to the payment and application of any purchase money or compensation) as a local authority may purchase or be authorised to purchase land situate in an urban district for the purposes of Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, as amended by sections two and forty-five of this Act.

61. (1.) If the Local Government Board are satisfied on any representation, after holding a public local inquiry, that a local authority—

- (a) have failed to take the requisite steps for having a satisfactory town planning scheme prepared and approved in a case where a town planning scheme ought to be made ; or
- (b) have failed to adopt any scheme proposed by owners of any land in a case where the scheme ought to be adopted ; or
- (c) have unreasonably refused to consent to any modifications or conditions imposed by the Board ; the Board may, as the case requires, order the local authority to prepare and submit for the approval of the Board such a town planning scheme, or to adopt the scheme, or to consent to the modifications or conditions so inserted :

Provided that, where the representation is that a local authority have failed to adopt a scheme, the Local Government Board, in lieu of making such an order as aforesaid, may approve the proposed scheme, subject to such modifications or conditions, if any, as the Board think fit, and thereupon the scheme shall have effect as s. 61 (09). if it had been adopted by the local authority and approved by the Board.

(2.) If the Local Government Board are satisfied on any representation, after holding a local inquiry, that a responsible authority have failed to enforce effectively the observance of a scheme which has been confirmed, or any provisions thereof, or to execute any works which under the scheme or this Part of this Act the authority is required to execute, the Board may order that authority to do all things necessary for enforcing the observance of the scheme or any provisions thereof effectively, or for executing any works which under the scheme or this Part of this Act the authority is required to execute.

(3.) Any order under this section may be enforced by mandamus.

See further as to these powers—sections 46 and 47 of the 1919 Act, which in practice may largely displace this section.

Public local inquiry. See section 63 hereof.

62. Where the Local Government Board are authorised by this Part of this Act or any scheme made thereunder to determine any matter, it shall, except as otherwise expressly provided by this Part of this Act, be at their option to determine the matter as arbitrators or otherwise, and, if they elect or are required to determine the matter as arbitrators, the provisions of the Regulation of Railways Act, 1868, respecting arbitrations by the Board of Trade, and the enactments amending those provisions, shall apply as if they were herein re-enacted and in terms made applicable to the Local Government Board and the determination of the matters aforesaid.

Definition of
local authority, and expenses.

65. (1.) For the purposes of this Part of this Act the expression " local authority " means the council of any borough or urban or rural district.

(2.) Any expenses incurred by a local authority under this Part of this Act, or any scheme made thereunder, shall be defrayed as expenses of the authority under the Public Health Acts, and the authority may borrow, for the purposes of this Part of this Act, or any scheme made thereunder, * including the cost of the preparation or adoption of a scheme,* in the same manner and subject to the same provisions as they may borrow for s. 65 (9) for the purposes of the Public Health Acts.

(3.) Money borrowed for the purposes of this Part of this Act, or any scheme made thereunder, shall not be reckoned as part of the debt of a borough or urban district for the purposes of the limitation on borrowing under subsections (2) and (3) of section two hundred and thirty-four of the Public Health Act, 1875.

66. (1.) This Part of this Act shall apply to the administrative county of London, and, as respects that county, the London County Council shall be the local authority. Application to London.

(2.) Any expenses incurred by the London County Council shall be defrayed out of the general county rate and any money may be borrowed by the Council in the same manner as money may be borrowed for general county purposes.

67. ("Application of Part II to Scotland.") Omitted.

PART III

COUNTY MEDICAL OFFICERS, COUNTY PUBLIC HEALTH AND HOUSING COMMITTEE, &c.

68. (1.) Every county council shall appoint a medical officer of health under section seventeen of the Local Government Act, 1888.

This section, except subsection (4), does not apply to London—see section 70 hereof.

Excepting the following words, section 17 of the Local Government Act, 1888, is repealed by section 75 hereof: "The council of any county may, if they see fit, appoint and pay a medical officer of health or medical officers of health."

(2.) The duties of a medical officer of health of a county shall be such duties as may be prescribed by general

See the order on page 74, and note subsection (8) below.

(3.) The power of county councils and district councils under the said section to make arrangements with respect to medical officers of health shall cease, without prejudice to any arrangement made previously to the date of the passing of this Act.

(4.) The medical officer of health of a county shall, for the purposes of his duties, have the same powers of entry on premises as are conferred on a medical officer of health of a district by or under any enactment.

See section 36 hereof and note thereto. There are powers of entry under the Public Health Acts. As to London—see section 70, below.

(5.) A medical officer of health of a county shall be removable by the county council with the consent of the Local Government Board and not otherwise.

(6.) A medical officer of health of a county shall not be appointed for a limited period only :

Provided that the county council may, with the sanction of the Local Government Board, make any temporary arrangement for the performance of all or any of the duties of the medical officer of health of the county, and any person appointed by virtue of any such arrangement to perform those duties or any of them shall, subject to the terms of his appointment, have all the powers, duties, and liabilities of the medical officer of health of the county.

(7.) A medical officer of health appointed after the passing of this Act under the said section as amended by this section shall not engage in private practice, and S. 68 (2). shall not hold any other public appointment without the express written consent of the Local Government Board.

(8.) An order under this section prescribing the duties of medical officers of health of a county shall be communicated to the county council and shall be laid before Parliament as soon as may be after it is made, and, if an address is presented to His Majesty by either House of Parliament within the next subsequent twenty-one days on which that House has sat next after the order is laid before it praying that the order may be annulled, His Majesty in Council may annul the order and it shall thenceforward be void, but without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done thereunder.

See subsection (2) above.

69. (1.) The clerk of a rural district council shall forward to the medical officer of health of the county a copy of any representation, complaint, information, * or closing order,* a copy of which it is the duty of the district council to forward to the county council under section forty-five of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 (which relates to the powers of county councils). Duty of clerk and medical officer of health of district council to furnish information to medical officer of health of county council.

This section does not apply to London—see section 70, below.

For penalty—see subsection (4) below.

(2.) The medical officer of health of a district shall give to the medical officer of health of the county any information which it is in his power to give, and which the medical officer of health of the county may reasonably require

See the order on page 74, made under section 68 (2), above, from which it appears that in the opinion of the Ministry the expression "a district" means a county district.

(3.) If any dispute or difference shall arise between the clerk or the medical officer of health of a district council and the medical officer of health of a county council under this section, the same shall be referred to the Local Government Board, whose decision shall be final and binding.

(4.) If the clerk or medical officer of health of a district council fails to comply with the provisions of this section, he shall on information being laid by the county council, but not otherwise, be liable on summary conviction in respect of each offence to a fine not exceeding ten pounds.

Extent of Part III.

70. The foregoing provisions of this Part of this Act shall not apply to Scotland or, except subsection (4) of section sixty-eight, to the administrative county of London, and, in the application of the said subsection to London, the reference to a medical officer of health of a district shall be construed as a reference to the medical officer of health of a metropolitan borough.

Public health and housing committee of county councils.

71. (1.) Every county council shall establish a public health and housing committee, and all matters relating to the exercise and performance by the council of their powers and duties as respects public health and the housing of the working classes (except the power of raising a rate or borrowing money) shall stand referred to the public health and housing committee, and the council, before exercising any such powers, shall, unless in their opinion the matter is urgent, receive and consider the report of the public health and housing committee with respect to the matter in question, and the council may also delegate to the public health and housing committee, with or without restrictions or conditions as they think fit, any of their powers as respects public health and the housing of the working classes, except the power of raising a rate or borrowing money and except any power of resolving that the powers of a district council in default should be transferred to the council.

(2.) This section shall not apply to Scotland or the London County Council.

As to the powers and duties of county councils as respects housing—see sections 45 and 52 of the 1890 Act; sections 10, 12, 13 and the present Part III of this Act; and sections 1 (6), 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 14, 18, 24 (3) and (4) and 36 of the 1919 Act.

PART IV

SUPPLEMENTAL

73. (1.) Where any scheme or order under the Housing Acts or Part II of this Act authorises the acquisition or appropriation to any other purpose of any land forming part of any common, open space, or allotment, the scheme or order, so far as it relates to the acquisition or appropriation of such land, shall be provisional only, and shall not have effect unless and until it is confirmed by Parliament, except where the scheme or order provides for

(2.) Before giving any such certificate the Board shall give public notice of the proposed exchange, and shall afford opportunities to all persons interested to make representations and objections in relation thereto, and shall, if necessary, hold a local inquiry on the subject.

(3.) Where any such scheme or order authorises such an exchange, the scheme or order shall provide for vesting the land given in exchange in the persons in whom the common or open space was vested, subject to the same rights, trusts, and incidents as attached to the common or open space, and for discharging the part of the common, open space, or allotment acquired or appropriated from all rights, trusts, and incidents to which it was previously subject.

(4.) For the purposes of this Act the expression "common" shall include any land subject to be enclosed under the Inclosure Acts, 1845 to 1882, and any town or village green; the expression "open space" means any land laid out as a public garden or used for the purposes of public recreation, and any disused burial ground; and the expression "allotment" means any allotment set out as a fuel allotment or a field garden allotment under an Inclosure Act.

This is the only case under these Acts where a confirming Act is necessary.

Section 85 of the 1890 Act applies to the local inquiries.

Note that the expression "allotment" is limited; and as to disused burial grounds—see the Disused Burial S. 73 (09).

Grounds Act, 1884.

74. (1.) Where any land proposed to be included in any scheme or order to be made under the Housing Acts or Part II of this Act, or any land proposed to be acquired under the Housing Acts or Part II of this Act, is situate within the prescribed distance from any of the royal palaces or parks, the local authority shall, before preparing the scheme or order or acquiring the land, communicate with the Commissioners of Works, and the Local Government Board shall, before confirming the scheme or order or authorising the acquisition of the land or the raising of any loan for the purpose, take into consideration any recommendations they may have received from the Commissioners of Works with reference to the proposal.

For the regulations—see page 645.

As to the New Forest and Crown lands—see sections 37 and 38 of the 1919 Act.

For definition of “Housing Acts”—see section 52 (2) of the 1919 Act.

75. The enactments mentioned in the Sixth Schedule Repeal. to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the third column of that schedule.

76. (1.) This Act may be cited as the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, and Part I of this Act shall be construed as one with the Housing of the Working Classes Acts, 1890 to 1903, and that Part of this Act and those

Section 2.

FIRST SCHEDULE

PROVISIONS AS TO THE COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND BY A LOCAL AUTHORITY FOR THE PURPOSES OF PART III OF THE HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES ACT, 1890

These provisions relate not only to section 2 hereof, which see, but also to compulsory acquisition for town planning purposes—section 60. But as regards the assessment of compensation, they are subject to the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, which is printed on page 495. Section 11 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, is also of importance, and the power of entry under section 10 thereof should be noted.

(1.) Where a local authority propose to purchase land compulsorily under this Act, the local authority may submit to the Board an order putting in force as respects the land specified in the order the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts with respect to the purchase and taking of land otherwise than by agreement.

For the form of the order—see page 529.

See also section 57 of the 1890 Act, and sections 45, 73 and 74 hereof.

(2.) An order under this schedule shall be of no force unless and until it is confirmed by the Board, and the Board may confirm the order either without modification or subject to such modifications as they think fit, and an order when so confirmed shall, save as otherwise expressly provided by this schedule, become final and have effect 1st Sch. (09).¹ as if enacted in this Act; and the confirmation by the Board shall be conclusive evidence that the requirements of this Act have been complied with, and that the order has been duly made and is within the powers of this Act.

See note to section 54 (5) hereof.

(3.) In determining the amount of any disputed compensation under any such order, no additional allowance shall be made on account of the purchase being compulsory.

(4.) The order shall be in the prescribed form, and shall contain such provisions as the Board may prescribe for the purpose of carrying the order into effect, and of protecting the local authority and the persons interested in the land, and shall incorporate, subject to the necessary adaptations, the Lands Clauses Acts (except section 8 & 9 Vict. one hundred and twenty-seven of the Lands Clauses c. 18. Consolidation Act, 1845) and sections seventy-seven to 8 & 9 Vict. eighty-five of the Railways Clauses Consolidation Act, c. 20. 1845, but subject to this modification, that any question of disputed compensation shall be determined by a single arbitrator appointed by the Board, who shall be deemed to be an arbitrator within the meaning of the Lands Clauses Acts, and the provisions of those Acts with respect to arbitration shall, subject to the provisions of this schedule, apply accordingly.

For the form of the order—see page 529.

Except section 127 of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, which requires the sale of superfluous land. See also section 34 hereof (page 314).

Sections 77-85 of the Railway Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845. Briefly, the local authority do not acquire the minerals unless expressly purchased, but there are (5.) The order shall be published by the local authority in the prescribed manner, and such notice shall be given both in the locality in which the land is proposed to be acquired, and to the owners, lessees, and occupiers of that land as may be prescribed.

See the regulations on page 526.

(6.) If within the prescribed period no objection to the order has been presented to the Board by a person interested in the land, or if every such objection has been withdrawn, the Board shall, without further inquiry, confirm the order, but, if such an objection has been presented and has not been withdrawn, the Board shall forthwith cause a public inquiry to be held in the locality in which the land is proposed to be acquired, and the local authority and all persons interested in the land and such other persons as the person holding the inquiry in his discretion thinks fit to allow shall be permitted to appear and be heard at the inquiry.

But see section 11 (2) and (3) of the 1919 Act, by which the Ministry has discretion to refuse to confirm an order though it is not opposed; and may confirm an order submitted before 31st July 1921, without a public inquiry.

As to the prescribed period—see the regulations on page 526.

Persons interested in the land. Having a legal or equitable interest, whether corporeal or incorporeal, excluding licensees.

Public inquiry. Under section 85 of the 1890 Act.

(7.) Repealed by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, section 50, and 5th schedule.

(8.) The arbitrator shall, so far as practicable, in assessing compensation act on his own knowledge and experience, but, subject as aforesaid, at any inquiry or arbitration 1st Sch. (09). held under this schedule the person holding the inquiry or arbitration shall hear, by themselves or their agents, any authorities or parties authorised to appear, and shall hear witnesses, but shall not, except in such cases as the Board otherwise direct, hear council or expert witnesses.

(9.) The Board may, with the concurrence of the Lord Chancellor, make rules fixing a scale of costs to be applicable on an arbitration under this schedule, and an arbitrator under this schedule may, notwithstanding anything in the Lands Clauses Acts, determine the amount of costs, and shall have power to disallow as costs in the arbitration the costs of any witness whom he considers to have been called unnecessarily and any other costs which he considers to have been caused or incurred unnecessarily.

(10.) The remuneration of an arbitrator appointed under this schedule shall be fixed by the Board.

(11.) In construing for the purposes of this schedule or any order made thereunder, any enactment incorporated with the order, this Act together with the order shall be deemed to be the special Act, and the local authority shall be deemed to be the promoters of the undertaking.

By section 123 of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, the local authority will have to exercise their compulsory powers within three years of the confirmation of the order.

(12.) Where the land is glebe land or other land belonging to an ecclesiastical benefice, the order shall provide that sums agreed upon or awarded for the purchase of the land, or to be paid by way of compensation

354 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

1st Sch. HOUSING ACT, 1914 [4 & 5 GEO. 5. CH. 31.]

An Act to make provision with respect to the Housing of Persons employed by or on behalf of Government Departments where sufficient dwelling accommodation is not available. [10th August 1914.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

Powers of the Local Government Board and Commissioners of Works for the purpose of housing persons employed by
departments.

1. (1.) The Local Government Board shall have power, with the approval of the Treasury, to make arrangements with any authorised society within the meaning of this Act for the purpose of the provision, maintenance, and management of dwellings and gardens and other works or buildings for or for the convenience of persons employed by or on behalf of Government departments on Government works where sufficient dwelling accommodation is not available for those persons, and the Commissioners of Works shall have power for the same purpose, with the consent of the Treasury, given after consultation with the Local Government Board, to acquire and dispose of land and buildings, and to build dwellings, and do all other things which appear to them necessary or desirable for effecting that purpose.

(2.) The Local Government Board may, with the approval of the Treasury, assist any authorised society with whom arrangements are made under this Act on such conditions as they think fit by becoming holders of the share or loan capital thereof or making loans thereto or otherwise as they think fit.

Where the Local Government Board make arrangements under this Act with any authorised society in connexion with the provision or maintenance of dwellings within any borough, the council of the borough shall have the like power, with the approval of the Local Government Board, of assisting the society as the Local Government Board have under this Act with the approval of the Treasury.

Any expenses incurred by the council under this provision shall be defrayed in the same manner as expenses of the council under Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890; and the council shall have the like power to borrow for the purposes of this provision as they have for the purposes of that Part of that Act.

2. (1.) The Treasury shall, as and when they think fit, issue out of the Consolidated Fund or the growing produce thereof such sums as may be required for the purpose of meeting any expenditure which is, in the opinion of the Treasury, of a capital nature and which is incurred with the consent or approval of the Treasury by or on behalf of the Local Government Board, or the Commissioners of Works for the purposes of this Act, not exceeding in the aggregate two million pounds; and any expenses incurred for those purposes by the Local Government Board, or the Commissioners of Works, not being, in the opinion of the Treasury, of the nature of capital expenditure, shall be defrayed out of moneys provided by Parliament, and any receipts arising in connexion therewith shall be paid into the Exchequer.

c. 70.

Payment of expenses incurred
under Act.

(2.) The Treasury may, if they think fit, for the purpose of providing money for sums so authorised to be issued out of the Consolidated Fund, or for repaying to that Fund any part of the sums so issued, borrow by means of terminable annuities for a term not exceeding thirty years ; and all sums so borrowed shall be paid into the Exchequer.

(3.) The said annuities shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament, and, if those moneys are insufficient, shall be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom or the growing produce thereof.

(4.) The Treasury may also, if they think fit, for the same purpose borrow money by means of the issue of Exchequer bonds and the Capital Expenditure (Money) Act, 1904, shall have effect as if this Act had been in force at the time of the passing of that Act.

(5.) The Treasury shall, within six months after the end of every financial year, cause to be made out and laid before the House of Commons accounts showing the amount of any expenditure of a capital nature incurred by the Local Government Board and the Commissioners of Works, respectively, under this Act, and of the money borrowed and the securities created under this Act ; and any such accounts of expenditure shall be audited and reported upon by the Comptroller and Auditor-General as appropriation accounts in manner provided by the Exchequer and Audit Departments Act, 1866.

29 & 30 Vict.
c. 39.

Interpretation, application, and
short title.

3. (1.) In this Act the expression "authorised society" means any society, company, or body of persons approved by the Treasury whose objects include the erection, improvement, or management of dwellings for working classes, which does not trade for profit, or whose constitution forbids the payment of any interest or dividend at a rate exceeding five per cent. per annum.

(2.) In the application of this Act to Scotland the Local Government Board for Scotland shall be substituted for the Local Government Board, and "burgh" shall be substituted for "borough."

(3.) This Act shall not apply to Ireland.

(4.) This Act may be cited as the Housing Act, 1914.

This is a war-time measure, and is not now of great importance. The £2,000,000 referred to is shown by House of Commons Paper, number 8 (ordered to be printed on 11th February 1919), to have been expended to the extent of £1,422,942 2s. 11d.; namely, £601,600 by the Local Government Board Scotland (through the Scottish National Housing Company, Limited—mainly for housing in connection with the Rosyth dockyard), and £821,342 3s. 11d. by H.M. Office of Works (for the Woolwich Arsenal housing scheme).

HOUSING (No. 2) ACT, 1914

[4 & 5 GEO. 5. CH. 52.]

An Act to give the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries in Agricultural districts and the Local Government Board elsewhere powers with respect to Housing and to make similar provision for Scotland. [10th August 1914.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Powers as to acquisition of land and buildings for housing
purposes.

1. (1.) The Board of Agriculture and Fisheries in agricultural districts and the Local Government Board elsewhere shall have power during the period of one year from the passing of this Act to acquire, with the consent of the Treasury and with the concurrence of the Development Commissioners, land and buildings for housing purposes, and, with the consent of the Treasury, shall have power to dispose of any land or buildings so acquired.

(2.) The Board of Agriculture and Fisheries and the Local Government Board respectively shall have power to do all other things which may appear to them necessary or desirable for housing purposes in connection with any land or buildings so acquired, and to make any arrangements for housing purposes with any local authority or authorised society within the meaning of this Act:

Provided that neither the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries nor the Local Government Board shall, in the exercise of their powers under this Act, in any case themselves build any dwellings unless they are satisfied after holding a public local inquiry that in that case there is an insufficiency of dwelling accommodation for the working classes, or that the existing accommodation is unsuitable and that dwelling accommodation cannot be otherwise satisfactorily provided.

2. (1.) The Treasury shall, as and when they think fit, issue out of the Consolidated Fund or the growing produce thereof such sums as may be required for the purpose of meeting any expenditure which is, in the opinion of the Treasury, of a capital nature, and which is incurred with the consent or approval of the Treasury, not exceeding in the aggregate four million pounds, and any expenses incurred for those purposes by the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries or the Local Government Board not being, in the opinion of the Treasury, of the nature of capital expenditure, shall be defrayed out of moneys provided by Parliament, and any receipts arising in connection therewith shall be paid into the Exchequer.

incurred under the
Act.

(2.) The Treasury may, if they think fit, for the purpose of providing money for sums so authorised to be issued out of the Consolidated Fund, or for repaying to that fund any part of the sums so issued, borrow by means of terminable annuities for a term not exceeding thirty years ; and all sums so borrowed shall be paid into the Exchequer.

(3.) The said annuities shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament, and if those moneys are insufficient, shall be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom or the growing produce thereof.

366 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

(4.) The Treasury may also, if they think fit, for the same purpose, borrow money by means of the issue of Exchequer Bonds ; and the Capital Expenditure (Money) Act, 1904, shall have effect as if this Act had been in force at the time of the passing of that Act.

(5.) The Treasury shall, within six months after the end of every financial year, cause to be made out and laid before the House of Commons accounts showing the amount of any expenditure of a capital nature incurred by the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries and the Local Government Board respectively, under this Act, and of the money borrowed and the securities created under this Act ; and any such accounts of expenditure shall be audited and reported upon by the Comptroller and Auditor-General as appropriation accounts in manner provided by the Exchequer and Audit Departments Act, 1866.

3. (1.) In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

Interpretation, application, and
short title.

The expression "housing purposes" means the provision, maintenance, improvement, and management of dwellings and gardens and other works or buildings for or for the convenience of persons belonging to the working classes ; and

The expression "local authority" means the local authority for the purposes of Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 ; and

The expression "authorised society" means any society, company, or body of persons approved by the Treasury, whose objects include the erection, improvement, or management of dwellings for working classes, which does not trade for profit, or whose constitution forbids the payment

4 Edw. 7.
c. 21.

29 & 30 Vict.
c. 39.

53 & 54 Vict.

of any interest or dividend at a rate exceeding five per cent. per annum.

(2.) In the application of this Act to Scotland the Local Government Board for Scotland shall be substituted for the Local Government Board, and the Board of Agriculture for Scotland shall be substituted for the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries.

(3.) This Act shall not apply to Ireland.

(4.) This Act may be cited as the Housing (No. 2) Act, 1914.

This is also a war-time measure. It was intended to meet possible unemployment in the building trade; but this did not arise, and the powers in section 1 (1) expired without having been exercised. The Act was subsequently extended to Ireland.

SCHEDULES.

An Act to amend the enactments relating to the Housing of the Working Classes, Town Planning, and the acquisition of small dwellings. [31st July 1919.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same as follows:

PART I

HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES

Schemes under Part III of Act of 1890

1. (1.) It shall be the duty of every local authority within the meaning of Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 (hereinafter referred to as the principal Act), to consider the needs of their area with respect to the provision of houses for the working classes, and within three months after the passing of this Act, and thereafter as often as occasion arises, or within three months after notice has been given to them by the Local Government Board, to prepare and submit to the Local Government Board a scheme for the exercise of their powers under the said Part III.

Duty. This is the point of this Act; previously the local authorities had power to build if they thought fit. For enforcement—see sections 3 and 4. The duty is “to consider the needs . . . and . . . to prepare and submit” a scheme; for duty to carry out the scheme—see section 2.

Local authority. For definition see page 11.

Part III deals with “Working-Class Lodging Houses” the erection of lodging-houses, dwelling-houses and cottages, &c. (see page 207).

To consider the needs. For discussion (see page 17). See also section 26 (5) hereof.

Houses for the Working Classes. For definition—see section 40 (page 441).

Occasion arises. See subsection (5) below.

Within three months after notice. Subsection (5) does not fix any time limit within which action must be taken after an “occasion arises,” but these words here would enable the Local Government Board (Ministry of Health) to require action within three months.

Scheme. This is not defined except as by the next subsection, and no scheme is required by, or referred to in, Part III of the 1890 Act. See also page 18.

Their powers, i.e. to erect dwelling-houses, &c. (see pages 11, 13, 211 and 394).

(2.) A scheme under this section shall specify—

- (a) the approximate number and the nature of the houses to be provided by the local authority;
- (b) the approximate quantity of land to be acquired and the localities in which land is to be acquired;
- (c) the average number of houses per acre:

(d) the time within which the scheme or any part S. 1 (19).

thereof is to be carried into effect ;

and the scheme may contain such incidental, consequential and supplemental provisions (including provisions as to the subsequent variation of the scheme) as may appear necessary or proper for the purpose of the scheme.

Nature. It will be seen from D.89 (page 18) that the Ministry interprets this to mean that the scheme shall show how many houses with two, three or four bedrooms, &c., are proposed, how many are block dwellings, and so on.

Average number of houses per acre. In the official Manual on the Preparation of State-Aided Housing Schemes, this matter is discussed fully (see page 23), but the local authorities are nowhere bound by the eight to twelve houses per acre therein mentioned, though the Ministry have powers (under the next subsection, (3), and section 7) to check any unreasonable variations from these figures. It is only an approved scheme which secures the financial assistance under section 7.

(3.) The Local Government Board may approve any such scheme or any part thereof without modification or subject to such modifications as they may think fit, and the scheme or part thereof when so approved shall be binding on the local authority ; but if the Board consider the scheme inadequate they may refuse to approve the scheme and require the authority to prepare and submit to them an adequate scheme within such time as they may fix, or they may approve the scheme or part thereof subject to the condition that the authority prepare and submit to them a further scheme within such time as they may fix :

Provided that local authorities in preparing, and the Local Government Board in approving, any scheme shall take into account, and so far as possible preserve, existing erections of architectural, historic, or artistic interest, and shall have regard to the natural amenities of the locality, and, in order to secure that the houses proposed to be built under the scheme shall be of a suitable architecture and that the natural amenities of the locality shall not be unnecessarily injured, the Local Government Board may, in any case where it appears to them that the character of the locality renders such a course expedient, require as a condition of their approval the employment by the local authority of an architect to be selected from a panel of architects nominated for the purpose by the Royal Institute of British Architects.

May approve. Subsection (4), below, speaks of final approval; hence the approval here would appear to mean "subject to subsection (4)," and in practice it is "provisional." Probably where an unexpected change in circumstances compelled a change in the scheme, the Ministry could withdraw its approval so as to approve and make binding the changed scheme, if desired by the local authority; but short of that the scheme when approved (subject to subsection (4)) would appear to be binding on the Ministry also—a matter of importance in view of section 7. It would appear also that the Ministry can refuse to approve the scheme only if it considers it inadequate. In any case it must exercise its discretion reasonably.

Proviso. Those interested in the genesis of the proviso may read the speech of the Marquis of Salisbury in the House of Lords on 8th July 1919 (Parliamentary Debates, column 290). See also section 45 of the 1909 Act, "Saving of Sites of Ancient Monuments, &c."

(4.) Before the Local Government Board finally approve a scheme, the local authority shall furnish to them estimates of the cost of the scheme and of the rents expected to be derived from the houses provided under the scheme.

Finally approve. See subsection (3) above.

Cost . . . rents. See section 7 (2), proviso (i). It does s. 1 (19). not appear expressly that these estimates are part of the scheme, and so binding on the local authority when approved. See the form on page 560.

(5.) If the Local Government Board consider as respects any local authority that an occasion for the preparation of a new scheme has arisen, they shall give notice to that effect to the local authority, and thereupon such an occasion shall be deemed to have arisen.

See subsection (1) above. When the occasion has arisen a new scheme must be prepared and submitted, but no time limit is fixed, though the Ministry may give three months notice. It is possible that this subsection is redundant, inasmuch as the whole ground is covered by subsection (1), unless its purpose is to define the words "occasion arises."

(6.) Where the local authorities concerned or the Local Government Board are of opinion that a scheme should be made affecting the areas of two or more local authorities, such a scheme shall be prepared by the local authorities jointly and the local authority of each area to which any part of any such joint scheme applies may, or, if the Local Government Board after giving the local authority an opportunity of being heard so direct, shall carry out that part of the joint scheme, and for the purposes of this subsection "local authority" shall, in any case where the Local Government Board consent, and subject to any conditions which the Board may prescribe, include a county council.

As to joint action—see section 38 of the 1909 Act.

Apart from this county councils are not local authorities under the housing schemes here dealt with; but they may act in place of local authorities under sections 3 and 5 (see also sections 4, 6 and 7), and under section 8

374 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 1 (19).

they may provide houses for their employees. They may also act under sections 10, 12 and 13 of the 1909 Act. The London County Council is in a special position—see section 41.

By section 1 of the 1900 Act any local authority, other than a rural district council, "may, for supplying the needs of their district, establish or acquire lodging houses for the working classes" under Part III of the principal Act, outside their district.

Shall be prepared. For enforcement—see sections 3 (3) and 4 hereof.

Prescribe. By regulations, but none have yet been made.

(7.) Local authorities in preparing, and the Local Government Board in approving, schemes shall make inquiry respecting and take into account any proposals by other bodies and persons to provide housing accommodation.

Other bodies, e.g. public utility societies, housing trusts, private persons, and, presumably, county councils acting under section 8.

Proposals. These would appear to be definite proposals, rather than contingent projects or matters merely talked of. In this case, as the proposals would be made to the Ministry or the local housing commissioners, the inquiry would not be troublesome; and further, the plans would have to be submitted to the local authority.

(8.) Where any proposals as to the provision of houses for the working classes have before the passing of this Act been submitted to the Local Government Board by a local authority and those proposals have been approved by the Board, either before or after the passing of this Act, the proposals may, if the Board so direct, be treated, for any of the purposes of this Act, as if they were a scheme submitted and approved under this section.

2. It shall be the duty of a local authority on which obligations are imposed by any such scheme to carry that scheme into effect within such time as may be specified in the scheme or within such further time as may be allowed by the Local Government Board.

S. 2 (19).
Duty of local authority to carry out scheme.

See section 1 (2) and (3); and, for enforcement, sections 3 and 4.

See section 7 (1) as to the period in which the scheme is to be carried out to receive the financial assistance thereunder.

Power of County Councils and Local Government Board to act in place of Local Authorities

3. (1.) Where the Local Government Board are satisfied that a local authority have failed or are not prepared to fulfil their obligations as to the preparation of schemes under this Act, or their obligations under any such scheme, or that for any other reason it is desirable that any such obligation should be performed by the county council instead of by the local authority, the Board, after considering the circumstances of the case and giving the local authority and the county council an opportunity of being heard, may, if they think fit, by order, transfer to the council of the county, in which the district of the local authority is comprised, the obligation to prepare and carry out a scheme, or to carry out in whole or in part the provisions of a scheme prepared by the local authority.

authorise county council to act in place of local authority.

Failed or are not prepared. "Not prepared" appears to mean both "not equipped" and "not willing."

See also sections 10, 12 and 13 of the 1890 Act.

Obligations. See sections 1 and 2. Apparently, one of the obligations can be transferred so that the county council can be required to carry out the first scheme or part of it, and the local authority the remainder or any subsequent one.

For any other reason. As, for instance, where it would result in a saving of time or money, or where it would be more convenient and effective, or where the county council has the land or machinery.

See also subsection (3) below, and section 1 (6) as to joint schemes.

An opportunity of being heard. The Ministry has to be "satisfied," then to consider the circumstances of the case, and to give the authority an opportunity of being heard. There is no requirement of a public inquiry or of a hearing by counsel. The essence of the present Act is quick action. But reasonable notice will have to be given by the Ministry. And doubtless if the county council objected to doing the work, the Ministry would proceed under the next section.

(2.) Where the Board make an order under this section, the order may, for the purpose of enabling the county council to give effect to the order, apply any of the provisions of the Housing Acts or section sixty-three of the Local Government Act, 1894, with such modifications and adaptations as appear necessary or expedient:

Provided that the local authority shall be entitled to appeal to the Local Government Board if, in their opinion, the amount of the expenses, which the county council require them to defray or propose to charge against their district, is excessive or unreasonable, or against any refusal by a county council to make an order under the said section sixty-three vesting in the local authority all or any of the powers, duties, property, debts, and liabilities of the county council in relation to the powers transferred to them, and upon any such appeal the Board may make such order as they may deem just, and an order so made shall be binding on the county council and the local authority.

56 & 57 Vict.
c. 73.

Housing Acts. See section 52 (2) hereof.

S. 3 (19).

Section 63 of the Local Government Act, 1894, reads as follows :—

(1.) Where the powers of a district council are by virtue of a resolution under this Act transferred to a county council, the following provisions shall have effect :—

- (a) Notice of the resolution of the county council by virtue of which the transfer is made shall be forthwith sent to the district council and to the Local Government Board :
- (b) The expenses incurred by the county council shall be a debt from the district council to the county council, and shall be defrayed as part of the expenses of the district council in the execution of the Public Health Acts, and the district council shall have the like power of raising the money as for the defraying of those expenses :
- (c) The county council for the purpose of the powers transferred may on behalf of the district council borrow subject to the like condition, in the like manner, and on the security of the like fund or rate, as the district council might have borrowed for the purpose of those powers :
- (d) The county council may charge the said fund or rate with the payment of the principal and interest of the loan ; and the loan with the interest thereon shall be paid by the district council in like manner, and the charge shall have the like effect, as if the loan were lawfully raised and charged on that fund or rate by the district council :
- (e) The county council shall keep separate accounts of all receipts and expenditure in respect of the said powers :
- (f) The county council may by order vest in the district council all or any of the powers, duties, property, debts, and liabilities of the county council in relation to any of the said powers, and the property, debts, and liabilities so vested shall be deemed to have been acquired or incurred by the district council for the purpose of those powers.
- (2.) Where a rural district is situate in two or more counties, a parish council complaining under this Act may complain to the county council of the county in which the parish is situate, and if the subject matter of the complaint affects any other county the complaint shall be referred to a joint committee of the councils of the counties concerned, and any question arising as to the constitution of such joint committee shall be determined by the Local Government Board, and if members of the joint committee are not appointed, the members who are actually appointed shall act as the joint committee.

(3.) This section shall apply in cases where a joint scheme has been, or in the opinion of the Board ought to be, prepared with the substitution of references to the local authorities concerned and their districts for references to the local authority and the district of the local authority.

Joint scheme. See section 1 (6) hereof.

Power of Local Government

authority.

4. (1.) Where the Local Government Board are satisfied that a local authority, or, in cases where any powers or duties of a local authority have been transferred to a county council, such council, or, in cases where a joint scheme has been or in the opinion of the Board should be prepared, the local authorities concerned, have failed to fulfil their obligations as to the preparation of schemes under this Act or their obligations under any such schemes, the Board may, after considering the circumstances of the case, and after giving the local authority, authorities, or county council an opportunity of being heard, themselves prepare and carry out a scheme or take such steps as may be necessary to carry out any scheme prepared by the local authority or council, or by two or more local authorities jointly, and shall for that purpose have all the powers of a local authority under the Housing Acts, and those Acts shall, with the necessary modifications and adaptations, apply accordingly.

Transferred to a county council. See section 3 hereof.

Joint scheme. See section 1 (6) hereof.

S. 4 (19).

Obligations. See sections 1 and 2 hereof.

An opportunity of being heard. See note to section 3 (1) hereof.

Housing Acts. See section 52 (2) hereof.

(2.) Any expenses incurred by the Board in the exercise of such powers as aforesaid shall in the first instance be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament, but the amount certified by the Board to have been so expended, and to be properly payable by a local authority shall on demand be paid to the Board by the local authority and shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Crown, and the payment of the sum so payable to the Board shall be a purpose for which the local authority may borrow under Part III of the principal Act.

May borrow under Part III. See section 66 of the Act of 1890 and note thereto.

5. Without prejudice to any other powers for enforcing the provisions of the Housing Acts, where the Local Government Board are satisfied that any area within the district of a local authority is an area in respect of which the local authority ought to exercise their powers under Part I or Part II of the principal Act, the Board may by order require the local authority to make a scheme for the improvement of such area either under Part I or under Part II of that Act and to do all things necessary under the Housing Acts for carrying into execution the scheme so made, and, if the local authority fail within such time as may be prescribed by the order to make a scheme to the satisfaction of the Local Government Board and to carry the scheme into execution, the Board may either by order empower the county council to make and carry out a scheme, or themselves make and take such steps as may be necessary to carry out a scheme, and the provisions of the last two foregoing sections of this Act in regard to the powers of county councils and the Board, as the case may be, shall apply.

Other powers for enforcing. See sections 10, 13, 16, 31, 38, 39 (8) and 45 of the 1890 Act, section 4 (1) of the 1903 Act, and sections 10 and 11 of the 1909 Act, and notes thereto.

Satisfied. See section 6, below, for one means.

Powers under Part I or Part II. Including those to make improvement or reconstruction schemes for unhealthy areas (Part I) and unhealthy dwelling houses (Part II). If the local authority fail to effect these schemes the Ministry may do so, or may empower the county council, at the expense of the local authority—having thus the same power as in the case of (Part III) housing schemes (see sections 3 and 4 hereof). Under section 4 of the 1890 Act the local authority are not required to act unless satisfied of the sufficiency of their resources, but see note to that section.

No "scheme" is necessary in the case of closing or demolition orders under sections 17 and 18 of the 1909 Act, and unless the evils which such orders are directed against come under section 39 of the 1890 Act, and so become the subjects of a "scheme" the present section apparently does not apply. But section 10 of the 1909 Act applies and gives a remedy. The same is true of obstructive buildings—section 38 of the 1890 Act—but in that case the remedy is given by section 11 of the 1909 Act.

6. Where a representation is made to the Local Government Board as respects any county district that the local authority have failed to exercise their powers under Part I or Part II of the principal Act, the Board may direct the county council to instruct the medical officer of health of the county to inspect such district and to make a report to the Board as to the exercise of the powers aforesaid by the local authority.

See notes to section 5, above.

S. 6 (19).

County district excludes county boroughs.

The representation may be made by any person or body.

This section provides one means of setting in motion the powers of section 5, above.

Financial Provisions

7. (1.) If it appears to the Local Government Board that the carrying out by a local authority, or by a county council to whom the powers of a local authority have been transferred under this Act, of any scheme approved under section one of this Act, or the carrying out of a re-housing scheme in connection with a scheme made under Part I or Part II of the principal Act, including the acquisition, clearance, and development of land included in the last-mentioned scheme, and whether the re-housing will be effected on the area included in that scheme or elsewhere, or the carrying out of any scheme approved by the Board for the provision of houses for persons in the employment of or paid by a county council or a statutory committee thereof, has resulted or is likely to result in a loss, the Board shall, if the scheme is carried out within such period after the passing of this Act as may be specified by the Board with the consent of the Treasury, pay or undertake to pay to the local authority or county council out of moneys provided by Parliament such part of the loss as may be determined to be so payable under regulations made by the Board with the approval of the Treasury, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed by those regulations.

Carrying out. Including preparation. Anything which is part of the approved scheme will get the State subsidy, subject to the regulations.

382 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 7 (19).

Transferred under this Act. By sections 3 and 5, above.

Scheme approved. It is only to an approved scheme that the State subsidy is given. The re-housing scheme under Parts I or II of the 1890 Act must be confirmed or sanctioned by the Ministry—see sections 8, 11, 39 and 40 of that Act. There is no subsidy for a slum clearance scheme unless it is accompanied by re-housing.

Note section 2 (2) of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919.

Provision of houses . . . by a county council. See section 8 hereof.

Within such period. See article 111 of the below-mentioned regulations.

Regulations. See pages 537 (Local Authorities) and 76 (County Councils). Further as to these regulations—see subsections (2), (3) and (4) below.

(2.) Such regulations shall provide that the amount of any annual payment to be made under this section shall—

(a) in the case of a scheme carried out by a local authority, be determined on the basis of the estimated annual loss resulting from the carrying out of any scheme or schemes to which this section applies, subject to the deduction therefrom of a sum not exceeding the estimated annual produce of a rate of one penny in the pound levied in the area chargeable with the expenses of such scheme or schemes ; and

(b) in the case of a scheme for the provision of houses for persons in the employment of or paid by a county council, or a statutory committee thereof, be an amount equivalent during the period ending on the thirty-first day of March nineteen hundred and twenty-seven to fifty per centum and thereafter to thirty per centum of the annual loan charges as calculated in accordance with the regulations on the total capital expenditure incurred by the s. 7 (19). county council for the purposes of the scheme :

Provided that the regulations shall include provisions—

- (i) for the reduction of the amount of the annual payment in the event of a failure on the part of the local authority or county council to secure due economy in the carrying out and administration of a scheme to charge sufficient rents or otherwise to comply with the conditions prescribed by the regulations ;
- (ii) for the determination of the manner in which the produce of a rate of one penny in the pound shall be estimated ; and
- (iii) for any adjustment which may be necessary in consequence of any difference between the estimated annual produce and the actual produce of the said rate of one penny in the pound.

The financial basis of the State subsidy to local authorities is given in the regulations printed on page 537 ; and to county councils in the regulations printed on page 76.

As to rents and the general management of the houses —see section 61 of the 1890 Act.

The words printed in italics were added by section 4 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, their effect being to render additional assistance to county councils for the purposes and the period named.

(3.) Every regulation so made shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament as soon as may be after it is made, and, if an address is presented by either House within twenty-one days on which that House has sat next after any such regulation is laid before it praying that the regulation may be annulled, His Majesty in Council may annul the regulation, but without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done thereunder.

S. 7 (19).

This is taken, substantially, from the National Insurance Act, 1911, section 65, but there is no provision that the regulations made under the present section "shall have effect as if enacted in this Act"—an omission of possible importance in view of expressions used in Glasgow Insurance Committee v. Scottish Insurance Commissioners. See also hereon R. v. Baggallay, Hurlock v. Shinn [1913] I. K.B. 290, and O'Neill v. Middlesex Insurance Committee [1916] I. K.B. 331.

Section 19 (3) hereof is in identical terms.

(4.) Where a loan is made by the Public Works Loan Commissioners for the purposes of a scheme towards the losses on which the Local Government Board are liable to contribute under this section the loan shall, notwithstanding anything in section three of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, be made on such terms and conditions as the Treasury may prescribe.

This subsection shall be deemed to have had effect as from the first day of April, nineteen hundred and nineteen, as respects any proposals made by a local authority and approved by the Local Government Board before the passing of this Act as respects which the Board may have signified their intention to direct that they shall be treated as a scheme for the purposes of this section.

A Treasury Minute, dated 1st November 1920 (see page 536), fixes the present rate of interest on loans from the Local Loans Fund.

See also note to section 3 of the 1909 Act (page 291), and note to section 25 (5) of the 1890 Act (page 166).

(5.) The provisions of this section relating to the carrying out of a scheme for the provision of houses for persons in the employment of or paid by county councils shall apply to the Lancashire Asylums Board, the West Riding of Yorkshire Asylums Board or other body

9 Edw. 7.
c. 44.

constituted for the purpose of the administration of the S. 7 (19). Lunacy Acts, on behalf of any combination of county councils and county borough councils.

See the foregoing subsections hereof and the next section. In most counties the county council is the asylum authority, but not in the cases of Lancashire and the West Riding of Yorkshire. Where the asylum authority provides houses for its servants, it will get the State subsidy like the county councils.

8. (1.) Where money is borrowed by a county council for the purpose of the provision of houses for persons in the employment of or paid by the council or a statutory committee thereof, or of acquiring land for such houses, the maximum period for repayment shall be eighty years, and as respects money so borrowed eighty years shall be substituted for thirty years in subsection (5) of section sixty-nine of the Local Government Act, 1888.

51 & 52 Vict.
c. 41.

See subsection (3) below, and also section 18 (4) hereof. The said section 69 (5) reads, "a loan under this section shall be repaid within such period, not exceeding thirty years, as the county council, with the consent of the Local Government Board, determine in each case."

(2.) Where a loan is made by the Public Works Loan Commissioners to a county council for any such purposes as aforesaid, it shall be made on the same terms and conditions as a loan to a local authority for the purposes of the Housing Acts.

See section 7 (4) hereof; sections 25, 43, 46 and 66 of the 1890 Act and section 1 of the 1903 Act, and notes thereto.

(3.) A county council shall have power and shall be deemed always to have had power to provide houses for persons in the employment of or paid by the council or a statutory committee thereof, and for that purpose

386 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 8 (19).

a county council may be authorised to acquire land in like manner as a local authority may be authorised to acquire land for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act.

This section shall apply to any such board or body as is mentioned in subsection (5) of section seven of this Act in like manner as it applies to a county council, with the substitution of a reference to the provisions fixing the period within which such board or body is required to repay loans for the reference to subsection (5) of section sixty-nine of the Local Government Act, 1888.

Deemed always. . . . Certain county councils have provided houses for persons in their employment. This subsection sets at rest any doubt as to their powers in that regard.

To acquire land in like manner. See sections 10, 11 and 12 hereof and notes thereto. Note the power to acquire for garden cities, &c.—section 10 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919. For power to acquire water rights—see section 14 hereof. Section 57 of the 1890 Act is the original section dealing with acquisition for Part III purposes.

With the substitution of. The asylums boards mentioned in section 7 (5) hereof will not borrow under the provisions of the Local Government Act, 1888, but under their own special Acts—namely, the Lancashire County Lunatic Asylums Act and the West Riding of Yorkshire Lunatic Asylums Act.

Provisions as to the Acquisition and Disposal of Land, &c.

Provisions as to assessment of compensation.

9. (1.) Where land included in any scheme made or to be made under Part I or Part II of the principal Act (other than land included in such a scheme only for the purpose of making the scheme efficient and not on account of the sanitary condition of the premises thereon or of those premises being dangerous or prejudicial to health) is acquired compulsorily, the compensation to be paid for the land, including any buildings thereon, s. 9 (19). shall be the value at the time the valuation is made of the land as a site cleared of buildings and available for development in accordance with the requirements of the building byelaws for the time being in force in the district:

Provided that, if in the opinion of the Local Government Board it is necessary that provision should be made by the scheme for the re-housing of persons of the working classes on the land or part thereof when cleared, or that the land or a part thereof when cleared should be laid out as an open space, the compensation payable to all persons interested in any land included in the scheme (other than as aforesaid) for their respective interests therein shall be reduced by an amount ascertained in accordance with the rules set forth in the First Schedule to this Act.

Schemes under Part I or Part II. These are improvement and reconstruction schemes affecting unhealthy areas and unhealthy dwelling-houses. Under section 6 of the 1890 Act (page 140) the improvement scheme made by the local authority may include any neighbouring lands for making their improvement scheme efficient; and under section 38 thereof (page 178) an order may be made for the demolition of an obstructive building and the land on which it is erected may be acquired. In either case these lands—namely, those referred to in the parenthesis—are not subject to the provisions of the present section, but are to be dealt with under sections 21 and 41 of the 1890 Act; subject, however, to the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, section 7 (1) proviso.

The compensation to be paid. The First Schedule reads as follows:—

RULES FOR DETERMINING THE AMOUNT OF REDUCTION OF COMPENSATION

(a) The value of the whole of the land included in the scheme shall first be ascertained on the basis of its value as a cleared site available for development in accordance with the requirements of the building byelaws in force in the district.

S. 9 (19).

(b) The value of the whole of the said land shall next be ascertained on the basis of its value as a cleared site subject to the requirements of the scheme as to the provision to be made for the re-housing of persons of the working classes or the laying out of open spaces on the land or any part thereof.

(c) The difference between the amounts ascertained under paragraph (a) and paragraph (b) shall then be computed.

(d) The amount by which the compensation payable for the respective interests in the land to which section nine of this Act applies, as ascertained in accordance with the principle laid down in that section, is to be reduced shall be a fraction thereof equal to the amount arrived at under paragraph (c) when divided by the amount arrived at under paragraph (a).

It should first be noted that "building byelaws" are defined by section 40 hereof; and that the lands included in the scheme for the purpose of making it efficient are not subject to these deductions (see above). The remainder of the words in the subsection and the schedule can be explained by an illustration:—

Let the whole of the land in the area (including that for making the scheme efficient) be valued per rule (a) in the schedule at £100,000.

Let the whole of the land (as aforesaid) be valued per rule (b) in the schedule at £60,000.

Then the constant factor, per rules (c) and (d), by which the value of the "insanitary" land will be reduced is—

$$\frac{100,000 - 60,000}{100,000} = \frac{2}{5}$$

Such reduction applies, of course, only where the proviso applies.

As a site cleared of buildings. It would appear that no compensation is to be paid for the buildings. In that case it will be to the advantage of all interested in the buildings to preserve them from becoming condemned. In this connection reference should be made to section 30 hereof, ^{S. 9 (10)} which gives the court power to authorise the superior landlord to enter and execute works. Section 12 (1) (b) hereof gives another power of dealing with this bad property. See also section 28 as to the repair of houses.

In some cases, however, it may be to the advantage of the ground landlord if the property is made the subject of a scheme. It is not the policy of the Ministry that re-housing should take place in slum areas, but rather that the re-housing should be on the outskirts of cities. Except in special cases, the Ministry may not be of opinion that "it is necessary that provision should be made by the scheme for the re-housing of persons of the working classes on the land or a part thereof when cleared, or that an open space be provided." In that case the commercial value would be paid, to the considerable advantage of the ground landlord who has let the land on a long lease, and has seen the area steadily degenerating into a slum.

Generally. The subject of unhealthy areas and houses is dealt with in Chapter III.

(2.) The provisions of sections twenty-one and forty-one of the principal Act shall cease to apply as respects lands to which the provisions of this section apply, in so far as such first-mentioned provisions are inconsistent or in conflict with the provisions of this section.

The effect of this subsection is that the insanitary property does not get the advantages of the quoted sections, but only those advantages subject to subsection (1) above. See the notes to the quoted sections.

10. (1.) Where an order authorising a local authority to purchase land compulsorily for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act has been made and confirmed under the provisions of Part I of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, then, at any time after notice to treat has been served, the local authority may, after giving Power of entry on land acquired.

- . 10 (19). not less than fourteen days' notice to the owner and occupier of the land, enter on and take possession of the land or such part thereof as is specified in the notice without previous consent or compliance with sections eighty-four to ninety of the Lands Clauses (Consolidation) Act, 1845, but subject to the payment of the like compensation for the land of which possession is taken and interest on the compensation awarded as would have been payable if those provisions had been complied with.
- & 9 Vict.

This subsection covers the case of compulsory purchase ; subsection (2) covers purchase by agreement.

Section 2 of the Act of 1909 authorises a local authority to purchase land compulsorily for the provision of lodging houses for the working classes (Part III of the 1890 Act) by means of an order submitted to the Local Government Board, and confirmed by the Board in accordance with the First Schedule to the 1909 Act—see pages 289 and 350. See also sections 5 and 28 of that Act.

The procedure for compulsory purchase is outlined in the Housing Acts (Compulsory Purchase) Regulations, 1919, printed on page 526.

As to the compensation to be paid—see the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, page 495.

This section is very similar to section 2 of the Land Settlement (Facilities) Act, 1919, 9 and 10 Geo. 5. c. 59.

The present subsection, section 11 (3) below, and the regulations above referred to, expedite progress with housing schemes. The order will be more quickly made and confirmed. On confirmation notice to treat may be given, and then, after fourteen days' notice to the owner and occupier of the land, the local authority may take possession, subject to the payment of compensation subsequently awarded. See also the Unemployment (Relief Works) Act, 1920, page 488.

Owner and Occupier. By sections 18 and 121 of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, the promoters (2.) Where a local authority have agreed to purchase land for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act, or have determined to appropriate land for those purposes, subject to the interest of the person in possession thereof, and that interest is not greater than that of a tenant for a year or from year to year, then, at any time after such agreement has been made, or such appropriation has been approved by the Local Government Board, the local authority may, after giving not less than fourteen days' notice to the person so in possession, enter on and take possession of the land or such part thereof as is specified in the notice without previous consent but subject to the payment to the person so in possession of the like compensation with such interest thereon as aforesaid as if the local authority had been authorised to purchase the land compulsorily and such person had in pursuance of such power been required to quit possession before the expiration of his term or interest in the land, but without the necessity of compliance with sections eighty-four to ninety of the Lands Clauses (Consolidation) Act, 1845.

reached the position of landlords, and so are able to give the tenant (of the nature mentioned) notice to quit: they do not need to await the expiration to the notice to quit, but can enter after fourteen days' notice, subject to the payment of the compensation which is due under section 121 of Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845. In the case of the occupier having a greater interest than that of a tenant from year to year, the local authority could not proceed under this subsection, but, if they required early possession, would have to proceed by purchase, compulsory or otherwise—see subsection (1) above, and, particularly, the note headed "Owner and Occupier." If the local authority, being landlords, like to give notice to quit and to await its expiration, they do not need to pay anything to the tenant.

As aforesaid. See the above subsection (1) and notes thereto.

Amendment of procedure for compulsory acquisition
of land.

11. (1.) Paragraph (7) of the First Schedule to the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909 (which provides for special procedure in the case of the acquisition of land, for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act, situate in London or in a borough or urban district), shall cease to have effect.

Paragraph 7, required a special inquiry (by an impartial person, &c.) where the land proposed to be acquired was situate in London or in a borough or urban district, even if no objection had been made. But, subject to subsection (3) below, a public inquiry has still to be held where an objection is made. See also subsection (2) below.

As to the compensation to be paid for land acquired compulsorily—see the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919 (page 495).

(2.) Where the confirming of an order made under that schedule is opposed, the Local Government Board shall, before confirming the order, duly consider the report of the person by whom, under paragraph (6) of the said schedule, a public inquiry is held, and the S. 11 (19). Local Government Board shall not confirm any order for the compulsory acquisition of land under that schedule, even when the order is unopposed, if they are of opinion that the land is unsuited for the purpose for which it is proposed to be acquired.

Paragraph (6). See page 352. By paragraph 2 of the same schedule, the order submitted to the Board by the local authority is of no force until it is confirmed by the Board. But the Board had not the option, previously, to refuse to confirm an unopposed order, though it could modify it.

There is no appeal from the Board (Ministry), but if it acts improperly or does not act judiciously, the local authority might get redress by certiorari and mandamus.

(3.) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (6) of the First Schedule to the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, any order for the compulsory acquisition of land which is duly submitted after the date of the passing of this Act, and before the expiration of two years from that date, by a local authority under the provisions of Part I of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, may be confirmed by the Local Government Board without a public inquiry.

Paragraph 6. See note to subsection (2) above. It requires a public inquiry when an objection is made.

Passing of this Act. 31st July 1919.

Part I of the Act of 1909 relates to housing of the working classes.

Generally. This subsection is of importance, particularly as it applies also to the acquisition of water rights (section 14, below); but, doubtless, the Ministry will be careful before confirming, especially where water rights are in question.

See the Housing Acts (Compulsory Purchase) Regulations and the Housing Acts (Compulsory Purchase)

394 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 11 (19). Amendment Regulations, 1919, printed on pages 526 and 531.

(4.) The amendments to the said schedule effected by this Act shall apply to that schedule as originally enacted but not as applied by any other enactment.

Amendments effected. See preceding subsection. Section 50 hereof repeals the seventh paragraph of the said schedule.

Said schedule. First Schedule to the Act of 1909—see page 350.

As applied by any other enactment. By the Education Act, 1918, the procedure to be followed by education authorities when acquiring land for the erection of schools was laid down by reference to the First Schedule to the Act of 1909. Education authorities have, therefore, to proceed in accordance with that schedule as originally enacted.

Additional powers as to acquisition of land and houses.

12. (1.) The powers of a local authority to acquire land for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act shall be deemed to include power—

- (a) to acquire any houses or other buildings on the land proposed to be acquired as a site for the erection of houses for the working classes ; and
- (b) to acquire any estate or interest in any houses which might be made suitable as houses for the working classes, together with any lands occupied with such houses ;

and the local authority shall have power to alter, enlarge, repair and improve any such houses or buildings so as to render them in all respects fit for habitation as houses for the working classes.

Powers . . . to acquire land for the purposes of Part III. The purposes of Part III are the provision of houses or cottages for the working classes, &c.—see section 53 of the 1890 Act. By section 57 of that Act they may acquire land for those purposes (by agreement or compulsory purchase), or they may appropriate for those purposes any land vested in them or at their disposal. See also sections 58 and 59 thereof, section 1 of the 1900 Act, section 11 of the 1903 Act, and sections 2 (3), 8, 40, 45, 73 and 74 of the 1909 Act. Note also the power of acquisition for garden city purposes, &c., conferred by section 10 (1) of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919.

The compulsory acquisition procedure is laid down in the 1909 Act, section 2 and the First Schedule, but the assessment of compensation is now governed by the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919 (page 495).

As to acquisition by agreement, sections 175–178 of the Public Health Act, 1875, apparently still apply, though several of their provisions have been modified—see sections 13, 14 and 15 hereof, and section 40 of the 1909 Act. The general effect of sections 175–178 of the Public Health Act, 1875, is that a local authority may for the purposes of the Act purchase, take on lease, sell or exchange any lands, in or out of their district; buy up any water-mill, dam or weir which interferes with their drainage or water supply; let for any term any of their lands which they can conveniently spare; and purchase from the Duchy of Lancaster. The Lands Clauses Consolidation Acts, 1845, 1860, and 1869, &c., are also applied, and may be useful when dealing with limited interests and the payment of money into Court, &c.

As to the disposal of the land or buildings—see section 15 hereof.

To qualify for the State assistance under section 7 hereof, the acquisition must first be approved by the Minister.

Which might be made suitable. These words cover many possibilities, including houses subject or liable to a closing order, and houses which though not yet slums are below the modern standard, perhaps primitive as regards sanitary arrangements or otherwise unsuitable. The local authority can acquire such houses and alter, enlarge, repair and improve them. As regards the latter houses—section 28 hereof should be read: in a sense it gives an alternative, and permits the local authority to require the owner to effect repairs. Both these powers are important, as for some years, until the housing shortage is overtaken, many people will have to live in adapted or repaired houses. It should be noticed, however, that the presumption under the present subsection is that the houses are not suitable, while under section 28 the contrary is the case ; though the proviso to section 28 (1) refers to the house which "is not capable without reconstruction of being rendered fit for human habitation." Probably such a house could be purchased by the local authority under the present subsection—of course at a reduced price. The matter is of some importance as, owing to the restriction of rents and high costs, it is at present difficult to induce some landlords to spend money in repairing or improving their property.

396 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 12 (19).

The words cover the work of turning large houses into flats, on which subject reference may also be made to section 27 hereof. See also the Ministry's Manual on the Conversion of Houses into Flats for the Working Classes, price 1s.

(2.) The purposes for which land may be acquired under Part III of the principal Act shall be deemed to include—

- (a) the lease or sale of the land, under the powers conferred by this Act, with a view to the erection thereon of houses for the working classes by persons other than the local authority ; and
- . (b) the lease or sale under the powers conferred by this Act of any part of the land acquired with a view to the use thereof for purposes which in the opinion of the local authority are necessary or desirable for or incidental to the development of the land as a building estate, including the provision, maintenance, and improvement of houses and gardens, factories, workshops, places of worship, places of recreation, and other works or buildings for or for the convenience of persons belonging to the working classes and other persons.

Purposes . . . under Part III. See note to last s. 12 (19). subsection.

Powers conferred by this Act. See section 15 hereof. The powers of sale or lease are to be exercised subject to the consent of the Minister of Health.

Persons other, including public utility societies, housing trusts, and private individuals, who have no power to acquire land compulsorily. See section 18 (1) hereof.

Paragraph (b). Note that the wide terms hereof are restricted by the words "development of the land as a building estate."

Under section 11 of the 1903 Act, there is power to provide and maintain shops, recreation grounds, &c., with the consent of the Ministry.

(3.) Subject to the consent of the Local Government Board and to such conditions as the Board may prescribe, a local authority may, for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act, contract for the purchase by or lease to them of houses suitable for the working classes, whether built at the date of the contract or intended to be built thereafter.

Prescribe by regulations. No regulations appear to have been made by the Ministry, but they have issued a circular (No. 39).

Part III. This subsection re-enacts in somewhat more careful terms section 57 (3) of the 1890 Act, which is repealed by section 50 and the Fifth Schedule hereof. Some doubts had arisen as to the interpretation of that subsection.

Some private builders have availed themselves of these powers, but for the most part they are at present proceeding under section 1 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, whereby they secure a State subsidy.

Purchase. But if the house purchased has received a grant under the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, the local authority will not get additional assistance under section 7 hereof—see section 2 (2) of that Act.

398 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 13 (19)

Power to acquire in advance lands in areas proposed for inclusion in improvement schemes under Parts I and II of principal Act.

13. Where a local authority have under section four of the principal Act passed a resolution that an area is an unhealthy area and that an improvement scheme ought to be made in respect of such area, or have under section thirty-nine of the principal Act passed a resolution directing a scheme to be prepared for the improvement of an area, the local authority may, with the consent of and subject to any conditions imposed by the Local Government Board, acquire by agreement any lands included within the area notwithstanding that the scheme may not at the time of acquisition have been made by the local authority or confirmed or sanctioned by the Local Government Board ; and the acquisition of such lands shall be deemed to be a purpose for which the local authority may borrow money under and subject to the provisions of Part I or, as the case may be, Part II of the principal Act.

Section 4 of the principal Act provides that a local authority, on being satisfied of the unhealthiness of an area, shall, under certain conditions, make an improvement scheme.

Section 39 of the principal Act deals substantially with the same subject, but technically for unhealthy houses rather than for areas.

A resolution is preliminary to the making of a scheme, and confirmation or sanction is necessary before it can be carried out.

Provisions of Part I or . . . Part II. Section 25 of the 1890 Act deals with the power of borrowing money for the purposes of Part I, and sections 43 and 46 for the purposes of Part II ; but as regards the latter there is an extension by section 1 of the Act of 1894.

Object of the section. The object of the section is to enable the local authority to acquire by agreement land to be included in the improvement scheme, before the scheme is made or is approved by the Ministry. The negotiations in connection with the approval of the scheme sometimes occupy about seven months, and during S. 13 (19). that period the local authority may have an opportunity to purchase the land by agreement. Under the old Acts they could not avail themselves of such an opportunity. The subsection has nothing to do with the prior acquisition of land under Part III, as to which—see section 2 (3) of the 1909 Act.

14. A local authority or a county council may, notwithstanding anything in section three hundred and twenty-seven or section three hundred and thirty-two of the Public Health Act, 1875, but subject to the provisions of section fifty-two of that Act, be authorised to abstract water from any river, stream, or lake, or the feeders thereof, whether within or without the district of the local authority or the county, for the purpose of affording a water supply for houses provided or to be provided under a scheme made under the Housing Acts, and to do all such acts as may be necessary for affording a water supply to such houses, subject to a prior obligation of affording a sufficient supply of water to any houses or agricultural holdings or other premises that may be deprived thereof by reason of such abstraction, in like manner and subject to the like restrictions as they may be authorised to acquire land for the purposes of the scheme :

acquire water rights.
38 & 39 Vict.
c. 55.

Provided that no local authority or county council shall be authorised under this section to abstract any water which any local authority, corporation, company, or person are empowered by Act of Parliament to impound, take or use for the purpose of supply within any area, or any water the abstraction of which would, in the opinion of the Local Government Board, injuriously affect the working or management of any canal or inland navigation.

Or a county council. Even though the county council may have nothing to do with the housing scheme.

400 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 14 (19).

Sections 327 and 332 of the Public Health Act, 1875, provide that nothing in that Act shall authorise any local authority to interfere with or injuriously affect certain navigation and water rights, &c.

Section 52 of that Act is as follows:—

“52. Before commencing to construct waterworks within the limits of supply of any water company empowered by Act of Parliament or any order confirmed by Parliament to supply water, the local authority shall give written notice to every water company within whose limits of supply the local authority are desirous of supplying water, stating the purposes for which and (as far as may be practicable) the extent to which water is required by the local authority.

“It shall not be lawful for the local authority to construct any waterworks within such limits if and so long as any such company are able and willing to supply water proper and sufficient for all reasonable purposes for which it is required by the local authority; and any difference as to whether the water which any such company are able and willing to lay on is proper and sufficient for the purposes for which it is required or whether the purposes for which it is required are reasonable, or (if and so far as the charges of the company are not regulated by Parliament) as to the terms of supply, shall be settled by arbitration in manner provided by this Act.”

Note that by section 45 of the 1909 Act, the Housing Acts give no authority to compulsorily acquire for housing purposes, land which has been acquired by a water company.

The general subject of water rights, apart from the present section (14), is a big and difficult one. See particularly sections 51 to 70 of the Public Health Act, 1875, which are fully discussed on pages 117 to 146 of Lumley's Public Health, 8th edition. Section 62 of that Act is summarised on page 61 hereof, and there are summaries of provisions in other Acts on pages 60 to 65.

May be authorised, presumably by the Ministry of Health, which doubtless would have to be satisfied on the points raised in the proviso. If the authority were incorrectly given, it would be null and void.

Restriction on construction of waterworks by local authority.

Housing Acts. See section 52 (2) hereof. Apparently S. 14 (19). the power here applies also to houses erected by public utility societies and housing trusts, inasmuch as they present "schemes" (see section 19), but it is questionable if it applies to houses erected by private persons; nor does it allow a local authority which is building no new houses to start a water scheme.

Prior obligation of affording a sufficient supply. The premises deprived have the first claim, but only to a sufficient supply and not necessarily to as large a supply as they previously enjoyed. "Other premises" would include an industrial undertaking or workshop, &c.

In like manner. . . . See notes to sections 11 (3) and 12 (1) hereof. During the committee stage of the 1919 Act, Major (now Lord) Astor on behalf of the Ministry, in discussing the acquisition of water rights, said: "No authority can . . . go outside its area and invade another area without the express sanction of the Local Government Board, and we give the undertaking that we will notify any authority that appears [to be], or might be, affected by the proposal" (Debates, cols. 138-9).

The object of this section is to enable local authorities and county councils to secure a water supply for houses built under a housing scheme, without the necessity of promoting a private Bill in Parliament.

15. (1.) Where a local authority have acquired or appropriated any land for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act, then, without prejudice to any of their other powers under that Act, the authority may—

- (a) lay out and construct public streets or roads and open spaces on the land;
- (b) with the consent of the Local Government Board sell or lease the land or part thereof to any person for the purpose and under the condition that that person will erect and maintain thereon such number of houses suitable for the working classes as may be fixed by the local authority in accordance with plans approved by them, and when necessary will lay out and construct public streets or roads and open spaces on the land, or will use the land for purposes which, in the opinion of the local authority, are necessary or desirable for or incidental to the development of the land as a building estate in accordance with plans approved by the local authority, including the provision, maintenance, and improvement of houses and gardens, factories, workshops, places of worship, places of recreation and other works or buildings for, or for the convenience of, persons belonging to the working classes and other persons;

(c) with the consent of the Local Government Board sell the land or exchange it for land better adapted for those purposes, either with or without paying or receiving any money for equality of exchange;

(d) with the consent of the Local Government Board sell or lease any houses on the land or erected by them on the land, subject to such covenants and conditions as they may think fit to impose either in regard to the maintenance of the houses as houses for the working classes or otherwise in regard to the use of the houses, and upon any such sale they may, if they think fit, agree to the price being paid by instalments or to payment of part thereof being secured by a mortgage of the premises:

Provided that it shall be a condition of such sale or lease that the houses shall not be used by any person for the time being having any interest therein for the purpose of housing persons in his employment.

Acquired or appropriated. . . . See note to section 10 (2) hereof.

Any land. This is not only the land acquired under s. 15 (19), section 12 (2).

Other powers. Note the powers in section 11 of the 1903 Act.

With the consent of the Local Government Board. It will be noticed that this consent is necessary under each paragraph except (a). There is no appeal, but see note to section 11 (2) hereof.

Paragraph (b). The major portion of this paragraph is a repetition of section 12 (2) hereof, which permits the acquisition. The Ministry would doubtless be entitled to full particulars of the sale or lease, including the "plans approved."

It would seem that, with the consent of the Ministry, the local authority could lease or sell the land for the erection of better class houses, as well as factories, &c., in accordance with plans approved by the local authority.

The sale could be to public utility societies, &c., in which connection see section 18 (1) hereof.

If the person to whom the land is so sold or let fails to erect, &c., in accordance with the condition, the local authority will have the remedy of "specific performance"—see Wolverhampton Corporation v. Emmons [1901] 1 K.B. 515, and Molyneux v. Richard [1906] 1 Ch. 34. at page 40.

Paragraph (c). This re-enacts, substantially, section 60 of the 1890 Act, which is repealed by this Act. Section 175 of the Public Health Act, 1875 (which applies to the acquisition of land under section 57 of the 1890 Act), also contains a power of sale or exchange.

"Better adapted" is restrictive. Once the land is acquired (see section 12) it cannot be exchanged, even for land equally adapted for housing (or incidental) purposes. But it can be sold—in each case with the consent of the Board (Ministry)—even to a purchaser who does not intend to apply it to housing purposes. See also subsections (2) and (3) below.

Paragraph (d). The Ministry would doubtless be entitled to full particulars of the covenants, conditions, &c. With regard to the sale subject to mortgage, reference should be made to the Acquisition of Small Dwellings Act, page 257.

The proviso is to prevent these houses from being "tied," but it is submitted that it prevents the purchaser from letting to tenants who may happen to be in his employment, even though they be the only persons wanting the houses. The proviso as passed in committee read : " Provided that it should be a condition of such sale or lease that the houses should not be sold or leased to an employer for the purpose of housing persons in his employment." In moving the present form of words, the Minister in charge on the report stage said : " It may be that a person would purchase houses and sell them to somebody else for the purpose of using them as tied houses, and those words [e.g. the present form] are introduced to prevent that being done. They would cover the first or second stage of these sales " (Dr. Addison, Hansard, 27th May 1919, col. 657).

404 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

(2.) Where a local authority under this section sell or lease land subject to any condition as to the erection thereon of houses, or the laying out and construction of streets or the development of the land, there shall be included in the conveyance or lease all such covenants and conditions as may be necessary to secure compliance with the condition aforesaid within a reasonable period, and to limit the amount of the rent which may be charged in respect of the land or any part thereof or in respect of the houses erected thereon ; and the local authority may contribute or agree to contribute towards the expenses of the development of the land and the laying out and construction of streets thereon, subject to the condition that the streets are dedicated to the public.

Under this section. See subsection 1 (b) above.

The present subsection takes the place of section 6 of the 1909 Act, repealed by the Fifth Schedule hereto.

(3.) Land and houses sold or leased under the provisions of this section shall be sold or leased at the best price or for the best rent that can reasonably be obtained, having regard to any condition imposed, and any capital money received in respect of any transaction under this section shall be applied in or towards the purchase of s. 18 (19). other land for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act, or with the consent of the Local Government Board to any purpose, including the repayment of borrowed money, to which capital money may be properly applied.

Best price. . . . Any loss would come under the provisions of section 7 hereof—see Articles VII (5) and VIII (3) of the Local Authorities (Assisted Housing Schemes) Regulations, 1919, pages 546 and 547.

Having regard to any condition imposed. One condition is presumably that of subsection (1) (d) above—namely, as the maintenance of the houses as houses for the working classes. This would allow a price or rent less than the best one, in cases where the best could be obtained from a person wanting a house as, for instance, a week-end cottage.

Generally. The latter part of this subsection substantially re-enacts section 32 of the 1909 Act, which is repealed by this Act. There is an almost identical provision in section 82 of the 1890 Act.

16. For the purpose of assisting in the preparation and carrying out of schemes under this Act, or for the purpose of securing the immediate provision of dwelling accommodation in the area of any local authority pending the preparation of a scheme by such authority, the Local Government Board may, with the consent of the Treasury, acquire and hold lands and buildings, erect buildings, alter, enlarge, repair, and improve buildings and dispose of any lands or buildings so acquired or erected, and for such purposes the Board may exercise any of the powers of a local authority under the Housing Acts in regard to the acquisition and disposal of land and buildings.

frequent use as regards its wider powers, though those powers have been valuable in some instances, notably in the conversion of houses into flats. For the rest the section will probably be used to enable the Ministry to erect buildings for exhibition or experimental purposes—as for instance model huts, houses of a new type, buildings in concrete or other slabs, &c., &c. In an emergency, especially if the local authority showed a disposition to avail itself of the three months allowed under section 1 (see, however, section 1 (5)), the wider powers would enable the Ministry to act at once.

As to the body to ultimately bear the cost of converting houses into flats—see section 3 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919.

Occupation

17. For removing doubts it is hereby enacted that a person shall not, by reason only of the fact that he occupies a house at a rental from a local authority within the meaning of Part III of the principal Act, be disqualified from being elected or being a member thereof or any committee thereof.

Provisions for the assistance of public utility societies, housing trusts, and other persons

Powers of promoting and assisting public utility societies.

18. (1.) A local authority within the meaning of Part III of the principal Act, or a county council, may promote the formation or extension of or, subject to the provisions of this section, assist a public utility society whose objects include the erection, improvement or management of houses for the working classes, and where such a society is desirous of erecting houses for the working classes which, in the opinion of the Local Government Board, are required, and the local authority of the area in which the houses are proposed to be built are unwilling to acquire land with a view to selling or leasing the same to the society, the county council, on the application of the society, may for this purpose S. 18 (19). acquire land and exercise all the powers of a local authority under the Housing Acts in regard to the acquisition and disposal of land, and the provisions of those Acts as to the acquisition of land by local authorities within the meaning of Part III of the principal Act shall apply accordingly.

Public Utility Society. These societies are discussed fully in Chapter VI, page 94. For definition—see section 40 hereof.

Powers of a local authority. . . . See sections 10, 11, 12, 14 and 15 hereof and notes thereto.

(2.) Any such local authority or county council with the consent of, and subject to any regulations or conditions which may be made or imposed by, the Local Government Board may, for the assistance of such a society—

- (a) make grants or loans to the society ;
 - (b) subscribe for any share or loan capital of the society ;
 - (c) guarantee or join in guaranteeing the payment of interest on money borrowed by the society or of any share or loan capital issued by the society ;
- on such terms and conditions as to rate of interest and repayment or otherwise and on such security as the local authority or council think fit, and, notwithstanding the provisions of section four of the Industrial and Provident Societies Act, 1893, where a local authority or county council assist such a society under this subsection, the local authority or council shall not be prevented from having or claiming an interest in the shares of the society exceeding two hundred pounds.

Regulations. No regulations or conditions appear to have been made or imposed as yet.

Section 4 of the Industrial and Provident Societies Act, 1893. This, and the general subject of public utility societies, is discussed in Chapter VI.

(3.) Any expenses incurred by a local authority (other than the London County Council) under the provisions of this section shall be defrayed in the same manner as the expenses of the local authority under Part III of the principal Act, and the raising of money for the purpose of making grants or loans to or subscribing for the capital of a society under this section shall be a purpose for which the authority may borrow under that Part of that Act.

Other than the London County Council. The London County Council is a local authority as per section 41 hereof. It is excluded under this subsection but comes under the next subsection, which applies to county councils.

Expenses. See section 65 of the 1890 Act, and section 31 of the 1909 Act, and notes thereto.

Borrow. See section 66 of the 1890 Act, section 3 (2) of the 1900 Act, section 1 of the 1903 Act, and section 3 of the 1909 Act, and notes thereto.

(4.) Any expenses incurred by a county council under this section shall be defrayed as expenses for general county purposes, and the raising of money for the purpose of making grants or loans to or subscribing for the capital of a society under this section shall be a purpose for which the council may borrow ; provided that, where money is borrowed by the county council for that purpose, the maximum period for repayment shall be fifty years, and as respects money so borrowed fifty years shall be substituted for thirty years in subsection (5) of section sixty-nine of the Local Government Act, 1888.

The same period is mentioned in section 20 (2) (a) S. 18 (19). below.

The concluding words of this subsection are identical with those of section 8 (1) hereof, which see.

19. (1.) Where a public utility society or a housing trust as defined by this Act has submitted to the Local Government Board a scheme for the provision of houses for the working classes and the scheme is approved by the Board, then, if the scheme is carried out within such period after the passing of this Act as may be specified by the Board with the consent of the Treasury, the Board may pay or undertake to pay out of moneys provided by Parliament such contributions towards the cost of carrying out the scheme as may be determined to be payable under regulations made by the Board with the approval of the Treasury subject to such conditions (including conditions as to audit of accounts by district auditors) as may be prescribed by those regulations.

Power of contributing to costs incurred by public utility societies and housing trusts.

Public utility society . . . housing trust. See page 94, and, for definitions, section 40.

Provision of houses. The scheme could include the conversion of houses not at present suitable as houses for the working classes—see also section 20 (1).

Scheme is approved. The plans will also have to be submitted to the local authority in the usual way.

Carried out within such period. See Article III of the below-mentioned regulations—reasonable progress before 31st July 1920, carried into effect by 31st July 1922, or such later date as the Minister may allow.

Such contributions. See subsection (2) below, and note section 2 (2) of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919.

Regulations. See the Public Utility Societies (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1919, and the Housing Trusts (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1919, printed on pages 651, 661, 669 and 673. Further regulations—namely, The

S. 19 (19). Public Utility Societies (Sale of Houses) Regulations 1920—deal with the conditions of sale, including price, of houses by public utility societies, and are printed on page 663.

(2.) Such regulations shall provide that the amount of any annual payment to be made under this section shall be equivalent during the period ending on the thirty-first day of March nineteen hundred and twenty-seven to fifty per centum and thereafter to thirty per centum of the annual loan charges which would have been payable in accordance with the regulations on the total capital expenditure incurred by the public utility society or housing trust for the purposes of the scheme if the amount of that expenditure had been borrowed from the Public Works Loan Commissioners :

Provided that the regulations shall include provision for the reduction of the amount of the annual payment in the event of the Local Government Board being satisfied that the capital expenditure incurred by the public utility society or housing trust has been excessive.

See subsection (1) above.

The words in italics were added by section 4 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, their effect being to provide additional financial assistance to public utility societies and housing trusts.

As to the proviso, compare section 7 (2) hereof.

(3.) Every regulation so made shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament as soon as may be after it is made, and, if an address is presented by either House within twenty-one days on which that House has sat next after any such regulation is laid before it praying that the regulation may be annulled, His Majesty in Council may annul the regulation, but without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done thereunder.

This is identical with section 7 (3) hereof. See note S. 19 (19). thereto.

20. (1.) The purposes referred to in subsection (1) of section sixty-seven of the principal Act for which the Public Works Loan Commissioners may advance money on loan shall extend to the purchase of houses which may be made suitable as houses for the working classes and to the purchase and development of land by a public utility society.

Loans to public utility societies.

Section 67 (1) of the Act of 1890 (see page 214) enables the Public Works Loan Commissioners to advance on loan to public utility societies such money as may be required for the purpose of constructing or improving, &c., dwellings for the working classes.

See also Chapter VI.

For rate of interest—see page 536.

(2.) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Public Works Loans Act, 1875, or any Act amending that Act, where a loan is made by the Public Works Loan Commissioners under section sixty-seven of the principal Act to a public utility society for the purpose of carrying out a scheme for the provision of houses for the working classes approved by the Local Government Board :—

- (a) The maximum period for the repayment of the loan shall be fifty instead of forty years ;
- (b) Money may be lent on the mortgage of an estate for a term of years absolute whereof a period not less than ten years in excess of the period fixed for the repayment of the sums advanced remains unexpired at the date of the loan ;
- (c) In the case of loans made during such period after the passing of this Act as may be specified by the Board with the consent of the Treasury, the money advanced on the security of a mortgage of any land or dwellings solely shall not exceed seventy-five per cent. of the purchase price of the land and of the cost of its development and of the houses proposed to be mortgaged as certified by the Local Government Board ; but advances may be made by instalments in respect of the purchase money of the land to be acquired, and of the cost of its development, and in respect of the building of any house or houses on the land mortgaged as such building progresses, so that the total of the advances do not at any time exceed the amount aforesaid ; and a mortgage may accordingly be made to secure advances so to be made from time to time.

This extends the maximum periods, &c., and otherwise eases the conditions specified in section 67 (2) of the 1890 Act.

Period . . . specified by the Board. No period has been specified as yet.

Loans to
persons.

21. During a period of two years from the passing of this Act, the money which may be advanced by the Public Works Loan Commissioners to any private person for the purpose of constructing houses for the working classes on the security of a mortgage of any land or dwellings solely may, if the Commissioners think fit and if the houses are constructed in accordance with plans approved by the Local Government Board, exceed the amount specified in subsection (2) of section sixty-seven of the principal Act, but shall not exceed seventy-five per centum of the value of the estate or interest in such land or dwellings proposed to be mortgaged, and advances may be made by instalments from time to time as the building of the houses on the land mortgaged progresses, so that the total of the advances does not at any time exceed the amount last mentioned, and a s. 21 (19). mortgage may accordingly be made to secure advances so to be made from time to time.

Two years. . . . This Act was passed on 31st July 1919. It has been continued by the Expiring Laws Continuance Act 1920.

Private person. Section 67 of the 1890 Act (page 214) is extended by this section, which it will be noticed is similar to section 20 (2) (c) above. By the said section 67 the Public Works Loan Commissioners may, out of the funds at their disposal, advance on loan to any private person entitled to any land for an estate in fee simple (i.e. freehold), or for any term of years absolute (i.e. leasehold), whereof not less than fifty years shall for the time being remain unexpired, such money as may be required for the purpose of constructing or improving, &c., dwellings for the working classes. In the present section the word "improving" is omitted, and so it is only where houses are being constructed that the extension of the said section 67 applies. It will be noticed further that the extension is made only if the Commissioners think fit and if the houses are constructed in accordance with plans approved by the Board (Ministry). It will be understood that the private person gets no State subsidy, under section 7 hereof; but he can borrow in this way even if he has no power to borrow independently of the 1890 Act—section 67 (2) (a) thereof. For the rate of interest on the loan see the Treasury Minute of 1st November 1920 (page 536), whereby the rate is fixed at 7 per cent. for loans up to thirty years, and 7½ per cent. for loans up to forty years.

See the next section for loans for the improvement of housing accommodation.

Under section 2 (7) of this Act the local authority must take into account any proposals under this section.

22. (1.) Where the owner of a house or building applies to the local authority, within the meaning of Part III of the principal Act, of the district in which the house is situated for assistance for the purpose of carrying out works for the reconstruction, enlargement, Provided that the loan shall not exceed one half of the estimated value of the property mortgaged, unless some additional or collateral security is given sufficient to secure the excess.

(2.) Before the works are commenced, full particulars of the works and, where required by the local authority, plans and specifications thereof shall be submitted to the local authority for their approval, and before any loan is made the authority shall satisfy themselves that the works in respect of which the loan is to be made have been carried out in a satisfactory and efficient manner.

(3.) The raising of money for the purpose of making a loan under this section shall be a purpose for which the local authority may borrow for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act.

(4.) For the purpose of this section "owner" means any person whose interest, or any number of persons whose combined interests constitute either an estate of fee simple in possession or, in the case of copyhold land, a similar estate, or a leasehold interest in possession for a term of years absolute whereof a period of not less than ten years in excess of the period fixed for the repayment of the loan remains unexpired at the date of the loan.

See the previous section for loans for the construction S. 22 (19). of houses ; the present section deals with reconstruction, enlargement or improvement of existing premises. For the Form of Application, &c., see page 579.

Local authority. . . . See page 11. The local authority have unrestricted power under this section, e.g. nothing has to be approved by the Ministry. They must take into account (see section 2 (7) hereof) any proposals under this section.

Subsection (1) appears to contemplate a loan or advance before the works are completed, indeed to help the works to be commenced. But subsection (2) prohibits the loan until the works are done. There thus appears to be nothing to induce the owner to apply to the local authority unless he cannot borrow elsewhere, or unless he can borrow more cheaply from the local authority—on which latter point it may be noted that the rate of interest to be charged by the local authority is not specified. However, the section is by no means useless, as the property is, by hypothesis, unfit for habitation—in which case, even after renovation, a private lender might be difficult to find. Further, the local authority might agree to lend, subject to subsection (2), thus encouraging the owner to make the improvements.

As to subsection (3)—see note (“ Borrow ”) to section 18 (3) hereof.

The final portion of subsection (4) is similar to section 20 (2) (b).

23. Subject to any conditions prescribed by the Local Government Board with the consent of the Treasury, any bricks or other building materials which have been acquired by a Government Department for the purpose of the erection or improvement of houses for the working classes, may during a period of five years from the passing of this Act be sold to any person who undertakes to use the same forthwith for the purpose of erecting or improving houses for the working classes and to comply with the said conditions at a price sufficient to cover the cost of replacement at the time of sale of the materials so sold.

416 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 23 (19).

Five years from 31st July 1919.

Object of the section. The section is designed to meet the case, primarily, of the private owner who has duties imposed upon him to effect repairs under section 28 hereof (see also section 26), yet at the time the Act was passed had difficulty in getting bricks or other building materials. It also helps private persons to build (see section 21) and, generally, gives a better opportunity to private enterprise. Section 12 (3) also deals with houses built by private enterprise. At the date of the passing of this Act a large proportion of the stocks of bricks and timber in the country had been taken over by the Government. In the House of Commons on 3rd November 1919, the President of the Board of Trade (Sir A. Geddes) said that Government timber, for the purpose of building cottages under approved schemes big enough to take large supplies, should be disposed of through the Ministry of Munitions at the lowest possible figure not involving an actual loss.

Relaxation of Byelaws

of byelaws.

24. (1.) Where in pursuance of a housing scheme to which this section applies new buildings are constructed, or public streets and roads are laid out and constructed, in accordance with plans and specifications approved by the Local Government Board, the provisions of any building byelaws shall not apply to the new buildings and new streets constructed and laid out in pursuance of the scheme so far as those provisions are inconsistent with the plans and specifications approved by the Local Government Board, and, notwithstanding the provisions of any other Act, any street laid out and constructed in accordance with such plans and specifications may be taken over and thereafter maintained by the local authority :

Provided that, as regards the administrative county of London, the Board shall not approve any plans and S. 24 (19). specifications inconsistent with the provisions of any building byelaws in force in the county except after consultation with the London County Council on the general question of the relaxation of such provisions in connection with housing schemes.

To which this section applies. See subsection (3) below. It includes the schemes of public utility societies, housing trusts, &c.

New buildings. "The question whether a building is a new building or not has been decided over and over again to be a question of fact"—Coleridge, Chief Justice, in James v. Wyvil [1884] 48 J.P. 725. There are special definitions in the Public Health Act, 1875 (section 159) and the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1907.

Building Byelaws. See section 40 (page 441). It may be noted that under section 44 of the 1909 Act, the Ministry can revoke unreasonable byelaws, but that section is so worded as to make it almost useless.

Any other Act. Principally the Public Health Act, 1875, and subsequent Acts. See pages 316, 325 and 438 of Lumley's Public Health (8th edition). Though a street is less than twenty feet in width it can be taken over.

London County Council. The position of the London County Council is special (see the arguments in Hansard, 27th May 1919, cols. 682-4), but the consultation is only on the general question, i.e. there is not a consultation in respect of every separate scheme, and there is no appeal from the decision of the Ministry.

(2.) Where the Local Government Board have approved plans and specifications which in certain respects are inconsistent with the provisions of any building byelaws in force in the district in which the works are to be executed, any proposals for the erection therein of houses and the laying out and construction of new streets which do not form part of a housing scheme to which this section applies may, notwithstanding those provisions, be carried out if the local authority or, on appeal, the Local Government Board are satisfied that they will involve departures from such provisions only to the like extent as in the case of the plans and specifications so approved, and that, where such plans and specifications have been approved subject to any conditions, the like conditions will be complied with in the case of proposals to which this subsection applies :

418 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

Provided that, in the application of this subsection to the administrative county of London, the expression "local authority" means the London County Council with respect to the matters within their jurisdiction and the Common Council of the City of London or the council of a metropolitan borough (as the case may be) with respect to other matters.

This subsection extends any relaxation of byelaws made in any district, under the previous subsection, to building proposals (in the same district) which are not housing schemes to which this section applies—see the next subsection. The proposals go first to the local authority, but there is an appeal to the Ministry. It is important that the limitations of this subsection be appreciated. To take an instance, the Ministry might approve plans for semi-detached houses with back gardens where there was no back road ; this would not mean that back roads could be dispensed with in all building schemes within the district.

(3.) The housing schemes to which this section applies are schemes made by a local authority or county council under the Housing Acts, or by a public utility society or housing trust, and approved by the Local Government Board.

Housing Acts. See section 52 (2) hereof.

Public utility society or housing trust. See sections 19 and 40 hereof.

(4.) Subject to any conditions which may be prescribed S. 24 (19). by the Local Government Board, the provisions of any building byelaws shall not apply to any new buildings and new streets constructed and laid out by a county council or local authority in accordance with plans and specifications approved by the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries under the Small Holdings and Allotments Acts, 1908 and 1910, or any Act amending the same.

8 Edw. 7.
c. 36.
10 Edw. 7.
& 1 Geo. 5.
c. 34.

Prescribed. No conditions appear to have been prescribed as yet.

Generally. County councils and other local authorities, under the Small Holdings and Allotments Acts, 1908 and 1910, and the Land Settlement (Facilities) Act, 1919, will provide a number of houses suitable for the working classes, and in regard to such houses, which form part of the small holding scheme and are not, therefore, part of a housing scheme under this Act, there may be a relaxation of byelaws, subject to conditions specified by the Ministry.

25. (1.) Notwithstanding the provisions of any building byelaws, a local authority may, during a period of three years from the passing of this Act, consent to the erection and use for human habitation of any buildings erected or proposed to be erected in accordance with any regulations made by the Local Government Board.

Consent of
local erection and use of buildings.

(2.) The local authority may attach to their consent any conditions which they may deem proper with regard to the situation, sanitary arrangements, and protection against fire of such buildings, and may fix and from time to time extend the period during which such buildings shall be allowed to be used for human habitation.

(3.) If any person feels aggrieved by the neglect or refusal of the local authority to give such consent or by the conditions on which such consent is given, or as to the period allowed for the use of such buildings for human habitation, he may appeal to the Local Government Board, whose decision shall be final, and shall have effect as if it were the decision of the local authority, provided that the Board may, before considering any such appeal, require the appellant to deposit such sum, not exceeding ten pounds, to cover the costs of appeal as may be fixed by rules to be made by them.

This Act was passed on 31st July 1919. The regulations referred to are given on page 565.

As to building byelaws—see section 40 hereof (page 441).

7 Edw. 7.
c. 53

(4.) Section twenty-seven of the Public Health Act, Amendment Act, 1907, shall not apply to any buildings to which this section applies.

The said section deals with temporary buildings, and contemplates different circumstances from those existing and expected during the three years to 31st July 1922.

(5.) In the application of this section to the administrative county of London, the expression "local authority" means the London County Council with respect to matters within their jurisdiction, and the Common Council of the City of London or the council of a metropolitan borough (as the case may be) with respect to other matters.

Byelaws

54 & 55 Vict.
c. 76.

26. (1.) The power of making and enforcing byelaws under section ninety of the Public Health Act, 1875, and section ninety-four of the Public Health (London) Act, 1891, shall in the case of houses intended or used for occupation by the working classes be deemed to include the making and enforcing of byelaws—

This section practically re-enacts, in much wider s. 26 (19) terms, section 16 of the 1909 Act, hereby repealed (section 50) and the above-quoted sections.

By section 90 of the Public Health Act, 1875, as amended by section 8 of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1885, a local authority is empowered to make byelaws for the following matters :—

- (1.) For fixing and from time to time varying the number of persons who may occupy a house or part of a house which is let in lodgings or occupied by members of more than one family, and for the separation of the sexes in a house so let or occupied ;
- (2.) For the registration of houses so let or occupied ;
- (3.) For the inspection of such houses ;
- (4.) For enforcing drainage and the provision of privy accommodation for such houses, and for promoting cleanliness and ventilation in such houses ;
- (5.) For the cleansing and lime-washing at stated times of the premises, and for the paving of the courts and courtyards thereof ;
- (6.) For giving of notices and the taking of precautions in case of any infectious disease.

Section 94 of the Public Health (London) Act, 1891, is in practically identical terms.

The said section 90 does not apply to common lodging-houses within the provisions of that Act.

Those wishing to pursue this subject in fuller detail are recommended to Lumley's Public Health (8th edition), pages 158 to 162.

For the Ministry's new model byelaws—see page 637. As to the case where no byelaws or insufficient byelaws are made—see subsection (5) below.

As to the administrative county of London—see subsection (10) below.

As to repairs—see section 28 hereof.

- (a) for fixing and from time to time varying the number of persons who may occupy a house or part of a house which is let in lodgings or occupied by members of more than one family, and for separation of the sexes therein ;
- (b) for the registration and inspection of such houses ;

422 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

1. 26 (19). (c) for enforcing drainage and promoting cleanliness and ventilation of such houses :
(d) for requiring provision adequate for the use of and readily accessible to each family of—
 (i) closet accommodation ;
 (ii) water supply and washing accommodation ;
 (iii) accommodation for the storage, preparation, and cooking of food ;
and, where necessary, for securing separate accommodation as aforesaid for every part of such house which is occupied as a separate dwelling ;
(e) for the keeping in repair and adequate lighting of any common staircase in such houses ;
(f) for securing stability, and the prevention of and safety from fire ;
(g) for the cleansing and redecoration of the premises at stated times, and for the paving of the courts and courtyards ;
(h) for the provision of handrails, where necessary, for all staircases of such houses ;
(i) for securing the adequate lighting of every room in such houses ;
and any such byelaws, in addition to any other penalty, may prohibit the letting for occupation by members of more than one family of any such house unless the same are complied with, subject in the case of houses so let or occupied at the time when such byelaws come into force to the allowance of a reasonable time for the execution of any works necessary to comply therewith.

By comparison with section 90 of the Public Health Act, 1875 (quoted above), it will be seen that most of paragraph (d), paragraphs (e) and (f), and from the beginning of paragraph (h) to the end of the subsection, S. 26 (19). are new.

Paragraph (a). In Weatheritt v. Cantlay [1901] 2 K.B. 285, it was held that a block of artizans' dwellings (landlord non-resident) which was divided into tenements, occupied by different families, was not a "house let in lodgings or occupied by members of more than one family." In Kyffin v. Simmons [1903] 67 J.P. 227, it was held that the following was such a house : an ordinary six-roomed house, not specially constructed to be let in separate tenements, which had a common staircase and one common front door which was always kept open ; on each floor were two rooms let to and occupied by a separate family and the landlord was non-resident, &c.

As to building byelaws (new buildings)—see section 40 hereof, page 441.

Washing accommodation. This is not laundry washing, but washing of the person, so that a mere tap without a sink would be insufficient.

"Enforcing" and "Penalty." Under section 183 of the Public Health Act, 1875, the local authority may impose penalties by the byelaws, not exceeding five pounds for each offence, and in the case of a continuing offence a further penalty not exceeding forty shillings for each day after written notice of the offence.

(2.) Such byelaws may impose the duty of executing any work required to comply therewith upon the owner within the meaning of the Public Health Acts of any such house, or upon any other person having an interest in the premises, and may prescribe the circumstances and conditions in and subject to which any such duty is to be discharged.

Owner. Section 4 of the Public Health Act, 1875, contains the following definition : "Owner" means the person for the time being receiving the rack-rent of the lands or premises in connection with which the word is used, whether on his own account or as agent or trustee for any other person, or who would so receive the same if such lands or premises were let at a rack-rent. "Rack-rent" means rent which is not less than two-thirds of

S. 26 (19). the full net annual value of the property out of which the rent arises, and the full net annual value shall be taken to be the rent at which the property might reasonably be expected to let from year to year, free from all usual tenant's rates and taxes, and tithe commutation rent-charge (if any), and deducting therefrom the probable average annual cost of the repairs, insurance, and other expenses (if any) necessary to maintain the same in a state to command such rent.

(3.) For the purpose of discharging any duty so imposed, the owner or other person may at all reasonable times enter upon any part of the premises, and section fifty-one of the principal Act shall apply as if for the reference to the provisions of Part II of that Act there were substituted a reference to the provisions of such byelaws, and as if the persons on whom such duty is imposed were the owner and any inmate of the premises were the occupier of a dwelling-house.

This re-enacts section 16 (2) of the 1909 Act, repealed by section 50 hereof. In Arlidge v. Islington Borough Council [1909] 2 K.B. 127, it was held that a byelaw made under section 94 of the Public Health (London) Act, 1891 (see subsection (1) hereof), was bad because it required work to be done by a landlord who might have no right of entry. This subsection gives this right, and, in the latter part, enables it to be enforced under the said section 51 (see page 206).

(4.) Where an owner or other person has failed to execute any work which he has been required to execute under the byelaws, the local authority by whom such byelaws are enforced may, after giving to him not less than twenty-one days' notice in writing, themselves execute the works and recover the costs and expenses, and for that purpose the provisions of subsection (5) of section fifteen of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, with respect to the execution of works and the recovery of expenses by local authorities, shall apply as s. 28 (19). if the owner or other person were the landlord, and with such other adaptations as may be necessary.

The costs and expenses may be recovered as a civil debt, or in annual instalments—see the said section 15 (5) (page 299).

This subsection re-enacts section 16 (3) of the 1909 Act, repealed by section 50 hereof.

(5.) If in the opinion of the Local Government Board premises are being occupied by members of more than one family or are intended to be converted for such occupation in the district of any local authority, and either no byelaws have been made by the local authority for the purposes specified in subsection (1) of this section, or the byelaws made are not sufficient properly to regulate such occupation or conversion, the Local Government Board may themselves make byelaws for such purposes which shall have effect and shall be enforced as if they had been made by the local authority.

The object of this subsection was explained by Dr. Addison as follows : “ I have seen two people with two families, and sometimes even with three families, living in one room. . . . I am going to make provision that local authorities should not have byelaws allowing this kind of thing ; and it would mean that they would require housing accommodation so as to obviate that kind of overcrowding. It is to lay down a standard in drawing up a scheme as to the housing needs of the district that we want this provision ” (Parliamentary Debates, Standing Committee A, 14th May 1919, col. 231).

The Minister has issued model byelaws (see page 637).

(6:) Where the person on whom obligations are imposed by any byelaws made for the purposes specified in subsection (1) of this section with respect to houses so occupied as aforesaid holds the premises under a lease

426 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 26 (19).

or agreement and satisfies the local authority that compliance with such byelaws is contrary to the provisions of the lease or agreement, or that the whole or any part of the expenses of carrying out the obligations ought to be borne by his lessor or other superior landlord, the local authority may make application to the county court, and the county court may, after giving the lessor or any such superior landlord an opportunity of being heard,—

(a) in the first case, order that the provisions of the lease or agreement be relaxed so far as they are inconsistent with the requirements of the byelaws;

(b) in the second case, grant to the person who carries out the works necessary for compliance with the byelaws, on proof to the satisfaction of the local authority that the works have been properly carried out, a charging order charging on the premises an annuity to repay the expenses properly incurred in carrying out the works or such part of those expenses as the county court consider ought to be so charged.

(7.) the annuity shall be of such amount and extend over such number of years as the county court may determine.

(8.) Subsection (3) of section thirty-six and section thirty-seven except subsection (4) of the principal Act, and section nineteen of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, shall apply to charging orders and annuities under this section in like manner as to charging orders and annuities under the said section thirty-six.

In the first case, i.e. where he satisfies the local authority that compliance with the said byelaws is contrary to the provisions of his lease, &c.

In the second case, i.e. where he satisfies the local authority that the whole or any part of the expenses S. 26 (19). ought to be borne by his lessor or other superior landlord. Note that the charge is on the premises and not on any particular interest therein.

The principal Act. Section 36 (3) of the 1890 Act provides that the annuity "may be recovered by the person for the time being entitled to it by the same means and in like manner in all respects as if it were a rent-charge granted by deed out of the dwelling-house by the owner thereof." A rent-charge may be recovered by (1) distress after twenty-one days from the time appointed for payment; (2) entry and receipt of the rents and profits if unpaid for forty days; (3) if unpaid for forty days, by demise by deed to a trustee for a term of years on trust by mortgage, sale, or demise, &c.; or by all or any of these means, &c. (Conveyance Act, 1881, section 44). It may also be recovered by an action—see Hyde v. Berners [1889] 53 J.P. 453, which deals with this and other questions arising.

Section 37 of the 1890 Act (see page 176) relates to the incidence of the charge—giving it certain priority, and allowing it to be transferred like a mortgage or rent-charge, &c. Note that subsection (4) of the said section 37 is omitted in respect of the charge granted under the present section.

Section 19 of the Act of 1909 (see page 309) gives power to the owner or other person interested to redeem the charge.

(9.) Where a local authority have themselves acquired a leasehold interest in any house under the powers conferred upon them by this Act, the Local Government Board, on the application of the local authority, may make a similar order with regard to the relaxation of the provisions of the lease and to charging an annuity on the premises as might, had the lessee not been the local authority, have been made on the application of the local authority by the county court, and in that case the decision of the Local Government Board as to the amount and duration of any such annuity shall be final.

Powers conferred . . . by this Act. See section 12 hereof.

Similar order. See subsection (6) above.

(10.) This section shall apply to the administrative county of London with the following modifications :—

(a) As respects the county of London, the byelaws for the purposes specified in subsection (1) of this section shall be made by the London County Council, and any byelaws so made shall supersede any byelaws made for those purposes by the council of any metropolitan borough, and shall be observed and enforced by the council of each metropolitan borough except as regards byelaws for the purposes specified in paragraph (f) of subsection (1) which shall be enforced by the London County Council ; .

(b) As respects the City of London such byelaws shall be made and enforced by the common council except as regards byelaws for the purposes specified in paragraph (f) of subsection (1), which shall be made and enforced by the London County Council.

Administrative County of London. The County of London and the City of London. See section 93 of the 1890 Act.

As regards the water supply of tenement houses in London—see section 78 of the London County Council (General Powers) Act, 1907, which is summarised on page 64.

Power to authorise conversion of a house into several tenements;

27.. Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the county court on an application by the local authority or any person interested in a house that, owing to changes in the character of the neighbourhood in which such house is situate, the house cannot readily be let as a single tenement but could readily be let for occupation if converted into two or more tenements, and that, by reason of the s. 27 (19). provisions of the lease or of any restrictive covenant affecting the house or otherwise, such conversion is prohibited or restricted, the court, after giving any person interested an opportunity of being heard, may vary the terms of the lease or other instrument imposing the prohibition or restriction so as to enable the house to be so converted subject to such conditions and upon such terms as the court may think just.

This section is not restricted by any such term as "working classes"—Johnston v. Maconochie, Court of Appeal, 22nd October 1920. But the person making the application has to prove the various facts specified, and it will not always be easy to do that, inasmuch as changes in the character of a neighbourhood are often of a very gradual character. The fact that a house is difficult to let will not be sufficient in itself.

The point of turning houses into flats is also touched on in section 12 (1) hereof. See also Burton v. London and Counties House Property, &c., Co., Ltd. (The Times, 18th May 1920).

The opportunity of being heard, given to "any person interested," would doubtless cover the owner or occupier of an adjoining house who might object to a neighbouring house being turned into a flat.

28. (1.) If the owner of any house suitable for occupation by persons of the working classes fails to make and keep such house in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation then, without prejudice to any other powers, the local authority may serve a notice upon the owner of such house requiring him within a reasonable time, not being less than twenty-one days, specified in the notice, to execute such works as may be necessary to make the house in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation:

Provided that, if such house is not capable without

houses.

430 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 28 (19). reconstruction of being rendered fit for human habitation, the owner may, within twenty-one days after the receipt of such notice, by written notice to the local authority declare his intention of closing the house for human habitation, and thereupon a closing order shall be deemed to have become operative in respect of such house. Any question arising under this proviso shall, in case of difference between the owner and the local authority, be determined by the Local Government Board.

(2.) If the notice of the local authority is not complied with, the local authority may—

(a) at the expiration of the time specified in that notice if no such notice as aforesaid has been given by the owner ; and

(b) at the expiration of twenty-one days from the determination by the Local Government Board if such notice has been given by the owner, and the Local Government Board have determined that the house is capable without reconstruction of being made fit for human habitation ;

do the work required to be done.

(3.) Any expenses incurred by the local authority under this section may be recovered in a court of summary jurisdiction, together with interest at a rate not exceeding five pounds per centum per annum from the date of service of a demand for the same till payment thereof from the owner, and until recovery of such expenses and interest the same shall be a charge on the premises. In all summary proceedings by the local authority for the recovery of any such expenses, the time within which such proceedings may be taken shall be reckoned from the date of the service of notice of demand.

(4.) The local authority may by order declare any such expenses to be payable by monthly or annual s. 28 (19). instalments within a period not exceeding thirty years with interest at a rate not exceeding five pounds per centum per annum from the date of the service of notice of demand until the whole amount is paid, and any such instalments and interest or any part thereof may be recovered in a summary manner from the owner or occupier, and, if recovered from the occupier, may be deducted by him from the rent of such premises.

(5.) In this section "owner" shall have the same meaning as in the Public Health Act, 1875.

(6.) This section shall be deemed to be part of Part II of the principal Act.

Owner. See note to section 26 (2).

Suitable for occupation. See note to section 29, below ; and also the final note to section 12 (1).

Make and keep. The owner could be called upon to make an addition to the existing structure, i.e. something beyond a repair—see general note, below.

Any other powers. See, particularly, sections 15 and 17 of the 1909 Act and notes thereto ; and also Chapter III, page 34, where the general question of unfit houses is discussed. The question of cost should be considered, as any irrecoverable loss under this section does not rank for financial assistance under section 7.

Serve a notice. See section 49 of the 1890 Act and note thereto.

For the forms of notices prescribed for use under this section—see the Housing Acts (Form of Orders and Notices) Order, 1919 (page 610).

Local authority. As this section is deemed to be part of Part II of the 1890 Act, the local authority is, in the case of a rural district, the rural district council ; in the case of an urban district, the urban district council, or the corporation or council of a borough ; in the case of a metropolitan borough, the borough council ; and in the case of the City of London, the common council (see page 34). As to power of entry, see section 89 of the 1890 Act.

432 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 28 (19).

Closing Order. See section 17 (2) of the 1909 Act.

Determined by the Local Government Board. There is no appeal.

Charge on the premises. See page 177 ; and Birmingham Corporation v. Baker, L.R., 17 Ch., D. 782, 46 J.P. 42. The local authority does not appear to have power to borrow money for expenses under subsection (3).

Subsection (6). This enables the powers of Part II to be exercised in connection with the repair of houses, and also applies the remedy of section 5 hereof where the local authority fails to exercise its powers.

Generally. The house in question is one "suitable for occupation by persons of the working classes." This phrase is, doubtless, meant to exclude mansions and the like. The section applies to empty as well as occupied houses. Note that there is nothing in the section to compel the local authority to take action, and compare on this point section 26 (5).

The section is based largely on section 15 of the 1909 Act, which in practice it will, doubtless, almost entirely supersede.

Section 26 (1) hereof may be usefully read as an indication of the standard implied in the words "in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation," and, in particular, it would seem that each house ought to have a separate water supply, a separate closet, proper drainage and ventilation, and accommodation for the storage, preparation and cooking of food. Proudfoot v. Hart [1890] 25 Q.B.D. 42, is also helpful, though there does not appear to be any decided case upon the words, which are frequently used throughout the Acts. In case of dispute the Ministry does not decide.

Information to tenants of houses for the working classes.

29. In the case of houses intended or used for occupation by the working classes, the name and address of the medical officer of health for the district and of the landlord or other person who is directly responsible for keeping the house in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation shall be inscribed in every rent book or, where a rent book is not used, shall be delivered in writing to the tenant at the commencement of the tenancy and before any rent is demanded or collected ; and, if s. 29 (19), any person demands or collects any rent in contravention of the provisions of this section, he shall in respect of each offence be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding forty shillings.

See section 28 above, and section 15 of the 1909 Act. By section 28 the owner is responsible ; section 15 of the 1909 Act makes the landlord responsible in respect of certain small dwellings. The landlord is not necessarily the owner. But the expression in section 28 is "any house suitable for occupation," while the words here are "intended or used for occupation." A house may be used for occupation in an emergency though it is not suitable. However, the chief difficulty is that there is no definition of "working classes" for the purposes of these provisions, and in many cases it will be puzzling to know whether or not the information named has to be given. Some general hints as to the meaning of the term are given in London County Council v. Davis [1897] 62 J.P. 68 ; Crow v. Davis [1903] 67 J.P. 319 ; and White v. St. Marylebone Council [1915] 3 K.B. 249.

By the Statement of Rates Act, 1919, every demand or receipt for rent, which includes rates paid by the owner, shall state the amount of such rates, but only one statement is required per period.

30. (1.) Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the court, on an application in accordance with rules of court of any person entitled to any interest in any land used in whole or in part as a site for houses for the working classes, that the premises on the land are or are likely to become dangerous or injurious to health or unfit for human habitation, and that the interests of the applicant are thereby prejudiced, or that the applicant should be entrusted with the carrying out of a scheme of reconstruction or improvement approved by the local authority Power to authorise superior landlord to enter and execute works.

S. 30 (19).

of the district in which the land is situate, the court may make an order empowering the applicant forthwith to enter on the land and within the time fixed by the order to execute such works as may be necessary, and may order that any lease or agreement for a lease held from the applicant and any derivative underlease shall be determined, subject to such conditions and to the payment of such compensation as the court may think just.

(2.) The court shall include in its order provisions to secure that the proposed works are carried out and may authorise the local authority in whose area the land is situated or which has approved a scheme of reconstruction or improvement under this section to exercise such supervision or take such action as may be necessary for the purpose.

(3.) For the purposes of this section, "court" means the High Court of Justice, and the Court of Chancery of the county palatine of Lancaster or Durham or the county court, where those courts respectively have jurisdiction.

The general object of this section is to enable the superior landlord to take steps to prevent the property degenerating into a slum. If it did so degenerate and was acquired under section 9 hereof, there would be a serious loss to the superior landlord. The order of the court will be conditional on the proposed works being carried out.

Extension of powers under Settled Land
Acts.

31. The powers conferred upon a tenant for life by the Settled Land Acts, 1882 to 1890, shall include the following further powers :—

(a) A power to make a grant in fee simple or absolutely, or a lease for any term of years, for a nominal price or rent or for less than the best price or rent which could be obtained for the purpose of the erection S. 31 (19). thereon of dwellings for the working classes or the provision of gardens to be held in connection therewith. Provided that no more than two acres in the case of land situate in an urban district or ten acres in the case of land situate in a rural district shall be granted as a site for such dwellings or gardens in any one parish without payment of the full price or rent for the excess, except under an order of the court ;

(b) A power, where money is required for the provision of dwellings available for the working classes, to raise the money on mortgage of the settled land or of any part thereof by conveyance of the fee simple or other the estate subject to the settlement or by creation of a term of years in the settled land or any part thereof or otherwise, and the money so raised shall be capital money for that purpose and may be paid or applied accordingly.

It may be convenient to note here the other changes in the Settled Land Acts effected by the Housing Acts.

Section 74 (1) of the Act of 1890 reads as follows :—

“ The Settled Land Act, 1882, should be amended as follows :—

“(a) Any sale, exchange, or lease of land in pursuance of the said Act, when made for the purpose of the erection on such land of dwellings for the working classes, may be made at such price, or for such consideration, or for such rent, as having regard to the said purpose, and to all the circumstances of the case, is the best that can be reasonably obtained, notwithstanding that a higher price, consideration, or rent might have been obtained if the land were sold, exchanged, or leased for another purpose ;

“(b) The improvements on which capital money arising under the Settled Land Act, 1882, may be expended, enumerated in section twenty-five of the said Act, and referred to in section thirty of the said Act, shall, in addition to cottages for labourers, farm servants, and artizans, include the provision of dwellings available for the working classes, either by means of building new buildings or by means of the reconstruction, enlargement, or improvement of existing buildings so as to make them available for the purpose, if that provision of dwellings is in the opinion of the court not injurious to the estate or is agreed to by the tenant for life and the trustees of the settlement."

The above paragraph (b) is printed as per section 7 (1) of the 1909 Act, and subsection (2) thereof reads :—

"The provision by a tenant for life, at his own expense, of dwellings available for the working classes on any settled land shall not be deemed to be an injury to any interest in reversion or remainder in that land; provided that the powers conferred upon a tenant for life by this subsection should not be exercised by him without the previous approval in writing of the trustees of the settlement."

It is to be noted that the expression "working classes" in the above-quoted paragraphs (a) and (b) of the 1890 Act has effect as if it "included all classes of persons who earn their livelihood by wages or salaries; provided that this section shall apply only to buildings of a rateable value not exceeding £100 per annum" (Settled Land Act, 1890, section 18). But apparently this definition does not apply to section 7 (2) of the 1909 Act (above-quoted), nor to the present section of the 1919 Act (i.e. section 31).

Briefly, paragraph (a) relaxes the provisions of the Settled Land Act, 1882: the tenant for life is not required to secure the best price which could be secured in any event, but only the best price having regard to the object stated (i.e. erection of working class dwellings).

Paragraph (b) as amended provides that capital money may be expended in providing dwellings available for the working classes, without recourse to the courts if the tenant for life and the trustees agree. In Re Caverley's

Settled Estates [1904] 1 Ch. 150, it was held that dwellings S. 31 (19). suitable for the working classes but actually occupied by tenants of a different class were not available for the working classes. The improvements referred to include those under Part I of the Act of 1890 (unhealthy areas)—see sections 6 (3) and 12 (6) of that Act.

The effect of the 1919 Act, section 31, is to enable the tenant for life to (a) practically give land, within limits, to local authorities or any other body or person for the erection thereon of working class dwellings, or for gardens (e.g. allotments), and (b) to raise money by mortgage of the settled land for the provision of such dwellings.

32. If any owner of a house in respect of which a closing order is in force, or any other person, lets or attempts to let or occupies or permits to be occupied that house or any part thereof as a dwelling-house, he shall on summary conviction be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds. Penalty on re-letting house ordered to be closed.

Closing order. See section 17 of the 1909 Act.

Permits to be occupied. By section 17 (4) of the 1909 Act if the tenant fails to quit the closed house, the local authority may obtain an order to quit from the courts. Suppose the local authority fails to exercise this power and the owner takes no steps to turn the tenant out, is he permitting the house to be occupied within this section? The word used in the marginal note is "re-letting," and it would seem that this is the offence aimed at, viz. re-letting as a dwelling-house.

Not exceeding £20, however long the offence continues.

33. The enactments regulating the provision to be made under Part I of the principal Act for the accommodation of persons of the working classes displaced by the operation of a scheme under that Part shall be the same in cases where the area comprised in the scheme is situate in the county or city of London as in other cases, and accordingly subsection (1) of section eleven of that Act, and in subsection (2) the words "where" Amendment of s. 11 of principal Act.

438 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

Arrangements between the Local Government Board and other Departments.

34. The Local Government Board may make arrangements with any other Government Department for the exercise or performance by that Department of any of their powers and duties under the Housing Acts which in their opinion could be more conveniently so exercised and performed, and in such case the Department and officers of the Department shall have the same powers and duties as are by the Housing Acts conferred on the Local Government Board and their officers.

As, for instance, the Board of Agriculture in connection with small holdings.

Acts not to be affected by the Increase of Rent and Mortgage Interest (War

Act, 1915.
5 & 6 Geo. 5.
c. 97.

35. Nothing in the Increase of Rent and Mortgage Interest (War Restrictions) Act, 1915, or in the enactments amending that Act, shall be deemed to affect the provisions of section seventeen of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, or to prevent a local authority from obtaining possession of any house the possession of which is required by them for the purpose of exercising their powers under the Housing Acts or under any scheme made under those Acts.

Section 5 (1) of the Increase of Rent and Mortgage Interest (Restrictions) Act, 1920, provides that no order for the recovery of a dwelling-house to which that Act applies, or for the ejectment of a tenant therefrom, shall be made so long as the tenant fulfils the conditions of his tenancy, &c. (see p. 715). The present section provides that an order to quit under section 17 (4) of the Act of 1909 is not an order within the above section 5 (1).

Compensation in cases of subsidence.
54 & 55 Vict.
c. 40.

36. Notwithstanding anything in section fifty of the Brine Pumping (Compensation for Subsidence) Act, 1891, a local authority or county council shall be entitled to compensation in accordance with the provisions of that S. 36 (19).

Act in respect of any injury or damage to any houses belonging to such local authority or council, and provided under a housing scheme towards the losses on which the Local Government Board is liable to contribute under this Act.

While the Act quoted makes provision for compensation to the owners of property suffering for subsidence of ground caused by the pumping of brine, section 50 specifically excludes local authorities, amongst others, from the right to compensation under the Act. The present section removes that disability as, obviously, is necessary, since it prevents or discourages local authorities from building.

37. The provision of houses under the Housing Acts shall be deemed to be a local sanitary requirement for the purpose of the New Forest (Sale of Lands for Public Purposes) Act, 1902. Provided that the total area of land being part of the New Forest which may be sold or let for the provision of houses shall not exceed 30 acres.

In many parts of the New Forest no land is available for building houses for the working classes except Crown lands, and the Act quoted empowers the Commissioners of Woods to sell such land for sanitary purposes only.

38. The Commissioners of Woods may under and in accordance with the provisions of the Crown Lands Acts, 1829 to 1906, sell or let to a local authority for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act any part of the land described on the duplicate plans which have been deposited with the Clerk of Parliaments and the Clerk of the House of Commons notwithstanding that such land may be part or parcel of a royal park, if the Local Government Board, after holding a local inquiry, are satisfied that the acquisition of the land by the local authority for such purposes as aforesaid is desirable in the national interest.

The land referred to is situated at the extreme eastern boundary of Bushey Park, near Hampton Court. It has been used for grazing His Majesty's horses, and, latterly, for allotments. The Commissioners could not otherwise sell land which is part of a royal park (see also section 74 of the 1909 Act), and though it is open to question whether this piece of land ever was part of the royal park, it was thought best by this section to meet all the circumstances.

Procedure and minor amendments of Housing Acts.

3 Edw. 7.
c. 39.

39. (1.) The amendments specified in the second column of the Second Schedule to this Act (which relate to procedure under Part I and Part II of the principal Act and to minor details) shall be made in the provisions of the principal Act the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1903, and the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, specified in the first column of that schedule.

(2.) Sections fourteen and fifteen of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, shall be deemed to be part of Part II of the principal Act.

Second Schedule. See page 556. The amendments have been noted in the text of the Acts to which they refer. For the most part they considerably simplify the procedure.

Sections 14 and 15. As to the point of subsection (2)—see section 36 (1) of the 1890 Act and note thereto, headed “Works required.” The landlord doing the repairs required under the said section 15 can get a charging order.

Construction.

40. This Part of this Act shall be construed as one with the principal Act, and any provisions of this Part of this Act which supersede or amend any provisions of the principal Act shall be deemed to be part of that Part of the principal Act in which the provisions superseded or amended are contained, and references in this s. 40 (19). Part of this Act to the principal Act or to any provision of the principal Act shall be construed as references to that Act or provision as amended by any subsequent enactment, including this Part of this Act;

In this Part of this Act—

The expression “houses for the working classes” has the same meaning as the expression “lodging-houses for the working classes” has in the principal Act.

See section 53 of the 1890 Act, page 207.

The expression “sale” includes sale in consideration of an annual rent-charge, and the expression “sell” has a corresponding meaning;

The expression “public utility society” means a society registered under the Industrial and Provident Societies Acts, 1893 to 1913, the rules whereof prohibit the payment of any interest or dividend at a rate exceeding six per cent. per annum;

The expression “housing trust” means a corporation or body of persons which, by the terms of its constituent instrument, is required to devote the whole of its funds, including any surplus which may arise from its operations, to the provision of houses for persons the majority of whom are in fact members of the working classes, and to other purposes incidental thereto;

The expression “building byelaws” includes byelaws made by any local authority under section one hundred and fifty-seven of the Public Health Act, 1875, as amended by any subsequent enactment, with respect to new buildings including the drainage thereof and new streets, and any enactments in any local Acts dealing with the construction and drainage of new buildings and the laying out and construction of new streets, and any byelaws made with respect to such matters under any such local Act.

“Building Byelaws”—see sections 24 and 25 hereof. Section 157 of the Public Health Act, 1875, reads as follows:—

“Every urban authority may make byelaws with respect to the following matters; that is to say:

- “(1.) With respect to the level width and construction of new streets, and the provisions for the sewerage thereof;
- “(2.) With respect to the structure of walls, foundations, roofs and chimneys of new buildings, for securing stability and the prevention of fires, and for purposes of health;
- “(3.) With respect to the sufficiency of the space about buildings to secure a free circulation of air, and with respect to the ventilation of buildings;
- “(4.) With respect to the drainage of buildings, to water-closets, earth-closets, privies, ash-pits and cesspools in connection with buildings, and for the closing of buildings or parts of buildings unfit for human habitation, and to prohibition of their use for such habitation;

“And they may further provide for the observance of such byelaws by enacting therein such provisions as they think necessary as to the giving of notices, as to the deposit of plans and sections by persons intending to lay out streets or to construct buildings, as to inspection by the urban authority, and as to the power of such authority (subject to the provisions of this Act) to remove, alter, or pull down any work begun or done in contravention of such byelaws: Provided that no byelaws made under this section shall affect any building erected in any place (which at the time of the passing of this Act is included in an urban sanitary district)

"The provisions of this section and of the two last preceding sections shall not apply to buildings belonging to any railway company and used for the purposes of such railway under any Act of Parliament."

This section was extended and amended by the Public Health Act, 1890, section 23, in places where Part III of that Act has been adopted. The section provides as follows :

"(1.) Section one hundred and fifty-seven of the Public Health Act, 1875, shall be extended so as to empower every urban authority to make byelaws with respect to the following matters ; that is to say :

"The keeping water-closets supplied with sufficient water for flushing ;

"The structure of floors, hearths, and staircases, and the height of rooms intended to be used for human habitation ;

"The paving of yards and open spaces in connection with dwelling-houses ; and

"The provision in connection with the laying out of new streets of secondary means of access where necessary for the purpose of the removal of house refuse and other matters.

"(2.) Any byelaws under that section as above extended with regard to the drainage of buildings, and to water-closets, earth-closets, privies, ashpits, and cesspools, in connection with buildings, and the keeping water-closets supplied with sufficient water for flushing, may be made so as to affect buildings erected before the times mentioned in the said section.

"(3.) The provisions of the said section (as amended by this Act), so far as they relate to byelaws with respect to the structure of walls and foundations of new buildings for purposes of health, and with respect to the matters mentioned in subsections (3) and (4) of the said section, and with respect to the structure of floors, the height of rooms to be used for human habitation, and to the keeping of water-closets supplied with sufficient water for flushing, shall be extended so as to empower rural authorities to make byelaws in respect to the said matters, and to provide for the observance of such byelaws, and to enforce the same as if such powers were conferred on the rural authorities by virtue of an order of the Local Government Board made on the day when this part of this Act is adopted ; and section one hundred and fifty-eight of the Public Health Act, 1875, shall also apply to any such authority, and shall be in force in every rural district where this part of this Act is adopted.

"(4.) Every local authority may make byelaws to prevent buildings which have been erected in accordance with byelaws made under the Public Health Acts from being altered in such a way that if at first so constructed they would have contravened the byelaws."

See also sections 15, 16, 17, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27 and 33 of the Public Health Act, 1907.

The subject of building byelaws is discussed at great length in Lumley's Public Health, at page 325 et seq. (8th edition).

In many local Acts there are provisions dealing with the construction and drainage of new buildings, &c.

As to other byelaws—see section 26 hereof.

Application
London of certain provisions of the Housing Acts.

41. (1.) For the purposes of the application of Part III of the principal Act to the county of London—

- (a) the London County Council shall be the local authority for the county, to the exclusion of any other authority, so far as regards the provision of any houses outside the administrative county of London ;
- (b) the council of a metropolitan borough shall be the local authority for the metropolitan borough, to the exclusion of any other authority, so far as regards the provision of houses within the metropolitan borough ;

Provided—

- (i) that nothing in this section shall prejudice or affect the rights, powers and privileges of the London County Council in regard to any lands, S. 41 (19). buildings or works acquired, provided or carried out by the County Council before the date of the passing of this Act ; and

(ii) that where the London County Council are satisfied that there is situate within the area of a metropolitan borough land suitable for development for housing, the county council may submit a scheme for the approval of the Local Government Board for the development of such land to meet the needs of districts situate outside the area of such borough, and the county council may carry into effect any scheme which is so approved, and such approval shall have the like effect as if it had been given under section one of this Act ;

(c) the Local Government Board may by order direct that any of the powers or duties of the council of a metropolitan borough under Part III of the principal Act shall be transferred to the London County Council, or that any of the powers or duties of the London County Council under Part III of the principal Act shall be transferred to the council of a metropolitan borough.

(2.) Any loss which may be incurred by the council of a metropolitan borough in carrying out a scheme to which section seven of this Act applies shall be repaid to them by the London County Council, and any payments so made by the London County Council shall be deemed to have been made as part of the expenses incurred by them in carrying out a scheme to which that section applies.

(3.) The London County Council and the Common Council of the City of London may at any time enter into an agreement for carrying out any scheme for the purposes of Part I or Part III of the principal Act, and for the apportionment of the expenses incurred in carrying out such scheme, and, if the scheme is a scheme to which section seven of this Act applies, any payments made under such apportionment by the county council and the common council shall be deemed to have been made as part of the expenses incurred in carrying out a scheme to which that section applies.

Part III relates to the provision of houses for the working classes, which is also the chief purpose of the present Act.

County of London. The administrative county of London is defined in section 93 of the 1890 Act. It has an area of 116·9 square miles. Its population in 1911 was 4,521,685, and its assessable value on 6th April 1917 was £45,341,004. It was formed out of the parishes and places sending representatives to the Metropolitan Board of Works.

Local Authority. See page 11. The local authorities exercising jurisdiction in the administrative County of London (excluding the City) are the London County Council and twenty-eight metropolitan borough councils.

Common Council of the City of London. This is the local authority for the city. Part II of the Act of 1890 is not included, as it relates to unhealthy houses as distinct from unhealthy areas, and the London County Council has no authority under it.

Object of the section. The object of this section is to meet the special problem of London with its overlapping authorities, and the solution offered has been generally accepted. There appears to be one point, however, calling for notice. If the London County Council under proviso (ii) submits a scheme within the area of a metropolitan borough there is nothing to compel it to notify the borough thereof, and as the scheme may affect the projects of the borough it will be readily seen that it would like to have such notice. To meet this Dr. Addison, during the committee stage of the Bill, gave a pledge on behalf of the Ministry as follows: "Where it is a material scheme, or where there is any reason to consult S. 41 (19). borough councils, we will do so, and give them a fair opportunity of being heard. I will go further and say that we will send to the borough council information when schemes are submitted to us" (Parliamentary Debates, Standing Committee A, 15th May 1919, col. 295).

On the words "outside the administrative county of London"—see section 1 of the 1900 Act.

Proviso (i) makes it clear that the London County Council can manage and develop properties which it has already in the areas of some of the metropolitan boroughs.

Proviso (ii) is above referred to. The concluding words make it clear that the scheme will qualify for the State subsidy under section 7 hereof.

Paragraph (c) covers emergencies, and also defaults by either the London County Council or a borough council in preparing and carrying out housing schemes. It is in addition to sections 3 and 4 hereof.

PART II

TOWN PLANNING

42. It shall not be necessary for a local authority to obtain the authority of the Local Government Board to prepare or adopt a town planning scheme, and accordingly for subsection (2) of section fifty-four of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909 (hereinafter referred to as the Act of 1909), the following provision shall be substituted:—

Removal of necessity to obtain previous authorisation of
Local Government Board to preparation or adoption of town planning
schemes

"(2.) A local authority within the meaning of this Part of this Act may by resolution decide—

"(a) to prepare a town planning scheme with reference to any land within or in the neighbourhood of their area in regard to which a scheme may be made under this Act; or

"(b) to adopt, with or without any modifications, any town planning scheme proposed by all or any of the owners of any land with respect to which the local authority are themselves by this Act authorised to prepare a scheme :

“ Provided that—

“ (i) if any such resolution of a local authority extends to land not within the area of that local authority, the resolution shall not have effect until it is approved by the Local Government Board, and the Board may, in giving their approval, vary the extent of the land to be included within the area of the proposed town planning scheme ; and

“ (ii) where any local authorities are desirous of acting jointly in the preparation or adoption of a town planning scheme, they may concur in appointing out of their respective bodies a joint committee for the purpose, and in conferring with or without restrictions on any such committee any powers which the appointing councils might exercise for the purpose, and the provisions of sections fifty-seven and fifty-eight of the Local Government Act, 1894, in regard to joint committees, shall, with the necessary modifications, apply to any joint committee so appointed.”

This is discussed on page 327.

Extension of power to make regulations as to procedure.

43. (1.) The power of the Local Government Board of making regulations under section fifty-six of the Act of 1909 shall include power to make regulations as to the procedure consequent on the passing of a resolution by a local authority to prepare or adopt a town planning scheme, and provision shall be made by those regulations for securing that a local authority after passing such S. 43 (19). a resolution shall proceed with all reasonable speed with the preparation or adoption of the town planning scheme, and shall comply with any regulations as to steps to be taken for that purpose, including provisions enabling the Local Government Board in the case of default or dilatoriness on the part of the local authority to act in the place and at the expense of the local authority.

(2.) Subsection (2) of section fifty-six of the Act of 1909 shall have effect as if the following paragraph were added thereto :

"For securing that the council of the county in which any land proposed to be included in a town planning scheme is situated (1) shall be furnished with a notice of any proposal to prepare or adopt such a scheme and with a copy of the draft scheme before the scheme is made, and (2) shall be entitled to be heard at any public local inquiry by the Local Government Board in regard to the scheme."

See page 33.

44. The proviso to subsection (4) of section fifty-four and the proviso to subsection (2) of section fifty-five of the Act of 1909 (which provisos relate to the publication and laying before Parliament of town planning schemes) are hereby repealed.

“ Provided also that this provision shall not apply as respects any building erected, contract made, or other thing done in accordance with a permission granted in pursuance of an order of the Local Government Board allowing the development of estates and building operations to proceed pending the preparation or adoption and approval of the scheme, and the carrying out of works so permitted shall not prejudice any claim of any person to compensation in respect of property injuriously affected by the making of the scheme.”

Preparation of town planning schemes.

46. (1.) The council of every borough or other urban district containing on the first day of January nineteen hundred and twenty-three a population according to the last census for the time being of more than twenty thousand shall, within three years after that date, prepare and submit to the Local Government Board a town planning scheme in respect of all land within the borough or urban district in respect of which a town planning scheme may be made under the Act of 1909.

(2.) Without prejudice to the powers of the council under the Act of 1909, every scheme to which this section applies shall deal with such matters as may be determined by regulations to be made by the Local Government Board.

(3.) Every regulation so made shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament as soon as may be after it is made, and, if an address is presented by either House within twenty-one days on which that House has sat next after any such regulation is laid before it praying that the regulation may be annulled, His Majesty in Council may annul the regulation, but without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done thereunder.

Within three years, i.e. before 1st January 1926. If default is made—see the next section, particularly subsection (3) thereof.

May be made. . . . See section 54 of the Act of 1909.

Powers of the council. See sections 54–66 of the Act of 1909.

Regulations. None have yet been made.

Subsection (3). See section 7 (3) and note thereto.

47. (1.) Where the Local Government Board are satisfied after holding a public local inquiry that a town planning scheme ought to be made by a local authority as respects any land in regard to which a town planning scheme may be made under the Act of 1909, the Board may by order require the local authority to prepare and submit for their approval such a scheme, and, if the scheme is approved by the Board, to do all things necessary for enforcing the observance of the scheme or any provisions thereof effectively, and for executing any works which, under the scheme or under Part II of the Act of 1909, the authority are required to execute.

(3.) If the local authority fail to prepare a scheme to the satisfaction of the Board within such time as may be prescribed by the order, or to enforce the observance of the scheme or any provisions thereof effectively, or to execute any such works as aforesaid, the Board may themselves act, or in the case of a borough or other urban district the population of which is less than 20,000, or of a rural district, may, if the Board think fit, by order, empower the county council to act in the place and at the expense of the local authority.

Public local inquiry. See section 85 of the Act of 1890, and notes thereto.

Under the Act of 1909. See sections 54 to 67 (page 324, et seq.).

Resolution of the local authority. See section 42 hereof.

Subsection (3). This section is like section 61 of the Act of 1909 with the difference that in case of the local authority's default "the Board may themselves act," &c. It is not quite clear that the Board (Ministry) may act at the expense of the local authority—compare section 4 (2) hereof; and as to the recovery of the county council's expenses—compare section 3 (2) hereof.

Consequential and minor amendments.

48. The amendments specified in the second column of the Third Schedule to this Act (which relate to consequential and minor matters) shall be made in the provisions of Part II of the Act of 1909 mentioned in the first column of that schedule.

PART III

S. 49 (19).

ACQUISITION OF SMALL DWELLINGS

49. The following amendments shall be made in the Small Dwellings Acquisition Act, 1899 :—

Amendment of 62 & 63
Vict. c. 44.

- (a) In subsection (1) of section one "eight hundred pounds" shall be substituted for "four hundred pounds" as the limit on the market value of houses in respect of which advances may be made:
- (b) In paragraph (a) subsection (1) of section one "eighty-five per cent." shall be substituted for "four-fifths" with respect to the limitation on the amount which may be advanced:
- (c) Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section one shall be repealed:
- (d) A receipt under seal in the form set out in Part I of the Fourth Schedule to this Act (with such variations and additions (if any) as may be thought expedient) endorsed on, or written at the foot of, or annexed to, a mortgage for money advanced under the Act which states the name of the person who pays the money and is executed by a local authority shall, without any re-conveyance, re-assignment or release, operate as a discharge of the mortgaged property from all principal money and interest secured by, and from all claims under the mortgage, and shall have such further operation as is specified in Part II of that schedule:

Provided that—

- (a) nothing in this provision shall affect the right of any person to require the re-conveyance, re-assignment, surrender, release, or transfer to be executed in lieu of a receipt; and

S. 49 (19).

(b) the receipt shall not be liable to stamp duty and shall be granted free of cost to the person who pays the money.

The Act with these amendments noted therein is printed on page 257.

Note paragraph (d) and that the deed discharging the mortgage is not liable to stamp duty. For the Fourth Schedule—see page 463.

GENERAL

Repeals.

50. The enactments specified in the Fifth Schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the third column of that schedule.

Extent.

51. This Act shall not extend to Scotland or Ireland.

There are separate Acts for Scotland and Ireland.

Short title

52. (1.) This Act may be cited as the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919.

(2.) The Housing of the Working Classes Acts, 1890 to 1909, and this Act so far as it amends those Acts may be cited together as the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919, and are in this Act referred to as the "Housing Acts."

(3.) Part II of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, and Part II of this Act may be cited together as the Town Planning Acts, 1909 and 1919.

(4.) The Small Dwellings Acquisition Act, 1899, and Part III of this Act may be cited together as the Small Dwellings Acquisition Acts, 1899 and 1919.

The Housing of the Working Classes Acts, 1890 to 1909, are defined in section 76 of the 1909 Act. The definition of "Housing Acts" now given removes some confusion caused by the definition given in section 51 S. 52 (19). of the 1909 Act. But even yet Parts III and IV of the 1909 Act are excluded, although in Part IV there is section 76 which contains the definition of "the Housing of the Working Classes Acts, 1890 to 1909."

For construction of Part I of this Act—see section 40.

SCHEDULES

FIRST SCHEDULE

Section 9
(see p. 387).

RULES FOR DETERMINING THE AMOUNT OF REDUCTION OF COMPENSATION

(a) The value of the whole of the land included in the scheme shall first be ascertained on the basis of its value as a cleared site available for development in accordance with the requirements of the building byelaws in force in the district.

(b) The value of the whole of the said land shall next be ascertained on the basis of its value as a cleared site subject to the requirements of the scheme as to the provision to be made for the re-housing of persons of the working classes or the laying out of open spaces on the land or any part thereof.

(c) The difference between the amounts ascertained under paragraph (a) and paragraph (b) shall then be computed.

(d) The amount by which the compensation payable for the respective interests in the land to which section nine of this Act applies, as ascertained in accordance with the principle laid down in that section, is to be reduced shall be a fraction thereof equal to the amount arrived at under paragraph (c) when divided by the amount arrived at under paragraph (a).

(see p. 453)

FORM OF ENDORSED RECEIPT

The local authority of hereby acknowledge that they have this day of 19 , received the sum of £ representing the [aggregate] [balance remaining owing in respect of the] principal money secured by the within [above] written [annexed] mortgage [and by an indenture of further charge dated, &c., or otherwise as required] together with all interest and costs, the payment having been made by of [&c.] and of [&c.] out of money in their hands properly applicable for the discharge of the mortgage [or otherwise as required].

In witness, &c.

PART II

EFFECT OF ENDORSED RECEIPT

(1.) Any such receipt shall operate—

(a) In the case of land in fee simple comprised in the mortgage, as a conveyance or re-conveyance (as the case may be) of the land to the person (if any) who immediately before the execution of the receipt was entitled in fee simple to the equity of redemption, or otherwise to the mortgagor in fee simple to the uses (if any) upon the trusts subject to the powers and provisions which at that time are subsisting or capable of taking effect with respect to the equity of redemption or to uses (if any) which correspond as nearly as may be 4th Sch. (19).

with the limitations then affecting the equity of redemption ;

- (b) In the case of other property, as an assignment or re-assignment (as the case may be) thereof to the extent of the interest which is the subject-matter of the mortgage, to the person who immediately before the execution of the receipt was entitled to the equity of redemption :

Provided that (except as hereinafter mentioned) where, by the receipt, the money appears to have been paid by a person who is not entitled to the immediate equity of redemption, then, unless it is otherwise expressly provided, the receipt shall operate as if the mortgage had been a statutory mortgage and the benefit thereof had, by deed expressed to be made by way of statutory transfer or mortgage, been transferred to him ; but this provision shall not apply where the mortgage is paid off out of capital money, or other money in the hands of a personal representative or trustee properly applicable for the discharge of the mortgage, unless it is expressly provided that the receipt is to operate as a transfer.

(2.) Nothing in this schedule shall confer on a mortgagor a right to keep alive a mortgage, paid off by him, so as to affect prejudicially any subsequent incumbrancer ; and where there is no right to keep the mortgage alive, the receipt shall not operate as a transfer.

(3.) In any such receipt the same covenants shall be implied as if the person who executes the receipt had by deed been expressed to convey the property as mortgagee.

(4.) Where a mortgage consists of a mortgage and a further charge or of more than one deed, it shall be sufficient if the receipt refers either to all the deeds whereby the mortgage money is secured or to the aggregate 4th Sch. (19) amount of the mortgage money thereby secured and is endorsed on, written at the foot of, or annexed to, one of the mortgage deeds.

(5.) In this schedule the expression "mortgage" "mortgage money" "mortgagor" and "mortgagee" have the same meanings as in the Conveyancing Act, 44 & 45 Vict. c. 41. 1881.

Execution of Act in county of London—13. Application to Scotland—14. Application to Ireland—15. Short title and duration. SCHEDULE.

An Act to make further provision for the better housing of the people, to authorise the acquisition of land for the development of garden cities or for the purposes of town planning schemes, and to make further provision with respect to the borrowing powers of public authorities and bodies and with respect to the securities issued by them. [23rd December 1919.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

Provision for payment of money to persons constructing
houses.

1. (1.) Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Minister of Health (in this Act referred to as "the Minister") may, in accordance with schemes made by him with the approval of the Treasury, make grants out of moneys provided by Parliament to any persons or S. 1 (A.P.) bodies of persons constructing houses.

Subject. See the present section, and section 2.

Any persons. The chief purpose of the Act is to provide a subsidy or grant to private persons, firms, or bodies building houses within the conditions (see page 119). The total of the grant is £15,000,000, and for points arising—see notes to section 2 (1) and (2) below. Persons enlarging or repairing existing houses do not get a grant.

(2.) Grants under this section shall be made only in respect of houses—

(a) which comply with the conditions prescribed by the Minister and are in material accordance with the conditions as to the number of houses per acre and the standards of structural stability and sanitation approved by the Minister in the case of any scheme submitted by a local authority under section one of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919 ;

9 & 10 Geo. 5.
c. 35.

Conditions prescribed. These are given in full on page 119. See also the note next below, and, particularly, subsection (3) below.

Material accordance. The conditions as to the number of houses per acre and the standards of structural stability and sanitation, are not prescribed as regards the schemes of the local authorities, but such schemes are approved by the Minister when submitted, and they are in general accordance with the Manual issued by the Ministry (see page 23) and the Ministry's standard specification for cottages.

The local byelaws in so far as they are not abrogated or relaxed (see above) would also have to be observed, but only so far as they are consistent with the aforesaid prescribed conditions—see subsection (3) below.

The words following “conditions prescribed by the Minister” are in the nature of an instruction to the Minister as to what the conditions should be which he prescribes, and it would appear from the official

S. I (A.P.). document, printed on page 114, that the Minister has adopted this procedure.

By the prescribed conditions the houses to receive the grant are strictly limited as to size, &c. (pages 114 and 119).

(b) which are certified by the local authority of the area in which the houses are situate, or on appeal by the Minister, to have been completed in a proper and workmanlike manner;

The certificates to be used are shown on page 126 et seq. The appeal is referred to in paragraph 7 on page 118, and in the paragraph which completes this subsection.

(c) the construction of which is begun within twelve months after the passing of this Act and which are completed within that period or such further period not exceeding four months as the Minister may in any special case allow:

Provided that a proportionate reduction of the grant shall be made in respect of any house which is not completed within the said period of twelve months unless the Minister is satisfied that the failure to complete the house within that period was due to circumstances over which the person constructing the house had no control.

In any special case. For instance, where the houses are not completed before 23rd December 1920 because of bad weather, or a strike, or transport or similar difficulties beyond the control of the builder; but the Minister's power is not limited to these instances.

Proportionate reduction. See paragraph 3 on page 116, for the amount thereof, the official figures (a reduction of one-twelfth of the grant for each extra month) being those indicated by the word "proportionate." It would seem clear that in the instances given in the immediately preceding note, there might be no reduction, but the builder will not be entitled to even a reduced grant unless the Minister expressly allows in each particular case a further period, and this period is not fixed at S. 1 (A.P.) four months but at "not exceeding four months," e.g. the Minister may allow, in a particular case, only one month extra. The Government has undertaken to extend the periods of these grants by twelve months, so that the words "twelve months" in the section will then read "twenty-four months."

Any person aggrieved by the refusal or neglect of a local authority to grant a certificate under this subsection in respect of any house may appeal to the Minister, and, if the Minister is satisfied that the house has been completed in a proper and workmanlike manner, he shall certify accordingly.

(3.) In so far as the provisions of any building byelaws are inconsistent with the conditions prescribed by the Minister under this section, those provisions shall not apply in respect of any houses which comply with those conditions :

Provided that, as regards the administrative county of London, the Minister shall not prescribe any conditions inconsistent with the provisions of any building byelaws in force in the county except after consultation with the London County Council on the general question of the relaxation of such provisions in connexion with the construction of houses under this Act.

In this Act the expression "building byelaws" has the same meaning as in Part I of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919.

Prescribed by the Minister. See page 119.

"Building byelaws." See section 40 of the said Act (page 441).

2. (1.) The aggregate amount of the grants to be made for the purposes of the preceding section of this Act shall not exceed fifteen million pounds. Aggregate amount of grants.

470 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 2 (A.P.).

Thus there would be a maximum of 600,000 houses provided under the preceding section, on the basis of an average grant of £250 per house. If private builders propose to build more than this maximum, the Ministry will have to adopt restrictive measures.

(2.) A grant shall not be made under the preceding section of this Act in respect of any house in respect of which any payment out of moneys provided by Parliament may be made under section seven or section nineteen of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, and a payment shall not be made under those sections in respect of any house in respect of which a grant has been made under the preceding section of this Act.

Briefly, there will not be two State payments in respect of the one house—a point for local authorities and public utility societies to observe if they buy a house erected by a private person.

Provision as to expenses under s. 16 of 9 & 10 Geo. 5.
c. 35.

*3. (1.) Any expenses incurred by the Minister under section sixteen of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, in connexion with the conversion of buildings into separate tenements shall, subject as hereinafter provided, be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament:

Provided that such part of any such expenses as would have been borne by the local authority if they had been expenses incurred in carrying out a scheme to which section seven of the said Act applies shall be payable by that authority and shall be recoverable from that authority as a debt due to the Crown, and the certificate of the Minister as to the part of the expenses to be borne by the local authority shall be conclusive.

(2.) The provision of money for the payment of any amounts payable by a local authority under this section S. 3 (A.P.) shall be a purpose for which the authority may borrow under Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes 53 & 54 Vict. c. 70.

(3.) The Minister may make orders containing such provisions with regard to the vesting in the local authority of any buildings converted into separate tenements under the provisions of the said section sixteen and such consequential and supplemental provisions as the Minister may think necessary, and any order so made shall be binding on the local authority.

This supplies an omission in section 16 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, by which the Minister has power to acquire and alter, &c., buildings, and has exercised it to acquire houses to be turned into flats. The said power was "to assist in the preparation of schemes" in the emergency, pending the preparation of a scheme by the local authority. In effect the section enables the Minister to treat himself as being the representative or agent of the appropriate local authority in respect of such conversions. The local authority can more conveniently collect the rents and manage the flats. He has power to vest the flats in the local authority though the local authority object, and his certificate as to the part of the expenses to be borne by the local authority is conclusive.

As to borrowing powers—see section 66 of the 1890 Act.

4. Section seven of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919 (which provides for the recoupment out of moneys provided by Parliament of losses incurred in connexion with certain schemes), and section nineteen of that Act (which provides for the contributions out of moneys provided by Parliament towards costs incurred by public utility societies and housing trusts) shall respectively have effect as though for the words "equivalent to thirty per centum of the annual loan charges," where they occur in each of those sections, there were substituted the words "equivalent during the period ending on the thirty-first day of March nineteen hundred and twenty-seven, to fifty per centum and thereafter to thirty per centum of the annual loan charges."

houses.

*5. (1.) Where it appears to a local authority that the provision of dwelling accommodation for their area is or is likely to be delayed by a deficiency of labour or materials arising out of the employment of labour or material in the construction within their area of any works or buildings (other than works or buildings authorised or required by, under, or in pursuance of any Act of Parliament), and that the construction of those works or buildings is in the circumstances of the case of less public importance for the time being than the provision of dwelling accommodation, the authority may by order prohibit for such time and on such terms and subject to such conditions as the Minister may from time to time prescribe, and either in whole or in part, the construction of those works or buildings.

Local authority. See section 11 hereof.

Dwelling accommodation. Not only in new houses, but by the enlargement or repair of existing houses, residential hotels, and the like.

Likely to be delayed. There is an appeal from the local authority's decision—see the next subsection. But this is only one of the conditions: the other is, briefly, that the other works are less urgent, and where the other works are the erection of a factory giving employment to a large number of people, it is obviously a matter for careful adjustment. "Luxury building" is what is s. 5 (A.P.). chiefly aimed at.

Construction . . . of any works or buildings. See the definition in subsection (6) below.

Authorised or required by . . . Act of Parliament, e.g. buildings by railway companies and the like. The building of a post office could not be prohibited under this subsection.

Conditions as the Minister may . . . prescribe. See page 684.

(2.) Any person aggrieved by an order made by a local authority under this section may, subject to rules of procedure to be made by the Minister, appeal to the Minister, and on any such appeal the Minister shall refer all such cases to a standing tribunal of appeal, consisting of five persons, to be appointed by the Minister, which shall have power either to annul the order or to make such order in the matter as the local authority could have made, and the decision of the tribunal of appeal in the matter shall be final and not subject to appeal to or review by any court.

Rules of procedure. See page 694. There must be a hearing—Rex v. Tribunal of Appeal—Ex parte Alhambra Picture House (Huddersfield), Ltd. (The Times, 12th June 1920).

(3.) Where any appeal against an order made under this section is not finally determined within fourteen days after the date on which notice of appeal against the order was given, the operation of the order shall be suspended as from the expiration of the said fourteen days until the appeal has been finally determined.

So that the building can proceed, if in fourteen days after notice of appeal has been given the appeal has not been determined.

(4.) If any person acts in contravention of or fails to comply with any of the provisions of an order made under this section, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds, and, if the offence is a continuing offence, to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds for each day during which the offence continues, and, where the person guilty of an offence under this section is a company, every director and officer of the company shall be guilty of the like offence unless he proves that the act constituting the offence took place without his consent or connivance.

(5.) In any action or proceedings for breach of a contract to construct any works or buildings, it shall be a good defence to the action or proceedings to prove that the non-fulfilment of the contract was due to compliance with an order made under this section.

(6.) In this section the expression "construction of any works or buildings" includes the making of alterations or additions to existing works or buildings.

Large houses, residential hotels and the like are not interfered with by this section.

(7.) Any rules of procedure made by the Minister under this section shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament as soon as may be after they are made.

Prohibition on demolition of
houses.

*6. (1.) If any person at any time after the third day of December, nineteen hundred and nineteen, without the permission in writing of the local authority within whose area the house is situate, demolishes, in whole or in part, or uses otherwise than as a dwelling-house any house which was at that date in the opinion of the local authority reasonably fit or reasonably capable without reconstruction of being rendered fit for human habitation, he shall be liable on summary conviction S. 6 (A.P.), in respect of each house demolished or so used to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to both such imprisonment and fine, and, where the person guilty of an offence under this section is a company, every director and officer of the company shall be guilty of the like offence unless he proves that the act constituting the offence took place without his consent or connivance.

3rd December 1919. The day prior to the introduction of the Bill.

Reasonably fit. Even though not actually in occupation as a dwelling house, but see subsection (3) below.

This section is supplemental to section 28 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, which see. By sections 14 and 15 of the 1909 Act the landlord of dwelling-houses not exceeding a specified rental must keep them in repair, and if he does not, the local authority can do the work and recover the cost. But there was nothing to prevent him from closing the houses. The said section 28, which applies to all houses suitable for occupation by the working classes, allows the landlord to close the houses only if they are not capable without reconstruction of being rendered fit for human habitation. The present section applies to all houses, including residential hotels, &c.—see subsection (3) below (whether for the working classes or not), but relates to demolition and the use otherwise than as dwelling-houses. The said section 28 would prevent the owner from demolishing a house after notice to repair had been given. The present section prohibits anyone from demolishing at any time (before 23rd December 1921) without the written permission of the local authority—or from the use otherwise than as a dwelling-house. It does not prevent him from keeping a house empty.

(2.) Any person to whom permission to demolish a house has been refused by a local authority under this

S. 6 (A.P.). section, may appeal to the Minister on the ground that the house is not capable without reconstruction of being rendered fit for human habitation, and any such appeal shall be dealt with in the same manner as an appeal under subsection (2) of the preceding section of this Act.

The appeal procedure is not the same as that under section 28 (1) of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, though the point at issue is the same—namely, as the capability of the house for being rendered fit for occupation. For the Rules, see page 706.

(3.) Notwithstanding anything in this section, the permission of the local authority shall not be required in the case of any house the demolition of which is required or authorised by, under, or in pursuance of any Act of Parliament, or which is used otherwise than as a dwelling-house for any statutory purposes or which was occupied and used otherwise than as a dwelling-house before the third day of December, nineteen hundred and nineteen.

In this section the expression “dwelling-house” means a building constructed or adapted to be used wholly or principally for human habitation.

The first part of this subsection permits the demolition without permission of houses which, for instance, a railway company may have statutory power to demolish. Demolition for post office purposes could not be prohibited under this section.

Occupied and used otherwise. This is quite general. If a dwelling-house (see the definition) was occupied and used otherwise than as a dwelling-house before 3rd December 1919, it can be demolished without permission.

The definition of dwelling-house would include large houses and residential hotels, and would prevent them from being let or sold for business purposes; but as to shop premises containing rooms for habitation, see Davison v. Birmingham Industrial Co-operative Society, S. 6 (A.P.). Ltd., Court of Appeal, 22nd October 1920.

7. (1.) A local authority (including a county council) may, with the consent of the Minister, borrow any sums which they have power to borrow for the purposes of the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919, by the issue of bonds (in this Act referred to as "local bonds") in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Powers of borrowing for purpose of Housing
Acts.

Including a county council. County councils have housing powers under the 1919 Act, notably section 8 thereof. See also note to section 1 (6) thereof.

Have power to borrow. For power to borrow under Part I (improvement schemes)—see section 25 of the 1890 Act; under Part II (reconstruction schemes)—see section 43 thereof; and under Part III (housing schemes)—see section 66 thereof. See also section 1 of the 1903 Act; sections 8, 13, 18 (3) and (4), and 22 (3) of the 1919 Act; and sections 3 (2) and 10 (3) of the present Act.

Local bonds . . . provisions of this Act. See subsection (3) below, and the schedule for the provisions. In connection with the present housing effort, one of the greatest difficulties of many local authorities has been that of raising the necessary capital moneys. On 31st October 1919, the Treasury appointed a committee to report on the subject and its Interim Report [Cmd. 444] recommended these Local Bonds. Previously the smaller local authorities, under £200,000 rateable value, had been helped with loans from the Local Loans Fund (see sections 25 and 66 of the 1890 Act), but the said committee recommended (paragraph 20) that, whenever conditions admitted, they should endeavour to finance themselves. The said committee referred to the capital required to provide 535,000 houses in England and Wales and Scotland within three years, being £429,750,000; but it does not follow that this sum will be required to be raised by these local bonds.

(2.) A county council may lend to any local authority within their area any money which that authority have power to borrow for the purposes of the Housing Acts,

478 LAW AND PRACTICE WITH REGARD TO HOUSING

S. 7 (A.P.). 1890 to 1919, and may, with the sanction of the Minister and irrespective of any limit of borrowing, raise the money required for the purpose either by the issue of local bonds under this section or by a loan subject to the like conditions and in the like manner as any other loan raised for the purpose of their powers and duties, and subject in either case to any conditions which the Minister may by general or special order impose.

Order. See the Housing (Loans by County Councils) Order, 1920—S.R. & O. 1465, page 80.

(3.) The provisions set out in the Schedule to this Act shall have effect with respect to local bonds.

See page 486.

(4.) Where on an application made by two or more local authorities the Minister is satisfied that it is expedient that those authorities should have power to make a joint issue of local bonds, the Minister may by order make such provision as appears to him necessary for the purpose, and any such order shall provide for the securing of the bonds issued upon the joint rates, property and revenues of the authorities.

The provisions of any such order shall have effect as if they were contained in a Provisional Order made under section two hundred and seventy-nine of the Public Health Act, 1875.

38 & 39 Vict. c. 55. The effect of the concluding paragraph, which is practically identical with that of section 38 of the 1909 Act, is not very clear, more particularly as to whether or not the Provisional Order has to be confirmed by Parliament —see section 297 of the 1875 Act. Section 280 of that Act deals with the “governing body of united district”—section 281 with “contents of Provisional Order forming united district,” and subsequent sections with meetings, expenses, &c., of the joint board. These s. 7 (A.P.). sections are fully discussed on page 612 et seq. of Lumley's Public Health (8th edition). No confirmation by Parliament is necessary in the Scottish case, see section 13 (1) (f) hereof.

(5.) Any local authority by whom any local bonds have been issued may, without the consent of the Minister, borrow for the purpose of redeeming those bonds.

8. Subsection (2) of section one of the Public Authorities and Bodies (Loans) Act, 1916 (which gives power temporarily to certain local authorities to borrow money by means of the issue of securities to bearer and whether within or without the United Kingdom), shall be a permanent enactment, and accordingly the words "during the continuation of the present war and a period of six months thereafter" in that subsection shall be repealed.

Subsection
(2) of s. 1 of 6 & 7 Geo. 5.
c. 69. to be perpetual.

This is in accordance with the recommendation of the Treasury Committee on housing finance: "We have considered the possibility of local authorities borrowing abroad and we understand that some authorities have already been approached by representatives of American financial institutions. We think that this method of borrowing presents far-reaching advantages, and, provided money can be obtained on reasonable terms, should be encouraged"—paragraph 15 [Cmd. 444].

9. Section one of the Trustee Act, 1893 (which specifies the securities in which trust funds may be invested), shall have effect as though there were included therein local bonds issued under this Act and mortgages of any fund or rate granted after the passing of this Act under the authority of any Act or Provisional Order by a local authority (including a county council) which is authorised to issue local bonds under this Act.

This follows the recommendations of paragraphs 13 and 24 of Cmd. 444.

Acquisition of land for purpose of garden cities or town planning
schemes.

10. (1.) Where the Minister is satisfied that any local authority (including a county council) or two or more local authorities jointly, or any authorised association, are prepared to purchase and develop any land as a garden city (including a garden suburb or a garden village), or any land in regard to which a town-planning scheme may be made for the purpose of such a scheme for the area in which the land is situate, in accordance with a scheme approved by the Minister, and have funds available for the purpose, he may, with the consent of the Treasury and after consultation with the Board of Trade, the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries, and the Minister of Transport, acquire that land on behalf of the authority or association either by compulsion or by agreement in any case in which it appears to him necessary or expedient so to do for the purpose of securing the development of the land as aforesaid, and may do all such things as may be necessary to vest the land so acquired in the local authority or association.

Local authority. For definition—see section 11 hereof.

Authorised association. For definition—see subsection (4) below.

In regard to which a town planning scheme may be made. See section 54 of the 1909 Act. This is in addition to “any land as a garden city.”

Acquire that land. Subject to the provisions of subsection (2) below.

(2.) The provisions of the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919, relating to the powers of a local authority to acquire land for the purposes of Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, shall apply for the purpose of the acquisition of land by the Minister under this section, and the Minister in exercising his powers of acquiring land under this section shall be subject to the same conditions as are applicable to the acquisition of S. 10 (A.P.) land under the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919, by a local authority :

Provided that, in the case of an order for the compulsory acquisition of land on behalf of an authorised association, the order shall be laid before each House of Parliament and shall not be confirmed by the Minister unless and until both Houses by resolution have approved the order, nor, if any modifications are agreed to by both Houses, otherwise than as so modified.

See section 57 of the 1890 Act ; sections 2, 45, 60 and 73 of the 1909 Act ; and sections 12 and 15 of the 1919 Act.

(3.) A local authority shall have power to acquire land for the purposes of a scheme approved by the Minister under this section, and to develop any land so acquired in accordance with the scheme, and shall have power to borrow, as for the purposes of the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919, any money required for the purpose of so acquiring or developing any land.

See note to section 7 (1) hereof as to borrowing. The power to acquire and develop for the purposes here mentioned is new, but see Part II of the 1909 Act.

(4.) In this section "authorised association" means any society, company or body of persons approved by the Minister whose objects include the promotion, formation, or management of garden cities (including garden suburbs and garden villages), and the erection, improvement or management of buildings for the working classes and others, which does not trade for profit or whose constitution forbids payment of any interest or dividend at a higher rate than six per centum per annum.

Meaning of local authority.

53 & 54 Vict.
c. 70.

11. In this Act the expression "local authority" means the local authority within the meaning of Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890:

Provided that for the purpose of the application of the provisions of this Act (other than those relating to expenses under section sixteen of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919) to the county of London the London County Council shall be the local authority to the exclusion of any other authority, and that in the city of London the London County Council shall be the local authority for the purpose of the certificate as to the completion of houses to be given under the provisions of this Act relating to the payment of money to persons constructing houses.

Local authority. See page 234.

Other than those. . . . See section 3 (1) hereof; the effect being that the metropolitan borough councils are the authority in London in respect of such expenses.

Execution of Act in county of London.
57 & 58 Vict.
c. cxxiii.

12. For the purpose of securing the proper execution of this Act in the administrative county of London, the London County Council shall have the power to require a district surveyor under the London Building Act, 1894, to perform within his district such duties as the Council think necessary for that purpose, and the Council may pay to a district surveyor such remuneration as they may determine in respect of any duties performed by him in pursuance of this section.

The said surveyor will make the inspection, &c., for the purposes of the certificates under section 1 hereof.

~~Application to Scotland.~~
13. (1.) This Act shall apply to Scotland subject to the following modifications:—

(a) References to the Minister of Health shall be construed as references to the Scottish Board of Health;

- (b) A reference to the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries S. 13 (A.P.). shall be construed as a reference to the Board of Agriculture for Scotland;
- (c) References to section one, section seven and section nineteen of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, shall be construed as references to section one, section five and section sixteen, respectively, of the 9 & 10 Geo. 5. c. 60. Housing, Town Planning, &c. (Scotland), Act, 1919;
- (d) References to the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919, shall be construed as references to the Housing (Scotland) Acts, 1890 to 1919;
- (e) A reference to building byelaws shall be construed as a reference to building regulations as defined by section thirty-one of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. (Scotland), Act, 1919;
- (f) A reference to a Provisional Order made under section two hundred and seventy-nine of the Public Health Act, 1875, shall be construed as a reference to an Order made under subsection (3) of section sixty-four of the National Insurance Act, 1911. 1 & 2 Geo. 5. c. 55.
- (2.) Section sixteen of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, shall apply to Scotland as if it had been enacted in Part I of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. (Scotland), Act, 1919, with the substitution of the Scottish Board of Health for the Local Government Board, and references in this Act to the said section sixteen shall be construed as references to that section as so applied.
- (3.) Section eighteen of the Improvement of Land 27 & 28 Vict. c. 114. Act, 1864, shall not have effect in the case of landowners in Scotland making applications for loans under that Act for the construction or reconstruction of houses for the working classes.
- (4.) The section of this Act relating to power of trustees

SCHEDULE

PROVISIONS AS TO LOCAL BONDS

1. Local bonds shall—

- (a) be secured upon all the rates, property and revenues of the local authority;
- (b) bear interest at such rate of interest as the Treasury may from time to time fix;
- (c) be issued in denominations of five, ten, twenty, fifty, and one hundred pounds and multiples of hundred pounds;
- (d) be issued for periods of not less than five years.

54 & 55 Vict.
c. 39.

2. Local bonds shall be exempt from stamp duty under the Stamp Act, 1891, and no duty shall be chargeable

c. 9.
7 Edw. 7.
c. 13.

under section eight of the Finance Act, 1899 as amended by section ten of the Finance Act, 1907, in respect of the issue of any such bonds.

3. The provisions of section one hundred and fifteen of the Stamp Act, 1891 (which relates to composition for stamp duty), shall, with the necessary adaptations, apply in the case of any local authority by whom local bonds are issued as if those bonds were stock or funded debt of the authority within the meaning of that section.

4. A local authority shall, in the case of any person who is the registered holder of local bonds issued by that authority of a nominal amount not exceeding in the aggregate one hundred pounds, pay the interest on the bonds held by that person without deduction of income tax, but any such interest shall be accounted for and charged to income tax under the third case of Schedule D. in the First Schedule to the Income Tax Act, 1918, subject, however, to any provision of that Act with respect to exemption or abatement.

8 & 9 Geo. 5.
c. 40.

5. Local bonds issued by a local authority shall be accepted by that authority at their nominal value in payment of the purchase price of any house erected by or on behalf of any local authority in pursuance of any scheme under the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919.

6. The Minister may, with the approval of the Treasury, make regulations with respect to the issue (including terms of issue), transfer and redemption of local bonds and the security therefor, and any such regulations may apply, with or without modifications, any provisions of the Local Loans Act, 1875, and the Acts amending that Act, and of any Act relating to securities issued by the London County Council or by any other local or public body.

PUBLIC WORKS LOANS ACT, 1920

[10 & 11 GEO 5. CH. 61] [23rd December 1920]

5.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, the Public Works Loan Commissioners may advance out of the Local Loans Fund to local authorities within the meaning of the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919, and on the like security as sums borrowed for the purposes of those Acts, any sums which those authorities have power to borrow for those purposes :

Power to make temporary advances from Local Loans Fund to local authorities for housing purposes.

Provided that—

- (a) the amount of an advance to any local authority shall not exceed such sum as may be approved by the Treasury and the Minister of Health in that behalf ; and
- (b) the amount advanced shall be repaid by the local authority to the Local Loans Fund within a period of twelve months from the date of the advance.

(2) Interest on advances under this section shall be payable at such a rate as the Treasury may from time to time fix or, if at any time and so long as the rate originally fixed by the Treasury in the case of any advance is less than the bank rate for the time being in force, at the bank rate.

(3) A local authority to whom an advance has been made under this section may, without the consent of the Minister of Health, borrow any money required for the purpose of repaying the advance.

(4) The power to make advances under this section shall not be exercised after the thirtieth day of September, nineteen hundred and twenty-one.

UNEMPLOYMENT (RELIEF WORKS) ACT, 1920
[10 & 11 GEO. 5. CH. 57.]

An Act to make better provision for the employment of unemployed persons by facilitating the acquisition of, and entry on, land required for works of public utility, and for purposes connected therewith. [3rd December 1920.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

1. Subject as hereinafter provided, the provisions of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, and of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, which relate to the procedure for the compulsory acquisition of land for the purposes of Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, by the Minister of Health and local authorities, and to entry on land acquired for those purposes, shall apply to the compulsory acquisition of land for the purpose of works of public utility and of land which may be acquired in connection with any such works, and to the entry on land acquired for that purpose, as if those enactments were herein re-enacted with the necessary adaptations and modifications and with the substitution of the appropriate Government department for the Minister of Health and of the local authority having power to execute a work of public utility for the local authority within the meaning of the said Part III :

c. 70.

Provided that—

- (a) the powers conferred by this section shall not be exercised except where it is certified by the Minister of Labour that, having regard to the amount of unemployment existing in any area, it is desirable that the provisions of this section should be put into operation with a view to the speedy provision of employment for unemployed persons from that area, and the Minister of Labour shall take into consideration any representations which may be made to him by any local authority to the effect that he should issue a certificate under this section ; and
- (b) no order authorising the compulsory acquisition of any land for any purpose shall be made under any enactment as applied by this section, unless an order authorising the compulsory acquisition of that land for that purpose could have been made under some enactment in force at the commencement of this Act ; and
- (c) where an enactment in force at the commencement of this Act, which authorises the compulsory acquisition of land for any purpose for which land has been authorised to be acquired compulsorily by an order made under this Act, contains a provision that the arbitrator in determining the amount of any disputed compensation shall have regard to the extent to which the remaining and contiguous lands and hereditaments belonging to the same proprietor may be benefited by the proposed work for which the land is authorised to be acquired, that provision shall have effect as respects land authorised to be acquired compulsorily by the said order.

Power to enter on and acquire land for construction and improvement of roads.

2. (1.) If it appears to the Minister of Labour that immediate action is necessary for the purpose of dealing with unemployment, and that land cannot be acquired under the foregoing provisions of this Act with such expedition as the case requires, he may certify accordingly, and thereupon the Minister of Transport (in this section referred to as "the Minister") or, with the approval of the Minister, any local authority, shall, subject to the provisions of this section, have power forthwith to enter upon and take possession of any such land as may be required for or in connection with the construction of any arterial road, being a road which the Minister or the local authority, as the case may be, has or have power to construct or required by the local authority for the improvement of any road, with a view to the employment of unemployed persons in the construction or improvement of the road :

Provided that nothing in the foregoing provision shall authorise the Minister or any local authority to enter on any permanent building or structure, or to enter upon or take possession of any land unless that land could, under some enactment in force at the commencement of this Act, have been authorised to be acquired compulsorily for, or in connection with, the construction or improvement of a road.

(2.) Before entering on any land under this Act, the Minister or local authority shall give seven days' notice in writing of the intention so to do to the owner and occupier of the land.

A notice for the purposes of this provision may be served either—

- (a) by delivering it to or leaving it at the usual or last known place of abode of the person on whom it is to be served ; or
- (b) by sending it by post in a prepaid letter addressed to that person at his usual or last known place of abode ; or
- (c) by delivering it to some person on the premises or, if there is no person on the premises who can be so served, by affixing it on some conspicuous part of the premises ; and any such notice may be addressed by the description of the "owner" or the "occupier" of the premises (naming them) without further name or description.

(3.) Where the Minister or a local authority enter upon any land in pursuance of this section, he or they shall, by virtue of this section, have power to acquire the land compulsorily, and for the purpose of the acquisition of any such land the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts shall, subject to the provisions of this section, be deemed to be incorporated in this Act.

(4.) The Minister or local authority shall, as soon as may be after entering on any land under this section, serve notice under section eighteen of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, of the intention to take the land, and shall add to the notice a statement that the entry on the land is made in pursuance of this Act, and shall in all respects be liable as if such notice had been given on the date of entering on the land.

(5.) The power conferred by this section to enter on land may, save as hereinbefore in this section provided, be exercised without notice to or the consent of any person and without compliance with the provisions of sections eighty-four to ninety of the Lands Clauses Consolidation

3. (1.) With a view to the provision of employment for the unemployed persons in their area, a local authority may, subject to the approval of the Minister of Health, enter into agreements with any Government department or local authority by whom any work of public utility is being, or is about to be, constructed for the payment of a contribution by that authority towards the expenses which may be incurred in carrying out that work, and any two or more local authorities may, subject to the like approval, make schemes with a view to providing for the employment of the unemployed persons in their areas on works of public utility and may by any such schemes make arrangements as to the manner in which the expenses incurred in connection with the works are to be defrayed.

(2.) A local authority shall have power, with the approval of the Minister of Health, to borrow money for the purposes of any agreement entered into or any scheme made by the authority under this section, in the case of the council of a county in the same manner as for the purposes specified in section sixty-nine of the Local Government Act, 1888, in the case of the council of a metropolitan borough under the Metropolis Management Acts, 1855 to 1893, in the case of the Common Council of the City of London under the City of London Sewers Acts, 1848 to 1897, and in the case of any other council in the same manner as for the purposes of the Public Health Acts, 1875 to 1908.

(3.) In this section the expression "local authority" means the council of a county or a county borough, or of an urban or rural district.

Provided that, for the purposes of the application of the provisions of this section to the administrative county of London, the local authorities shall be the London County Council, the councils of metropolitan boroughs, and the Common Council of the City of London.

4. The provisions of subsection (2) of section nine of the Development and Road Improvement Funds Act, 1909, shall not apply with respect to the construction of any new road where the Minister of Labour certifies that, having regard to the exceptional amount of unemployment in any area, it is desirable that the construction of the new road should be proceeded with forthwith with a view to the speedy provision of employment for unemployed persons from that area.

Section 9 (2)
of 7 Edw. 7.
c. 47, not to apply in certain cases.

5. (1.) In this Act the expression "work of public utility" means the construction or improvement of roads (including bridges, viaducts, and subways) or other means of transit, the widening or other improvement of waterways, the construction or improvement of harbours, the construction of sewers or waterworks, afforestation, the reclamation or drainage of land, and any other work, being a work which a local authority has power to execute, which is approved for the purposes of this Act by the appropriate Government department as a work of public utility.

the meaning of this Act, the question shall be referred to and determined by the Treasury.

(3.) The provisions of this Act shall be in addition to and not in substitution for any power of any Government department or local authority to enter upon or acquire any land for the purposes of any work of public utility.

6. ("Application to Scotland and Ireland.") Omitted from this volume.

Short title. 7. (1.) This Act may be cited as the Unemployment (Relief Works) Act, 1920.

(2.) This Act shall continue in force for twelve months and no longer unless Parliament otherwise determines :

Provided that the expiry of this Act shall not—

- (a) affect the previous operation thereof or of anything duly done or suffered thereunder ; or
- (b) affect any right, privilege, obligation or liability acquired, accrued or incurred thereunder ; or
- (c) affect any legal proceeding, arbitration, remedy or investigation in respect of such right, privilege, obligation or liability as aforesaid ; and any such legal proceeding, arbitration, remedy or investigation may be instituted, enforced or continued as if this Act had not expired.

An Act to amend the law as to the Assessment of Compensation in respect of Land acquired compulsorily for public purposes and the costs in proceedings thereon.

[19th August 1919.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

1. (1.) Where by or under any statute (whether passed before or after the passing of this Act) land is authorised to be acquired compulsorily by any Government Department or any local or public authority, any question of disputed compensation, and, where any part of the land to be acquired is subject to a lease which comprises land not acquired, any question as to the apportionment of the rent payable under the lease, shall be referred to and determined by the arbitration of such one of a panel of official arbitrators to be appointed under this section as may be selected in accordance with rules made by the Reference Committee under this section.

Tribunal for assessing compensation in respect of land compulsorily acquired for public purposes.

(2.) Such number of persons, being persons with special knowledge in the valuation of land, as may be appointed for England and Wales, Scotland and Ireland by the Reference Committee, shall form a panel of persons to act as official arbitrators for the purposes of this Act in England and Wales, Scotland and Ireland respectively : Provided that of the members of the said panel for England and Wales one at least shall be a person having special knowledge of the valuation of land in Wales and acquainted with the Welsh language.

(3.) A person appointed to be a member of the panel of official arbitrators shall hold office for such term certain as may be determined by the Treasury before his appointment, and whilst holding office shall not himself engage, or be a partner of any other person who engages, in private practice or business.

(4.) There shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament to official arbitrators such salaries or remuneration as the Treasury may determine.

(5.) The Reference Committee—

(a) for England and Wales shall consist of the Lord Chief Justice of England, the Master of the Rolls and the President of the Surveyors' Institution ;

(b) for Scotland shall consist of the Lord President of the Court of Session, the Lord Justice Clerk and the Chairman of the Scottish Committee of the Surveyors' Institution ;

(c) for Ireland shall consist of the Lord Chief Justice of Ireland, the Master of the Rolls in Ireland and the President of the Surveyors' Institution, or (if the President of the Surveyors' Institution thinks fit) a person, being a member of the council of S. I. that institution and having special knowledge of valuation of land in Ireland appointed by him to act in his place.

2. In assessing compensation, an official arbitrator shall act in accordance with the following rules :—
- (1.) No allowance shall be made on account of the acquisition being compulsory :
 - (2.) The value of land shall, subject as hereinafter provided, be taken to be the amount which the land if sold in the open market by a willing seller might be expected to realise : Provided always that the arbitrator shall be entitled to consider all returns and assessments of capital value for taxation made or acquiesced in by the claimant :
 - (3.) The special suitability or adaptability of the land for any purpose shall not be taken into account if that purpose is a purpose to which it could be applied only in pursuance of statutory powers, or for which there is no market apart from the special needs of a particular purchaser or the requirements of any Government Department or any local or public authority : Provided that any bonâ fide offer¹ for the purchase of the land made before the passing of this Act which may be brought to the notice of the arbitrator shall be taken into consideration :
 - (4.) Where the value of the land is increased by reason of the use thereof or of any premises thereon in a manner which could be restrained by any court, or is contrary to law, or is detrimental to the health of the inmates of the premises or to the public health, the amount of that increase shall not be taken into account :
 - (5.) Where land is, and but for the compulsory acquisition would continue to be, devoted to a purpose of such a nature that there is no general demand or market for land for that purpose, the compensation may, if the official arbitrator is satisfied that reinstatement in some other place is bona fide intended, be assessed on the basis of the reasonable cost of equivalent reinstatement :

(6.) The provisions of Rule (2) shall not affect the assessment of compensation for disturbance or any other matter not directly based on the value of land.

For the purposes of this section, an official arbitrator shall be entitled to be furnished with such returns and assessments as he may require.

Provision as to procedure before official arbitrators.

3. (1.) In any proceedings before an official arbitrator, not more than one expert witness on either side shall be heard unless the official arbitrator otherwise directs :

Provided that, where the claim includes a claim for compensation in respect of minerals, or disturbance of business, as well as in respect of land, one additional expert witness on either side on the value of the minerals, or, as the case may be, on the damage suffered by reason of the disturbance may be allowed.

(2.) It shall not be necessary for an official arbitrator to make any declaration before entering into the consideration of any matter referred to him.

(3.) The official arbitrator shall, on the application of either party, specify the amount awarded in respect of any particular matter the subject of the award.

(4.) The official arbitrator shall be entitled to enter on and inspect any land which is the subject of proceedings before him.

(5.) Proceedings under this Act shall be heard by an official arbitrator sitting in public.

(6.) The fees to be charged in respect of proceedings before official arbitrators shall be such as the Treasury may prescribe.

(7.) Subject as aforesaid, the Reference Committee s. 3. may make rules regulating the procedure before official arbitrators.

4. Where notices to treat have been served for the acquisition of the several interests in the land to be acquired, the claims of the persons entitled to such interests shall, so far as practicable, and so far as not agreed and if the acquiring authority so desire, be heard and determined by the same official arbitrator, and the Reference Committee may make rules providing that such claims shall be heard together, but the value of the several interests in the land having a market value shall be separately assessed.

5. (1.) Where the acquiring authority has made an unconditional offer in writing of any sum as compensation to any claimant and the sum awarded by an official arbitrator to that claimant does not exceed the sum offered, the official arbitrator shall, unless for special reasons he thinks proper not to do so, order the claimant to bear his own costs and to pay the costs of the acquiring authority so far as such costs were incurred after the offer was made.

(2.) If the official arbitrator is satisfied that a claimant has failed to deliver to the acquiring authority a notice in writing of the amount claimed by him giving sufficient particulars and in sufficient time to enable the acquiring authority to make a proper offer, the foregoing provisions of this section shall apply as if an unconditional offer had been made by the acquiring authority at the time when in the opinion of the official arbitrator sufficient particulars should have been furnished and the claimant had been awarded a sum not exceeding the amount of such offer.

The notice of claim shall state the exact nature of the interest in respect of which compensation is claimed, and give details of the compensation claimed, distinguishing Provisions as to costs.

S. 5.

the amounts under separate heads and showing how the amount claimed under each head is calculated, and when such a notice of claim has been delivered the acquiring authority may, at any time within six weeks after the delivery thereof, withdraw any notice to treat which has been served on the claimant or on any other person interested in the land authorised to be acquired, but shall be liable to pay compensation to any such claimant or other person for any loss or expenses occasioned by the notice to treat having been given to him and withdrawn, and the amount of such compensation shall, in default of agreement, be determined by an official arbitrator.

(3.) Where a claimant has made an unconditional offer in writing to accept any sum as compensation and has complied with the provisions of the last preceding subsection, and the sum awarded is equal to or exceeds that sum, the official arbitrator shall, unless for special reasons he thinks proper not to do so, order the acquiring authority to bear their own costs and to pay the costs of the claimant so far as such costs were incurred after the offer was made.

(4.) Subject as aforesaid, the costs of an arbitration under this Act shall be in the discretion of the official arbitrator who may direct to and by whom and in what manner those costs or any part thereof shall be paid, and the official arbitrator may in any case disallow the cost of counsel.

(5.) An official arbitrator may himself tax the amount of costs ordered to be paid, or may direct in what manner they are to be taxed.

(6.) Where an official arbitrator orders the claimant to pay the costs, or any part of the costs, of the acquiring authority, the acquiring authority may deduct the amount so payable by the claimant from the amount of compensation payable to him.

(7.) Without prejudice to any other method of recovery, the amount of costs ordered to be paid by a claimant, s. 5. or such part thereof as is not covered by such deduction as aforesaid shall be recoverable from him by the acquiring authority summarily as a civil debt.

(8.) For the purpose of this section, costs include any fees, charges, and expenses of the arbitration or award.

6. (1.) The decision of an official arbitrator upon any question of fact, shall be final and binding on the parties, and the persons claiming under them respectively, but the official arbitrator may, and shall, if the High Court so directs, state at any stage of the proceedings, in the form of a special case for the opinion of the High Court, any question of law arising in the course of the proceedings, and may state his award as to the whole or part thereof in the form of a special case for the opinion of the High Court.

Finality of award and statement of special cases.

(2.) The decision of the High Court upon any case so stated shall be final and conclusive, and shall not be subject to appeal to any other court.

7. (1.) The provisions of the Act or order by which the land is authorised to be acquired, or of any Act incorporated therewith, shall, in relation to the matters dealt with in this Act, have effect subject to this Act, and so far as inconsistent with this Act those provisions shall cease to have or shall not have effect:

Effect of Act on existing enactments.

Provided that nothing in this Act relating to the rules for assessing compensation shall affect any special provisions as to the assessment of the value of land acquired for the purposes of Part I or Part II of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, or under the Defence of the Realm (Acquisition of Land) Act, 1916, and contained in those Acts respectively, or any Act amending those Acts, if and so far as the provisions in those Acts are inconsistent with the rules under this Act and the provisions of the Second Schedule to the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 as amended

c. 63.

by any subsequent enactment (except paragraphs (4), (5), (29), and (31) thereof) shall apply to an official arbitrator as they apply to an arbitrator appointed under that schedule, and an official arbitrator may exercise all the powers conferred by those provisions on such arbitrator.

(2.) The provisions of this Act shall apply to the determination of the amount of rent or compensation payable in respect of land authorised to be hired compulsorily under the Small Holdings and Allotments Act, 1908, or any Act amending that Act, and any matter required thereby to be determined by a valuer appointed by the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries shall be determined by an official arbitrator in accordance with this Act.

8 Edw. 7.
c. 36.

Power to refer to Commissioners of Inland Revenue or to agreed arbitrator.

8. (1.) Nothing in this Act shall prevent, if the parties so agree, the reference of any question as to disputed compensation or apportionment of rent to the Commissioners of Inland Revenue or to an arbitrator agreed on between the parties.

(2.) Where a question is so referred to the Commissioners of Inland Revenue, the Commissioners shall not proceed by arbitration, but shall cause an assessment to be made in accordance with the rules for the assessment of compensation under this Act, and the following provisions shall have effect:—

- (a) The parties shall comply with any direction or requirements as to the furnishing of information (whether orally or in writing) and the production of documents and otherwise;
- (b) Any officer of the Commissioners appointed for the purpose shall be entitled to enter on and inspect any land which is subject to the reference to them;
- (c) The Commissioners, if either party so desires within such time as the Commissioners may allow, shall give the parties an opportunity of being heard before such officer of the valuation office of the S. S. Commissioners as the Commissioners may appoint for the purpose ;

- (d) The assessment when made shall be published to the parties and take effect as if it were an award of an official arbitrator under this Act ;
 - (e) if either party refuses or neglects to comply with any direction or requirement of the Commissioners, the Commissioners may decline to proceed with the matter, and in that case the question shall be referred to an official arbitrator as if there had been no reference to the Commissioners, and the official arbitrator when awarding costs shall take into consideration any report of the Commissioners as to the refusal or neglect which rendered such a reference to him necessary.
- (3.) Where a question is referred to an arbitrator under subsection (1) of this section, the provisions of this Act, except sections one and four and so much of section three as requires proceedings to be in public and as provides for the fixing of fees, shall apply as if the arbitrator was an official arbitrator.

(4.) Either party to a claim for compensation may require the Commissioners for Inland Revenue to assess the value of the land in respect of which the claim arises, and a copy of any such assessment shall be sent forthwith by the Commissioners to the other party, and a certified copy of such assessment shall be admissible in evidence of that value in proceedings before the official arbitrator, and the officer who made the assessment shall attend, if the official arbitrator so require, to answer such questions as the official arbitrator may think fit to put to him thereon.*

9. An official arbitrator may on the application of any person certify the value of land being sold by him to a Government department or public or local authority, and the sale of the land to the department or authority at the price so certified shall be deemed to be a sale at the best price that can reasonably be obtained.

Saving for statutory purchases of statutory undertakings.

10. (1.) The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any purchase of the whole or any part of any statutory undertaking under any statutory provisions in that behalf prescribing the terms on which the purchase is to be effected.

(2.) For the purposes of this section, the expression "statutory undertaking" means an undertaking established by Act of Parliament or order having the force of an Act, and the expression "statutory provisions" includes the provisions of an order having the force of an Act.

Application to Scotland and Ireland.

11. (1.) This Act shall apply to Scotland subject to the following modifications.—

(a) The provisions of this Act other than the provisions of the section thereof relating to rules for the assessment of compensation shall apply to the determination of any question which, under subsection (11) of section seven or section seventeen of the Small Landholders (Scotland) Act, 1911, is referred to arbitration, as if the Board of Agriculture for Scotland were the acquiring authority, and as if in the said subsection (11) there were substituted for the Lord Ordinary on the Bills and the Lord Ordinary, except where the Lord Ordinary is therein last referred to, such person as may be prescribed by rules made by the Reference Committee for Scotland; and the provisions of that Act, including the Second Schedule to the Agricultural Holdings (Scotland) Act, 1908, as thereby applied, shall in relation to such determination have effect subject to the aforesaid provisions of this Act:

of Session; "arbitrator" means arbiter, and S. 11.
"easement" means servitude.

(2.) This Act shall apply to Ireland subject to the following modifications:—

Nothing in this Act shall affect the determination of the price or compensation to be paid on the compulsory acquisition of land by the Irish Land Commission or Congested Districts Board for Ireland under any statute or the special provisions contained in the Labourers (Ireland) Act, 1885, and the enactments amending the same, with respect to the jurisdiction of the Irish Land Commission in cases where land is taken compulsorily under those provisions for a term of years.

48 & 49 Vict.
c. 77.

12. (1.) This Act may be cited as the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, and shall come into operation on the first day of September nineteen hundred and nineteen, but shall not apply to the determination of any question where before that date the appointment of an arbitration, valuation, or other tribunal to determine the question has been completed, or a jury has been empanelled for the purpose.

L. 30

LAND, ACQUISITION OF, ENGLAND

ASSESSMENT OF COMPENSATION

The Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Rules, 1919, dated 2nd December 1919, made by the Reference Committee for England and Wales under the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919 (9 & 10 Geo. 5. c. 57).

In pursuance of the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, the Reference Committee for England and Wales constituted under that Act hereby make the following rules:—

1. These rules may be cited as the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Rules, 1919.

2. (1.) In these rules, unless the context otherwise requires:—

The expression "the Act" means the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919;

The expression "arbitrator" means an official arbitrator;

The expression "question" means any question of disputed compensation, or any question of the apportionment of a rent, which is to be referred to and determined by arbitration in manner provided by the Act.

(2.) The Interpretation Act, 1889, applies for the purpose of the interpretation of these rules as it applies for the purpose of the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

3. (1.) Where any question has arisen either the acquiring authority or the claimant may at any time after the expiration of fourteen days from the date on which the notice to treat was served send to the Reference Committee an application for the selection of an arbitrator.

(2.) The acquiring authority or the claimant, as the case may be, shall, immediately after sending the application to the Reference Committee, send notice of the fact to the claimant or the acquiring authority, as the case may be, together with a copy of the application.

Short title.

Interpretation.

Application for selection of official arbitrator.

(3.) An application for the selection of an arbitrator Rules shall be in the form set out in the schedule to these rules or in a form to the like effect.

4. (1.) The Reference Committee, on receiving a valid application for the selection of an arbitrator, shall, as soon as may be, proceed to select from the panel an arbitrator to deal with the case.

Selection of official arbitrator.

(2.) The Reference Committee shall, as soon as they have selected the arbitrator, inform the acquiring authority and the claimant of the name and address of the person so selected.

5. (1.) The arbitrator selected shall, as soon as may be, proceed with the determination of the question in dispute, and shall arrange with the acquiring authority and the claimant the time and place of the hearing.

Consideration of questions by official arbitrator.

(2.) The Reference Committee shall send to the arbitrator selected a copy of the application for the appointment of an arbitrator, and the acquiring authority and the claimant shall furnish to the arbitrator on his request any document or other information which it is in their or his power to furnish and which the arbitrator may require for the purpose of considering and determining the case.

(3.) Subject to the provisions of the Act and of these rules the proceedings before an arbitrator shall be such as the arbitrator, subject to any special directions of the Reference Committee, may in his discretion think fit.

6. The Reference Committee may, in the case of the death or the incapacity of the arbitrator originally selected, or if it is shown to the committee that it is expedient so to do, in any other case, at any time before the arbitrator has made his award, revoke the reference of the question to the selected arbitrator and select another arbitrator for the purpose of determining the question.

Power to select another official arbitrator.

7. (1.) Where notices to treat have been served for the acquisition of the several interests in the land to be acquired and questions as to the amount of compensation have arisen in the case of any two or more of those interests the acquiring authority may, subject as herein-after provided, either on making the application for the selection of an arbitrator to hear the claims or at any time thereafter make an application to the Reference Committee to have the same person selected as the arbitrator to hear and determine all the claims to which the application relates :

Provided that no such application shall be made as respects a claim if an arbitrator has already entered on the consideration of the claim.

(2.) On receiving an application under this rule the Reference Committee shall select the same person to act as arbitrator in respect of all the claims to which the application relates, and so far as necessary for that purpose may revoke any selection previously made.

(3.) An application under this rule shall be in the form set out in the schedule to these rules or in a form to the like effect.

(4.) Where the same person has been selected under this rule to act as arbitrator in respect of two or more claims the acquiring authority may at any time after he has been so selected apply to him for an order that all the claims shall be heard together.

(5.) Notice of intention to apply to the arbitrator for such an order as aforesaid shall be sent to each claimant and the notice shall specify the date on which and the place at which the arbitrator will hear any objection which may be made to the application.

(6.) If any claimant objects to have his claim heard together with the other claims he shall within seven days after the receipt of the notice aforesaid send notice of his objection to the acquiring authority and the arbitrator.

(7.) Where the acquiring authority apply for an order under this rule the arbitrator after taking into consideration any objection made to the application shall make such order in the matter as he thinks proper having regard to all the circumstances of the case.

(8.) On an application for an order under this rule an order for consolidation may be made if the arbitrator thinks fit with respect to some only of the claims, and the order may in any case be made subject to such special directions as to costs, witnesses, method of procedure, and otherwise as the arbitrator thinks proper.

8. (1.) If the fees prescribed by the Treasury in pursuance of the powers conferred on them by subsection (6) of section 3 of the Act include a fee in respect of an application under these rules or a fee in respect of the hearing before an official arbitrator, the prescribed fee shall be collected by means of adhesive stamps affixed to or stamps impressed on the application and the award of the arbitrator respectively.

(2.) Any application under these rules which is not properly stamped in accordance with the foregoing provision shall be treated as invalid, and the award of an official arbitrator shall not be delivered out by him unless and until it has been properly stamped in accordance with the said provision.

9. Any notice or other document required or authorised to be sent to any person for the purpose of these rules shall be deemed to be duly sent by post addressed to that person at his ordinary address, and the address of the Reference Committee shall for this purpose be—
J. Johnston, Esq., Secretary to the Reference Committee, Room 174, Royal Courts of Justice, Strand, London, W.C.2.

Provision as to sending notice.

10. Save as herein otherwise expressly provided, any failure on the part of any authority or any person to comply with the provisions of these rules shall not render the proceedings, or anything done in pursuance thereof, invalid, unless the arbitrator so directs.

GENERAL HOUSING MEMORANDUM No. 6

COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND FOR HOUSING

AMENDMENTS INTRODUCED BY THE HOUSING, TOWN
PLANNING, &c., ACT, 1919

Extended powers in regard to the compulsory acquisition of land for housing have been conferred by the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919.

- (1) Section 12 of the Act authorises a local authority to acquire houses, together with the lands occupied with such houses.
- (2) Section 10 gives them power to enter on land compulsorily acquired at any time after notice to treat has been served, after giving fourteen days' notice to the owner and occupier.
- (3) Section 11 (1) withdraws the special procedure previously required in connection with the compulsory acquisition of land situate in London or in a borough or urban district, where objection is raised to the acquisition.
- (4) Section 11 (2) prescribes that the Ministry shall not confirm an order, even if it is unopposed, if they are of opinion that the land is unsuited for the purpose for which it is proposed to be acquired.
- (5) Section 11 (3) gives the Ministry power to confirm without a public inquiry any order, even if opposed, which is submitted after the date of the passing of the Act (31st July 1919) and within two years from that date.

AMENDMENTS IN PROCEDURE

Compulsory Purchase Orders

In order to expedite progress with housing schemes, the Ministry of Health have decided to amend the Form of Compulsory Purchase Order, 1911, so as to shorten the procedure which local authorities have hitherto been required to adopt under that Order in submitting proposals for the compulsory acquisition of land for housing.

G.H.M. 6.

The changes which have been made are as follows :—

Former Procedure

(1) Advertisement

The first of the two advertisements prescribed by the Order must be published not later than the tenth day after the making of the compulsory purchase order.

(2) Deposit of Plan

The plan must be deposited not later than the tenth day from the making of the order and must be kept deposited not less than one month from the date of the publication of the second and last advertisement.

(3) Service of Notice

Notice of the order must be served on the owners, lessees and occupiers not later than the tenth day after the making of the order.

(4) Objections

Objections must be presented within one month from the date of the publication of the second and last advertisement.

Procedure now to be Adopted

(1) The first of the two advertisements prescribed by the Order must be published not later than the seventh day after the making of the compulsory purchase order.

(2) The plan must be deposited not later than the seventh day from the making of the order and must be kept deposited not less than fourteen days from the date of the publication of the first advertisement.

Notice of the order must be served on the owners, lessees and occupiers not later than the seventh day after the making of the order.

Objections must be presented within fourteen days from the date of the publication of the first advertisement.

AMENDMENTS AS TO ASSESSMENT OF COMPENSATION

The Acquisition of Land Act, which has now received the Royal Assent, provides that any question of disputed compensation in respect of land compulsorily acquired for public purposes, shall be determined by an official arbitrator. The Act prescribes the method of appointment of arbitrators, the basis on which the arbitrator is to proceed in assessing compensation and the procedure to be adopted.

Section 12 provides that the Act shall come into operation on the 1st of September 1919, but shall not apply to the determination of any question where the appointment of an arbitrator has been completed before that date.

STEPS TO BE TAKEN BY THE LOCAL AUTHORITY IN CONNECTION WITH COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND OR HOUSES

1. Making of the Order. An order should be prepared in the form prescribed in the regulations and, on the authority of the council or the housing committee, G.H.M. 6. the order should be sealed with the council's seal.

2. Service of Notice. Notice of the order must be served on the owners, lessees and occupiers, as described in the regulations, not later than the seventh day after the making of the order. The notice must include a copy of the order, to which must be appended a notice that any objections must be made to the Ministry of Health within fourteen days from the date of the first advertisement, and a statement of the period, time and place during and at which the deposited plan may be inspected.

3. Deposit of Plan. The plan referred to in the schedule to the order must be deposited not later than the seventh day from the making of the order, and must be kept deposited not less than fourteen days from the date of the publication of the first advertisement. The plan must be deposited at a convenient place, must be open for inspection by persons interested or affected at all reasonable hours, without fee, and the local authority must arrange to provide any necessary explanation.

4. Advertisement. The order must be advertised twice, in two successive weeks, in one or more of the local newspapers. The advertisements must be headed "First Advertisement" and "Second and Last Advertisement," respectively. The first advertisement must be published not later than the seventh day after the making of the order. The advertisement must contain, in addition to a copy of the order, a notice stating that any objections must be sent to the Ministry of Health within fourteen days after the publication of the first advertisement, and a statement of the period, time and places during and at which the deposited plan may be inspected.

5. Objections. Before submitting the order to the Ministry for confirmation, the local authority must allow a period of fourteen days from the date of the first advertisement to elapse, during which objections may be made to the Ministry by persons interested.

6. Submission for Confirmation. After making and advertising the order, depositing the plan, giving notice to the owners, lessees and occupiers, and allowing the period for the submission of objections to elapse, the G.H.M. 6. local authority should forthwith submit the order to the Ministry for confirmation. The Ministry should be furnished with the following documents and particulars :—

- (a) The original order sealed by the council, and a copy thereof.
- (b) A copy of each of the newspapers in which the advertisements were inserted.
- (c) A definite statement that the plan was deposited for the period prescribed.
- (d) A copy of the plan deposited.
- (e) A definite statement that notice was given to the owners, lessees and occupiers.
- (f) A copy of the notice and a statement showing the names of all owners, lessees and occupiers, and the manner and date of service in each case.
- (g) A formal application by resolution of the council or of the housing committee for the Ministry's confirmation of the order.

7. Confirmation. For a period of two years from the 31st July 1919, it will be within the discretion of the Ministry to determine whether a public inquiry shall be held into the proposals of the local authority for the compulsory acquisition. If it is held, it will be held by a representative of the Ministry. The Ministry will not confirm an order, if they are of opinion that the land is unsuited for the purpose for which it is sought to be acquired.

8. Notice after Confirmation. Upon receipt of information that the Ministry have confirmed the order, the local authority must serve a copy of the compulsory order as confirmed on every owner, lessee and occupier as soon as practicable, and they should give notice to treat and inform the Ministry that this has been done.

9. Provision of Copies. The local authority must furnish a copy of the order free of charge to any person interested in the land who applies for one, and must furnish a copy of the plan to any such person for the reasonable cost of preparing the same.

10. Powers of entry after notice of treat has been given. The local authority may enter on the land when an order has been made and confirmed, after giving fourteen days' notice to the owner and occupier, without awaiting G.H.M. 6. the result of the assessment of compensation.

A further memorandum will be issued shortly explaining the procedure under the Acquisition of Land Act.

MINISTRY OF HEALTH,
WHITEHALL, S.W. 1.
September 1919.

GENERAL HOUSING MEMORANDUM No. 11

COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND FOR HOUSING

INTRODUCTION

1. In view of the time occupied and the costs incurred in purchasing land by compulsory powers, an order should not be made until careful consideration has been given to the possibility of obtaining an alternative site. This is particularly the case in rural areas where the cost incurred in acquiring the land compulsorily may be disproportionate to the value of the land.

2. Where an alternative site is not available and negotiations for the purchase have proved abortive, a compulsory order may be made subject to the provisions of paragraph 3, but it should be borne in mind that the service of the order does not preclude the possibility of coming to an agreement. (See paragraph 2 of Notice to Treat.)

3. Before confirming an order, the Minister is required (a) to satisfy himself that the site to which the proposed order relates is not unsuited for the purpose for which it is proposed to be acquired ; (b) to consider any objections which may be made to the order, and, when necessary, to cause a public enquiry to be held ; (c) to satisfy himself that the land can be acquired at a reasonable price ; and he desires, therefore, to be informed at the earliest practicable date of the intention of a local authority to make a compulsory purchase order. Cases in which local authorities will find such orders necessary will, no doubt, fall into one of two classes :—

- G.H.M. 11.
- (i) Where the owner is unwilling to sell the land at any price.
 - (ii) Where the owner is willing to sell, but no agreement can be reached as to price. In such cases, the local authority will, no doubt, in accordance with the usual procedure, have placed negotiations in the hands of the Inland Revenue Valuer, and the compulsory purchase order will be proposed because his negotiations have failed.

Where the local authority is in a position to begin building at an early date, negotiations should not be unduly prolonged. After any such case has been in the hands of the District Valuer for, say, one month, the council should request him to report the position of the negotiations, and if there is no reasonable possibility of an immediate agreement the question of adopting compulsory powers should be considered. The District Valuer should be informed, however, immediately it is decided to make an order.

4. It is suggested that at the earliest stage practicable a letter should be sent to the Commissioner notifying him of the intention of the council to make a compulsory purchase order, and that a copy of this letter should be sent to the Ministry for information. The letter should state the name and area of the site, and should be accompanied by a report from the District Valuer as to the conduct of the negotiations, and stating the price asked by the owner and any offer made by the valuer with a view to settlement; if practicable, a copy of the draft order and of the plan of the site should also be enclosed.

PROCEDURE IN CONNECTION WITH MAKING OF ORDER AND APPLICATION FOR CONFIRMATION

5. (a) Information as to the steps to be taken at this stage is contained in General Housing Memorandum No. 6, to which reference should be made.
- (b) The Minister desires that the cost of making the compulsory order should be kept to the lowest possible figure.
- (c) It will be desirable in suitable cases to intimate (by a letter sent to the owner when the compulsory order is forwarded) that the service of the order is made G.H.M. 11. primarily to ensure early entry upon the land, and does not preclude negotiations with a view to settlement, and that if the owner desires to proceed with this end in view he should communicate with the District Valuer.

PROCEDURE SUBSEQUENT TO THE CONFIRMATION OF THE ORDER

6. The following procedure should be adopted after the Compulsory Purchase Order has been confirmed :—

(i) Copies of the confirmed order will be sent by the Ministry to the local authority, and, under the Housing Acts (Compulsory Purchase) Regulations, 1919, the local authority are required to serve a copy on every owner, lessee and occupier of the land to which the compulsory order relates. This should be done forthwith. The local authority should at the same time serve notice to treat, and also (see section 10 (1) of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919) notice of their intention to enter on, and take possession of the land after the expiration of not less than fourteen days after the notice to treat has been served. It is suggested that the copy of the confirmed order, the notice to treat and the notice of intention to enter should be served at the same time. Copies of a draft notice to treat, and notice of intention to enter, which might be used in this connection, are appended to this memorandum.

If immediate entry is desired, care should be taken to give the tenant notice under Section 10 (2) of the Housing, and Town Planning Act, 1919, at the proper time. In cases where agreement has been or can be come to with the tenant he need not be served with a notice to treat.

(ii) The local authority should wait a reasonable period (twenty-one days is suggested) for the receipt of a claim. If this is received, a copy should be forwarded to the Ministry, and if no claim is received this fact should be reported after the expiration of the stated period.

- (iii) The Ministry will in due course inform the local authority if they consider it desirable that an unconditional offer should now be made, and, if so, will inform them of the amount they are prepared to endorse, and in such case such an offer should immediately be made. It will be seen that under Section 5 of the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, the making of an unconditional offer, in writing, by the acquiring authority has a material bearing on the question of costs.
- (iv) If the unconditional offer is refused, the local authority should take steps to have an arbitrator appointed under the provisions of the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919. The arbitrator will be selected in accordance with the rules made by the reference committee under the Act, which, it is anticipated, will be issued very shortly.
- (v) The arbitration will be conducted under rules to be made by the reference committee, but in all cases the Ministry will expect that the District Valuer should give evidence before the referee.

7. In normal circumstances the matter should be referred to the official Arbitrator defined by Section 1 of the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, but no objection will be taken by the Ministry to the case being heard by an agreed arbitrator under section 8 (1).

8. In cases where the Inland Revenue Valuer has not already valued or conducted negotiations on behalf of the local authority, the latter, if they so desire, may, when serving notice to treat, and without waiting for a claim, ask the owner whether he is prepared to accept an assessment by the Commissioner of Inland Revenue under section 8 (1). If he agrees, a joint submission should be agreed and sent to the Secretary, Land Values, Commissioners of Inland Revenue, Somerset House, W.C.2.

If the owner refuses the procedure will be as laid down G.H.M. 11.

HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES, ENGLAND

ACQUISITION OF LANDS

The Housing Acts (Compulsory Purchase) Regulations, 1919. Dated 29th August 1919.¹

65,408

The Minister of Health, in pursuance of the powers conferred on Him by the First Schedule to the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, and of all other powers enabling Him in that behalf, hereby makes the following Regulations :—

ARTICLE I—These Regulations may be cited as “the Housing Acts (Compulsory Purchase) Regulations, 1919.”

ARTICLE II—The Housing, &c. (Form of Compulsory Purchase Order, &c.) Order, 1911, made by the Local Government Board on the 14th day of June 1911, is hereby revoked, except so far as it relates to any Compulsory Order made thereunder before the date of these Regulations.

ARTICLE III—An Order made by a Local Authority under the First Schedule to the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909 (herein-after referred to as “the Compulsory Order”), shall be in the Form set forth in the Schedule hereto, or in a Form substantially to the like effect.

ARTICLE IV—(1) Before submitting the Compulsory Order to the Minister of Health for confirmation, the Local Authority shall cause the same to be published by advertisement in two successive weeks in one or more of the local newspapers circulating in the District of the ¹ See the additions by the two documents next following.

Local Authority and in the Parish or Parishes in which the land to which the Compulsory Order relates is situated.

(2) The advertisements shall be headed respectively "First Advertisement" and "Second and Last Advertisement," and the first of the said advertisements shall be published not later than the seventh day after the making of the Compulsory Order.

(3) Each of the said advertisements shall contain in addition to a copy of the Compulsory Order a notice setting out the following particulars :—

(a) a statement that any objection to the Compulsory Order must be presented to the Minister of Health within the period of fourteen days from and after the date of the publication of the first advertisement ; and

(b) a statement of the period, times, and place or places during and at which the deposited plan referred to in the Schedule to the Compulsory Order may be inspected by or on behalf of any person interested in the land to which the Compulsory Order relates.

(4) The plan referred to in the Schedule to the Compulsory Order shall be deposited by the Local Authority not later than the seventh day after the making of the Compulsory Order at a place convenient for the purposes of inspection, and shall be kept deposited thereat for a period not being less than fourteen days from the date of the publication of the first advertisement ; and the said plan shall be open for inspection by any person interested or affected, without payment of any fee, at all reasonable hours on any weekday during the said period. The Local Authority shall also make suitable provision for affording to any such person inspecting the said plan any necessary explanation or information in regard thereto.

ARTICLE V—(1) The Local Authority shall, not later than the seventh day after the making of the Compulsory Order, cause notice thereof to be given to every owner, lessee, and occupier of the land to which the Compulsory Order relates, and every such notice shall include a copy of the Compulsory Order, to which shall be appended a notice containing the particulars mentioned in paragraph (3) of Article IV of these Regulations.

(2) The Local Authority shall furnish a copy of the Compulsory Order, free of charge, to any person interested in the land to which the Compulsory Order relates, upon his applying for the same.

ARTICLE VI—The period within which an objection to a Compulsory Order may be presented to the Minister of Health by a person interested in the land to which the Compulsory Order relates shall be the period of fourteen days from and after the date of the publication of the first advertisement of the Compulsory Order.

ARTICLE VII—(1) The Local Authority shall as soon as practicable after the confirmation of the Compulsory Order cause a copy of the Compulsory Order as confirmed to be served on every owner, lessee, and occupier of the land to which the Compulsory Order relates.

(2) A copy of the Compulsory Order as confirmed shall be furnished free of charge by the Local Authority to any person interested in the land authorised to be purchased upon his applying for the same, and a copy of any plan to which reference is made in the Compulsory Order as confirmed shall also be furnished by the Local Authority to any such person upon his applying for such copy and paying the reasonable cost of preparing the same.

ARTICLE VIII—Every notice or other document which in pursuance of paragraph (1) of Article V or of paragraph (1) of Article VII of these Regulations is required to be given or served by the Local Authority to or on an owner, lessee, or occupier, shall be served :—

- (a) by delivery of the same personally to the person required to be served, or, if such person is absent abroad or cannot be found, to his agent ; or
- (b) by leaving the same at the usual or last known place of abode of such person as aforesaid ; or
- (c) by post as a registered letter addressed to the usual or last known place of abode of such person ; or
- (d) in any case to which the three preceding paragraphs are inapplicable, by affixing the notice or other document upon some conspicuous part of the land to which the notice or document relates ; or
- (e) in the case of a notice required to be served on a local authority or corporate body or company, by delivering the same to their clerk or secretary or leaving the same at his office with some person employed there, or by post as a registered letter addressed to such clerk or secretary at his office.

ARTICLE IX—Articles III to VIII of these Regulations shall not apply to any Compulsory Order made before the date hereof.

HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES AND TOWN PLANNING, ENGLAND

ACQUISITION OF LANDS

*The Housing Acts (Compulsory Purchase) Amendment Regulations, 1919. Dated 23rd October 1919.*¹

65,605

The Minister of Health, in pursuance of the powers conferred on him by the First Schedule to the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, hereby makes the following Regulations :—

1. These Regulations may be cited as “The Housing Acts (Compulsory Purchase) Amendment Regulations, 1919,” and shall be read as one with the Housing Acts (Compulsory Purchase) Regulations, 1919, herein-after called the principal Regulations.

2. Where the Minister of Health makes an Order for the compulsory acquisition of land under the powers conferred on him by Section 16 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, for the purpose of securing the immediate provision of dwelling accommodation in the area of any Local Authority, the principal Regulations shall be read and have effect subject to the following modifications :—

(a) The following Articles shall be substituted for Articles IV, V, and VI of the principal Regulations :—

“ Article IV—(1) The Minister shall cause the Compulsory Order to be published by advertisement in one or more newspapers circulating in the district of the Local Authority and in the parish or parishes in which the land to which the Compulsory Order relates is situated.

“ (2) The said advertisement shall be published

not later than the second day after the making of the Compulsory Order.

“(3) The said advertisement shall contain in addition to a copy of the Compulsory Order a notice setting out the following particulars:—

“(a) a statement that any objection to the Compulsory Order must be presented to the Minister of Health within the period of seven days from and after the date of the publication of the advertisement; and

“(b) a statement of the period, times, and place or places during and at which the deposited plan referred to in the Schedule to the Compulsory Order may be inspected by or on behalf of any person interested in the land to which the Compulsory Order relates.

“(4) The plan referred to in the Schedule to the Compulsory Order shall be deposited by the Minister not later than the second day after the making of the Compulsory Order at a place convenient for the purposes of inspection, and shall be kept deposited thereat for a period not being less than seven days from the date of the publication of the first advertisement; and the said plan shall be open for inspection by any person interested or affected, without payment of any fee, at all reasonable hours on any weekday during the said period. The Minister shall also make suitable provision for affording to any such person inspecting the said plan any necessary explanation or information in regard thereto.

“Article V—(1) The Minister shall, not later than the second day after the making of the Compulsory Order, cause notice thereof to be given to every owner, lessee, and occupier of the land to which the Compulsory Order relates, and every such notice shall include a copy of the Compulsory Order, to which shall be appended a notice containing the particulars mentioned in paragraph (3) of Article IV of these Regulations.

“(2) The Minister shall furnish a copy of the Compulsory Order, free of charge, to any person interested in the land to which the Compulsory Order relates, upon his applying for the same.

"Article VI—The period within which an objection to a Compulsory Order may be presented to the Minister by a person interested in the land to which the Compulsory Order relates shall be the period of seven days from and after the date of the application of the advertisement of the Compulsory Order."

(b) "The Minister" shall be substituted for "the Local Authority" in Articles III and VII of the principal Regulations.

3. Notwithstanding anything in these Regulations, the Minister may in any case to which these Regulations apply direct that the period during which objections may be presented to a Compulsory Order shall be fourteen days in lieu of seven days.

4. These Regulations shall apply in the case of any Compulsory Order made by the Minister after the twenty-third day of October, One thousand nine hundred and nineteen, for the purpose of securing the immediate provision of dwelling accommodation, but without prejudice to any Compulsory Order made by the Minister under the principal Regulations before that date or to any proceedings consequent thereon in the exercise by him in pursuance of Section 16 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, of any powers of a Local Authority.

Given under the Official Seal of the Minister of Health
this Twenty-third day of October, One thousand nine hundred and nineteen.

HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES,
ENGLAND

The Local Authorities (Assisted Housing Schemes) Regulations, 1919. Dated 31st December 1919

.65,736

Whereas by subsection (1) of section 7 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, it is enacted that if it appears to the Local Government Board that the carrying out by a local authority, or by a county council to whom the powers of a local authority have been transferred under that Act, of any scheme approved under section 1 of that Act or the carrying out of a re-housing scheme in connection with a scheme made under Part I or Part II of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, including the acquisition, clearance and development of land included in the last-mentioned scheme, and whether the re-housing will be effected on the area included in that scheme or elsewhere, has resulted or is likely to result in a loss, the Board shall, if the scheme is carried out within such period after the passing of that Act as may be specified by the Board with the consent of the Treasury, pay or undertake to pay to the local authority or county council, out of moneys provided by Parliament, such part of the loss as may be determined to be so payable under regulations made by the Board with the approval of the Treasury, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed by those regulations ;

And whereas by subsection (2) of the said section 7 it is enacted that such regulations shall provide that the amount of any annual payment to be made under the section shall, in the case of a scheme carried out by a local authority, be determined on the basis of the estimated annual loss resulting from the carrying out of any scheme or schemes to which the section applies, subject to the deduction therefrom of a sum not exceeding the estimated annual produce of a rate of one penny in the pound levied in the area chargeable with the expenses of such scheme or schemes.

Now, therefore, the Minister of Health, in pursuance of his powers under the recited enactments and under any other statutes in that behalf, hereby makes the following regulations :—

ARTICLE I—(1.) These regulations may be cited as “The Local Authorities (Assisted Housing Schemes) Regulations, 1919.”

(2.) The Housing (Assisted Scheme) Regulations, 1919, so far as they are in force at the date of this order, are hereby revoked.

ARTICLE II—(1.) In these regulations unless the contrary intention appears :—

- (a) The expression “the Minister” means the Minister of Health ;
- (b) The expression “Local Authority” means any local authority referred to in section 7 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, and includes a county council to whom the powers of a local authority have been transferred under that Act ;
- (c) The expression “the Housing Acts” means the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919 ;
- (d) The expression “the Act of 1890” means the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 ;
- (e) The expression “the Act of 1919” means the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919 ;

- (f) The expression "rate" means the rate out of which the expenses of the execution of Part III of the Act of 1890 are defrayed;
- (g) The expression "the produce of a rate of one penny in the pound" means the amount certified as such in accordance with the rules set out in Schedule A to these regulations.
- (2.) The Interpretation Act, 1889, applies to the interpretation of these regulations as it applies to the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

Schemes
Regulations.

ARTICLE III—For the purposes of these regulations—

(1.) The schemes towards the losses on which the Minister is liable to contribute under section 7 of the Act of 1919, out of moneys provided by Parliament, shall include:—

- (a) Any scheme under Part III of the Act of 1890, including any proposals to which subsection (8) of section 1 of the Act of 1919 applies; and
- (b) Any re-housing scheme in connection with a scheme under Part I or Part II of the Act of 1890, including the acquisition, clearance and development of land included in the last-mentioned scheme, and whether the re-housing will be effected on the area included in that scheme or elsewhere;

in so far (in each case) as the scheme is approved by the Minister; and all such schemes, in so far as they are carried out at the expense of any one local authority, shall be regarded together as one scheme, and, if a payment may be made as herein provided in respect thereof, are hereinafter together referred to as an "assisted scheme."

(2.) No such payment shall continue to be made:—

- (i) In the case of a scheme under Part III of the Act of 1890 unless the Minister is satisfied that reasonable progress has been made with the carrying into effect of the scheme within twelve months from the passing of the Act of 1919, or such further period as the Minister may allow;
- (ii) In the case of a scheme under Part I or Part II of the Act of 1890, unless the Minister is satisfied that reasonable progress has been made with the carrying into effect of the scheme within four years from the passing of the Act of 1919, or such further period as the Minister may allow;

- (iii) In the case of any scheme or part of a scheme under Part III of the Act of 1890, unless such scheme or part of a scheme is carried into effect within three years from the passing of the Act of 1919, or such further period as the Minister may allow; or
- (iv) In the case of any scheme or part of a scheme under Part I or Part II of the Act of 1890, unless such scheme or part of a scheme is carried into effect within six years from the passing of the Act of 1919, or such further period as the Minister may allow.

(3.) No such payment shall be made :—

- (i) In respect of the cost of acquiring or clearing a site under Part I or Part II of the Act of 1890 where the site was acquired or cleared (as the case may be) before the 6th day of February 1919; or
- (ii) In respect of any scheme made or carried into effect by the Minister or the county council in default of the local authority, unless the Minister otherwise directs.

(4.) In determining whether a further period may be allowed as hereinbefore provided the Minister shall have regard to the supplies of labour and material available from time to time and all other local or general circumstances affecting the carrying into effect of the scheme, and if part only of a scheme has been carried into effect within the periods allowed under paragraphs (iii) and (iv) of sub-division (2) of this Article, that part of the scheme may, with the approval of the Minister, and subject to the provisions of these regulations, be regarded as the assisted scheme.

(5.) A scheme or part of a scheme shall be deemed to have been carried into effect when all the houses to be provided or acquired thereunder are let or available for letting, and also, in the case of a scheme under Part I or Part II of the Act of 1890, when the site or area affected has been cleared to the satisfaction of the Minister.

ARTICLE IV—(1.) The local authority shall for the purposes of an assisted scheme, or a scheme which, in the opinion of the Minister, is likely to become an assisted scheme, keep separate accounts, to be called "The Housing (Assisted Scheme) Accounts," including a separate revenue account, to be called "The Housing (Assisted Scheme) Revenue Account."

Assisted Housing
Schemes
Regulations

(2.) They shall cause to be credited to the Housing (Assisted Scheme) Revenue Account in each financial year :—

- (a) the produce of a rate of one penny in the pound levied in the area chargeable with the expenses of the assisted scheme, or such less amount as may be necessary to meet the deficit for the financial year ;
- (b) the rents (inclusive of rates where rates are payable by the owner) in respect of any houses provided or acquired by them under the assisted scheme ; and
- (c) any other income which in the opinion of the Minister may properly be credited to the said account.

(3.) They shall cause to be debited to the Housing (Assisted Scheme) Revenue Account in each financial year :—

- (a) the sums required for interest and repayment of principal in respect of all moneys borrowed by them for the purposes of the assisted scheme (including moneys borrowed for the purchase of land which is approved by the Minister as part of the assisted scheme) which in the opinion of the Minister may properly be debited to the said account ;
- (b) the rates, taxes, rents or other charges payable by them in respect of any land or houses acquired, leased or provided by them under the assisted scheme, including any sums payable by way of rent, with the approval of the Minister, to any other account of the local authority, in respect of land acquired by them for some other purpose and appropriated for purposes of the assisted scheme ;
- (c) the annual premium payable by them in respect of the insurance against fire of any houses acquired or provided by them for the purposes of the assisted scheme ;
- (d) the expenditure incurred in respect of supervision and management of the houses acquired or provided by them under the assisted scheme;

- (e) the expenditure incurred by them in and about the repair or maintenance of any property acquired or provided by them for the purposes of the assisted scheme, whether such expenditure is incurred by way of a fixed annual contribution to a repairs fund or otherwise; and
- (f) any other expenses which in the opinion of the Minister may properly be debited to the said account.

(4.) (a) In the case of the council of a borough whose accounts under the Housing Acts are not otherwise subject to audit by the district auditor, the Housing (Assisted Scheme) Accounts shall be made up and shall be audited by the district auditor in like manner, and subject to the same provisions, as the accounts of an urban district council, and for this purpose enactments relating to the audit by district auditors of those accounts, and to all matters incidental thereto and consequential thereon, shall apply, so far as necessary, in lieu of the provisions of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1892, relating to accounts and audit.

(b) In every case as soon as practicable after the conclusion of each financial year the local authority shall forward to the Minister a copy of the Housing (Assisted Scheme) Revenue Account, certified by the district auditor.

ARTICLE V—Except with the approval of the Minister, the local authority shall not borrow moneys for the purposes of an assisted scheme, or a scheme which, in the opinion of the Minister, is likely to become an assisted scheme, at a higher rate of interest than that fixed for the time being in the case of loans by the Public Works Loan Commissioners to local authorities for the purposes of assisted schemes.

ARTICLE VI—Subject to the provisions of these regulations and provided that these regulations are complied with the annual payment to be made by the Minister to the local authority out of moneys provided by Parliament (hereinafter referred to as "the Exchequer subsidy") shall be determined by the Minister as follows:—

- (a) During the period before any part of the assisted scheme has been carried into effect the

- Exchequer subsidy shall be an amount equivalent to the deficit in the Housing (Assisted Scheme) Revenue Account made up at the conclusion of each financial year, in accordance with the provisions of Article IV of these regulations;
- (b) during the period after any part of the assisted scheme has been carried into effect, and before the whole of the assisted scheme has been carried into effect the Exchequer subsidy, in respect of that part of the assisted scheme which has been carried into effect, shall be calculated upon the basis of an estimate submitted to the Minister by the local authority and approved by the Minister, and, in respect of that part of the assisted scheme which has not been carried into effect, shall be an amount equivalent to the deficit under the last-mentioned part of the assisted scheme as shown by the entries relating thereto in the Housing (Assisted Scheme) Revenue Account at the conclusion of the financial year;
- (c) during the remainder of the period or periods allowed for the repayment of the loans raised by the local authority for the purposes of the assisted scheme the Exchequer subsidy shall be calculated upon the basis of estimates submitted to the Minister by the local authority and approved by the Minister;
- (d) The first of the estimates referred to in the preceding paragraph shall be submitted to the Minister by the local authority as soon as possible after the whole of the assisted scheme has been carried into effect, and a revised estimate shall be submitted as soon as possible after the 31st day of March 1927, and further revised estimates after the conclusion of each tenth financial year during the remainder of the period or periods last-mentioned;
- (e) Each of the estimates referred to in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this Article shall be in a form approved by the Minister and shall be an estimate of the average annual income and expenditure of the local authority under the assisted scheme, or under that part of the assisted scheme which has been carried into effect (as the case may be), in respect of the period ending at the conclusion of the financial year after which the next estimate is to be submitted under these regulations;

(f) The estimate shall in each case be accompanied by an estimate of the annual produce of a rate of one penny in the pound hereinbefore referred to, and in the framing of such estimate regard shall be had to the produce of a rate of one penny in the pound during the last financial year before the date of such estimate, and to any probable increase or decrease of the assessable value of the district of the local authority during the period to which the estimate relates;

(g) The Exchequer subsidy, in so far as it is calculated upon an estimate, shall be determined on the basis of the average annual deficit to be incurred by the local authority under the assisted scheme (or under that part of the assisted scheme which has been carried into effect, as the case may be), as shown by the estimate last made by the local authority under this Article, and shall be the equivalent of the amount of the said average annual deficit subject to the deduction from the said average annual deficit of the estimated produce of a rate of one penny in the pound hereinbefore referred to;

Provided that in the determination of the amount of the Exchequer subsidy during the period to which paragraph (b) of this Article applies, there shall be added to the amount of the said average annual deficit an amount equivalent to the deficit referred to in the said paragraph (b).

(h) In this Article the expression "part of the assisted scheme" means so much of the assisted scheme as will be carried out under Parts I and II of the Act of 1890, or under Part III of the Act of 1890, as the case may be.

ARTICLE VII—(1.) In any determination of the amount of the Exchequer subsidy, whether based on an estimate or otherwise, such deductions may be made from the amount of the deficit upon which the Exchequer subsidy is calculated as will in the opinion of the Minister represent—

- (a) an item of expenditure or estimated expenditure which is excessive or not properly chargeable to the debit of the assisted scheme ; or
- (b) the omission from the account or estimate of any item of income which should be included therein ; or
- (c) any deficiency of income or estimated income which is due to the insufficiency of the rents charged or proposed to be charged by the local authority ; or
- (d) any deficiency of income or estimated income which is due to the failure of the local authority to secure due economy in the carrying out or administration of the scheme.

(2.) For the purposes of sub-division (1) (a) of this Article the following items of expenditure, or estimated expenditure, in respect of any one financial year, shall not be regarded as excessive :—

- (a) A charge, in respect of unoccupied houses and uncollected rents, not exceeding five per centum of the gross estimated rent ;
- (b) a contribution to a repairs fund not exceeding fifteen per centum of the gross estimated rent ;
- (c) a charge in respect of the cost of supervision and management not exceeding five per centum of the gross estimated rent ; and
- (d) any item of expenditure referred to in this sub-division of this Article which exceeds the percentages thereby prescribed, but which the Minister, having regard to the special circumstances of the case, considers to be reasonable.

(3.) The Minister shall, not later than the 31st day of March 1927, after consultation with local authorities or with any associations of local authorities, and after such inquiry as he may consider necessary for the purpose, make such revision, if any, of the percentages mentioned in sub-division (2) of this Article as appears to him to be just and equitable.

(4.) (a) In the event of any difference of opinion arising between the Minister and the local authority with regard to any of the matters referred to in paragraphs (c) or (d) of sub-division (1) of this Article the question at issue shall be referred for decision to a tribunal appointed as hereinafter provided, and the decision of such tribunal shall be final and conclusive, and the amount of the Exchequer subsidy shall (if necessary) be altered accordingly.

(b) Such tribunal shall consist of four members, of whom two shall be nominated by the Minister, one shall be nominated by the Association of Municipal Corporations, and one shall be nominated by the Urban District Councils Association and the Rural District Councils Association jointly, and of a chairman to be appointed by the four members so nominated.

(5.) In any determination of the sufficiency of the rents charged or to be charged by the local authority, regard shall be had to the rules set out in Schedule B to these regulations.

(6.) For the purposes of sub-division (2) of this Article the gross estimated rent shall be deemed to be the total amount of the rents, rates and water charges payable in respect of the houses included in the assisted scheme less the total amount of the rates and water charges payable in respect of the said houses during the financial year.

(7.) Where the local authority apply any capital moneys, including any accumulated funds, belonging to them for defraying any expenditure incurred by them for purposes of an assisted scheme for which the local authority are authorised to borrow moneys, the rate of interest on the capital moneys or funds so applied shall be calculated as follows.—

(a) where moneys have been borrowed by the local authority for the purposes of the assisted scheme from sources other than moneys or funds belonging to the local authority, the rate of interest shall be the same as that payable on the moneys last previously so borrowed :

(b) where no moneys have been borrowed by the local authority as aforesaid the rate of interest shall be the same as that in force for the time being for loans for assisted schemes advanced by the Public Works Loan Commissioners.

ARTICLE VIII—(1.) The amount of the Exchequer subsidy, when determined under these regulations, shall not be varied by the Minister during the period for which the Exchequer subsidy was fixed except as herein-after provided or except with the concurrence of the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury and of the local authority.

(2.) The Exchequer subsidy in respect of any financial year shall be varied so far as may be necessary in consequence of any difference between the produce of a rate of one penny in the pound in that year and the estimate of the produce of the said rate submitted under Article VI of these regulations.

(3.) When any land or buildings included in an assisted scheme are leased or sold by the local authority, the Minister may make such adjustment of the amount of the Exchequer subsidy as may be necessary in consequence of the lease or sale and of the appropriation of the rents or proceeds of the sale:

Provided that the adjustment shall in no case be such as to increase the contribution to be made by the local authority from the rates towards the annual cost of the assisted scheme, and that if, as the result of the appropriation of the rents or proceeds of the sale, the annual deficit to be incurred by the local authority under the assisted scheme is reduced, a proportion of the amount by which the deficit is reduced shall, subject to such conditions as the Minister may determine, be applied under any such adjustment in reduction of the said contribution, as well as of the Exchequer subsidy.

(4.) When the period allowed for the repayment of any of the loans raised by the local authority for the purposes of the assisted scheme has expired, the amount of the Exchequer subsidy shall be reduced by the Minister, so far as may be necessary, in consequence of such repayment.

ARTICLE IX—The Exchequer subsidy shall be payable in such instalments as the Minister may think fit (including payments on account, during the periods mentioned in paragraphs (a) and (b) of Article VI of these regulations, based on the probable deficit for the year as certified by the local authority), but the Minister may, if he thinks fit, withhold payment of the final instalment of the Exchequer subsidy until the provisions of sub-division (4) (b) of Article IV of these regulations have been complied with.

ARTICLE X—In any case where one area is affected by two or more assisted schemes the Minister may make such adjustments as may be necessary for securing that in the calculation of the total amount of the Exchequer subsidies, in any one financial year, under both or all the assisted schemes affecting the said area, there shall not be taken into account, in respect of that area, the produce, or estimated annual produce, of a rate of more than one penny in the pound.

SCHEDULE A

RULES TO BE OBSERVED IN THE DETERMINATION OF THE AMOUNT PRODUCED BY A RATE OF ONE PENNY IN THE POUND

1. The produce of a rate during any financial year shall be the amount actually realised during that year by the collection of that rate, in accordance with a return made by the duly authorised financial officer of the local authority and certified by the district auditor.
2. For the purposes of the foregoing rule, the amount of the rate or rates collected during the financial year shall be regarded as having been collected in respect of the rate or rates made for that year.
3. The produce of a rate of one penny in the pound shall be that proportion of the produce of a rate which one penny bears to the total amount in the pound of the said rate.
4. Where it is desired to ascertain the amount of the produce of a rate of one penny in the pound levied in any area comprising two or more parts which are differentially rated, the said amount shall be separately ascertained in respect of each of these parts in accordance with the foregoing rules, and the sum of the amounts so ascertained shall be the produce of a rate of one penny in the pound levied in the said area.

SCHEDULE B

RULES WITH REGARD TO THE DETERMINATION OF RENTS

1. The local authority in first fixing the rents under an assisted scheme shall have regard to :—
 - (a) the rents obtaining in the locality for houses for the working classes ;
 - (b) any increase in the rent of houses for the working classes authorised under the Increase of Rent and Mortgage Interest (War Restrictions) Act,

- 1915, and any Acts amending or extending that Act;
- (c) any superiority in the condition or amenity of the houses to be let by them under the assisted scheme or in the accommodation provided therein; and
- (d) the classes of tenant in the district for whom the houses are provided.

Assisted Housing
Schemes
Regulations.

2. The rent to be charged after the 31st day of March 1927, shall, if reasonably possible, having regard to the conditions then prevailing and to the classes of tenant in the district for whom the houses were provided, be sufficient to cover (in addition to the expenses of maintenance and management of the houses and a suitable allowance for depreciation) the interest which would have been payable on the capital cost of building the houses if they had been built after that date.

3. If it is not found reasonably possible after the 31st day of March 1927, to obtain the rent prescribed by rule 2, the rent shall be the best rent which can reasonably be obtained from the classes of tenant in the district for whom the houses were provided, regard being had to any superiority of such houses in accommodation, construction or amenities as compared with houses previously built in the district.

Given under the official seal of the Minister of Health this Thirty-first day of December, in the year One thousand nine hundred and nineteen.

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1920, No. 487

HOUSING, ENGLAND

The Housing Accounts Order (Local Authorities), 1920, dated 31st March 1920.

66,165.

- To the councils of the several administrative counties in England and Wales ;—
- To the councils of the several metropolitan boroughs, municipal boroughs and other urban districts, in England and Wales ;—
- To the councils of the several rural districts in England and Wales ;—
- And to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas by the Local Authorities (Assisted Housing Schemes) Regulations, 1919,¹ the Minister of Health, with the approval of the Treasury, made regulations in pursuance of section 7 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919,² with regard to the payments to be made by the Minister to local authorities in respect of assisted schemes (as defined in the said regulations) towards the losses on which the Minister is liable to contribute under the said section 7 out of moneys provided by Parliament ;

And whereas by Article IV of the said regulations it is provided that the local authority shall, for the purposes of an assisted scheme, or a scheme which in the opinion of the Minister is likely to become an assisted scheme, keep separate accounts to be called the Housing (Assisted Scheme) Accounts, and it is further provided that in the case of the council of a borough whose accounts under the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919, are not otherwise subject to audit by the district auditor, the Housing (Assisted Scheme) Accounts shall be made up and shall be audited by the district auditor in the manner and subject to the provisions therein mentioned :

Now, therefore, the Minister of Health, in pursuance

² 9-10 Geo. 5. c. 35.

of his powers under section 5 of the District Auditors Act, 1879,¹ and all other enactments in that behalf, hereby orders and prescribes, subject to any departure to which he may from time to time assent, as follows:—

Housing
Accounts
Order.

ARTICLE I—This order may be cited as “The Housing Accounts Order (Local Authorities), 1920.”

ARTICLE II—In this order, unless the contrary intention appears:—

- (a) The expression “the Minister” means the Minister of Health;
- (b) The expression “the regulations” means the Local Authorities (Assisted Housing Schemes) Regulations, 1919;
- (c) The expressions “local authority” and “assisted schemes” have the same meaning as the like expressions respectively have in the Local Authorities (Assisted Housing Schemes) Regulations, 1919;
- (d) The expression “financial period” means, in the case of a local authority other than a rural district council, the year ending on the 31st day of March, and, in the case of a local authority being a rural district council, the half-year ending on the 31st day of March or the 30th day of September, as the case may require.

ARTICLE III—The officer charged with the duty of keeping the Housing (Assisted Scheme) Accounts of the local authority (hereinafter referred to as “the Accounting Officer”) shall punctually and accurately enter up the several accounts, books and statements relating to the assisted scheme which are prescribed by this Article, together with such other accounts or books of account as the Minister may direct or the local authority may decide to be necessary, that is to say:—

Treasurer's Sinking (or Redemption) Fund Account.

Sinking (or Redemption) Fund Investment Accounts.

Sinking (or Redemption) Fund Expenses Account.

(f) Where houses or other property are sold or instalments of purchase money are received a separate Treasurer's Account shall be kept in the ledger entitled the Treasurer's (Proceeds of Sale) Account.

Such items of loan repayment or sinking fund contribution as the Minister may from time to time direct shall be paid out of this account, and the sums remaining therein shall be invested in loans which the local authority is authorised to borrow, including loans for the purchase of other land for the purposes of Part III of the principal Act, or in any securities in which trustees are for the time being authorised to invest. The income derived from these investments shall be carried to the Housing (Assisted Scheme) Revenue Account.

(g) There shall be entered in the ledger a Housing (Assisted Scheme) Balance Sheet ;

the entries in which shall be arranged under the headings appearing in Form B in the schedule hereto or such of them as may be needed and in accordance with the directions set out at the foot of that form.

TERRIER OF HOUSING ESTATES

(2) A Terrier, in Form C in the schedule hereto, of all real property acquired by the local authority, giving the particulars set out in the form and in the instructions appended thereto.

REGISTER OF TENANCIES

(3) A Register in which one page or more is allotted to each house or other property available for letting. In this register there shall be entered from time to time the name of each tenant, the date when his occupation begins, the date when it ends, the agreed rent, any orders in regard to the writing-off of rents, and any other matters connected with the tenancies.

RENT ACCOUNT BOOK

(4) A Rent Account Book in Form D in the schedule hereto, or in such amplified form as may be better adapted to the requirements of the case, setting out in the same order and with the same reference numbers as appears in the Register of Tenancies and in columns provided for the purpose each house available for letting, the name of each tenant in occupation during the period of account, and the other particulars set forth in the form.

Housing
Accounts
Order.

This book shall be totalled up and balanced at the close of each quarter or of such other period as the local authority may direct.

SINKING (OR REDEMPTION) FUND RECORD

(5) A book shewing in respect of each sinking or redemption fund which has to be compiled for the discharge of loan debt. (a) the amount to which such fund should amount at the close of each financial year in the loan period ; (b) the total amount of debt discharged by the fund up to the end of each financial year, and (c) the amount (if any) remaining on hand invested or uninvested.

ARTICLE IV—(1) The accounts relating to the assisted scheme shall include, and shall be confined to, the items of income and expenditure falling due within, or at the close of, the financial period.

(2) The accounts, books and statements hereinbefore prescribed shall be duly made up and balanced immediately after the close of each financial period, and thereupon the Accounting Officer shall submit the Ledger Accounts and Balance Sheet to the local authority or appropriate committee.

(3) When the accounts have been approved by the local authority, their acceptance as accounts of the local authority shall be attested by the signature of the presiding chairman upon the Housing (Assisted Scheme) Balance Sheet.

(4) It shall be the duty of the Accounting Officer to present at audit the Housing (Assisted Scheme) Accounts of the local authority, together with all vouchers, documents and evidence which are required for the purposes of audit.

ARTICLE V—The treasurer and every officer or other person who receives or disburses money or materials on behalf of the local authority shall keep a personal book of account containing a prompt and accurate record of all such receipts and disbursements, shall balance such book of account at the close of each financial period and at such other dates as the local authority may direct, and shall submit the same at the audit together with such vouchers, documents and evidence as may be required for the purposes of audit.

ARTICLE VI—(1) The rent collector shall deposit all sums which he has collected with the treasurer at the close of each week, or more frequently if the local authority so direct.

(2) He shall use such receipt check books as the local authority may direct, and shall preserve therein an accurate record of the amounts and dates of his collections.

(3) If, instead of or in addition to directing the use by the rent collector of receipt check books, the local authority elect to supply each tenant with a tenant's rent book, the collector shall mark and initial each rent payment in the rent book of the tenant.

(4) He shall make out and submit promptly after the close of each financial period, and at such other dates as the local authority may direct, a full statement of such of the rents which it was his duty to collect as may not in fact have been collected, and of the reason for such non-collection.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Loan Charges.—Under this head should be entered the annual sums (including principal and interest without deduction of Income Tax) required to repay the estimated capital cost in question on the annuity system. The loan periods on which the calculations should be made are 80 years for land, 60 years for buildings, 30 years for sewers and water supply, 20 years for streets. The cost of land should include legal expenses, if any, and the cost of the other works, a proportion for architect's fees, &c. The rate of interest on borrowed money should, of course, be that actually paid where the money has already been raised under a loan sanction of the Ministry, but should otherwise be taken at the rate at which the local authority anticipate that they will be able to borrow.

For the convenience of local authorities a table is appended showing the equal half-yearly payments needed to repay a loan of £100 in a given number of years at various percentages.

Number of years	5 per cent.	5½ per cent.	5¾ per cent.	6 per cent.
20 .	3 19 8	4 1 4½	4 3 0½	4 4 9½
30 .	3 4 8½	3 6 6½	3 8 5½	3 10 4
60 .	2 12 8½	2 14 11½	2 17 2½	2 19 6
80 .	2 10 11½	2 13 4½	2 15 8½	2 18 1½
				3 0 6½

2. Rent.—In fixing the rents inserted in the return the local authority should bear in mind the considerations set out in paragraphs 16 to 22 of General Housing Memorandum No. 8.

3. In completing the main statement, the following rules should be observed :—

- (a) The annual deduction in respect of unoccupied houses and uncollected rents must not exceed 5 per cent. of the gross estimated rent.
- (b) The annual deduction for cost of repairs and maintenance must not exceed 15 per cent. of the gross estimated rent.
- (c) The annual deduction for cost of supervision and management must not exceed 5 per cent. of the gross estimated rent.

The gross estimated rent, where rent is inclusive of rates and water charges, is the estimated inclusive rent, less rates and water charges.

Estimated income and expenditure.

4. The figures to be inserted in 3 (b) of Table D will be arrived at by calculating the interest on two-thirds of the totals shown in 2 of that table at the rate at which the loans have been raised, and adding thereto the annual amounts required to provide for (1) allowance for unoccupied houses ; (2) repairs and maintenance ; (3) supervision and collection of rents ; (4) insurance and (5) such allowance in respect of depreciation beyond the allowance for repairs and maintenance as may be necessary. The method by which (5) has been arrived at should be indicated below.

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1920, No. 2128

THE MINISTRY OF HEALTH (TEMPORARY RELAXATION OF BUILDING BYELAWS) REGULATIONS, 1920, DATED 12TH NOVEMBER 1920

MADE BY THE MINISTER OF HEALTH UNDER SECTION 25
OF THE HOUSING, TOWN PLANNING, &c., ACT, 1919

The Minister of Health, in pursuance of the powers conferred on him by subsection (1) of section 25 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, hereby makes the following regulations :—

1. (1.) These regulations may be cited as "The Ministry of Health (Temporary Relaxation of Building Byelaws) Regulations, 1920."
- (2.) The Ministry of Health (Temporary Relaxation of Building Byelaws) Regulations, 1919,¹ are hereby revoked without prejudice to any consent given or other thing done under those Regulations.
2. A local authority, notwithstanding the provisions of any building byelaws,² may, during a period

² Section 40 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, enacts that, for the purposes of Part I of the Act, the expression "building byelaws" includes byelaws made by any local authority under section one hundred and fifty-seven of the Public Health Act, 1875, as amended of three years from the 31st July 1919, consent to the erection and use for human habitation, of any building erected or proposed to be erected, which complies with the conditions set out in the schedule hereto.

3. The deposit to be received from a person appealing to the Minister of Health against the neglect or refusal of a local authority to give such consent as aforesaid, or against the conditions on which such consent is given or against the decision of the local authority as to the period for which the building may be allowed to be used for human habitation, shall be the sum of ten pounds: provided that the Minister of Health may in any case, if he thinks fit, require a deposit of less than ten pounds or may dispense with a deposit.
4. The Interpretation Act, 1889,¹ applies to the interpretation of these Regulations as it applies to the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

SCHEDULE

1. The whole ground or site of the building within the external walls shall, wherever the dampness of the site or the nature of the soil renders this precaution necessary, be covered with a layer of good cement concrete at least 4 inches thick finished shovel face.
2. (1.) Each external wall of the building shall either :
 - (a) to a height of not less than 6 inches above the surface of the ground adjoining the wall, be constructed of good cement concrete not less than 6 inches thick, or of brickwork composed of good whole bricks or stonework, all brickwork or stonework in the wall to be properly bonded and solidly put together with good lime or cement mortar, and to be not less than 4½ inches thick ; or
 - (b) be carried at a height not less than 6 inches above the surface of the adjoining ground upon sufficient piers constructed of good bricks, stone, by any subsequent enactment, with respect to new buildings including the drainage thereof and new streets, and any enactments in any local Acts dealing with the construction and drainage of new buildings and the laying-out and construction of new streets, and any byelaws made with respect to such matters under any such local Act.

or other hard and suitable materials similarly bonded and put together, or of good cement concrete, or in the case of a building erected before the 13th October 1919, and not subsequently re-erected, upon wooden piles or other supports of sufficient strength and in good condition.

(2.) Each external wall or pier of the building shall rest on concrete or on some other solid and sufficient foundation.

(3.) Every wall or pier of the building shall be provided with a proper damp-proof course of asphalt, or slates laid in cement, or of some other durable material impervious to moisture, beneath the level of the lowest floor and of the lowest timbers, and at a height of not less than 6 inches above the surface of the ground adjoining the wall :

Provided that where application is made to a local authority for their consent to the use for human habitation of a building of a permanent nature existing at the time when the application is made and there are no signs of dampness in the walls and the soil is dry, the provision of a damp-proof course shall not be required if the following conditions are satisfied, namely—

An impervious paving shall be provided outside the house at the ground level and adjoining all the external walls. This paving shall extend for a distance of at least 3 feet from the walls, and shall be continuous with a skirting of impervious material carried up on the exterior walls for a distance of at least 6 inches, and shall be sloped so as effectually to carry away all rain and waste water that may fall thereon from the walls of the house.

3. Every external wall of the building shall be constructed of good and suitable material and so as to be of sufficient stability and weather-proof.

4. The roof of the building shall be so constructed and supported as to be of sufficient stability and shall be covered externally with suitable fire-resisting and weather-proofing material ;

Provided that it shall not be necessary to cover the roof with fire-resisting material if the following conditions are observed, namely—

- (a) The building shall not be of more than two storeys in height and shall not comprise or form part of a block of more than 4 separate dwellings under one roof.
- (b) (1) The building shall be distant
- (i) at least 10 feet from the boundary of its curtilage except at any point where its curtilage adjoins that of a dwelling-house forming part of the same block ;
 - (ii) at least 20 feet from the nearest building, other than an out-building standing in the same curtilage or a dwelling-house forming part of the same block ;
 - (iii) at least 30 feet from the nearest public carriageway used or likely to be used for through traffic ;
 - (iv) at least 60 feet from the nearest boundary of any railway on which steam engines are used.
- (2) Every block of 4 dwelling-houses having a roof not covered with fire-resisting material shall be isolated by a distance of 60 feet from any other dwelling-house having a roof not covered with fire-resisting material.
- (3) Every group of 4 dwelling-houses having roofs not covered with fire-resisting material shall be isolated by a distance of at least 60 feet, every group of 24 such dwelling-houses by a distance of at least 180 feet, and every group of 96 such dwelling-houses by a distance of at least 540 feet, from any other such dwelling-house.

In this rule—

A "group of 4 dwelling-houses" means any 4 dwelling-houses the buildings comprising which are so situated that there can be drawn, passing through all the buildings, a line on which the distance between one building and the next in succession is in every case less than 60 feet.

A "group of 24 dwelling-houses" means any 24 dwelling-houses the buildings comprising which are so situated that there can be drawn, passing through all the buildings, a line on which the distance between one building and the next in succession is in every case less than 180 feet.

A "group of 96 dwelling-houses" means any 96 dwelling-houses the buildings comprising which are so situated that there can be drawn, passing through all the buildings, a line on which the distance between one building and the next in succession is in every case less than 540 feet.

- (4) For the purposes of this proviso all distances shall be measured horizontally to the nearest part of the building, other than the eaves or verge of the roof.
- (c) Every chimney of the building shall be carried up to a height of not less than 5 feet above the ridge of the roof in brickwork or other solid incombustible material, which, where the chimney passes through the material forming the roof, shall be not less than 9 inches thick and rendered externally.

5. Where the building is intended to form two or more dwellings, the dwellings shall be separated by solid partitions of incombustible material not less than 3 inches thick, carried up to the under side of the roof-covering and resting throughout their entire length on solid continuous walls which as regards construction and damp-proof course shall comply with the provisions of paragraph 3 of this Schedule :

Provided that where any such partition is over an open passage between two dwellings it may rest on a sufficient arch or bressummer of fire-resisting material.

DOCUMENTS MAINLY RELATING TO IMPROVEMENT (PART I) AND RECONSTRUCTION (PART II) SCHEMES FOR UNHEALTHY AREAS

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1910, No. 919

HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES, ENGLAND

UNHEALTHY HOUSES

The Housing (Inspection of District) Regulations, 1910, dated 2nd September 1910

55,578

To the several local authorities in England and Wales for the purposes of Part II of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 ;—

And to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas by subsection (1) of section 17 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, it is enacted that it shall be the duty of every local authority within the meaning of Part II of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 (hereinafter referred to as "the local authority") to cause to be made from time to time inspection of their district, with a view to ascertain whether any dwelling-house therein is in a state so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation, and that for that purpose it shall be the duty of the local authority, and of every officer of the local authority, to comply with such regulations and to keep such records as may be prescribed by the Local Government Board.

Now therefore, we, the Local Government Board, in pursuance of the powers given to us in that behalf, by this order, prescribe the following regulations ; that is to say—

ARTICLE I—(1.) The local authority shall as early as practicable after the date of this order take into consideration the provisions of subsection (1) of section 17 of the Act of 1909, and shall determine the procedure to be adopted under these regulations, to give effect to the requirements of that subsection in regard to the inspection of their district from time to time.

Inspection of District
Regulations.

(2.) The local authority shall as part of their procedure make provision for a thorough inspection to be carried out from time to time according to the varying needs or circumstances of the dwelling-houses or localities in the district of the local authority.

(3.) The local authority shall cause to be prepared from time to time by the medical officer of health, or by an officer designated by them but acting under his direction and supervision, a list or lists of dwelling-houses the early inspection of which is, in the opinion of the medical officer of health, desirable. The list or lists may, if thought fit, relate to the dwelling-houses within a defined area of the district without specifying each house separately therein.

ARTICLE II—The inspection under and for the purposes of subsection (1) of section 17 of the Act of 1909 shall be made by the medical officer of health, or by an officer designated by the local authority but acting under his direction and supervision, and the officer making inspection of any dwelling-house shall examine the state of the dwelling-house in relation to the following matters, namely :—

- (1) The arrangements for preventing the contamination of the water supply.
- (2) Closet accommodation.
- (3) Drainage.
- (4) The condition of the dwelling-house in regard to light, the free circulation of air, dampness, and cleanliness.
- (5) The paving, drainage, and sanitary condition of any yard or out-houses belonging to or occupied with the dwelling-house.
- (6) The arrangements for the deposit of refuse and ashes.
- (7) The existence of any room which would in pursuance of subsection (7) of section 17 of the Act of 1909 be a dwelling-house so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation.

- (8) Any defects in other matters which may tend to render the dwelling-house dangerous or injurious to the health of an inhabitant.

ARTICLE III—Records of the inspection of dwelling-houses made under and for the purposes of subsection (1) of section 17 of the Act of 1909 shall be prepared under the direction and supervision of the medical officer of health, and shall be kept by the officer of the local authority making the inspection or by some other officer appointed or employed for the purpose by the local authority.

The records may be kept in a book or books or on separate sheets or cards, and shall contain information, under appropriate headings, as to:—

- (1) The situation of the dwelling-house, and its name or number.
- (2) The name of the officer who made the inspection.
- (3) The date when the dwelling-house was inspected.
- (4) The date of the last previous inspection and a reference to the record thereof.
- (5) The state of the dwelling-house in regard to each of the matters referred to in Article II of these regulations.
- (6) Any action taken by the medical officer of health, or other officer of the local authority, either independently or on the directions of the local authority.
- (7) The result of any action so taken.
- (8) Any further action which should be taken in respect of the dwelling-house.

ARTICLE IV—The local authority shall, as far as may be necessary, take into consideration at each of their ordinary meetings the records kept in pursuance of Article III of these regulations, and shall give all such directions and take all such action within their powers as may be necessary or desirable in regard to any dwelling house to which the records relate, and a note of any directions so given and the result of any action taken shall be added to the records.

ARTICLE V—The medical officer of health shall include in his annual report information and particulars in tabular form in regard to the number of dwelling-houses inspected under and for the purposes of section 17 of the Act of 1909, the number of dwelling-houses which on inspection were considered to be in a state so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation, the number of representations made to the local authority with a view to the making of closing orders, the number of closing orders made, the number of dwelling-houses the defects in which were remedied without the making of closing orders, the number of dwelling-houses which after the making of closing orders were put into a fit state for human habitation, and the general character of the defects found to exist. He shall also include any other information and particulars which he may consider desirable in regard to the work of inspection under the said section.

ARTICLE VI—The medical officer of health and any other officer of the local authority shall observe and execute all lawful orders and directions of the local authority in regard to or incidental to the inspection of the district of the local authority under and for the purposes of section 17 of the Act of 1909, and the execution of these regulations.

ARTICLE VII—In these regulations “the Act of 1909” means the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909.

ARTICLE VIII—These regulations may be cited as the Housing (Inspection of District) Regulations, 1910.

Given under the seal of office of the Local Government Board, this Second day of September, in the year One thousand nine hundred and ten.

HOUSING ACTS

Forms prescribed, Part I scheme.

Forms of Advertisement and Notices : Improvement Scheme

To the several local authorities in England and Wales for the purposes of Part I of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, as amended by the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1903, and the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909 ;—

And to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas by section 27 of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act of 1890"), which section is included in Part I of the Act of 1890, it was enacted as follows.—

"The confirming authority may by order prescribe the forms of advertisements and notices under this Part of this Act ; it shall not be obligatory on any persons to adopt such forms, but the same, when adopted, shall be deemed sufficient for all the purposes of this Part of this Act."

And whereas, in pursuance of the said enactment, the Secretary of State and the Local Government Board, as the confirming authorities within the meaning of Part I of the Act of 1890, by the orders described in the First Schedule to this order (which orders are hereinafter referred to as "the Orders"), prescribed certain Forms of Advertisement and Notices under Part I of the Act of 1890 ;

And whereas by an order of the Privy Council issued in pursuance of section 2 of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1903, and dated the 27th day of February 1905, all the powers and duties of the Secretary of State under the Housing Acts were transferred to the Local Government Board ;

And whereas the said section 27 of the Act of 1890 was repealed by section 75 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act of 1909"), and by section 41 of the Act of 1909, which section is included in Part I of the Act of 1909, it is enacted as follows :—

"The Local Government Board may by order prescribe the form of any notice, advertisement, or other document to be used in connection with the powers and duties of a local authority or of the Board under the Housing Acts, and the forms so prescribed, or forms as near thereto as circumstances admit, shall be used in all cases to which those forms are applicable."

Forms prescribed, Part I scheme.

And whereas, by virtue of section 51 of the Act of 1909, in Part I of that Act the expression "Housing Acts" means the Act of 1890, and any Act amending that Act, including the Act of 1909;

And whereas it is expedient that, in pursuance of the said section 41 of the Act of 1909, forms should be prescribed which shall be used in substitution for the forms prescribed by the orders:

Now therefore, we, the Local Government Board, in pursuance of the powers given to us by the Statutes in that behalf, by this order do prescribe the several forms set forth in the Second Schedule to this order to be used in connection with the powers and duties of a local authority under Part I of the Act of 1890; and we hereby declare that the said forms shall be in substitution for the forms prescribed by the orders described in the First Schedule to this order.

FIRST SCHEDULE

Order of the Secretary of State dated the 5th day of November 1890, and addressed to the London County Council and to the Commissioners of Sewers of the City of London.

JOHN BURNS,
President.

Author's note on the above Order (Forms of Advertisement and Notices [55,916 ; 19th November, 1910], and on the forms appearing on pages 580 to 597.

It does not appear that the above Order has been revoked, but in the Manual on Unfit Houses and Unhealthy Areas, issued by the Ministry of Health, certain slightly different forms are suggested. On this point it will be noticed that Section 41 of the 1909 Act provides that the forms prescribed "or forms as near thereto as circumstances permit, shall be used."

The slight differences referred to mainly relate to the changed circumstances arising out of the legislation subsequent to the issue of the above Order, e.g. the heading of the suggested Form of Advertisement is now "Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919," and the words "the Minister of Health" now displace "the Local Government Board."

Therefore the modern forms (namely those suggested on pages 580 to 597), may be taken to be but an up-to-date edition of the forms prescribed in the above Order. They do not state (as do the prescribed forms) either that the lands proposed to be taken compulsorily are distinguished on the maps, or the contents of the area or areas. The scheme, however, must distinguish the lands proposed to be taken compulsorily, it must be accompanied by particulars—Section 6 of the 1890 Act—and in each case information is to be given in the notice, showing where a copy of the scheme can be seen.

In the prescribed Notice to Occupiers, there is no reference to the fact that notice is not given to tenants for a month or a less period than a month : the suggested form makes it clear that, following an alteration in Section 7 of the 1890 Act made by Section 39 of the 1919 Act, notice to such tenants is not now necessary.

It will be understood that the prescribed forms relate to a Part I (Improvement) Scheme. There do not appear to be any prescribed forms relating to a Part II (Reconstruction) Scheme, but forms suggested by the Ministry of Health for a Part II Scheme are given on pages 591 to 597. The Ministry has power to prescribe forms—Section 41 of the 1909 Act—and, with regard to the “Instructions” on page 589, it is provided in Section 8 (2) of the 1890 Act that the petition for confirmation of the scheme “shall be supported by such evidence as the Local Government Board . . . may from time to time require.”

In connection with the forms it will be useful to read the summary of the law given in Chapter III, page 34.

SCHEDULE

The area to which the above official representation relates is coloured red on the map annexed hereto and is bounded by a line commencing (set out the entire boundary line).

2—RESOLUTION OF LOCAL AUTHORITY DECIDING THAT IMPROVEMENT SCHEME SHOULD BE MADE, AND GIVING NECESSARY INSTRUCTIONS FOR ITS PREPARATION

(Section 4, 1890 Act.)

The official representation of the medical officer of health under the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919, was submitted.

RESOLVED—

1. That the council, having taken into consideration the official representation of the medical officer of health, dated 19 , and being satisfied of the truth thereof and of the sufficiency of their resources, declare that the area described in such representation is an unhealthy area, and that an improvement scheme ought to be made in respect of the area.¹

¹ If the local authority decide to exclude any part of the area or to include any neighbouring lands under section 6 (1) (a) of the Act of 1890, the resolution should be extended so as to indicate this.

2. That the clerk be instructed to prepare a draft scheme, in accordance with the provisions of Part I of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, as amended by subsequent Acts, and that the surveyor prepare the necessary plans, particulars and estimates.

3—MAPS, PARTICULARS, ESTIMATES, &c.

(Section 6, 1890 Act.)

Maps.

The following maps¹ should be prepared in connection with the scheme :—

Map No. 1 on the scale of $\frac{1}{500}$, or on a scale approximating to this, showing the lands included in the improvement scheme, the unhealthy area being coloured pink, and any “neighbouring lands” which have been included in the scheme in order to make it efficient being coloured blue.

The several properties should be numbered consecutively on this map. Each parcel of land, notwithstanding that several may belong to one owner, should be separately numbered, the outside boundaries of each parcel being defined by hard lines, and the buildings (if any) on each parcel being linked into it, so that it may be seen to what properties each number applies.

Map No. 2 on the scale of $\frac{1}{500}$, or on a scale approximating to this, showing the proposals for dealing with the cleared area, indicating any proposed new dwelling accommodation, street planning, open spaces or playgrounds or other intended developments. On this map any lands proposed to be used for re-housing should be coloured yellow and any lands proposed to be appropriated as open spaces green.

Map No. 3 on the scale of six inches to the mile, showing any site or sites where re-housing accommodation is to be provided which is not within the area comprised in the scheme, and the position of each site in relation to the area included in the scheme.

¹ The maps should be carefully checked. It is important that all buildings and boundaries should be correctly shown. All buildings should be hatched, and buildings other than dwelling houses and their appurtenances should have their character lettered upon them. A certificate by the competent official as to the correctness of the map must be given on the map itself.

(Note.—The Minister of Health will require two copies, mounted on linen, of each of the above maps. If in any case the lands included in the scheme as "the unhealthy area" do not comprise all the lands to which the official representation extended, a copy of the map prepared in connection with the official representation should be supplied to the Ministry.)

scheme.

Particulars of the Scheme

The scheme should be accompanied by a statement giving the following particulars :—

- (i) The acreage of the area comprised in the scheme ;
- (ii) The number of persons of the working classes who will be displaced by the scheme ;
- (iii) The number of persons for whom dwelling accommodation is to be provided ;
- (iv) Where the accommodation is to be provided ;
- (v) Any other necessary information or explanations.

Estimates

The estimates should distinguish the cost of the acquisition of the lands comprised in the scheme and the cost of the laying out and construction of new streets and the erection of new buildings, and should also specify the estimated value of any surplus lands and recoupments.

The Book of Reference

The book of reference should be in the following form and should be prepared on the ground at the same time as, and in conjunction with, the Map No. 1, each parcel of land being numbered to correspond with that map, and being described so as to show clearly what properties are covered by each number.

4—FORMS OF CLAUSES FOR IMPROVEMENT SCHEMES

(Section 6, 1890 Act.)

The purposes for which Part I or Part II schemes may be made are substantially the same, and it is suggested that the following clauses should be used as the basis for any scheme so far as they are applicable, and with any necessary adaptations or additions.

SHORT TITLE

This scheme may be cited as the Improvement Scheme 19.

INTERPRETATION

In this scheme the council means the

LIMITS OF SCHEME AND UNHEALTHY AREA

All the lands coloured pink on the map marked Map No. 1, annexed to this scheme, are included in the scheme as an unhealthy area.

Alternative Form for use when "Neighbouring Lands" are included to make the scheme efficient

LIMIT OF SCHEME

All the lands coloured pink and blue on the map marked Map No. 1, annexed to this scheme, are included in this scheme.

LIMITS OF UNHEALTHY AREA

The lands coloured pink on the said Map No. 1 are included in the scheme as an unhealthy area.

The lands coloured blue on the said map are not part of the unhealthy area, but are included in order to make the scheme efficient.

ACQUISITION OF LANDS

All the lands included in the scheme are intended to be acquired compulsorily in default of agreement.

CLEARANCE OF AREA

After obtaining possession of the lands included in the scheme the council shall cause all the buildings (or the following buildings or except the following buildings) within the limits of the scheme to be demolished and the sites to be cleared.

LAY-OUT OF THE CLEARED AREA

The council shall lay out the cleared area in the manner shown on Map No. 2 annexed to this scheme.

All the existing highways in the area may be closed, appropriated, widened, or diverted by the council so far as may be necessary for the purposes of the scheme.

RE-HOUSING UPON AREA

On the lands coloured yellow on Map No. 2 the council shall erect in accordance with plans to be approved by the Minister of Health, suitable dwellings for the accommodation of persons of the working classes.

OPEN SPACES

The lands coloured green on Map No. 2 shall be appropriated for the purposes of an open space.

DISPOSAL OF SURPLUS LANDS

Such of the lands in the scheme as shall not be required for the purpose of providing accommodation for persons of the working class or for the laying out of new streets or the improvement of streets or for the purposes of open spaces may, with the approval of the Minister of Health, be sold, leased, or otherwise disposed of as the council may think fit.

REGULATIONS OF LOCAL AUTHORITY IN REGARD TO UNDERGROUND ROOMS USED AS SLEEPING PLACES

Underground Rooms, Draft
Regulations.

(Draft Clauses suggested by the Local Government Board in Circular dated 17th April 1914)

REGULATIONS PRESCRIBED BY THE UNDER SECTION 17 (7) OF THE HOUSING, TOWN PLANNING, &c., ACT, 1909

Every room habitually used as a sleeping place the surface of the floor of which is more than three feet below the surface of the part of the street adjoining or nearest to the room shall comply with the following regulations, namely :—

1. The subsoil of the site of the room shall be effectually drained by means of a properly trapped and ventilated subsoil drain wherever the dampness of the site renders such a precaution necessary.

2. Every drain passing under the room, other than a drain for the drainage of the subsoil of the site of the room, shall be gas-tight and water-tight.

3. The room shall be effectually protected against the rising of any effluvium or exhalation by being properly asphalted, or by being covered with a layer of good cement concrete at least six inches thick, or four inches thick if properly grouted, laid upon the ground of the site of the entire room, or in some equally effectual manner.

4. The space if any beneath the floor of the room shall be provided with adequate means of ventilation.

5. (i) Every wall of the room shall be provided with an efficient horizontal damp-proof course, which shall be composed of materials impervious to moisture, and shall if the floor of the room be formed of woodwork be beneath the level of the lowest timbers or wordwork of such floor, and shall in every other case be not less than one inch below the level of the upper surface of such floor.

(ii) No part of any wall of the room shall, where it is practicable to avoid it, be in contact with the ground or earth.

Provided that where any wall of the room is in contrast with the ground or earth, such wall or such part thereof as is so in contact shall, unless constructed as a hollow wall, have an efficient vertical damp-proof course extending from the lowest horizontal damp-proof course therein to a height of at least six inches above the surface of the contiguous ground or earth.

6. Unless the room is provided with a fireplace and a flue properly constructed and properly connected with such fireplace, it shall be provided with special and adequate means of ventilation by one or more suitably placed apertures or air shafts.

7. An area or open space properly paved with impervious material and effectually drained by means of a properly trapped gulley, shall adjoin the room and shall extend either—

- (a) throughout the entire length of one side thereof ; or
- (b) at least throughout the entire width of any window or windows required by these regulations and (except where the area of such window or windows shall be not less than one-seventh of the floor area of the room) for three feet on each side of such window or windows.

Any such area shall be not less than two feet wide in every part thereof, and shall be open upwards from a level three inches below the level of the damp-proof course in the adjoining wall of the room.

Provided (a) that where a bay window in the room having side lights overlooks such an area the width thereof in front of such window may be one foot at the least ; and

(b) that any steps necessary for access to any part of the building comprising the room may be placed in or over such an area or open space if they are so placed as not to be over or across any window of the room required by the regulation in that behalf.

8. (i) The room shall be effectually lighted by means of one or more windows opening directly into the external air.

(ii) Every such window shall be so constructed that one-half at the least may be opened, and that the opening may extend to the top of the window.

(iii) The total area of such window or windows clear of the sash frames shall be equal at the least to one-eighth of the floor area of the room, and a portion of such total area equal in extent to at least one-tenth of such floor area shall be so situated that a line making an angle of thirty degrees with a horizontal plane can be drawn upwards from any point thereon in a vertical plane at right angles to the plane of the window, so as not to intersect within a distance of ten feet measured horizontally from the window any wall of any area adjoining the room, or any other wall or any kerb or other obstruction except an open fence.

For the purposes of this paragraph a bay window having side lights shall be assumed to be equivalent to a flat window of the same area and of the same height in relation to the room, and situated at a distance from the outside area wall equal to the mean width of the area.

(iv) In estimating the area of a window or windows for the purpose of this regulation no account shall be taken of any part of any such window which is above the mean level of the ceiling of the room.

(v) Any such window or windows shall overlook the area or open space provided in pursuance of the regulation in that behalf.

To the several local authorities in England and Wales for the purposes of Part I of the Housing, Town
Planning, &c., Act, 1909 ;—

And to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas by section 41 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, it is enacted as follows :—

The Local Government Board may by order prescribe the form of any notice, advertisement, or other document, to be used in connection with the powers and duties of a local authority or of the Board under the Housing Acts, and the forms so prescribed, or forms as near thereto as circumstances admit, shall be used in all cases to which those forms are applicable :

And whereas, by virtue of section 51 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, in Part I of that Act the expression "Housing Acts" means the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, and any Act amending that Act, including the Housing, Town Planning, &c.,
Act, 1909 :

Now therefore, we, the Local Government Board, by this order, do prescribe the several forms hereinafter set forth as the forms of certain notices and other documents to be used in connection with the powers and duties of a local authority under the Housing Acts.

Subsection (5) of that section is in these terms :—

If the notice given by the local authority is not complied with, and if the landlord has not given the notice mentioned in the immediately preceding subsection, the authority may, at the expiration of the time specified in the notice given by them to the landlord, do the work required to be done and recover the expenses incurred by them in so doing from the landlord as a civil debt in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts, or, if they think fit, the authority may by order declare any such expenses to be payable by annual instalments within a period not exceeding that of the interest of the landlord in the house, nor in any case five years, with interest at a rate not exceeding five pounds per cent. per annum, until the whole amount is paid, and any such instalments or interest or any part thereof may be recovered from the landlord as a civil debt in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

With respect to appeals, subsection (6) of the same section enacts as follows :—

A landlord may appeal to the Local Government Board against any notice requiring him to execute works under this section, and against any demand for the recovery of expenses from him under this section or order made with respect to those expenses under this section by the authority, by giving notice of appeal to the Board within twenty-one days after the notice is received, or the demand or order is made, as the case may be, and no proceedings shall be taken in respect of such notice requiring works, order, or demand, whilst the appeal is pending.

And section 39 contains the following provisions :—

(1.) The procedure on any appeal under this Part [i.e. Part I] of this Act, including costs, to the Local Government Board shall be such as the Board may by rules determine, and on any such appeal the Board may make such order in the matter as they think equitable, and any order so made shall be binding and conclusive on all parties, and, where the appeal is against any notice, order, or apportionment given or made by the local authority, the notice, order, or apportionment may be confirmed, varied, or quashed, as the Board think just.

Provided that—

(a) the Local Government Board may at any stage of the proceedings on appeal, and shall, if so directed by the High Court, state in the form of a special case for the opinion of the court any question of law arising in the course of the appeal; and

(b) the rules shall provide that the Local Government Board shall not dismiss any appeal without having first held a public local inquiry.

(2.) Any notice, order, or apportionment as respects which an appeal to the Local Government Board is given under this Part of this Act shall not become operative, until either the time within which an appeal can be made under this Part of this Act has elapsed without an appeal being made, or in case an appeal is made, the appeal is determined or abandoned, and no work shall be done or proceedings taken under any such notice, order, or apportionment, until it becomes operative.

(3.) The Local Government Board may, before considering any appeal which may be made to them under this Part of this Act, require the appellant to deposit such sum to cover the costs of the appeal as may be fixed by the rules made by them with reference to appeals.

(Keeping houses in repair.)

Note.—By subsection (5) of section 15 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, it is provided that any instalments or interest or any part of any instalment or interest under an order of the local authority declaring their expenses to be payable by annual instalments may be recovered from the landlord as a civil debt in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

With respect to appeals, subsection (6) of the same section enacts as follows:—

A landlord may appeal to the Local Government Board against any notice requiring him to execute works under this section, and against any demand for the recovery of expenses from him under this section or order made with respect to those expenses under this section by the authority, by giving notice of appeal to the Board within twenty-one days after the notice is received, or the demand or order is made, as the case may be, and no proceedings shall be taken in respect of such notice requiring works, order, or demand whilst the appeal is pending.

And section 39 contains the following provisions:—

(1.) The procedure on any appeal under this Part [i.e. Part I] of this Act, including costs, to the Local Government Board shall be such as the Board may by rules determine, and on any such appeal the Board may make such order in the matter as they think equitable, and any order so made shall be binding and conclusive on all parties, and, where the appeal is against any notice, order, or apportionment given or made by the local authority, the notice, order, or apportionment may be confirmed, varied or quashed, as the Board think just.

Provided that—

- (a) the Local Government Board may at any stage of the proceedings on appeal, and shall, if so directed by the High Court, state in the form of a special case for the opinion of the court any question of law arising in the course of the appeal; and
- (b) the rules shall provide that the Local Government Board shall not dismiss any appeal without having first held a public local inquiry.

(2.) Any notice, order, or apportionment as respects which an appeal to the Local Government Board is given under this Part of this Act shall not become operative, until either the time within which an appeal can be made under this Part of this Act has elapsed without an appeal being made, or, in case an appeal is made, the appeal is determined or abandoned, and no work shall be done or proceedings taken under any such notice, order, or apportionment, until it becomes operative.

(3.) The Local Government Board may, before considering any appeal which may be made to them under this Part of this Act, require the appellant to deposit such sum to cover the costs of the appeal as may be fixed by the rules made by them with reference to appeals.

*For Rules determining the procedure on any such appeal, see page 608.

THE HOUSING ACTS (APPEAL PROCEDURE)
RULES, 1919

MADE BY THE MINISTER OF HEALTH WITH REFERENCE TO PROCEDURE ON APPEALS UNDER SECTION 39 OF
THE HOUSING, TOWN PLANNING, &c., ACT, 1909

THE Minister of Health, under the powers conferred on him by section 39 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, and all other powers enabling him in that behalf, hereby revokes the rules with reference to appeals made by the Local Government Board on the 11th day of January 1910, and makes the following rules:—

ARTICLE I—These rules may be cited as “The Housing Acts (Appeal Procedure) Rules, 1919.”

ARTICLE II—(1) An appeal to the Minister of Health under Part I of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, shall be made by sending to the Minister a notice of appeal in the form prescribed by the Housing Acts (Form of Orders and Notices) Order, 1919, signed by the appellant or by his duly authorised agent, together with the original notice, order, or demand appealed against or a true copy thereof.

(2) The appellant shall notify the local authority forthwith of any appeal to the Minister of Health.

(3.) The appellant shall send to the Minister either with his notice of appeal, or within fourteen days thereafter, a concise statement in writing of the facts and contentions on which he relies.

(4) The appellant shall deposit with the Minister within fourteen days from the date of his notice of appeal the sum of ten pounds, provided that the Minister may, if he thinks fit, require the deposit of a less sum than ten pounds or may dispense with the deposit.

ARTICLE III—The Minister shall, as soon as may be after receipt of the statement aforesaid, send to the local authority a copy of the notice of appeal and of the said statement.

ARTICLE IV—The local authority shall, within ten days after the receipt by them of the said notification, inform the Minister whether and to what extent they admit the facts stated in the appellant's documents, and shall send to the Minister a concise statement of the facts and contentions on which they rely.

Rules.

ARTICLE V—(1) The Minister may at any stage of the proceedings allow the amendment of any notice, statement, or particulars on such terms as he may think fit.

(2) The Minister may at any time require the appellant or the local authority to furnish in writing such further particulars as he may think necessary.

ARTICLE VI—The Minister shall not dismiss any appeal without having first held a public local inquiry, unless the appellant has failed to prosecute his appeal with due diligence, in which event the Minister may determine the appeal summarily.

ARTICLE VII—The costs of any appeal, including the costs of any public local inquiry held in connection therewith, shall be in the discretion of the Minister, who may direct to and by whom and in what manner those costs or any part thereof shall be paid and may tax or settle the amount of costs to be so paid or any part thereof.

ARTICLE VIII—The Minister may, if he thinks fit, and subject to such conditions as he may impose, proceed with the consideration of any appeal notwithstanding any failure or omission by any person to comply with any of the requirements of these rules.

Given under the official seal of the Minister of Health, this Tenth day of October, in the year One thousand

HOUSING ACTS, 1890 TO 1919

To¹ , the owner of the house²

TAKE NOTICE:—

That it appears to the³ that the above-mentioned house is a house suitable for occupation by persons of the working classes, and that you have failed to make and keep it in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation;

And that, in pursuance of subsection (1) of section 28 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, the said⁴ do hereby require you within a period of * days, ending on the day of , 19 , to execute the following works as being necessary to make the said house in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation, namely⁵—

Dated this day of , 19 .
Signature of clerk of local authority.....

Note.—Under section 28 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, if the owner of any house suitable for occupation by persons of the working classes fails to make and keep such house in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation, the local authority may serve a notice on the owner requiring him within a reasonable time, not being less than twenty-one days, specified in the notice, to execute such works as may be necessary to make the house in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation. Provided that if the house is ~~Forms.~~ not capable without reconstruction of being rendered fit for human habitation, the owner may within twenty-one days after the receipt of the notice requiring the execution of such works, by written notice to the local authority declare his intention of closing the house for human habitation, and thereupon a closing order shall be deemed to have become operative in respect of such house. Any such declaration by the owner must be in the prescribed form.

Any question arising under this proviso is in case of difference between the owner and the local authority, to be determined by the Minister of Health.

If the notice of the local authority is not complied with, the local authority may—

- (a) At the expiration of the time specified in that notice, if no notice to close the house has been given by the owner ; and
- (b) At the expiration of twenty-one days from the determination by the Minister of Health if such notice has been given by the owner and the Minister of Health has determined that the house is capable without reconstruction of being made fit for human habitation ;

do the work required to be done.

Any expenses incurred by the local authority under this section may be recovered in a court of summary jurisdiction, together with interest at a rate not exceeding five pounds per centum per annum from the date of service of a demand for the same till payment thereof from the owner, and such expenses and interest are to be a charge on the premises until recovered. In all summary proceedings by the local authority for the recovery of any such expenses, the time within which such proceedings may be taken is to be reckoned from the date of the service of notice of demand.

The local authority may by order declare any such expenses to be payable by monthly or annual instalments within a period not exceeding thirty years with interest at a rate not exceeding five pounds per centum per annum from the date of the service of notice of demand until the whole amount is paid, and any such instalments and interest or any part thereof may be recovered in a summary manner from the owner or occupier, and if recovered from the occupier may be deducted by him from the rent of such premises.

Note.—The owner of the dwelling house can appeal to the Minister of Health against the closing order within fourteen days after notice thereof is served on him by giving notice of appeal in the form annexed. On such an appeal the substantial question to be considered is whether the house in its present state is so dangerous or injurious to health as to be unfit for human habitation. If the owner does not appeal against the closing order, the order becomes operative at the expiration of fourteen days after it was served, and it is then the duty of the local authority to serve notice on the occupier requiring him and his family to quit the house within a specified period not being less than fourteen days. It is open to the owner to take steps to render the house fit for habitation, and when he has done so, to apply to the local authority to determine the closing order. If the local authority refuse his application he may then, within fourteen days after such refusal, give notice of appeal against it to the Minister of Health.

The procedure on appeal is governed by rules made by the Minister of Health.

The Acts provide—

- (a) That the Minister of Health shall not dismiss any appeal without having first held a public local inquiry, unless the appellant fails to prosecute his appeal with due diligence;
 - (b) That the Minister of Health may, before considering any appeal, require the appellant to deposit such sum to cover the costs of the appeal, as may be fixed by the rules. The sum at present fixed is a sum not exceeding £10.

Any person who lets or attempts to let or occupies or permits to be occupied any house in respect of which a closing order is in force is liable to a fine of £20.

FORM No. 14FORM OF NOTICE OF ORDER FOR DEMOLITION OF A DWELLING-HOUSE

HOUSING ACTS, 1890 TO 1919

To¹ , owner of the dwelling-house²

TAKE NOTICE:—

That the¹ have in pursuance of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, made an order for the demolition of the above-mentioned dwelling-^{Form.} house.

A copy of the demolition order is annexed.

Dated this day of , 19 .

Signature of clerk of local authority.....

Note.—Section 18 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909, as amended by subsequent Acts is to the following effect:—

Where a closing order in respect of any dwelling-house has remained operative for a period of three months, the local authority are to take into consideration the question of the demolition of the dwelling-house, and are to give every owner of the dwelling-house notice of the time (being some time not less than one month after the service of the notice) and place at which the question will be considered, and any owner of the dwelling-house is to be entitled to be heard when the question is so taken into consideration.

If upon any such consideration the local authority are of opinion that the dwelling-house has not been rendered fit for human habitation, and that the necessary steps are not being taken with all due diligence to render it so fit, or that the continuance of any building, being or being part of the dwelling-house, is a nuisance or dangerous or injurious to the health of the public or of the inhabitants of the neighbouring dwelling-houses, they are to order the demolition of the building.

If any owner undertakes to execute forthwith the works necessary to render the dwelling-house fit for human habitation, and the local authority consider that it can be so rendered fit for human habitation, the local authority may, if they think fit, postpone the operation of the order for such time, not exceeding six months, as they think sufficient for the purpose of giving the owner an opportunity of executing the necessary works, and if and when the necessary works are completed to their satisfaction, the local authority shall determine the closing and demolition orders relating to the dwelling-house.

Notice of an order for the demolition of a building is to be forthwith served on every owner of the building in respect of which it is made, and any owner aggrieved by the order may appeal to the Minister of Health by giving notice of appeal to the Minister within twenty-one days after the notice is served upon him, or where the operation of the order has been postponed for any period within fourteen days after the expiration of that period.

Notice of any such appeal must be in the form annexed.

Procedure on Appeal

The procedure on any such appeal is governed by rules made by the Minister of Health.

The Acts provide:—

- (a) That the Minister of Health shall not dismiss any appeal without having first held a public local inquiry unless the appellant fails to prosecute his appeal with due diligence.
- (b) That the Minister of Health may before considering any appeal, require the appellant to deposit such sum to cover the costs of the appeal, as may be fixed by the rules. The sum at present fixed is a sum not exceeding £10.

A demolition order does not become operative until either the time within which an appeal can be made has elapsed, without an appeal being made, or in case an appeal is made, the appeal is determined or abandoned.

BY-LAWS

made by the¹
with respect to houses intended or used for occupation by the working classes and let in lodgings or occupied by members of more than one family in²

INTERPRETATION OF TERMS

1. In these by-laws, unless the context otherwise requires :—

“ Council ” means the¹

“ District ” means the²

“ Lodging-house ” means a house or part of a house intended or used for occupation by the working classes and let in lodgings or occupied by members of more than one family :

Lodgings' by-laws.

"Occupier" means the person by whom or on whose behalf a lodging-house is let in lodgings or for occupation by members of more than one family, or who for the time being receives, or is entitled to receive, whether on his own account or as agent or trustee for any other person, the profits arising from such letting:

"Lodger" means a person to whom any room or rooms in a lodging-house may have been let as a lodging or for his use and occupation:

"Owner" means the person for the time being receiving, whether on his own account or as agent or trustee for any other person, a rack-rent within the meaning of the Public Health Act, 1875, from an occupier, or who would so receive that rack-rent if the lodging-house were let to an occupier.

General

2. No proceedings shall be taken against any person for an offence against any of the by-laws numbered * 6, 10, 14, 15, 16, 19 and 20, unless and until a notice in writing has been served upon him by the council requiring him within a period specified in the notice to comply with the by-laws and he has failed to do so.

¹ "Mayor, aldermen, and burgesses of the borough of _____, acting by the council"; or "Urban [or rural] district council of _____," as the case may be.

² Insert name of borough or urban or rural district.

³ This word has been inserted as probably describing most precisely the person indicated. But where a local authority have in force by-laws using some other word, such as "tenant," in this place, there is no objection to their continuing to use it if to do so will make for administrative convenience.

⁴ Section 26 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, provides that the by-laws may impose the duty of executing any work upon the owner within the meaning of the Public Health Acts, or any other person having an interest in the premises, and that where a leasee carries out work under the by-laws and it is reasonable that the whole or any part of the expenses should be borne by the lessor, the county court may, on the application of the local authority, grant an order charging the expenses on the premises. The county court may also on the application of the local authority relax any provisions in a lease which are inconsistent with the requirements of the by-laws.

Local circumstances should be taken into consideration in determining on what person any particular obligation should be imposed by the by-laws.

⁵ The printed numbers, or such numbers as correspond to them, should be inserted.

3. A person shall not let for occupation by members of more than one family any lodging-house which does not comply with these by-laws.

Provided that in the case of a house so let or occupied at the date of the confirmation of these by-laws, any by-law which renders necessary the execution of any works shall not apply until the expiration of three months from the date of confirmation.

4. Nothing in the following by-laws shall be deemed to dispense with any requirements in by-laws or statutory provisions regulating the erection of new buildings or the alteration of existing buildings.

5. Any notices required or authorised by these by-laws to be given to any person may be served personally or by registered letter addressed to his usual or last known residence or place of business.

For fixing the number of persons who may occupy a house or part of a house which is let in lodgings or occupied by members of more than one family

6. A person shall not knowingly permit any room in a lodging-house wholly or partly used as a sleeping apartment to be occupied at any one time by a greater number of persons than will allow three hundred and sixty cubic feet of free air space for each person of an age exceeding ten years, and two hundred and fifty cubic feet of free air space for each person of an age not exceeding ten years.

For the registration and inspection of such houses

7. Where the council by a notice in writing signed by the require for the purposes of registration the particulars hereinafter specified the occupier shall within the period, if any, specified in the notice furnish such particulars, namely—

- (a) The total number of rooms in the house ;
- (b) The total number of rooms let in lodgings or occupied by members of more than one family ;
- (c) The dimensions and manner of use of each room ;
- (d) The number, age, and sex of the occupants of each room used for sleeping ;
- (e) The full name of the person to whom each room is let ;
- (f) The name and address of the owner of the house.

Lodgings' by-laws.

8. Every person residing in a lodging-house shall, at all reasonable times when required by the medical officer of health, the inspector of nuisances, or the surveyor of the council, afford such officer free access to the interior of the premises and to the interior of any room or rooms let to him.

9. A person shall not wilfully delay or obstruct any officer of the council who has lawfully entered any lodging-house for the purpose of inspecting the premises, or, without reasonable excuse, neglect or refuse to render him such assistance as he may reasonably require for the purpose of inspection.

For enforcing drainage and promoting cleanliness and ventilation of such houses

For securing the adequate lighting of every room in such houses

10. Every owner of a lodging-house shall at all times

- (a) Keep in good order and condition all drains and means of drainage, and every closet, sink and bath ;
- (b) Provide and maintain in connection with every tap from which water may be drawn efficient means for carrying off any waste water from the tap ;
- (c) Provide every habitable room of the house with a window or windows opening directly into the external air and having where practicable a total area, exclusive of the sash frames, equal at the least to one-tenth of the floor area of the room, and capable of being opened at the top and to at least one-third of the extent of the window ;
- (d) Provide every closet in the house with efficient means of ventilation directly into the external air, and with a window of an area of not less than two square feet exclusive of the sash frame, opening where practicable directly into the external air ;
- (e) Provide and maintain adequate means of ventilation for every room, passage or staircase.

11. Every occupier of a lodging-house shall

- (a) Keep thoroughly clean and wholesome every common staircase, landing and passage, and every cistern or other receptacle for the storage of water Lodging^{er} by-laws.

- (b) Keep thoroughly clean and wholesome all beds, bedclothes, and bedding furnished by him ;
- (c) After the termination of the letting of any room therein to any lodger and before the room is occupied by any other lodger, thoroughly cleanse the floor of the room and so far as may be necessary every part of the premises and the fittings or appliances which have been exclusively used by the first-mentioned lodger and will be exclusively used by the succeeding lodger.

12. Every lodger in a lodging-house shall

- (a) Every day before the hour of two o'clock in the afternoon remove all filth and refuse from every room which has been let to him and thoroughly cleanse every receptacle which has been used for filth or refuse ;
- (b) Keep thoroughly clean and wholesome every staircase, landing and passage to the exclusive use of which he is entitled ;
- (c) Keep thoroughly clean every window, fixture or fitting, and all paint, in every room let to him ;
- (d) Keep thoroughly clean and wholesome all beds, bedclothes and bedding belonging to and used by him or any member of his family ;
- (e) Keep open for at least one hour in the day every window of every room let to him and used as a sleeping apartment, unless reasonably prevented by the state of the weather or any other sufficient cause ;
- (f) Keep thoroughly clean and wholesome the floor of every room let to him.

13. A lodger in a lodging-house shall not keep or permit to be kept any animal in any room let to him or elsewhere upon the premises in such manner as to render the room or premises filthy or unwholesome.

For requiring provision adequate for the use of and readily accessible to each family of—

- (i) closet accommodation ;
- (ii) water supply and washing accommodation ;
- (iii) accommodation for the storage, preparation and cooking of food ;

Lodgings' by-laws.

and, where necessary, for securing separate accommodation as aforesaid for every part of such house which is occupied as a separate dwelling

14. Every owner of a lodging-house shall provide adequate for the use of and readily accessible to each family by whom any part of the house is occupied

- (a) Water-closet accommodation ;
- (b) A supply of water for domestic use ;
- (c) Accommodation for washing clothes ;
- (d) Accommodation for the storage of food in a reasonably cool position with proper ventilation from the external air wherever practicable and with protection from dust and flies ;
- (e) Accommodation for the preparation and cooking of food ; and, where necessary, separate accommodation as aforesaid for every part of the house which is occupied as a separate dwelling.

For the keeping in repair and adequate lighting of any common staircase in such houses

15. Every owner of a lodging-house shall

- (a) Keep every common staircase in the lodging-house in a state of good repair ;
- (b) Wherever practicable provide every common staircase with adequate means of lighting by natural light, including, in the case of a new building constructed for use as a lodging-house, a window or windows on the staircase at each storey opening directly into the external air ;
- (c) Provide and keep efficient adequate means for the artificial lighting of every common staircase.

For securing stability and the prevention of and safety from fires

16. Every owner of a lodging-house shall carry out such works as may from time to time be necessary for securing that the house shall be throughout of adequate stability.

17. A person erecting a new building intended to be used as a lodging-house shall construct of incombustible material every wall, the floor of every room above the ground floor, and, if the building comprises more than two storeys above the ground level, every landing and the floor of every corridor or passage.

Provided that any such floor or landing may be constructed of timber if all the spaces between the joists are filled in with good concrete, pugging, or other solid and incombustible material at least three inches thick, and the underside of the floor or landing is completely covered with a sufficient thickness of good plaster or other suitable incombustible material properly fixed.

18. Every occupier of a lodging-house shall cause every flight of stairs, passage and other means of escape in the house to be kept free from obstruction, and every door in connection with such means of escape to be so fitted that it can be readily opened.

For the cleansing and redecoration of the premises at stated times, and for the paving of the courts and courtyards

19. Every owner of a lodging-house shall

- (a) In the month of in each year thoroughly cleanse every part of the premises and renew all unclean or unwholesome paint and wall paper or other wall covering ;
 - (b) Pave every court and courtyard with impervious pavement sloped to a properly constructed channel leading to a trapped gully grating so arranged as effectively to carry off all rain or waste water ; and

(2nd September 1910.)

HOUSING, TOWN PLANNING, &c., ACT, 1909

Regulations under section 74 (the prescribed distance from Royal Palaces or Parks)

To the several local authorities in England and Wales for the purposes of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909 ;—

And to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas by section 74 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1909 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act") it is enacted as follows :—

" 74. (1.) Where any land proposed to be included in any scheme or order to be made under the Housing Acts or Part II of this Act, or any land proposed to be acquired under the Housing Acts or Part II of this Act, is situate within the prescribed distance from any of the royal palaces or parks, the local authority shall, before preparing the scheme or order or acquiring the land, communicate with the Commissioners of Works, and the Local Government Board shall, before confirming the scheme or order or authorising the acquisition of the land or the raising of any loan for the purpose, take into consideration any recommendations they may have received from the Commissioners of Works with reference to the proposal.

" (2.) For the purposes of this section 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made by the Local Government Board after consultation with the Commissioners of Works."

Now therefore, we, the Local Government Board, after consultation with the Commissioners of Works, do hereby make the following regulations under and for the purposes of the above-cited section 74, that is to say—

The prescribed distance for the purposes of subsection (1) of section 74 of the Act shall, in the case of Windsor Castle, Windsor Great Park, and Windsor Home Park, be two miles, and, in the case of any other Royal Palace or Park, be half a mile.

Given under the seal of office of the Local Government Board, this Second day of September, in the year One thousand nine hundred and ten.

Secretary.

LOCAL OR PRIVATE BILLS

EXTRACTS FROM STANDING ORDERS OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

Deposit of statement relating to working-class houses (see Sect. 3, 1903 Act, page 276).

38. “Where any Bill contains or revives or extends power to take compulsorily or by agreement any land in any local area as defined for the purposes of this Order and such taking involves, or may involve, the taking in that area of any house or houses occupied either wholly or partially by thirty or more persons of the working class, whether as tenants or lodgers, the promoters shall deposit in the Private Bill Office and at the office of the central authority on or before the 21st day of December, a statement giving the description and postal address of each of such houses, its number on the deposited plans, the parish in which it is situate, and the number (so far as can be ascertained) of persons of the working class residing in it, and also a copy of so much of the deposited plans (if any) as relates thereto.

“This Order shall not apply where a statement in pursuance of this Order was deposited in respect of the Act, the powers of which are proposed to be revived or extended.

"For the purposes of this Order the expression 'local area' means, (1) as respects London, the Administrative County of London; (2) as respects England and Wales (outside London) any borough, or other urban district, and any elsewhere than in a borough or other urban district, parish; and (3) as respects Ireland, any urban district.

"The expression 'house' means any house or part of a house occupied as a separate dwelling.

"The expression 'working class' means mechanics, artisans, labourers, and others working for wages, hawkers, costermongers, persons not working for wages but working at some trade or handicraft without employing others except members of their own family, and persons, other than domestic servants, whose income in any case does not exceed an average of thirty shillings a week, and the families of any of such persons who may be residing with them.

"The expression 'Central Authority' means, as regards England and Wales, the Local Government Board; and as regards Ireland, the Local Government Board for Ireland.

"The expression 'Bill' includes a Bill confirming a Provisional Order."

ACCOMMODATION FOR WORKMEN

184A. In the case of every Bill authorising the construction of works outside the county of London or any municipal borough the committee to which the Bill is referred shall take this order into their consideration, and if they are of opinion that such a number of workmen will probably be simultaneously employed upon the works as having regard to the nature and situation of the works to make such an inquiry desirable, they shall inquire into the question of the sufficiency of the accommodation and service available or proposed by the promoters to be provided under the Bill—

Provision o
accommoda tion for workmen o works.

- (1) for the proper housing and sanitary requirements of persons employed in constructing the works authorised by the Bill;
- (2) for the treatment of cases of sickness or accident, including accommodation for dealing with infectious disease;

and if they think that further accommodation or service for those purposes ought to be provided they shall insert in the Bill such clauses as in their opinion are necessary to secure the provision of satisfactory accommodation or service for those purposes by the local authority, company, or person authorised to execute the works.

APPENDIX VI
PUBLIC UTILITY SOCIETIES

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1919. No. 1428

HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES,
ENGLAND

The Public Utility Societies (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1919. Dated 6th October 1919.

65,242

- To the councils of the several administrative counties in England and Wales ;—
- To the mayor, aldermen, and commons of the city of London, in common council assembled ;—
- To the councils of the several metropolitan boroughs, municipal boroughs, and other urban districts in England and Wales ;—
- To the councils of the several rural districts in England and Wales ;—
- To all public utility societies registered under the Industrial and Provident Societies Acts, 1893 to 1913 ;—
- And to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas by subsection (1) of section 19 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, it is enacted that where a public utility society as defined by that Act has submitted to the Local Government Board a scheme for the provision of houses for the working classes and the scheme is approved by the Board, then, if the scheme is carried out within such period after the passing of that Act as may be specified by the Board with the consent of the Treasury, the Board may pay or undertake to pay out of moneys provided by Parliament such contributions towards the cost of carrying out the scheme as may be determined to be payable under regulations made by the Board, with the approval of the Treasury, subject to such conditions (including conditions as to audit of accounts by district auditors) as may be prescribed by those regulations;

Financial Assistance
Regulations.

And whereas by subsection (2) of the said section it is enacted that the regulations shall provide that the amount of any annual payment to be made under the section shall be equivalent to 30 per centum of the annual loan charges which would have been payable in accordance with the regulations on the total capital expenditure incurred by the public utility society for the purposes of the scheme if the amount of that expenditure has been borrowed from the Public Works Loan Commissioners;

And whereas by section 40 of that Act the expression "public utility society" is defined as follows:—

"The expression 'public utility society' means a society registered under the Industrial and Provident Societies Acts, 1893 to 1913, the rules whereof prohibit the payment of any interest or dividend at a rate exceeding 6 per cent per annum."

Now therefore, the Minister of Health, in pursuance of his powers under the recited enactments and under any other Statutes in that behalf, hereby makes the following regulations:—

ARTICLE I—In these regulations, unless the contrary intention appears:—

- (a) The expression "the Minister" means the Minister of Health;
- (b) The expression "the Act of 1919" means the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919;
- (c) The expression "public utility society" has the same meaning as in the Act of 1919;
- (d) The expression "local authority" means the local authority within the meaning of Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, for the district in which the houses are provided or to be provided by the public utility society.

ARTICLE II—Subject to the provisions of these regulations, and provided that these regulations are complied with:—

- (1.) An annual contribution out of moneys provided by Parliament (hereinafter referred to as "the Exchequer subsidy") may be made by the Minister towards the cost of carrying out a scheme submitted by a public utility society (hereinafter referred to as "the society") and approved by the Minister;

- (2.) The Exchequer subsidy shall be an amount ¹ the equivalent during the period ending on the 31st day of March 1927, of 50 per cent., and thereafter of 30 per cent. of the annual charges, in respect of interest and repayment of principal, on the capital raised by the society under the approved scheme:

Provided that in the case of the annual charges incurred by the society before the houses are completed, if the balance of those charges, after deducting the Exchequer subsidy, is defrayed, out of borrowed moneys, such moneys shall not for the purposes of this Article, be included as part of the capital raised by the society under the approved scheme:

Provided also that the Minister may reduce the amount of the Exchequer subsidy in any case in which he is satisfied that the capital expenditure incurred by the society has been excessive.

- (3.) The Exchequer subsidy shall be payable in two half-yearly instalments, or in such other manner as the Minister may think fit, during the periods allowed for the repayment of the loans raised from the Public Works Loan Commissioners for the purposes of the approved scheme, or, where no loans have been so raised, during the period of fifty years from the date on which the scheme was approved by the Minister, and shall be reduced by the Minister so far as may be necessary when the period allowed for the repayment of any one of the said loans has expired:

- (4.) For the purposes of this Article the annual charges on the capital raised by the society shall be deemed to be the annual charges which would have been payable, by way of equal annual instalments of principal with interest combined, on the like amount of capital if it had been borrowed from the Public Works Loan Commissioners on the terms granted for the time being to public utility societies whether the capital has in fact been borrowed from the Public Works Loan Commissioners or otherwise provided.

Financial Assistance
Regulations.

ARTICLE III—(1.) The Exchequer subsidy shall cease to be payable—

- (a) in any case in which the Minister is not satisfied that reasonable progress has been made with the carrying into effect of the scheme within twelve months from the passing of the Act of 1919, ¹ or such later date as the Minister may allow, regard being had to the supplies of labour and material available from time to time and all other local or general circumstances affecting the carrying into effect of the scheme ; and
- (b) in respect of any scheme or part of a scheme not carried into effect before the expiry of a period of three years from the passing of the Act of 1919, or such later date as the Minister may allow, regard being had to the supplies of labour and material available from time to time and all other local or general circumstances affecting the carrying into effect of the scheme.

(2.) For the purposes of these regulations a scheme or part of a scheme shall be deemed to have been carried into effect when all the houses to be provided thereunder are let or available for letting.

ARTICLE IV—(1.) The scheme as submitted for approval shall be accompanied by detailed plans, specifications, and estimates of the cost of the works, by a balance sheet showing the estimated annual income and expenditure under the scheme and by a copy of the rules or proposed rules of the society.

(2.) The carrying out of the works shall be subject to the supervision of the Minister, exercised either through his own officers or through the local authority.

ARTICLE V—For the purposes of Article II (2) of these regulations the sum to be included in the capital raised by the society under the approved scheme in respect of the professional charges paid or to be paid by the society, in connection with the building of the houses and the lay-out of the estate under the scheme, shall not exceed 5 per cent. of the gross capital expenditure approved by the Minister.

ARTICLE VI—The rents to be charged for houses included in the scheme shall be subject to the approval of the Minister, and shall not be altered without the consent of the Minister.

ARTICLE VII—The society shall not sell any land or houses included in the approved scheme, except with the consent of the Minister, and subject to regulations¹ to be made by the Minister, with the concurrence of the Public Works Loan Commissioners.

ARTICLE VIII—(1.) The society shall keep separate accounts relating to the approved scheme, and those accounts shall be made up and shall be audited by a district auditor in like manner, and subject to the same provisions, as the accounts of an urban district council, and for this purpose the enactments relating to the audit by district auditors of the last-named accounts and to all matters incidental thereto and consequential thereon, shall apply to the said accounts of the society.²

(2.) So far as may be necessary for the purpose of his duties under sub-division (1) of this Article the district auditor shall have access to all the books, deeds, documents and accounts of the society.

(3.) A balance sheet and summary of the accounts relating to the approved scheme for each financial year shall, during the ensuing financial year, be open to inspection by any person at the office of the society on payment of a fee of one shilling, and a copy of the balance sheet and summary shall be sent to the local authority at the conclusion of the financial year to which it relates.

ARTICLE IX—The society, in consideration of the payment of the Exchequer subsidy, shall give an undertaking, in a form approved by the Minister, that in the event of the dissolution of the society before the Exchequer subsidy has ceased to be payable, they will, if required by the Minister, after paying the outstanding charges (if any) in respect of the moneys borrowed by them, and after paying off all shares at par, devote the remainder of the proceeds of the sale of the property, or such part thereof as the Minister may determine, towards the repayment of the Exchequer subsidies.

Financial Assistance
Regulations.

ARTICLE X—(1.) The rules of the society and any amendment thereof shall be subject to the approval of the Minister.

(2.) The rules of the society shall, unless the Minister otherwise allows, be so framed as to give effect to the following provisions :—

(i) The objects of the society shall include the provision, improvement and management of houses for the working classes.

(ii) Every member of the society shall hold at least one share (of the value at the least of £1) in the society, and the board of management of the society shall not refuse to admit to membership of the society any person who has been for three months a tenant of the society.

(iii) Tenants [or if the society so determine tenant members] may elect annually from among themselves a tenants' [or tenant members'] committee, and such committee shall have such rights, powers and duties (in addition to those which are expressly conferred on or vested in them by the rules of the society), as the board of management of the society, with the concurrence of such committee, may determine. Each tenant [or tenant member] shall be entitled to one vote at the election of the members of the said committee.

(iv) The management of the business of the society shall be vested in a board of management, of whose members (as from the date of the first annual general meeting of the society after the approval of the scheme) at least one quarter shall be tenant members appointed by the tenants' [or tenant members'] committee.

(v) At all general meetings of the society each fully paid-up share against which there is no set-off in the books of the society shall carry one vote, and not less than five times that amount of loan stock held by a member shall carry one vote :

Provided that the possession of loan stock apart from membership shall not entitle its holder either to a vote or to attendance at meetings of the society :

Provided also that a limitation may be imposed on the number of votes which may be recorded at any meeting by any one member.

(vi) Each tenant shall have undisturbed occupancy of his house and garden so long as—

- (a) he fulfils the tenancy regulations made by the board of management ; and
- (b) he pays any rent or debts due from him to the society ; and
- (c) he and the occupants of his house avoid any conduct detrimental to good neighbourhood :

Provided that the tenant shall not be given notice to quit by the board of management on the ground of conduct detrimental to good neighbourhood except with the concurrence of the tenants' [or tenant members'] committee.

(vii) Any profits remaining to the society after providing for—

- (a) the annual charges, in respect of interest and repayment of principal, on the loans and loan stock raised by the society ;
- (b) the taxes, rates, rents, insurance premiums, or other charges payable by the society in respect of any land or houses belonging to them ;
- (c) the costs of administration and management and of repairs of property ;
- (d) such allocations to a reserve fund as may be determined by the board of management ;
- (e) any other necessary expenses incurred by the board of management ; and
- (f) a dividend not exceeding the rate authorised by the statutes in force, on the capital of the share society ; shall be applied in such manner as may be determined by the board of management, for the benefit of the tenants generally.

ARTICLE XI—These regulations may be cited as “The Public Utility Societies (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1919,” and shall, unless and until revoked or altered by the Minister, with the approval of the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, apply and have effect with respect to any scheme made by a public utility society and approved by the Minister in accordance with these regulations :

Provided that, in any case where a difficulty arises with regard to the application of these regulations, the Minister may, by order, make such minor modification of these regulations as may be necessary, in regard to any particular scheme, for the purpose of giving effect to the intention of these regulations.

MINISTRY OF HEALTH
HOUSING ACTS, 1890-1919
ASSISTED SCHEME (PUBLIC UTILITY SOCIETY)

STATEMENT OF ESTIMATED ANNUAL INCOME AND EXPENDITURE TO BE SUBMITTED BY A PUBLIC UTILITY SOCIETY IN RESPECT OF EACH SCHEME FOR WHICH FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE IS CLAIMED UNDER THE TERMS OF THE HOUSING, TOWN PLANNING, &C., ACT, 1919 (SEE ARTICLE IV OF THE ABOVE REGULATIONS).

INSTRUCTIONS

1. This form should be completed in duplicate and the two copies should be submitted to the Housing Commissioner dealing with the scheme in question at the same time as the provisionally accepted tender for the erection of the houses is submitted.
2. In completing the main statement the following rules should be observed :—
 - (a) The annual deduction in respect of unoccupied houses and uncollected rents should not exceed 5 per cent. of the gross estimated rent ;
 - (b) The annual deduction for cost of repairs and maintenance should not exceed 15 per cent. of the gross estimated rent ;
 - (c) The annual deduction for cost of supervision and management should not exceed 5 per cent. of the gross estimated rent.

Financial assistance.

The gross estimated rent, where rent is inclusive of rates and water charges, is the estimated inclusive rent, less rates and water charges.

3. The supplementary tables must be completed in all cases in which they are applicable.

4. Loan charges. Under this head should be entered the annual sums (including principal and interest without deduction of income tax) required to repay the estimated amount of the loans on the annuity system. In the case of money to be advanced by the Public Works Loan Commissioners, the period for repayment on which these loan charges should be calculated is fifty years, and the rate of interest should be taken at $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.¹ The loan charges for any sum can be obtained from the half-yearly charge for £100, which on the basis of fifty years and $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. is £3 1s. 1d.

5. Where a scheme is being proceeded with in sections, only the charges properly attributable to the section in question must be entered.

HOUSING, ENGLAND

The Public Utility Societies (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1920. Dated 30th January 1920

65,798

Whereas by section 4 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919,¹ the provisions of section 19 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919,² with respect to the amount of the annual payment to be made to a public utility society are varied, and it is expedient that certain consequential amendments should be made in the Public Utility Societies (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1919¹:

¹ See, however, page 536. ² 9-10 Geo. 5. c. 99. ³ 9-10 Geo. 5. c. 35.

Now therefore, the Minister of Health, in pursuance of the powers conferred on him by section 19 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, hereby makes the following regulations:—

1. These regulations may be cited as the Public Utility Societies (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1920, and shall be construed as one with the Public Utility Societies (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1919, hereinafter called the principal regulations.

2. (1.) Paragraph (2) of Article II of the principal regulations shall have effect as though for the words "the equivalent of 30 per cent. of the annual charges" there were substituted the words "the equivalent during the period ending on the 31st day of March 1927, of 50 per cent., and thereafter of 30 per cent. of the annual charges."

(2.) Sub-paragraph (a) of paragraph (1) of Article III of the principal regulations shall have effect as though after the words "within twelve months from the passing of the Act of 1919" there were added the words "or such later date as the Minister may allow, regard being had to the supplies of labour and material available from time to time and all other local or general circumstances affecting the carrying into effect of the scheme."

3. Where a house included in a scheme submitted to and approved by the Minister is sold by the society, the Minister may, at the request of the society, pay to any mortgagee a sum equal to the capitalised value as at the date of the sale of the Exchequer subsidy apportioned in respect of that house towards the discharge of the liability of the society to the mortgagee.

Given under the official seal of the Minister of Health, this Thirtieth day of January, in the year One thousand nine hundred and twenty.

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1920. No. 107

HOUSING, ENGLAND

Sale of houses.

The Public Utility Societies (Sale of Houses) Regulations, 1920, dated 28th January 1920, made by the Minister of Health under section 19 (1) of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919 (9 & 10 Geo. 5. c. 35)

65,704

Whereas by subsection (1) of section 19 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, it is enacted that where a public utility society as defined by that Act has submitted to the Local Government Board a scheme for the provision of houses for the working classes and the scheme is approved by the Board, then, if the scheme is carried out within such period after the passing of that Act as may be specified by the Board, with the consent of the Treasury, the Board may pay or undertake to pay out of moneys provided by Parliament such contributions towards the cost of carrying out the scheme as may be determined to be payable under regulations made by the Board, with the approval of the Treasury, subject to such conditions (including conditions as to audit of accounts by district auditors) as may be prescribed by those regulations :

And whereas by regulations made by the Minister of Health under that subsection and intituled the Public Utility Societies (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1919,¹ it is provided that a public utility society shall not sell any land or houses included in any approved scheme except with the consent of the said Minister and subject to regulations to be made by him with the concurrence of the Public Works Loan Commissioners :

Now therefore, the Minister of Health, in pursuance of

Sale of houses.

his powers under the recited enactments and of all other powers thereunto enabling him, with the concurrence of the Public Works Loan Commissioners, hereby makes the following regulations :—

1. These regulations may be cited as the Public Utility Societies (Sale of Houses) Regulations, 1920, and shall be read as one with the Public Utility Societies (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1919 (hereinafter called "the principal regulations").

2. In these regulations, unless the context otherwise requires :—

- (a) The expression "the Act of 1919" means the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919;
- (b) the expression "society" means a public utility society;
- (c) The expression "scheme" means a scheme for the provision of houses for the working classes prepared by a society and approved by the Minister under subsection (1) of section 19 of the Act of 1919;
- (d) The expression "house" means a house comprised in a scheme, and includes any yard, garden, outhouses and appurtenances belonging thereto;
- (e) The expression "Exchequer subsidy" means an annual contribution out of moneys provided by Parliament, made by the Minister, towards the cost of carrying out a scheme;
- (f) The expression "the Commissioners" means the Public Works Loan Commissioners;
- (g) The expression "local authority" means the local authority within the meaning of Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890,¹ for the district in which the houses are provided or to be provided by the society;
- (h) The expression "sale" includes the grant of a lease or, if the property is leasehold, of an underlease for a term of not less than ninety years where the yearly rent reserved by such lease or underlease does not exceed five shillings; and the expressions "sell" and "purchaser" have a corresponding meaning.

3. Before selling any house the society shall be satisfied that the proposed purchaser is the occupier or, if the house is unoccupied, the intending occupier of the house.

4. The conveyance or other instrument transferring the house to the purchaser shall contain covenants on the part of the purchaser in the terms set out in the First Schedule to these regulations with such modifications as may be required in the case of a lease or underlease and such other modifications, if any, as the Minister may approve.

5. The society shall not, without the consent of the Minister, and subject to such conditions, if any, as he may impose, grant any licence with regard to the user of any house which they may be empowered to grant by any of the covenants referred to in the last preceding article.

6. (i) Before selling or contracting to sell any house, the society shall prepare and submit for the approval of the Minister a schedule apportioning among the several houses included in the scheme the total approved cost of the scheme, such apportionment being based on—

- (a) the value of the interest of the society in the site of the house;
- (b) the amount expended by the society in the erection of the house; and
- (c) a fair proportion of the general expenditure of the society in connection with the scheme:

Provided that in calculating the expenditure under the foregoing heads no account shall be taken of any expenditure by the society towards which no Exchequer subsidy is being made, and any such expenditure shall be shown separately in the schedule.

(ii) The cost of a house so calculated and approved by the Minister, less any loan or part of a loan in respect of the said cost which has from time to time been repaid, is referred to in these regulations as the "approved value" and, in the case of a society which provides for the repayment of loans by the creation of a sinking fund, the sums standing to the credit of such sinking fund shall, for the purpose of ascertaining the approved value of a house, be treated as though they had been applied in or towards repayment of loans.

7. No house shall be sold at a price which is less than the percentage of the approved value of the house shown in the Second Schedule to these regulations.

8. So much of the purchase money as is equivalent to the minimum price at which the house may be sold, as shown by the said Second Schedule, shall, unless the Minister otherwise directs, be applied by the society as follows :—

Sale of houses.

- (a) First, to the repayment of so much of any outstanding loans borrowed from the Commissioners in respect of the house as will reduce the yearly payment to the Commissioners on account of principal and interest on the loan to an amount not exceeding an Exchequer subsidy equivalent, during the period before the 31st day of March 1927 to 50 per cent., and, thereafter, to 30 per cent. of the annual charges, as defined in Article II (4) of the principal regulations, on the capital raised by the society and approved by the Minister in respect of that house ; and
- (b) Secondly, to the repayment of loans borrowed for the purpose of the scheme otherwise than from the Commissioners, or to the repayment or extinction of any shares or loan stock issued for the purpose of the scheme.

9. Every sale made by a society under these regulations shall be made in accordance with rules to be made by the society and approved by the Minister.

10. Nothing in these regulations shall extend to the sale of a house by the Commissioners in the exercise of a power of sale as mortgagees of the property, or to the sale of a house by the society to any local authority.

FIRST SCHEDULE

FORM OF COVENANTS TO BE INSERTED IN CONVEYANCE

1. The Purchaser hereby for himself and his assigns covenants with the society and their assigns, the owner or owners for the time being of any land comprised in the scheme under section 19 (1) of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, of which the premises hereby conveyed form part—

- (a) that except with the licence in writing of the society, or, if the society has dissolved, of the local authority, the premises hereby conveyed shall not at any time hereafter be used for any other purpose than that of a private dwelling-house ; and

- (b) that the said premises shall not be used for any purpose which shall be or become in any way a nuisance or annoyance to the society or their assigns or their tenants, or to the owners or tenants of any adjoining property.

2. The purchaser hereby covenants with the society—

- (a) that upon his ceasing for a period of more than four calendar months to reside in the premises hereby conveyed, or upon his death, the society shall have the option (to be exercised within three calendar months after notice of that event has been given to them) of re-purchasing the premises for a sum equal to the purchase price paid under these presents, less such amount as may be agreed between the parties hereto as representing depreciation, or, in default of agreement, as may be determined in the manner hereinafter mentioned, and that for this purpose the purchaser, or his personal representative, as the case may be, shall as soon as may be, give notice to the society of that event ; and

- (b) that if at any time he desires to sell or otherwise dispose of the premises hereby conveyed, he will give notice thereof to the society and the society shall have, within three calendar months from the date of such notice, an option to re-purchase the premises upon the terms mentioned in paragraph (a).

3. Any question arising under the last clause as to the amount to be allowed for depreciation shall be determined by a valuer to be nominated jointly by the parties, or, if they fail to agree, by the Minister of Health, and the cost of the valuation shall be borne by the society, unless the amount allowed by the valuer for depreciation is less by more than 10 per cent. of the amount claimed in that respect by the purchaser, in which case the cost of the valuation shall be borne by the purchaser.

4. The purchaser further covenants with the society that if at any time he desires to mortgage or charge the premises hereby conveyed or any part thereof, the instrument creating such mortgage or charge shall contain such houses.

covenants on the part of the mortgagee as will secure to the satisfaction of the society that upon any exercise by the mortgagee of his right of sale or foreclosure the society shall have a right of pre-emption in the same manner and upon the same terms as are specified in the last two preceding clauses, and that for this purpose the purchaser will submit for the approval of the society a draft of the said instrument.

5. The expression "local authority" means the local authority within the meaning of Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, for the area in which the premises hereby conveyed are situated.

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1919. No. 1429 Financial assistance.

HOUSING OF THE WORKING CLASSES,
ENGLAND

The Housing Trusts (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1919. Dated 6th October 1919

65,243

- To the councils of the several administrative counties in England and Wales ;—
To the mayor, aldermen, and commons of the city of London, in common council assembled ;—
To the councils of the several metropolitan boroughs, municipal boroughs, and other urban districts in England and Wales ;—
To the councils of the several rural districts in England and Wales ;—
To the trustees of all housing trusts as herein defined ;—
And to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas by subsection (1) of section 19 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, it is enacted that where a housing trust as defined by that Act has submitted to the Local Government Board a scheme for the provision of houses for the working classes and the scheme is approved by the Board, then, if the scheme is carried out within such period after the passing of that Act as may be specified by the Board, with the consent of the Treasury, the Board may pay or undertake to pay out of moneys provided by Parliament such contributions towards the cost of carrying out the scheme as may be determined to be payable under regulations made by the Board, with the approval of the Treasury, subject to such conditions (including conditions as to audit of accounts by district auditors) as may be prescribed by those regulations ;

And whereas by subsection (2) of the said section it is enacted that the regulations shall provide that the amount of any annual payment to be made under the section shall be equivalent to 30 per centum of the annual loan charges which would have been payable in accordance with the regulations on the total capital expenditure incurred by the housing trust for the purposes of the scheme if the amount of that expenditure had been borrowed from the Public Works Loan Commissioners;

And whereas by section 40 of that Act the expression "housing trust" is defined as follows:—

"The expression 'housing trust' means a corporation or body of persons which, by the terms of its constituent instrument, is required to devote the whole of its funds, including any surplus which may arise from its operations, to the provision of houses for persons the majority of whom are in fact members of the working classes, and to other purposes incidental thereto":

Now therefore, the Minister of Health, in pursuance of his powers under the recited enactments and under any other statutes in that behalf, hereby makes the following regulations:—

ARTICLE I—In these regulations, unless the contrary intention appears:—

- (a) The expression "the Minister" means the Minister of Health;
- (b) The expression "the Act of 1919" means the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919;
- (c) The expressions "housing trust" and "public utility society" have the same meaning as in the Act of 1919;
- (d) The expression "local authority" means the local authority within the meaning of Part III of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, for the district in which the houses are built or to be built by the housing trusts.

ARTICLE II—Subject to the provisions of these regulations and provided that these regulations are complied with:—

- (1.) An annual contribution out of moneys provided by Parliament (hereinafter referred to as "the Exchequer subsidy") may be made by the Minister towards the cost of carrying out a scheme submitted by a housing trust and approved by the Minister, and the amount of the Exchequer subsidy shall be calculated as hereinafter provided.
- (2.) The amount of the Exchequer subsidy shall be the equivalent of 30 per centum of the annual charges which would have been payable, in respect of interest and repayment of principal, on the capital expended by the trustees for the purposes of the approved scheme if that capital had been raised by way of a loan advanced by the Public Works Loan Commissioners, on the same terms as those granted for the time being to a public utility society for the like purposes:

Financial assistance.

Provided that the Minister may reduce the amount of the Exchequer subsidy in any case in which he is satisfied that the capital expenditure incurred by the trustees has been excessive.

- (3.) The Exchequer subsidy shall be payable in two half-yearly instalments or in such other manner as the Minister may think fit during the period of fifty years from the date on which the scheme is approved by the Minister, and for the purposes of sub-division (2) of this Article that date shall be the date from which the annual charges therein referred to shall be deemed to become payable.

ARTICLE III—(1.) The Exchequer subsidy shall cease to be payable—

- (a) in any case in which the Minister is not satisfied that reasonable progress has been made with the carrying into effect of the scheme within twelve months from the passing of the Act of 1919; and
- (b) in respect of any scheme or part of a scheme not carried into effect before the expiry of a period of three years from the passing of the Act of 1919, or such later date as the Minister may allow, regard being had to the supplies of labour and material available from time to time and all other local or general circumstances affecting the carrying into effect of the scheme.

(2.) For the purposes of these regulations a scheme or part of a scheme shall be deemed to have been carried into effect when all the houses to be provided thereunder are let or available for letting.

ARTICLE IV—(1.) The scheme, as submitted for approval, shall be accompanied by detailed plans, specifications, and estimates of the cost of the works.

Financial assistance.

(2.) The carrying out of the works shall be subject to the supervision of the Minister, exercised either through his own officers or through the local authority.

ARTICLE V—The capital expenditure in respect of which the annual charges referred to in Article II (2) of these regulations shall be deemed to be payable shall not include any sum in respect of the professional charges to be paid by the trustees in excess of 5 per centum of the gross capital expenditure approved by the Ministry.

ARTICLE VI—The rents to be charged for houses included in the scheme shall be subject to the approval of the Minister, and shall not be altered without the consent of the Minister.

ARTICLE VII—The trustees shall not sell any land or houses included in the scheme, except with the consent of, and subject to conditions laid down by, the Minister.

ARTICLE VIII—(1.) The trustees shall keep separate accounts relating to the approved scheme, and those accounts shall be made up and shall be audited by a district auditor¹ in like manner, and subject to the same provisions, as the accounts of an urban district council, and for this purpose the enactments relating to the audit by district auditors of the last-named accounts and to all matters incidental thereto and consequential thereon, shall apply to the said accounts of the trustees.

(2.) So far as may be necessary for the purpose of his duties under sub-division (1) of this Article the district auditor shall have access to all the books, deeds, documents and accounts of the trustees.

ARTICLE IX—These regulations may be cited as “The Housing Trusts (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1919,” and shall, unless and until revoked or altered by the Minister, with the approval of the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty’s Treasury, apply and have effect with respect to any scheme made by a housing trust and approved by the Minister in accordance with these regulations :

Provided that, in any case where a difficulty arises, with regard to the application of these regulations, the Minister may, by order, make such minor modification of these regulations as may be necessary, in

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1920, No. 683

HOUSING, ENGLAND

The Housing Accounts Order (Societies and Trusts), 1920, dated 4th May 1920, made by the Minister of Health, under section 5 of the District Auditors Act, 1879 (42 & 43 Vict. c. 6).

66,089.

To all Public Utility Societies registered under the Industrial and Provident Societies Acts, 1893 to 1913 ;—

To the Trustees of all Housing Trusts as defined in the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919¹ ;—

And to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas by the Public Utility Societies (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1919 and 1920,² and the Housing Trusts (Financial Assistance) Regulations, 1919 and 1920,³ the Minister of Health, with the approval of the Treasury, made Regulations in pursuance of subsection 1 of section 19 of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, with regard to the contributions to be made by the Minister out of moneys provided by Parliament, to public utility societies and housing trusts towards the cost of carrying out any approved scheme for the provision of houses for the working classes ;

And whereas by Article VIII of each of the said Regulations it is provided that the societies and the trustees shall keep separate accounts relating to the approved scheme, and it is further provided that the accounts shall be audited by a district auditor in the manner and subject to the provisions therein mentioned.

Now therefore, the Minister of Health, in pursuance of his powers under section 5 of the District Auditors Act, 1879, and all other enactments in that behalf, hereby Orders and Prescribes, subject to any departure to which he may from time to time assent, as follows :—

ARTICLE I—This Order may be cited as “The Housing Accounts Order (Societies and Trusts), 1920.”

¹ 9-10 G. 5. c. 35.

³ S.R. & O., 1919, No. 1429 and S.R. & O., 1920, No. 135.

ARTICLE II—In this Order, the expressions “society” and “trust” have the same meaning as the expressions “public utility society” and “housing trust” in the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919.

ARTICLE III—(1) The officer charged with the duty of keeping the accounts of the society or trust (hereinafter referred to as the “accounting officer”) shall duly make up and balance a separate set of double-entry ledger accounts for the approved housing scheme of the society or trust comprising,—

- (a) Personal accounts of the creditors, debtors, and cash officers.
- (b) Revenue and net revenue accounts.
- (c) Capital account or accounts.

(2) There shall be entered in the ledger a Housing (Approved Scheme) Balance Sheet in the form prescribed in the First Schedule to this Order.

ARTICLE IV—Such primary books, as are necessary for keeping account with the several tenants and otherwise for the purposes of recording the transactions which have to be entered in the several ledger accounts, shall be kept by the officer or officers to whom the duties in connection therewith are allotted by the society or trust.

Each officer or other person who receives money or material pertaining to the approved housing scheme shall promptly enter up and duly balance a debit and credit account of his transactions.

ARTICLE V—(1) The accounts of the approved scheme of the society or trust shall be made up and balanced to the 31st March in each year and submitted to the society or to the trust as soon as may be after that date.

(2) It shall be the duty of the accounting officer to submit these accounts to the district auditor at the time and place appointed by him for the audit.

(3) The officers or others who have personal accounts to render under this Order shall submit such accounts balanced to the 31st March in each case at the time and place appointed for the audit.

ARTICLE VI—The accounting officer shall prepare and submit to the district auditor at every audit a financial statement in duplicate in the form prescribed in the Second Schedule to this Order, and shall affix to one of the said statements an Audit Stamp of the value prescribed in the First Schedule to the District Auditors Act, 1879.

MODEL RULES FOR PUBLIC UTILITY SOCIETIES

ACCEPTED BY THE MINISTRY AS AFFORDING SUFFICIENT COMPLIANCE WITH THE SPECIFIC POINTS DEALT WITH IN THE ARTICLE X OF THE PUBLIC UTILITY SOCIETIES (FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE) REGULATIONS, 1919

1. Membership. The members of the society shall be those persons whose names are appended to these rules, and any other persons whom the board of management may admit. Every member shall hold at least one share in the society. The board of management shall not refuse to admit to membership of the society any person who has been a tenant of the society for not less than three months.

2. Management of Business of Society. The management of the business of the society shall be vested in the board of management for the time being, who may either directly or by delegation exercise all such powers as may be exercised by the society, except those expressly required by these rules or by statute to be exercised by the society in general meeting.

3. Appointment of Board of Management. The board of management, from the date of registration of the society to the first annual general meeting of the society, shall consist of those persons whose names are appended to these rules, with power to add to their number. In all subsequent periods the board shall consist of not less than five or more than twelve members. Two of such members, or, if the total number of members exceeds eight, three of such members shall be tenant members appointed by the tenant members' committee. The remaining members shall be elected at the annual general meeting of the society.¹

4. Tenant Members' Committee. Tenant members shall elect annually from among themselves a tenant members'

¹ The rules may, if desired, provide for the representation of local authorities on the board of management.

committee¹ consisting of members and each tenant member shall be entitled to one vote for the election of such committee. The committee, in addition to the rights, powers and duties which are conferred on or vested in them by these rules, shall have such rights, powers and duties as may be delegated to them, with their concurrence, by the board of management.

5. Votes of Members. At all general meetings of the society each fully paid-up share against which there is no set-off in the books of the society shall carry one vote, and five times that amount of loan stock held by a member or tenant member shall carry one vote, but the possession of loan stock apart from membership shall not entitle its holder either to a vote or to attendance at meetings. Votes may be given personally or by proxy.²

6. Security of Tenure. Each tenant shall have undisturbed occupancy of his house and garden so long as—

- (a) He fulfils the tenancy regulations made by the board of management;
- (b) He pays any rent or debts due from him to the Society; and
- (c) He and the occupants of his house avoid any conduct detrimental to good neighbourhood:

Provided that a tenant shall not be given notice to quit by the board of management on the ground of conduct detrimental to good neighbourhood except with the concurrence of the tenant members' committee.

7. Application of Profits. Any profits remaining to the society after providing for—

- (a) The annual charges in respect of interest and repayments of principal, on the loans and loan stock raised by the society;
- (b) The taxes, rates, rents, insurance premiums, or other charges payable by the society in respect of any land or houses belonging to them;
- (c) The costs of administration and management and of repairs of property;
- (d) Such allocations to a reserve fund as may be determined by the board of management;

¹ The committee may, if desired, be a tenants' committee, appointed by all the tenants of the society. But in that case the rules must provide that the members of the board of management appointed by the committee must be tenant members of the society. See rule 4.

² The regulations admit of further limitation being imposed on the number of votes which may be recorded by any one member.

- (e) Any other necessary expenses incurred by the board of management ; and
- (f) A dividend not exceeding the rate authorised by rule ¹, on the share capital of the society ; shall be applied, in such manner as the board of management may determine, for the benefit of the tenants generally.

8. Regulations by the Minister of Health. In order that financial assistance may be obtained from the Exchequer under the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, towards the loan charges in respect of any houses provided by the society under a scheme approved by the Minister of Health under that Act, the regulations made by the Minister [which are set out in the appendix to these rules]² shall in all respects be complied with, and these rules, so far as they apply to any subject-matter of those regulations, shall have effect subject to those regulations.

² The words in square brackets may be omitted.

APPENDIX VII
ADDITIONAL POWERS ACT DOCUMENTS
STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1920, No. 56
HOUSING, ENGLAND

The Housing (Regulation of Building) Order, 1920, dated 22nd January 1920, made by the Minister of Health under section 5 (1) of Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919 (9 & 10 Geo. 5. c. 99).

65,788.

The Minister of Health, under the powers conferred on him by section 5 (1) of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919,¹ and all other powers enabling him in that behalf, hereby makes the following order :—

1. This order may be cited as the Housing (Regulation of Building) Order, 1920.

2. (1) In this order unless the context otherwise requires :—

“The Act” means the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919 ;

“The Minister” means the Minister of Health ;

“Building Owner” means the person for whom or on whose behalf any works or buildings are being or are proposed to be constructed² ;

“Builder” means the person who is directly employed by the building owner to construct any works or buildings, or, where no person is so employed, means the building owner ;

“Order” means an order made by a local authority under subsection (1) of section 5 of the Act.

¹ The operation of section 5 of the Act is limited by section 15 to two years from the 23rd December 1919.

² By section 5 (6) of the Act the expression “construction of any works or buildings” is defined as including the making of alterations or additions to existing works or buildings.

(2) The Interpretation Act, 1889,¹ shall apply to the interpretation of this order as it applies to the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

3. (1) Before making an order in respect of any works or buildings the local authority shall give to the building owner and builder of those works or buildings not less than seven days' notice of their intention to make such order, and shall take into consideration any representations or objections in writing which may be made by the building owner or builder or by any other person who satisfies the local authority that he is a person who would be aggrieved by the proposed order, if made.

(2) The local authority may, in any case in which they think fit, afford to any person who is entitled to make and has made such representations or objections as aforesaid an opportunity of appearing before and being heard by the local authority or by any committee appointed or authorised for that purpose by the local authority.

4. (1) Any order made by the local authority after considering any representations or objections so made shall come into force on the date specified in the order, not being later than twenty-one days after the date thereof.

(2) The order may contain provisions authorising any work which may be specified therein for the purpose of the preservation or protection of the works or buildings under construction, and may exempt from the operation of the order any part of the works or buildings if the local authority is satisfied that the employment of labour or materials on that part of the works or buildings will not interfere with the provision of dwelling accommodation for the area of the local authority.

5. An order shall remain in force for such period not exceeding six months as may be specified therein :

Provided that it shall be lawful for the local authority, if they think fit, at any time to vary or rescind the order or from time to time to extend the order for a further period not exceeding six months ; but in the case of any proposed variation (except by way of relaxing the terms of the order) or of any proposed extension of the order the provisions of article 3 of this order shall apply in all respects as they apply to the making of the original order.

6. A duly certified copy of any order made by a local authority or of any order varying, rescinding, or extending an existing order shall forthwith be served upon the building owner and builder and upon the persons, if any, who have made representations or objections with regard thereto.

7. (1) Any notice, order, or other document which in pursuance of the provisions of this order is required to be given or served by the local authority to or upon any building owner or builder or other person may be served :—

(a) by sending the same by post as a registered letter to, or leaving it at, the usual or last known address or place of business of the person required to be served or by delivery of the same personally to him ; or

(b) in the case of the building owner or the builder, if his name or address is not known to the local authority, by addressing the same to the building owner or the builder, as the case may be, and delivering it to the person in charge of the works or buildings under construction or affixing it in some conspicuous manner to the site of the works or buildings or proposed works or buildings.

(2) In the case of a company or other corporate body delivery of any notice, order, or other document to their clerk or secretary or other person employed at their office shall be deemed to be delivery thereof personally to the person required to be served.

8. The forms set out in the schedule to this order or forms substantially to the like effect shall be used by the local authority for the purpose of this order.

9. The Minister may upon the application of a local authority dispense with the service of any notices required by this order or with any other requirement of this order if he is satisfied that there is reasonable cause for such dispensation, and any such dispensation may be given either before or after the time at which the notice is required to be served or other act or thing required to be done.

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1920, No. 57
HOUSING, ENGLAND

The Regulation of Building (Appeal Procedure) Rules, 1920, dated 22nd January 1920, made by the Minister of Health under section 5 (2) of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919 (9 & 10 Geo. 5. c. 99).

65,789.

The Minister of Health, under the powers conferred on him by section 5 (2) of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, and all other powers enabling him in that behalf, hereby makes the following rules :—

1. These rules may be cited as the Regulation of Building (Appeal Procedure) Rules, 1920.
2. (1) In these rules, unless the context otherwise requires—

“The Act” means the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919 ;

“The Minister” means the Minister of Health ;

“Order” means an order made by a local authority under section 5 (1) of the Act ;

“Appeal tribunal” means the standing tribunal of appeal to be appointed by the Minister under Section 5 (2) of the Act ;

“Clerk to the appeal tribunal” means such person as the Minister may from time to time appoint to act as clerk to the appeal tribunal ;

“Building owner” and “builder” have the same meaning as in the Housing (Regulation of Building) Order, 1920.¹

(2) The Interpretation Act, 1889,² shall apply to the interpretation of these rules as it applies to the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

3. (1) An appeal to the Minister from an order made by a local authority by any person aggrieved thereby shall be made by sending to the clerk to the appeal tribunal a notice of appeal signed by the appellant or by his duly authorised agent.

(2) Such notice of appeal must be sent in the case of a building owner or builder or other person who has been served by the local authority with a certified copy of the order within seven days after the date on which the said copy is served on him, or in the case of any other person aggrieved by the order within fourteen days after the date of the order.

Appeal
Procedure
Rules.

(3) In the case of a building owner or builder or other person who has been served with a certified copy of the order, such certified copy or a copy thereof shall be sent with the notice of appeal.

4. The clerk to the appeal tribunal shall, as soon as may be after receipt of the notice aforesaid, send to the local authority a copy of the notice of appeal.

5. The local authority shall, within seven days after the receipt by them of the said notification, send a notice to the clerk to the appeal tribunal and to the appellant stating whether and to what extent they admit the facts stated in the appellant's notice of appeal and including a concise statement of the grounds on which the order is based.

6. The appeal tribunal may at any stage of the proceedings allow the amendment of any notice, statement, or particulars on such terms as they think fit, and may require the appellant or the local authority within a specified time to furnish in writing such further particulars as they think necessary.

7. (1) If, after considering the notice of appeal and the statement of the local authority in reply and any further particulars which may have been furnished by either party, the appeal tribunal are of opinion that the case is of such a nature that it can properly be determined without a hearing, they may dispense with a hearing, and may determine the appeal summarily.

(2) Subject as aforesaid, the appeal tribunal shall fix a date for the hearing of the appeal, and shall give not less than seven days' notice to the appellant and the local authority of the time and place of the hearing.

8. Before the consideration of an appeal made by any person other than the building owner or builder or other person who has been served by the local authority with a certified copy of the order against which the appeal is made, the appeal tribunal shall decide whether the appellant is a person aggrieved by the order, and their decision shall be final and conclusive.

9. The procedure of the appeal tribunal at the hearing of an appeal shall be such as they may from time to time determine.

10. The appeal tribunal may, if they think fit, and subject to such conditions as they may impose, proceed with the consideration of any appeal, notwithstanding any failure or omission by any person to comply with the requirements of these rules.

11. The decision of the appeal tribunal shall be in writing signed by the chairman and clerk, and a copy of the decision shall forthwith be sent to the appellant and to the local authority.

12. The forms set out in the schedule to these rules or forms substantially to the like effect shall be used for the purpose of these rules.

13. (1) Any notice or other document required or authorised by these rules to be sent to the clerk to the appeal tribunal shall be sufficiently sent if sent by post in a registered letter addressed to the Clerk of the Appeal Tribunal, Ministry of Health, Whitehall, London, S.W.1.

(2) Any notice or other document required or authorised by these rules to be sent by the clerk to the appeal tribunal or by the local authority to any appellant shall be sufficiently sent if sent by post to the address stated in the notice of appeal.

(3) Unless the contrary is proved any notice or document sent as aforesaid shall be deemed to be served at the time at which a letter would be delivered in the ordinary course of post.

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1920, No. 197
HOUSING, ENGLAND

The Housing (Local Bonds) Regulations, 1920, dated 25th February 1920, made by the Minister of Health under paragraph (6) of the Schedule to the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919 (9 & 10 Geo. 5. c. 99).

65,811.

The Minister of Health in pursuance of the powers conferred upon him by paragraph (6) of the schedule to the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, hereby makes the following regulations :—

Title and Interpretation

1. These regulations may be cited as the Housing (Local Bonds) Regulations, 1920.
 2. (1) In these regulations, unless the context otherwise requires—

"the Act" means the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919:

"holder" means registered holder.

(2) The Interpretation Act, 1889 (52 & 53 Vict. c. 63) applies to the interpretation of these regulations as it applies to the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

Local Bonds
Regulations.

Issue of Local Bonds

3. (1) Local bonds shall be issued at par and interest thereon shall be payable half-yearly on the thirty-first day of March and the thirtieth day of September in each year: Provided that in the case of any person who holds on the thirtieth day of September bonds to a nominal value not exceeding £50, the local authority may pay interest yearly on the thirty-first day of March, paying in addition interest at the rate applicable to the bonds on any interest which has accrued in respect of the period up to the thirtieth day of September.

(2) Applications for local bonds shall be for amounts of five, ten, twenty, fifty or one hundred pounds or multiples of one hundred pounds.

(3) Local bonds shall, subject to the provisions of this Article, be repayable at par at the office of the local authority not less than five years after the date of issue according to the terms of issue, and no interest shall be payable thereon in respect of any period after the date upon which the bond is repayable.

(4) Where a local authority accepts a local bond issued by another local authority in payment or part payment of the purchase price of a house erected in pursuance of any scheme under the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919, the local authority by whom the bond was issued shall, if so requested by the other local authority, redeem the bond by paying the nominal amount thereof to that local authority.

(5) The first payment of interest on any local bond shall be adjusted in accordance with the date of issue of the bond and any sum paid by way of repayment or redemption shall include interest accrued to the date of repayment or redemption.

(6) Nothing in this Article shall be construed as prohibiting a local authority from redeeming a local bond at any time by agreement with the holder of the bond, if they shall think fit to do so.

(7) A local bond repaid or redeemed by a local authority shall be cancelled.

Registration and Certificates

4. A local authority issuing local bonds shall appoint a registrar for the purposes of these regulations, and may direct him to act on their behalf for the purposes of all or any of the things which they are authorised to do under these regulations.

5. (1) The local authority shall keep a register (hereinafter called the "local bonds register") of all persons who are holders for the time being of local bonds.

(2) The local bonds register shall contain the following particulars :—

(a) the name, address and description of each holder, a statement of the denomination of the bonds held by him and the periods for which they are issued and the numbers and dates of the certificates issued to him as hereinafter provided :

(b) the date of registration of each holder and the date on which he ceased to be so registered.

(3) The local bonds register shall be prima facie evidence of any matter entered therein in accordance with these regulations and of the title of the persons entered therein as holders of local bonds.

6. (1) The local authority shall issue to each holder of a local bond a certificate in respect thereof, duly numbered and dated, and specifying the denomination of the bond and the period for which it is issued.

(2) The certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the title of the person therein named, his executors, administrators or assigns, to the bond therein specified, but the want of a certificate, if accounted for to the satisfaction of the local authority, shall not prevent the holder of a bond from disposing of and transferring the bond.

(3) If a certificate is worn out or damaged, the local authority, on the production thereof, may cancel it and issue a new certificate in lieu thereof.

(4) If a certificate is lost or destroyed, the local authority on proof thereof to their satisfaction, and, if they so require, on receiving an indemnity against any claims in respect thereof, may give a new certificate in lieu of the certificate lost or destroyed.

Local Bonds
Regulations.

(5) An entry of the issue of a substituted certificate shall be made in the local bonds register.

(6) A certificate shall be in the form set out in the schedule hereto or in a form substantially to the like effect.

Transfer of Local Bonds

7. (1) The transfer of a local bond shall be by deed, in the form set out in the schedule hereto or in a form substantially to the like effect.

(2) A local bond may be transferred in whole or in part, so however that any part transferred shall not be for an amount other than an amount for which a local bond may be issued by a local authority.

(3) Unless the local authority have compounded for stamp duty, every deed of transfer shall be duly stamped and the consideration shall be truly stated therein.

(4) The deed of transfer shall be delivered to and retained by the local authority and the local authority shall enter a note thereof in a book to be called the "register of transfers of local bonds," and shall endorse on the deed of transfer a notice of that entry.

(5) The local authority shall, upon receipt of the deed of transfer duly executed together with the certificate issued in respect of the bond, enter the name of the transferee in the local bonds register and shall issue a new certificate or certificates to the transferee, or to the transferor and transferee, as the case may require.

(6) Until the deed of transfer and the certificate have been delivered to the local authority as aforesaid, the local authority shall not be affected by the transfer, and the transferee shall not be entitled to receive any payment of interest on the bond.

(7) The local authority before registering a transfer of a local bond may, if they think fit, require evidence by statutory declaration or otherwise of the title of any person claiming to make the transfer.

Closing of Local Bonds Register

8. The local authority may close the local bonds register for a period not exceeding thirty days immediately before the thirty-first day of March and the thirtieth day of September in any year respectively, and notwithstanding the receipt by the local authority during those periods of any deed of transfer, the half-yearly payment of interest next falling due may be made to the persons registered as holders of local bonds on the date of the closing of the register.

Transmission of Local Bonds

9. (1) Any person becoming entitled to a local bond by reason of the death or bankruptcy of a holder or by any lawful means other than a transfer may, by the production of such evidence of title as the local authority may require, either be registered as holder of the bond, or, instead of being himself registered, may make such transfer of the bond as the holder could have made, and the local authority shall issue a certificate accordingly.

(2) Until such evidence as aforesaid has been furnished to the local authority, the local authority shall not be affected by the transmission of the bond and no person claiming by virtue thereof shall be entitled to receive any payment of interest thereon

(3) Where two or more persons are registered as holders of a local bond they shall be deemed to be joint holders with right of survivorship between them.

Interest on Local Bonds

10. (1) Unless the holder of a local bond otherwise requests, the local authority may pay the interest thereon by posting a warrant to the holder at his address as shown in the local bonds register.

(2) The posting by the local authority of a letter containing an interest warrant addressed to a holder as aforesaid shall, as respects the liability of the local authority, be equivalent to the delivery of the warrant to the holder himself.

11. The local authority shall not be required to pay any executors or administrators any interest on local bonds held by their testator or intestate until the probate of the will or the letters of administration has or have been left with the local authority for registration.

12. The local authority before paying any interest on any local bonds may, if they think fit, require evidence by statutory declaration or otherwise of the title of any person claiming a right to receive the interest.

Local Bonds
Regulations.

13. Where more persons than one are registered as joint holders of a local bond, any one of them may give an effectual receipt for any interest thereon, unless notice to the contrary has been given to the local authority by any other of them.

General

14. No notice of any trust shall be entered in the local bonds register or in any other book kept by the local authority or be receivable by the local authority.

15. (1) If at any time any interest due on any local bonds remains unpaid for two months after demand in writing, the persons entitled thereto may apply to the High Court for a receiver and the court may, if it thinks fit, appoint a receiver on such terms as it thinks fit.

(2) The receiver shall have the like power of collecting, receiving, recovering and applying moneys, and of assessing, making and recovering all rates for the purpose of obtaining the same, as the local authority or any officer thereof would or might have, and such other powers and duties as the court thinks fit, and shall apply all moneys so collected and received, after paying all such costs as the court may direct, for the purposes of these regulations.

16. A person taking or holding local bonds shall not be concerned to enquire or to take notice whether the issue thereof was or was not in accordance with these regulations, or whether or not the local authority or any meeting thereof was properly constituted or convened, or whether or not the proceedings at a meeting of the local authority were legal or regular, or to see to the application of any money raised by the issue of local bonds or be answerable for any loss or misapplication thereof.

17. If at any time any interest on any local bonds is unclaimed at the time for payment thereof, the amount shall, nevertheless, on demand at any subsequent time, be paid to the person showing his right thereto, but without interest in the meantime.

18. Where the local authority sell, lease or otherwise dispose of any land or property charged as security for any local bonds, the land or property shall in the hands of the purchaser or lessee be absolutely free from any charge for that purpose and he shall not be bound to enquire into the application of the money arising from such sale, lease or disposal, or be in any way responsible for the misapplication or non-application thereof.

19. A local authority may pay such expenses in connection with the issue of local bonds (including commission) as the Minister may approve.

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1920. No. 560.

HOUSING, ENGLAND

The Prohibition of Demolition (Appeal Procedure) Rules, 1920, dated 12th April 1920, made by the Minister of Health under section 5 (2) of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919 (9 & 10 Geo. 5. c. 99).

66,017.

The Minister of Health, under the powers conferred on him by section 5 (2) of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, and all other powers enabling him in that behalf, hereby makes the following rules :—

1. These rules may be cited as the Prohibition of Demolition (Appeal Procedure) Rules, 1920.

2. (1) In these rules, unless the context otherwise requires—

“The Act” means the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919;

“The Minister” means the Minister of Health;

“Appeal tribunal” means the standing tribunal of appeal to be appointed by the Minister under section 5 (2) of the Act;

“Clerk to the appeal tribunal” means such person as the Minister may from time to time appoint to act as clerk to the appeal tribunal.

Demolition
Appeal
Rules.

(2) The Interpretation Act, 1889,¹ shall apply to the interpretation of these rules as it applies to the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.*

3. An appeal under section 6 (2) of the Act to the Minister from a refusal by a local authority to give permission to demolish a house, in whole or in part, shall be made by sending to the clerk to the appeal tribunal a notice of appeal signed by the appellant or by his duly authorised agent.

4. The clerk to the appeal tribunal shall, as soon as may be after receipt of the notice aforesaid, send to the local authority a copy of the notice of appeal.

5. The local authority shall, within seven days after the receipt by them of the said notification, send a notice to the clerk to the appeal tribunal and to the appellant stating whether and to what extent they admit the facts stated in the appellant's notice of appeal and including a concise statement of the grounds on which permission was refused.

6. The appeal tribunal may at any stage of the proceedings allow the amendment of any notice, statement, or particulars on such terms as they think fit, and may require the appellant or the local authority within a specified time to furnish in writing such further particulars as they think necessary.

7. (1) If, after considering the notice of appeal and the statement of the local authority in reply and any further particulars which may have been furnished by either party, the appeal tribunal are of opinion that the case is of such a nature that it can properly be determined without a hearing, they may dispense with a hearing, and may determine the appeal summarily.

(2) Subject as aforesaid, the appeal tribunal shall fix a date for the hearing of the appeal, and shall give not less than seven days' notice to the appellant and the local authority of the time and place of the hearing.

8. The procedure of the appeal tribunal at the hearing of an appeal shall be such as they may from time to time determine.

9. The appeal tribunal may, if they think fit, and

APPENDIX VIII

INCREASE OF RENT AND MORTGAGE INTEREST (RESTRICTIONS) ACT, 1920

[10 & 11 GEO. 5. CH. 17.]

An Act to consolidate and amend the Law with respect to the increase of rent and recovery of possession of premises in certain cases, and the increase of the rate of interest on, and the calling in of securities on such premises, and for purposes in connection therewith.

[2nd July 1920.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

Restrictions on Increase of Rent and Mortgage Interest

Restriction on increasing rent and
interest.

1. Subject to the provisions of this Act, where the rent of any dwelling-house to which this Act applies, or the rate of interest on a mortgage to which this Act applies, has been, since the twenty-fifth day of March nineteen hundred and twenty, or is hereafter, increased, then, if the increased rent or the increased rate of interest exceeds by more than the amount permitted under this Act the standard rent or standard rate of interest, the amount of such excess shall, notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, be irrecoverable from the tenant or the mortgagor, as the case may be :

Provided that, where a landlord or mortgagee has increased the rent of any such dwelling-house or the s. i. rate of interest on any such mortgage since the said date, but before the passing of this Act, he may cancel such increase and repay any amount paid by virtue thereof, and in that case the rent or rate shall not be deemed to have been increased since that date.

2. (1) The amount by which the increased rent of a dwelling-house to which this Act applies may exceed the standard rent shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be as follows, that is to say :

(a) Where the landlord has since the fourth day of August nineteen hundred and fourteen incurred, or hereafter incurs, expenditure on the improvement or structural alteration of the dwelling-house (not including expenditure on decoration or repairs), an amount calculated at a rate per annum not exceeding six, or, in the case of such expenditure incurred after the passing of this Act, eight per cent. of the amount so expended :

Provided that the tenant may apply to the county court for an order suspending or reducing such increase on the ground that such expenditure is or was unnecessary in whole or in part, and the court may make an order accordingly :

(b) An amount not exceeding any increase in the amount for the time being payable by the landlord in respect of rates over the corresponding amount paid in respect of the yearly, half-yearly or other period which included the third day of August nineteen hundred and fourteen, or in the case of a dwelling-house for which no rates were payable in respect of any period which included the said date, the period which included the date on which the rates first became payable thereafter :

(c) In addition to any such amounts as aforesaid, an amount not exceeding fifteen per cent. of the net rent :

Permitted increases in rent.

S. 2.

Provided that, except in the case of a dwelling-house to which this Act applies but the enactments repealed by this Act did not apply, the amount of such addition shall not, during a period of one year after the passing of this Act, exceed five per cent. :

(d) In further addition to any such amounts as aforesaid—

(i) where the landlord is responsible for the whole of the repairs, an amount not exceeding twenty-five per cent. of the net rent ; or

(ii) where the landlord is responsible for part and not the whole of the repairs, such lesser amount as may be agreed, or as may, on the application of the landlord or the tenant, be determined by the county court to be fair and reasonable having regard to such liability :

(e) In the case of dwelling-houses let by a railway company to persons in the employment of the company, such additional amount, if any, as is required in order to give effect to the agreement dated the first day of March nineteen hundred and twenty, relating to the rates of pay and conditions of employment of certain persons in the employment of railway companies, or any agreement, whether made before or after the passing of this Act, extending or modifying that agreement.

(2) At any time or times, not being less than three months after the date of any increase permitted by paragraph (d) of the foregoing subsection, the tenant or the sanitary authority may apply to the county court for an order suspending such increase, and also any increase under paragraph (c) of that subsection, on the ground that the house is not in all respects reasonably fit for human habitation, or is otherwise not in a reasonable state of repair.

The court on being satisfied by the production of a certificate of the sanitary authority or otherwise that s. 2. any such ground as aforesaid is established, and on being further satisfied that the condition of the house is not due to the tenant's neglect or default or breach of express agreement, shall order that the increase be suspended until the court is satisfied, on the report of the sanitary authority or otherwise, that the necessary repairs (other than the repairs, if any, for which the tenant is liable) have been executed, and on the making of such order the increase shall cease to have effect until the court is so satisfied.

(3) Any transfer to a tenant of any burden or liability previously borne by the landlord shall, for the purposes of this Act, be treated as an alteration of rent, and where, as the result of such a transfer, the terms on which a dwelling-house is held are on the whole less favourable to the tenant than the previous terms, the rent shall be deemed to be increased, whether or not the sum periodically payable by way of rent is increased, and any increase of rent in respect of any transfer to a landlord of any burden or liability previously borne by the tenant where, as the result of such transfer, the terms on which any dwelling-house is held are on the whole not less favourable to the tenant than the previous terms, shall be deemed not to be an increase of rent for the purposes of this Act : Provided that, for the purposes of this section, the rent shall not be deemed to be increased where the liability for rates is transferred from the landlord to the tenant, if a corresponding reduction is made in the rent.

(4) On any application to a sanitary authority for a certificate or report under this section a fee of one shilling shall be payable, but, if the authority as the result of such application issues such a certificate as aforesaid, the tenant shall be entitled to deduct the fee from any subsequent payment of rent.

(5) For the purposes of this section, the expression

S. 2.

"repairs" means any repairs required for the purpose of keeping premises in good and tenantable repair, and any premises in such a state shall be deemed to be in a reasonable state of repair, and the landlord shall be deemed to be responsible for any repairs for which the tenant is under no express liability.

(6) Any question arising under subsection (1), (2) or (3) of this section shall be determined on the application either of the landlord or the tenant by the county court, and the decision of the court shall be final and conclusive.

Limitation as to permitted

3. (1) Nothing in this Act shall be taken to authorise any increase of rent except in respect of a period during which but for this Act the landlord would be entitled to obtain possession, or any increase in the rate of interest on a mortgage except in respect of a period during which, but for this Act, the security could be enforced.

(2) Notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, where the rent of any dwelling-house to which this Act applies is increased, no such increase shall be due or recoverable until or in respect of any period prior to the expiry of four clear weeks, or, where such increase is on account of an increase in rates, one clear week, after the landlord has served upon the tenant a valid notice in writing of his intention to increase the rent, which notice shall be in the form contained in the First Schedule to this Act, or in a form substantially to the same effect. If a notice served as aforesaid contains any statement or representation which is false or misleading in any material respect, the landlord shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding ten pounds unless he proves that the statement was made innocently and without intent to deceive. Where a notice of an increase of rent which at the time was valid has been served on any tenant, the increase may be continued without service of any fresh notice on any subsequent tenant.

(3) A notice served before the passing of this Act of an intention to make any increase of rent which is permissible only by virtue of this Act shall not be deemed s. 3.

to be a valid notice for the purpose of this section.

4. The amount by which the increased rate of interest payable in respect of a mortgage to which this Act applies may exceed the standard rate, shall be an amount not exceeding one per cent. per annum : Permitted increase in rate of mortgage interest.

Provided that—

- (a) the rate shall not be increased so as to exceed six and a half per cent. per annum ; and
- (b) except in the case of a dwelling-house to which this Act applies but the enactments repealed by this Act did not apply, the increase during a period of one year after the passing of this Act shall not exceed one-half per cent. per annum.

Further Restrictions and Obligations on Landlords and Mortgagees

5. (1) No order or judgment for the recovery of possession of any dwelling-house to which this Act applies, or for the ejectment of a tenant therefrom, shall be made or given unless— Restriction on right to possession.

- (a) any rent lawfully due from the tenant has not been paid, or any other obligation of the tenancy (whether under the contract of tenancy or under this Act) so far as the same is consistent with the provisions of this Act has been broken or not performed ; or
- (b) the tenant or any person residing with him has been guilty of conduct which is a nuisance or annoyance to adjoining occupiers, or has been convicted of using the premises or allowing the premises to be used for an immoral or illegal purpose, or the condition of the dwelling-house has, in the opinion of the court, deteriorated owing to acts of waste by or the neglect or default of the tenant or any such person ; or
- (c) the tenant has given notice to quit, and in consequence of that notice the landlord has contracted to sell or let the dwelling-house or has taken any other steps as a result of which he would, in the opinion of the court, be seriously prejudiced if he could not obtain possession ; or

(d) the dwelling-house is reasonably required by the landlord for occupation as a residence for himself, or for any person bona fide residing or to reside with him, or for some person in his whole time employment or in the whole time employment of some tenant from him, and (except as otherwise provided by this subsection) the court is satisfied that alternative accommodation, reasonably equivalent as regards rent and suitability in all respects, is available ; or

(e) the landlord is a local authority or a statutory undertaking and the dwelling-house is reasonably required for the purpose of the execution of the statutory duties or powers of the authority or undertaking, and the court is satisfied as aforesaid as respects alternative accommodation ; or

(f) the landlord became the landlord after service in any of His Majesty's forces during the war and requires the house for his personal occupation and offers the tenant accommodation on reasonable terms in the same dwelling-house, such accommodation being considered by the court as reasonably sufficient in the circumstances ; or

(g) the dwelling-house is required for occupation as a residence by a former tenant thereof who gave up occupation in consequence of his service in any of His Majesty's forces during the war ; and, in any such case as aforesaid, the court considers it reasonable to make such an order or give such judgment.

The existence of alternative accommodation shall not be a condition of an order or judgment on any of the grounds specified in paragraph (d) of this subsection—

- (i) where the tenant was in the employment of the landlord or a former landlord, and the dwelling-house was let to him in consequence of that employment and he has ceased to be in that employment ; or
- (ii) where the court is satisfied by a certificate of the county agricultural committee, or of the Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries pending the formation of such committee, that the dwelling-house is required by the landlord for the occupation of a person engaged on work necessary for the proper working of an agricultural holding ; or
- (iii) where the landlord gave up the occupation of the dwelling-house in consequence of his service in any of His Majesty's forces during the war ; or
- (iv) where the landlord became the landlord before the thirtieth day of September nineteen hundred and seventeen, or, in the case of a dwelling-house to which section four of the Increase of Rent and Mortgage Interest (Restrictions) Act, 1919, applied, became the landlord before the fifth day of March, nineteen hundred and nineteen, or in the case of a dwelling-house to which this Act applies but the enactments repealed by this Act did not apply, became the landlord before the twentieth day of May nineteen hundred and twenty, and in the opinion of the court greater hardship would be caused by refusing an order for possession than by granting it.

8 & 9 Geo. 5.
c. 7.

(2) At the time of the application for or the making or giving of any order or judgment for the recovery of possession of any such dwelling-house, or for the ejectment of a tenant therefrom, or in the case of any such order or judgment which has been made or given, whether before or after the passing of this Act, and not executed, at any subsequent time, the court may adjourn the application, or stay or suspend execution on any :

such order or judgment, or postpone the date of possession, for such period or periods as it thinks fit, and subject to such conditions (if any) in regard to payment by the tenant of arrears of rent, rent, or mesne profits and otherwise as the court thinks fit, and, if such conditions are complied with, the court may, if it thinks fit, discharge or rescind any such order or judgment.

(3) Where any order or judgment has been made or given before the passing of this Act, but not executed, and, in the opinion of the court, the order or judgment would not have been made or given if this Act had been in force at the time when such order or judgment was made or given, the court may, on application by the tenant, rescind or vary such order or judgment in such manner as the court may think fit for the purpose of giving effect to this Act.

(4) Notwithstanding anything in section one hundred and forty-three of the County Courts Act, 1888, or in section one of the Small Tenements Recovery Act, 1838, every warrant for delivery of possession of, or to enter and give possession of, any dwelling-house to which this Act applies, shall remain in force for three months from the day next after the last day named in the judgment or order for delivery of possession or ejectment, or, in the case of a warrant under the Small Tenements Recovery Act, 1838, from the date of the issue of the warrant, and in either case for such further period or periods, if any, as the court shall from time to time, whether before or after the expiration of such three months, direct.

(5) An order or judgment against a tenant for the recovery of possession of any dwelling-house or ejectment therefrom under this section shall not affect the right of any sub-tenant to whom the premises or any part thereof have been lawfully sublet before proceedings for recovery of possession or ejectment were commenced, to retain possession under this section, or be in any way operative against any such sub-tenant.

(6) Where a landlord has obtained an order or judgment for possession or ejectment under this section on the ground that he requires a dwelling-house for his own occupation, and it is subsequently made to appear to the court that the order was obtained by misrepresentation or the concealment of material facts, the court may order the landlord to pay to the former tenant such sum as appears as compensation for damage or loss sustained by that tenant as the result of the order or judgment.

6. No distress for the rent of any dwelling-house to which this Act applies shall be levied except with the leave of the county court, and the court shall, with respect to any application for such leave, have the same or similar powers with respect to adjournment, stay, suspension, postponement and otherwise as are conferred by the last preceding section of this Act in relation to applications for the recovery of possession :

Restriction

Provided that this section shall not apply to distress levied under section one hundred and sixty of the County Courts Act, 1888.

The provisions of this section shall be in addition to and not in derogation of any of the provisions of the Courts (Emergency Powers) Act, 1914, or any Act amending or extending the same, except so far as those provisions are repealed by this Act.

to call in his mortgage or to take any steps for exercising any right of foreclosure or sale, or for otherwise enforcing his security or for recovering the principal money thereby secured :

Provided that—

- (i) this provision shall not apply to a mortgage where the principal money secured thereby is repayable by means of periodical instalments extending over a term of not less than ten years from the creation of the mortgage, nor shall this provision affect any power of sale exercisable by a mortgagee who was on the twenty-fifth day of March nineteen hundred and twenty a mortgagee in possession, or in cases where the mortgagor consents to the exercise by the mortgagee of the powers conferred by the mortgage ; and
- (ii) if, in the case of a mortgage of a leasehold interest the mortgagee satisfies the county court that his security is seriously diminishing in value or is otherwise in jeopardy, and that for that reason it is reasonable that the mortgage should be called in and enforced, the court may by order authorise him to call in and enforce the same, and thereupon this section shall not apply to such mortgage ; but any such order may be made subject to a condition that it shall not take effect if the mortgagor within such time as the court directs pays to the mortgagee such portion of the principal sum secured as appears to the court to correspond to the diminution of the security.

Restriction
on premiums:

- 8. (1) A person shall not, as a condition of the grant, renewal, or continuance of a tenancy or sub-tenancy of any dwelling-house to which this Act applies, require the payment of any fine, premium, or other like sum, or the giving of any pecuniary consideration, in addition to the rent, and, where any such payment or consideration has been made or given in respect of any such dwelling-house under an agreement made after the ~~s. s.~~ twenty-fifth day of March nineteen hundred and twenty, the amount or value thereof shall be recoverable by the person by whom it was made or given :

Provided that, where any agreement has been made since the said date but before the passing of this Act for the tenancy of a house to which this Act applies, but the enactments repealed by this Act did not apply, and the agreement includes provision for the payment of any fine, premium, or other like sum, or the giving of any pecuniary consideration in addition to the rent, that agreement shall, without prejudice to the operation of this section, be voidable at the option of either party thereto.

(2) A person requiring any payment or the giving of any consideration in contravention of this section shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds, and the court by which he is convicted may order the amount paid or the value of the consideration to be repaid to the person by whom the same was made or given, but such order shall be in lieu of any other method of recovery prescribed by this Act.

(3) This section shall not apply to the grant, renewal or continuance for a term of fourteen years or upwards of any tenancy.

9. (1) Where any person lets, or has, before the passing of this Act, let any dwelling-house to which this Act applies, or any part thereof, at a rent which includes payment in respect of the use of furniture, and it is proved to the satisfaction of the county court on the application of the lessee that the rent charged is yielding or will yield to the lessor a profit more than twenty-five per cent. in excess of the normal profit as hereinafter defined, the court may order that the rent, so far as it exceeds such sum as would yield such normal profit and twenty-five per cent. shall be irrecoverable, and that the amount of any payment of rent in excess of such sum which may have been made in respect of any period after the passing of this Act, shall be repaid to the lessee.

(2) For the purpose of this section, "normal profit" means the profit which might reasonably have been expected from a similar letting in the year ending on the third day of August nineteen hundred and fourteen.

Penalty for excessive charges for furnished lettings.

10. Where any person after the passing of this Act lets any dwelling-house to which this Act applies or any part thereof at a rent which includes payment in respect of the use of furniture, and the rent charged yields to the lessor a profit which, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, and in particular to the margin of profit allowed under the last preceding section of this Act, is extortionate, then, without prejudice to any other remedy under this Act, the lessor shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds, and the court by which he is convicted may order that the rent so far as it exceeds the amount permitted by the last preceding section of this Act shall be irrecoverable and that the amount of any such excess shall be repaid to the lessee, but any such order shall be in lieu of any other method of recovery prescribed by this Act.

Statement to be supplied as to standard rent.

11. A landlord of any dwelling-house to which this Act applies shall, on being so requested in writing by the tenant of the dwelling-house, supply him with a statement in writing as to what is the standard rent of the dwelling-house, and if, without reasonable excuse, he fails within fourteen days to do so, or supplies a statement which is false in any material particular, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding ten pounds.

Application and Interpretation of Act.

Application and interpretation.

12. (1) For the purposes of this Act, except where the context otherwise requires :

(a) The expression "standard rent" means the rent at which the dwelling-house was let on the third day of August nineteen hundred and fourteen, or, where the dwelling-house was not let on that date, the rent at which it was last let before that date, or, in the case of a dwelling-house which was first let after the said third day of August, the rent at which it was first let :

Provided that, in the case of any dwelling-house let at a progressive rent payable under a tenancy agreement or lease, the maximum rent payable under such tenancy agreement or lease shall be the standard rent ; and, where at the date by reference to which the standard rent is calculated, the rent was less than the rateable value the rateable value at that date shall be the standard rent ;

- (b) The expression "standard rate of interest" means, in the case of a mortgage in force on the third day of August nineteen hundred and fourteen, the rate of interest payable at that date, or, in the case of a mortgage created since that date, the original rate of interest ;
- (c) The expression "net rent" means, where the landlord at the time by reference to which the standard rent is calculated paid the rates chargeable on, or which but for the provisions of any Act would be chargeable on the occupier, the standard rent less the amount of such rates, and in any other case the standard rent ;
- (d) The expression "rates" includes water rents and charges, and any increase in rates payable by a landlord shall be deemed to be payable by him until the rate is next demanded ;
- (e) The expression "rateable value" means the rateable value on the third day of August nineteen hundred and fourteen, or, in the case of a dwelling-house or a part of dwelling-house first assessed

12. after that date, the rateable value at which it was first assessed ;
- (f) The expressions "landlord," "tenant," "mortgagee," and "mortgagor" include any person from time to time deriving title under the original landlord, tenant, mortgagee, or mortgagor ;
- (g) The expression "landlord" also includes in relation to any dwelling-house any person, other than the tenant, who is or would but for this Act be entitled to possession of the dwelling-house, and the expressions "tenant" and "tenancy" include sub-tenant and sub-tenancy, and the expression "let" includes sublet ; and the expression "tenant" includes the widow of a tenant dying intestate who was residing with him at the time of his death, or, where a tenant dying intestate leaves no widow or is a woman, such member of the tenant's family so residing as aforesaid as may be decided in default of agreement by the county court ;
- (h) The expression "mortgage" includes a land charge under the Land Transfer Acts, 1875 and 1897 ;
- (i) The expressions "statutory undertaking" and "statutory duties or powers" include any undertaking, duties or powers, established, imposed or exercised under any order having the force of an Act of Parliament.
- (2) This Act shall apply to a house or a part of a house let as a separate dwelling, where either the annual amount of the standard rent or the rateable value does not exceed—
- (a) in the metropolitan police district, including therein the City of London, one hundred and five pounds ;
- (b) in Scotland, ninety pounds ; and
- (c) elsewhere, seventy-eight pounds ;
- 1 & 39 Vict.

1 & 61 Vict.
65.

and every such house or part of a house shall be deemed s. 12. to be a dwelling-house to which this Act applies :

Provided that—

- (i) this Act shall not, save as otherwise expressly provided, apply to a dwelling-house bona fide let at a rent which includes payments in respect of board, attendance, or use of furniture ; and
 - (ii) the application of this Act to any house or part of a house shall not be excluded by reason only that part of the premises is used as a shop or office or for business, trade, or professional purposes ; and
 - (iii) for the purposes of this Act, any land or premises let together with a house shall, if the rateable value of the land or premises let separately would be less than one quarter of the rateable value of the house, be treated as part of the house, but, subject to this provision, this Act shall not apply to a house let together with land other than the site of the house.
- (3) Where, for the purpose of determining the standard rent or rateable value of any dwelling-house to which this Act applies, it is necessary to apportion the rent at the date in relation to which the standard rent is to be fixed, or the rateable value of the property in which that dwelling-house is comprised, the county court may, on application by either party, make such apportionment as seems just, and the decision of the court as to the amount to be apportioned to the dwelling-house shall be final and conclusive.
- (4) Subject to the provisions of this Act, this Act shall apply to every mortgage where the mortgaged property consists of or comprises one or more dwelling-houses to which this Act applies, or any interest therein, except that it shall not apply—

- (a) to any mortgage comprising one or more dwelling-houses to which this Act applies and other land

12. if the rateable value of such dwelling-houses is less than one-tenth of the rateable value of the whole of the land comprised in the mortgage ; or
 (b) to an equitable charge by deposit of title deeds or otherwise ; or
 (c) to any mortgage which is created after the passing of this Act.

(5) When a mortgage comprises one or more dwelling-houses to which this Act applies and other land, and the rateable value of such dwelling-houses is more than one-tenth of the rateable value of the whole of the land comprised in the mortgage, the mortgagee may apportion the principal money secured by the mortgage between such dwelling-houses and such other land by giving one calendar month's notice in writing to the mortgagor, such notice to state the particulars of such apportionment, and at the expiration of the said calendar month's notice this Act shall not apply to the mortgage so far as it relates to such other land, and for all purposes, including the mortgagor's right of redemption, the said mortgage shall operate as if it were a separate mortgage for the respective portions of the said principal money secured by the said dwelling-houses and such other land, respectively, to which such portions were apportioned :

Provided that the mortgagor shall, before the expiration of the said calendar month's notice, be entitled to dispute the amounts so apportioned as aforesaid, and in default of agreement the matter shall be determined by a single arbitrator appointed by the President of the Surveyors' Institution.

(6) Where this Act has become applicable to any dwelling-house or any mortgage thereon, it shall continue to apply thereto whether or not the dwelling-house continues to be one to which this Act applies.

(7) Where the rent payable in respect of any tenancy of any dwelling-house is less than two-thirds of the rateable value thereof, this Act shall not apply to that rent or tenancy nor to any mortgage by the landlord from s. 12. whom the tenancy is held of his interest in the dwelling-house, and this Act shall apply in respect of such dwelling-house as if no such tenancy existed or ever had existed.

(8) Any rooms in a dwelling-house subject to a separate letting wholly or partly as a dwelling shall, for the purposes of this Act, be treated as a part of a dwelling-house let as a separate dwelling.

(9) This Act shall not apply to a dwelling-house erected after or in course of erection on the second day of April nineteen hundred and nineteen, or to any dwelling-house which has been since that date or was at that date being bona fide reconstructed by way of conversion into two or more separate and self-contained flats or tenements ; but, for the purpose of any enactment relating to rating, the gross estimated rental or gross value of any such house to which this Act would have applied if it had been erected or so reconstructed before the third day of August nineteen hundred and fourteen, and let at that date, shall not exceed—

(a) if the house forms part of a housing scheme to which section seven of the Housing, Town Planning, &c., Act, 1919, applies, the rent (exclusive of rates) charged by the local authority in respect of that house ; and

(b) in any other case the rent (exclusive of rates) which would have been charged by the local authority in respect of a similar house forming part of such a scheme as aforesaid.

(10) Where possession has been taken of any dwelling-houses by a Government department during the war, under the Defence of the Realm regulations, for the purpose of housing workmen, this Act shall apply to such houses as if the workmen in occupation thereof at the passing of this Act were in occupation as tenants of the landlords of such houses.

13. (1) This Act shall apply to any premises used for

premises.

business, trade or professional purposes or for the public service as it applies to a dwelling-house, and as though references to "dwelling-house," "house" and "dwelling" included references to any such premises, but this Act in its application to such premises shall have effect subject to the following modifications :

(a) The following paragraph shall be substituted for paragraph (c) of subsection (1) of section two :

(c) In addition to any such amounts as aforesaid, an amount not exceeding thirty-five per cent. of the net rent :

(b) The following paragraph shall be substituted for paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of section five :

(d) the premises are reasonably required by the landlord for business, trade or professional purposes or for the public service, and (except as otherwise provided by this subsection) the court is satisfied that alternative accommodation, reasonably equivalent as regards rent and suitability in all respects, is available :

(c) The following paragraph shall be added after paragraph (g) of the same subsection :

(h) The premises are bona fide required for the purpose of a scheme of reconstruction or improvement which appears to the court to be desirable in the public interest :

(d) Paragraph (i) of the same subsection shall not apply :

(e) Sections nine and ten shall not apply.

(2) The application of this Act to such premises as aforesaid shall not extend to a letting or tenancy in any market or fair where the rent or conditions of tenancy are controlled or regulated by or in pursuance of any statute or charter.

(3) This section shall continue in force until the twenty-fourth day of June nineteen hundred and twenty-one.

General

S. 14.

14. (1) Where any sum has, whether before or after the passing of this Act, been paid on account of any rent or mortgage interest, being a sum which is by virtue of this Act, or any Act repealed by this Act, irrecoverable by the landlord or mortgagee, the sum so paid shall be recoverable from the landlord or mortgagee who received the payment or his legal personal representative by the tenant or mortgagor by whom it was paid, and any such sum, and any other sum which under this Act is recoverable by a tenant from a landlord or payable or repayable by a landlord to a tenant, may, without prejudice to any other method of recovery, be deducted by the tenant or mortgagor from any rent or interest payable by him to the landlord or mortgagee.

Recovery of sums made able, &c.

(2) If—

- (a) any person in any rent book or similar document makes an entry showing or purporting to show any tenant as being in arrear in respect of any sum which by virtue of any such Act is irrecoverable ; or
- (b) where any such entry has, before the passing of this Act, been made by or on behalf of any landlord, the landlord, on being requested by or on behalf of the tenant so to do, refuses or neglects to cause the entry to be deleted within seven days, that person or landlord shall, on summary conviction, be liable to a fine not exceeding ten pounds, unless he proves that he acted innocently and without intent to deceive.

15. (1) A tenant who by virtue of the provisions of this Act retains possession of any dwelling-house to which this Act applies shall, so long as he retains possession, observe and be entitled to the benefit of all the terms and conditions of the original contract of tenancy, so far as the same are consistent with the provisions of this Act, and shall be entitled to give up possession of the dwelling-house only on giving such notice as would have been required under the original contract of tenancy, or, if no notice would have been so required, on giving not less than three months' notice :

Provided that, notwithstanding anything in the contract of tenancy, a landlord who obtains an order or judgment for the recovery of possession of the dwelling-house or for the ejectment of a tenant retaining possession as aforesaid shall not be required to give any notice to quit to the tenant.

(2) Any tenant retaining possession as aforesaid shall not as a condition of giving up possession ask or receive the payment of any sum, or the giving of any other consideration, by any person other than the landlord, and any person acting in contravention of this provision shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds, and the court by which he was convicted may order any such payment or the value of any such consideration to be paid to the person by whom the same was made or given, but any such order shall be in lieu of any other method of recovery prescribed by this Act.

(3) Where the interest of a tenant of a dwelling-house to which this Act applies is determined, either as the result of an order or judgment for possession or ejectment, or for any other reason, any sub-tenant to whom the premises or any part thereof have been lawfully sublet shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be deemed to become the tenant of the landlord on the same terms as he would have held from the tenant if the tenancy had continued.

c. 41.

16. (1) Section three of the Poor Rate Assessment and Collection Act, 1869, shall, except so far as it relates to the metropolis, have effect as though for the limits of value specified in that section there were substituted limits twenty-five per cent. in excess of the limits so specified, and that section and section four of the same S. 16. Act shall have effect accordingly.

(2) It shall be deemed to be a condition of the tenancy of any dwelling-house to which this Act applies that the tenant shall afford to the landlord access thereto and all reasonable facilities for executing therein any repairs which the landlord is entitled to execute.

(3) Where the landlord of any dwelling-house to which this Act applies has served a notice to quit on a tenant, the acceptance of rent by the landlord for a period not exceeding three months from the expiration of the notice to quit shall not be deemed to prejudice any right to possession of such premises, and, if any order for possession is made, any payment of rent so accepted shall be treated as mesne profits.

17. (1) The Lord Chancellor may make such rules and give such directions as he thinks fit for the purpose of giving effect to this Act, and may, by those rules or directions, provide for any proceedings for the purposes of this Act being conducted so far as desirable in private and for the remission of any fees. - (b) Nothing in paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of the section of this Act relating to permitted increases in rent shall permit any increase in rent in respect of any increase after the year ending Whitsunday nineteen hundred and twenty in the amount of the rates payable by the landlord other than rates for which he is responsible under the House Letting and Rating (Scotland) Act, 1911 :
- (c) Paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of the section of this Act relating to application and interpretation shall not apply :
- (d) Where any dwelling-house, to which the Acts repealed by this Act applied, is subject to a right of tenancy arising from a yearly contract or from tacit relocation, and ending at Whitsunday nineteen hundred and twenty-one, the year ending at the said term of Whitsunday shall be deemed to be a period during which, but for this Act, the landlord would be entitled to obtain possession of such dwelling-house.

(2) This Act shall apply to Ireland subject to the following modifications :

(a) A reference to the Lord Chancellor of Ireland shall be substituted for the reference to the Lord Chancellor :

(b) A reference to section fifteen of the Summary Jurisdiction (Ireland) Act, 1851, shall be substituted for the reference to section one of the Small Tenements Recovery Act, 1838 : 14 & 15 Vict. c. 92.

secured by a mortgage, if and when the notice becomes operative under this Act, and the award of any arbitrator with reference to any such apportionment may be registered under the enactments relative to the registration of deeds or titles as the case requires :

(d) The expression "rateable value" means the annual rateable value under the Irish Valuation Acts : Provided that, where part of a house let as a separate dwelling is not separately valued under those Acts, the Commissioner of Valuation and Boundary Surveyor may, on the application of the landlord or tenant, make such apportionment of the rateable value of the whole house as seems just, and his decision as to the amount to be apportioned to the part of the house shall be final and conclusive, and that amount shall be taken to be the rateable value of the part of the house for the purposes of this Act but not further or otherwise :

(e) The following paragraph shall be substituted for paragraph (ii) of subsection (1) of section five of this Act :

(ii) Where the court is satisfied that the dwelling-house is required by the landlord for the occupation of a person engaged on work necessary for the proper working of an agricultural holding ; or

(f) The following subsection shall be substituted for subsection (9) of section twelve of this Act :

(9) This Act shall not apply to a dwelling-house erected after, or in course of erection on, the second day of April nineteen hundred and nineteen, or to any dwelling-house which has been since that date or was at that date being bona fide reconstructed by way of conversion into two or more separate and self-contained flats or tenements ; but the rateable value of any such dwelling-house to which this Act would have applied if it had been erected or so reconstructed before the said date shall be ascertained as though the rent for the purposes of section eleven of the Valuation (Ireland) Act, 1852, were the rent for which a similar dwelling-house might have been reasonably expected to let on the third day of August nineteen hundred and fourteen, the probable average annual cost of repairs, insurance, and other expenses (if any) necessary to maintain the dwelling-house in its actual state, and all rates, taxes, and public charges, if any (except tithe rentcharge), being paid by the tenant :

15 & 16 Vict.
c. 63.

- (g) The medical officer of health of a dispensary district shall be substituted for the sanitary authority in section two of this Act and in the First Schedule thereto, and the issue of certificates and the payment of fees in connection with applications by tenants under the said section shall be subject to regulations to be made by the Local Government Board for Ireland :
- (h) This Act shall not apply to any dwelling-house provided by a local authority under the Labourers (Ireland) Acts, 1883 to 1919, or under any of those Acts.

19. (1) This Act may be cited as the Increase of Rent and Mortgage Interest (Restrictions) Act, 1920.

Short title,
duration, and repeal.

(2) Except as otherwise provided, this Act shall continue in force until the twenty-fourth day of June nineteen hundred and twenty-three :

Provided that the expiration of this Act or any part thereof shall not render recoverable by a landlord any rent, interest or other sum which during the continuance thereof was irrecoverable, or affect the right of a tenant to recover any sum which during the continuance thereof was under this Act recoverable by him.

S. 19. (3) The enactments mentioned in the Second Schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the third column of that schedule:

52 & 53 Vict. c. 63. Provided that, without prejudice to the operation of section thirty-eight of the Interpretation Act, 1889, nothing in this repeal shall render recoverable any sums which at the time of the passing of this Act were irrecoverable, or affect the validity of any order of a court, or any rules or directions made or given under any enactment repealed by this Act, all of which orders, rules, and directions if in force at the date of the passing of this Act shall have effect as if they were made or given under this Act, and any proceedings pending in any court at the date of the passing of this Act, under any enactment repealed by this Act, shall be deemed to have been commenced under this Act.
